Local Department.

Do not forget Lewin, of the Philadelphia Branch! Give him a call, and be convinced that you can buy fine clothing at lower prices than at any other store in Bellefonte.

We have been requested by Mr. Jas. A. McClain to say that the report that he is no longer a candidate for Register is not correct. He is still in the field. See his card in another column.

The Logan Hose company has received an invitation from the Independence Fire Engine company, of Shamokin, to attend a firemen's picnic and parade at that place on the 19th and 20th of August.

A sign suspended in front of the new building of the Brown brothers, on Bishop street, informs the public that a furniture store will be opened there by A. J. Brown & Co., on the 10th of August. Every one will wish the firm success in this new enterprise.

The much abused water melon made its appearance in our market last week. People talk about "cholera boomshells," etc., but they will nevertheless eat water melons, and when eaten in moderation it is very seldom that they do injury to any one. This, at least, is our experience.

Mr. J. Gibson Packer, a son of Mr. Job Packer, of Curtin township, graduated with the first honors at the recent commencement of the Pittsburgh High School. His oration on the occasion is highly commended by the Pittsburgh Post. We are glad to hear of the success of this Centre county boy and hope that in the battle of life he will achieve still higher honors.

When a person goes to a store to purchase supplies for the family, it is always a pleasure to find fresh and pure groceries for sale. Where such are to be found you will always see a rush of business. This is the case at the store of Sechler & Co. They keep the best of everything in which they deal, and no one is ever deceived or disappointed in the goods bought at their establishment. Make a note of this fact.

The annual Harvest Home of the farmers of Nittany valley was held at Clintondale on last Saturday, and a very large number of persons were present. Col. Victor E. Piolette was the orator of the occasion, and his speech was of special interest to the many farmers present. Music was furnished by that fine musical organization, the Zion Cornet Band, and the day was passed in a very pleasant manner.

We are requested to announce that Messrs. Bonbright and McDowell, graduates of the National School of Elocution and Oratory, of Philadelphia, will give a classical and humorous entertainment, consisting of readings and recitations from poets and popular authors, at the Bush House on to-morrow (Friday) evening. Admission will be twenty-five cents. This will undoubtedly be a delightful entertainment, and should attract a large audience.

We forgot last week to notice the change that has taken place in the management of our sprightly county contemporary, the Phillipsburg Journal. Mr. Bender, who for the past four years has so admirably filled the position of editor and publisher of the Journal has retired and is succeeded by W. T. Bair. Mr. Bair has been connected with the paper for some time past, and promises to be a worthy successor to the retiring editor. The Journal is an excellent local paper, devoted to the business and social interests of the community in which it is published, and deserves a liberal support.

On last Thursday morning, between the hours of one and two o'clock, an attempt was made by a party of burglars to rob the store of Mr. Thomas Boggs, at Milesburg. They had already effected an entrance to the store room by removing the front door, but were frightened from the premises before they succeeded in securing any of the valuables they were after. They were not quiet enough in their operations and aroused a family that lives within a few doors of the store. An alarm was immediately given and the rascals made a hasty retreat.

More people in the United States are living lives of misery from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint or Indigestion than from all other causes combined. And yet by the timely use of Green's Liver Pills they might be in the enjoyment of health and happiness.

THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.—We have been asked several times in what order the nominations at the approaching county convention would be made. The only answer that we could give to these inquiries was that we did not know either of a fixed rule or a settled precedent to bind the convention to any particular mode of procedure. Feeling some interest in the matter, we have gone to the trouble of examining the proceedings of past conventions, in years in which full tickets were nominated, and give the result of our examinations as follows:

In 1872, the convention does not appear to have adopted a rule, but the nominations were made in the following order: Congress, Assembly, Delegate to the Constitutional Convention, Prothonotary, Register, Recorder, Sheriff, Commissioner, Auditor.

In 1875, the proceedings show that on motion of T. M. Hall, Esq., the following order of nominations was adopted: Senator, Sheriff, Treasurer, Prothonotary, Register, Recorder, Commissioner, Auditor, and the nominations were made in accordance with this motion.

In 1878, before proceeding to ballot for candidates, Mr. Austin McClain offered the following resolution which was adopted: "Resolved, That the order of procedure in the nominations shall be as follows: President Judge, Congress, State Senator, Member of Assembly, Sheriff, Prothonotary, Register, Recorder, County Treasurer, County Commissioner, Auditor, Coroner."

The conventions did not in either of the above years follow precisely the same order. It would appear, therefore, that the convention can each year adopt and follow its own rule should it see proper to do so.

