We understand he is at present employed in the merchant tailoring department of Montgomery & Co.'s store. We hope the inducements of ou; town may be such as to compel him to remain.

-An English maxim is "After dinner sit a while ; after supper walk a mile.' This is good advice, and your health will be perfect if you take your evening walks in the direction of Sechler & Co.'s grocery store, where you can get the best grocerie with which to compound breakfast, lunch, dinner, supper, or any other meal.

-Lieutenant James A. Leyden, of the United States Army, is at present on leave of absence visiting relatives and friends in Ceatre county. Lieut. Leyden has lately been stationed with his command in Wyoming territory. He is a gallant and accomplished young officer and received a hearty greeting from his many friends.

-The picnic of the Veteran Club of Centre county at Spring Mills on last Saturday was one of the most successful and enjoyable yet held by the organization. Our Spring Mills correspondent gives such a full, correct and pleasant account of the proceedings that it becomes entirely unnecessary for us to say anything more about it.

-The Mt. Pleasant Church of the "United Brethren in Christ," situated in Taylor township, Centre county, Pa., which has lately been thoroughly remodeled and repaired will be re-dedicated to the service of God on next Sabbath, September 18 The services will commence at 10 A. M. Rev. M. Spangler, of Altoons, will officiate, assisted by a number of other ministers. A cordial invitation is extended to the people of the vicinity to be present.

Very many people imagine that they

Synod of Central Pennsylvania, held at Newport, Perry county, the congregations of Centre county belonging to that denomination of Christians were represented by Revs. W. E. Fisher, S. E. Furst, J. A. Koser, J. K. Miller, G. W. Sechrist, J. Tomlinson, J. Yontzey and W. R. Weiand. There were also in attendance lay delegates, C. E. Emerich, Dr. Rhone, M. D. Snyder and L. Brumgard. Rev. W. E. Fisher was president, and Rev. J. Yontzey secretary of the body.

-James H. Young and Wm. McEwen of Philadelphia, have been sojourning in Bellefonte for several days. These gentlemen are always welcome and this time they delighted their friends by making a more protracted stay than usual. The scenery about Bellefonte as viewed from the surrounding hills, is said to have been the cause of their lingering with us so long. Mr. Young, it is said, was seen standing on the steps of the jail at four o'clock in the morning, and when asked what brought him out at that unusual hour replied that he was waiting for the sun to get up. Come again, gentlemen. -There has been some inquiry as to the fate of a pet coon that was seen on a train on the Broad Top Railroad a week ago. When last seen it was securely tied to a seat in the smoking car. A gentleman occupied the seat but took no stock in the coon. Whether he swallowed the coon or threw him out of the car window is the problem that the owner of the coon ouldn't solve when he came to look for him. He sort of looked at this Bellefonter. (for it was he) as if coon diet would agree with him. For further information call on Cruse, at his Bush House cigar stand.

-Wesley Parks, formerly of Bellefonte, was killed on Tuesday of last week while discharging his duties as firemen of a freight train on the Philadelphis and Erie railroad. A short distance from St. Marys as the train was crossing a bridge it gave way precipitating the train down a disance of about forty feet. Three men were killed, among them Mr. Parks. The train took fire and the men were burned almost to a crisp. Mr. Parks' relatives reside in this county and his remains were brought to Bellefonte on last Tuesday and Cape Fear river, Capt. Breese bore a galinterred in the Union cemetery. Mr. Parks was a young man who was much esteemed by his friends and his untimely death is deeply regretted. He was but recently married and leaves a young wife to nourn his loss.

-The colporteurs of the Pennsylvania Bible Society, G. W. McSherry and L. B. Wolf, have completed another month in their work of Bible distribution. They visited 1131 families, of which number 87 were without a copy of the Bible. Some of the 87 families had a copy of the New Testament. Of this number of destitute families 33 were supplied by sale and the rest (54) by gift. About $40 worth of Testaments and cheaper Bibles were distributed as gifts among the destitute families and poorer children. The contributions were meagre and will not pay for the books donated in this month. The number of books distributed was about 675. The proprietor of the "Garman House" has favored the Bible agents in their work by reduced livery and boarding rates.

THE STATE FALL .- The State Fair is now in progress at Pittsburg. There are nearly 1,000 exhibitors and 350 Exposition exhibitors. The Fair has the greater portion of the grounds and Machinery Hall with their display, and their shed contains some of the very finest specimens of live stock. In cattle they have the three best herds of Short Horns exhibited at the Columbus State Fair, two of the best Pennsylvania herds ; four herds of Devons, one of which took the first prize at Columbus; three herds of Holsteins; two herds Ayrshires ; four herds of Jersey tries of the finest stock. The herds number from eight to eighteen head each, and will doubtless be one of the greatest attractions. Among the horses are Hurrah, Kryle Daly, the winner of the Irish Derby, Abdal Brino, Ketcham, Dowe, Gold Dust, Hawkeye, and fifty or sixty others, together with a large number of carriage, coach and light draught horses. In the harness and saddle departments every stall is full.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN K. RANDOLPH -At the late meeting of the Lutheran BREESE. -The sad intelligence of the death of the subject of this article, was received here on Tuesday forenoon. That he was lying dangerously ill at Newport, R. I., was generally known, Gov. Curtin and his family having been hastily summoned to his hed side. His death will be universally regretted by all in this community who were so fortunate as to form his acquaintance. His brief residence in Bellefonte was very pleasant to his large circle of friends. He was a most polished, elegant and accomplished gentleman. He had rare conversational powers and his mind was a perfect store house of interesting knowledge which he had gathered in every quarter of the globe. He was as gallant a sea man as ever trod the deck of a ship, and like all brave men he was kind, gentle and modest in his manners. He was married to Marcy S. Curtin, second daughter of Governor Curtin, on the 23d of July, 1873. The fruits of this marriage have been four children. One of the beautiful traits of Captain Breese's character was intense devotion to his family. His wife and children were to him the whole world and to be with them the greatest enjoyment he knew. This will make the blow to them all the harder to bear. Captain Breese was almost constantly on duty and his visits to Bellefonte have been unfrequent. But for the last year ill health compelled him to relinquish the active duties of his profession and a great portion of that period he spent in Bellefonte. He was born in Pennsylvania, but was assigned his position in the Navy from Rhode Island in 1846, and immediately found active service during the entire pe riod of the Mexican war. He served in the gulf squadron and was present at the seige of Vera Cruz. After this he was stationed in many parts of the world, winning promotion at different periods until the commencement of the war of the Rebellion. He was then a lieutenant on the Portsmouth and commanded the third division of the mortar flotilla at the bombardment of Forts Jackson and St. Philip Thence, through all the operations about Vicksburg and in the dangerous service which culminated in the attack on Fort Fisher and the subsequent operations on lant part. On more than one occasion he distinguished himself and the record that will follow him to his last resting place is as proud and pure a one as any man can hope to win. He was associated with Admiral Porter during the entire war and repeatedly received the thanks of his commanding officer for efficiency and zeal in the discharge of his important and respon sible duties. Upon one occasion General Sherman, in an official report, warmly commended Lieutenant Commander Breese for his hearty and effective co-operation in the combined attack upon Haines' Bluff. His record as a brave and gallant defender of the flag is written over the pages of the history of two wars. Had it not