About fifty persons left Bellefonte on last Friday morning on the excursion train to attend the annual encampment of the G. A. R., on the battle field of Gettysburg. The excursionists arrived safely at the destination the same evening and have no doubt been enjoying themselves. Lieut. James McCartney, who accompanied the party, returned on Monday evening. He reports that all are having a good time. We do not doubt that our friend and old comrade experienced far greater pleasure in his two days' peaceful ramble over the historic field than when he marched over the same ground "in battle array" eighteen years ago.

As a memento of the great battle of July, 1863, he brought home with him a fragment of shell and three bullets which he was fortunate enough to find in a recently ploughed field, in front of Round Top, where his own regiment, the 148th Pennsylvania, encountered a portion of Longstreet's corps on the evening of July 2, the second day of the fight.

Clearfield was the scene of a destructive fire on last Sunday. A dispatch from there on Monday says the fire broke out in the upper part of the Shaw House, totally destroying it and a big portion of the furniture. The wind was blowing down Market street and it looked sad for awhile. Fire companies from a distance were sent for, but the fire was soon gotten under control by tearing down some wooden buildings and keeping others adjoining well saturated with water. The fire in that way was stopped. On first street it destroyed a frame building occupied by Frank Fleming and badly damaged the fine house of A. B. Shaw, but by the efforts of the men it was saved. It is fully insured. Loss about $12,000 to $15,000; insurance $8,000 to $10,000. The fire caught at 4 o'clock, p. m.

One day last week our sanctum was graced with the presence of our sprightly little friend, Master John Bower, who called for the purpose of presenting us with a beautiful bouquet of rare and choice flowers from the splendid collection of flowering plants cultivated by Mrs. C. M. Bower. The bouquet was arranged with exquisite taste and skill and was greatly admired by all who had the pleasure of seeing it. The gem of the collection was a perfect and superb specimen of the passion flower, which was taken from a plant that is now blooming. We sincerely thank our young friend for his kindness, and hope that his entire future life may be as bright and beautiful as his charming gift.

At a meeting of the directors of the directors of the Bald Eagle Valley railroad company, held at the office of the Pennsylvania railroad, in Philadelphia, on Friday the 22d instant, a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. upon the stock of the company was declared. A proposition was also adopted to extend the Snow Shoe branch four miles to reach new coal openings. Messrs. Berwind, White & Co. are now mining a large quantity of coal which finds a ready sale in the eastern and northern markets.

Frederick Orris, formerly a citizen of Spring township, in this county, who removed to Shelby county, Ill., a few years ago, we are informed has met with a sad end in the harvest field. While driving his reaper one of the horses became restive and kicked, hitting him on the head, killing him almost instantly.

More people in the United States are living lives of misery from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint or Indigestion than from all other causes combined. And yet by the timely use of Green's Liver Pills they might be in the enjoyment of health and happiness.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.—An adjourned meeting of the Bellefonte Board of Trade was held on last Friday evening, at the office of Beaver & Gephart. A. G. Curtin, the president, being absent, D. G. Bush was called to the chair, E. M. Blanchard acting as secretary.

The committee on Constitution and By-Laws gave an outline of their report, which, on motion, was approved and committee continued for the purpose of completing their labors.

The committee on Glass then read the following report, which, on motion, was received and filed: To the President, Officers and Members of the Board of Trade of Bellefonte:

GENTS—Your committee appointed to gather the statistics in relation to making glass in the Borough of Bellefonte beg leave to report.

1st. That located on the line of the railroad, two miles from Bellefonte, we find a bank of very superior sand, almost of pure silicate, which is inexhaustible, extending along the line of said railroad, on different properties, a distance of 13 miles. This sand, by a small outlay in preparation for large operations, can be put on board cars at not over 15 cents per ton, and allowing, say 5 cents per ton royalty, and 5 cents per ton per mile for railroad transportation, would put this sand at any works in our town at 30 cents per ton. In quality, this sand is equal by none this side of Berkshire, Mass.

For grinding purposes in plate glass manufacture, inexhaustible quantities of suitable quality are to be found all around our town.

2d. That a large body of the finest lime found in the State, and equal to any in the United States, is located within 200 feet of the present glass works, in the town, and lime can be delivered in quantities for manufacturing glass at not exceeding 10 cents per bushel.

3d. That coal, the very best bituminous, for the manufacture of glass can be delivered at the works, direct from the mines, at $1.50 per ton.

4th. That the glass heretofore made in this town was of very superior grade, and was never known to change color or fade, being more of a yellowish than green tint in color.

5th. That this town, being the centre of a rich agricultural and timber region, boxing boards and packing straw can be furnished as cheaply as in any other part of the State.

6th. That Bellefonte, possessing all these advantages, your committee unhesitatingly say that so far as their knowledge goes, there is no place in the United States where glass can be so cheaply made, and of so good a quality as here. All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. G. BUSH, Committee. A. G. CURTIN, Jr., Committee.

The committee on Iron and Lumber was not ready to report, and was continued.

On motion of A. Loeb it was resolved that the secretary be ordered to publish an invitation to all the business men in town to attend the next meeting of the association.

On motion, resolved that the meeting adjourn to meet at the parlors of the Undine Hose Co., on to-morrow evening, July 29.

NOTICE TO BELLEFONTE BUSINESS MEN.—Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Board of Trade will be held at the parlors of the Undine Hose Co. on Friday evening, July 29, at 8 o'clock, to which all the business men in town are earnestly requested to attend.

E. M. BLANCHARD, Secretary.

THE APPROACHING ESCAMPMENT.—The following order, in regard to the approaching encampment of the Second Brigade of National Guard, at Saltsburg, Indiana county, has been issued from brigade headquarters, Bellefonte:

I. In accordance with the directions of General Orders No. 4, Division Headquarters, July 19, 1881, the different organizations of this Brigade will go into camp on the Stewart farm, near Saltsburg, Indiana county, Pa., on the 10th of August next.

II. Troops will be disembarked at or near Kiskiminnis Station, on the Western Pennsylvania railroad.

SPRING MILLS ITEMS.—The harvest is over and housed, and sinners are not all saved, although Mother Shipton says that "the world to an end will come in 1881."

The farmers of this part of the county rejoice in barns well filled with hay and grain. Every farmer had a good crop of grain. One of the Heckmanns, living near Penn Hall, expects to thrash about 1800 bushels of wheat. The corn crop will be light, as the dry weather is almost burning it up.

On the 4th the valley from Centre Hall west and the northern section of the county had a heavy rain, but in the eastern part of Penns valley there has been no rain since that long rainy spell of last spring, except a couple of sprinklings, which did not last long enough to lay the dust. We want rain badly. Where is Vennor that he don't send us some?

Mr. I. J. Genoble has hands at work excavating the cellar for that big hotel, and at the planing mill of Messrs. Phillips & Krape stand huge stacks of boards ready to be worked up into flooring and siding. The building will be 100 feet long by 48 feet broad. Mr. Grenoble informs me he had applications enough to have filled the hotel with boarders this summer, if it had only been ready.

Mr. Wm. Rarick has purchased two lots from Mr. Grenoble, on which he purposes erecting a large double house this fall or next summer.

Mr. Shook's large house is up and ready for the roof. It will be a plank house, weatherboarded in imitation of brick, thus giving it the appearance of a brick house.

The pile of stone for Robert Duncan's new store building is daily growing larger, and Robert would like to have them planted, but mason work is plenty and masons are scarce, except F. and A. Masons, and they don't generally know much about stone dressing and laying.

George Miller, proprietor of the Spring Mills hotel, has several boarders from Washington City.

Mrs. Barcroft, of Philadelphia, and owner of the property formerly known as the Duncan Mills, is rusticating with her brother, Mr. Runk. Mrs. Barcroft has made several donations of books, cards, &c., to the Spring Mills Sabbath-school during the past year.

One of our citizens has fallen heir to a $5,000 fortune through the death of his subject. Another person informed me yesterday that one of his subjects had handed in her checks. So much for speculative insurance. On the other hand many are complaining of the heavy assessments. A reliable citizen told me one day last week, that his assessments in the Southern Pennsylvania, of York, on a $2,000 policy, have averaged about $15 per month.

*Well I must bring my letter to a close, but before doing so permit me to again call the attention of your readers to our candidate for Register, Mr. T. B. Jamison. Our German citizens of Brush and Penns valleys would like to see him nominated for that office, because he can speak the German language. They complain of the difficulties they met with when transacting business with former Registers on account of their not being able to speak German.

If Messrs. McClain or Furey can speak German, let us hear from them, as we Penns Valley Dutch want a Register, and Commissioner too, who if he cannot "spit on his hands in six different languages" like the Deadwood justice, can at least talk to us in our "Mutter Sprach." Another claim that we have for Mr. Jamison is, the fact that while Gregg has been polling huge Democratic majorities during many past years, she has had a very small share of the public offices.

We have a candidate for Sheriff, but as the northern section will claim that officer this time, we hope the banner township will at least get the Register. Hoping the voters of both sections of the county will remember the banner township and vote for Tom I close for this time.

*The political views expressed by our Spring Mills correspondent are his own. Of course the editors of the DEMOCRAT are not to be held responsible for them.

Flies in the Gypsy's Web.

The presence in the woods about Pleasant Gap, of a band of alleged gypsies, seems to have stirred Bellefonte society to its very foundations, and great is the curious interest that just now pervades the average female breast of this region. It has long since passed into a proverb that no woman, however strong minded, is proof against the wiles of a gypsy fortune teller and as the gang at Pleasant Gap possesses the regulation fortune teller, it goes without saying that the procession of lovely but curious women daily seeking that sequestered spot is intensely voluminous. The old and the young, the married and single, unite with one accord in making the gypsy camp a Mecca toward which their hearts and feet eagerly turn with a wildly yearning ambition to edge a little way into the mysteries of the great beyond, of which the key is supposed to be held by the ancient but by no means handsome female reader of the future.

Popular belief swallows easily the story that the ancient female is an Egyptian refugee about whose early life hangs a deep and dark mystery and over whose head hovers a poetical sort of shadow. Speaking according to the manner of men, this tale is given by the beladme to the gushing damsels who seek her as the most soothing kind of "taffy," but the gushing damsels swallow the taffy greedily and with much serious belief, to the infinite amusement no doubt of the refugee. But let any doubting or carping skeptic of a man attempt to convince any of the gushing damsels that the refugee is a fraud and her fortune telling simply "stuff," and he will find arising about his ears such a storm of indignation that will make him think a cyclone has reached the neighborhood. Lovely women look with sacred reverence upon the person of a gypsy fortune teller, and treasure with holy faith the words that pretend to tell her of the future. And the bigger the buncombe the more will she believe it. The particular reader of the unknown by whom they are at present swarming has fascinated them to an alarming extent. She tells the nicest kinds of fortunes for a dollar a fortune, but for two dollars she will turn out a regular crusher. In short, a copper bottomed, fire proof, gilt edged arrangement that defies competition. One that is warranted to take the cake, or even the rag from the bush. Her methods have nothing to do with nasty, greasy cards. That trick is too common and utterly below the lofty soul of a real live Egyptian refugee. She gets her work in by the method known as palmistry, assisted materially by a bit of a stone, which she swears is a meteor that came straight from the starry skies into her waiting hands. Of course she would not lie about one little stone, and the logic of it therefore is, that she really did take the mineral on the fly. This stone, she says, gives her the bulge on other fortune tellers and knocks them, so to speak, higher than Gilderoy's kite. With that emblem of faith she can tell more and better fortunes than any of the rest of them would dare to tell. With it she can work in a revelation about "a light haired and blue eyed man" (to say nothing of lots of money and half a dozen children,) that fairly lifts the soul of the average maiden into realms of ecstatic delight and paints the horizon with rosy hues of what you call "em." The old girl opened the campaign with the standard promise of a husband and six children to each of all the young women who patronized her, but she has latterly cut down the allowance to a husband and four children. Indeed, on one occasion, she was mean enough to make the limit one solitary child, which amazing condition of things has caused many maidens with aspirations to fear that the refugee is about to get up a corner in children. Meanwhile the turnpike gates are busy with the rush of travel to Pleasant Gap, and the childlike refugee busier raking in the dollars from the fair hand of innocent but credulous femininity. Wherefore matters are rosy in the Gypsy camp and prospective wealth dawns upon the dwellers therein so that their souls rejoice with an exceeding great joy.

Associate Judgeship.

KIND EDITORS OF THE DEMOCRAT.—Permit me through your columns to say a few words concerning the claims of our side of the county on the judiciary question. As you are well aware Nittany mountain range divides our county into two sections, having Bald Eagle and Nittany valleys in the northern section, and Penn's, George's and Brush valleys in the southern section. In the distribution of county offices each section claims its share while at the same time it allows the opposite section its due proportion of the public spoils. All offices requiring two candidates from each party, and Associate Judges are always divided between the two sections; and it is with regard to the last named office that I desire to say a few words to the readers of your paper who live in the northern section. While you will, no doubt, do as we expect to do, vote for one candidate from each section, it is a matter of importance to us that you vote for the right man from our side, while we shall try to do the same for you. We present the name of John Rishel, of Potter township, as the man of our choice from this side of the county. At the last election for associate judges Mr. Rishel was a candidate before the nominating convention and stood well, being beaten by Judge Franck by only a few votes. He is a candidate again, and we ask you to give him claims a favorable consideration. We know him to be a hard working, industrious farmer, and a good Christian, who stands well in the estimation of his neighbors, and in the church. Will you help us to nominate him?

A FOOL ONCE MORE.—"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a United States flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

LOGAN CEMENT.—The retail price for LOGAN CEMENT on and after this date (May 9, 1881), will be two dollars per barrel and no charge for bags or barrels.

H. K. HICKS.

—Special inducements for orders for Clothing during the Summer months.
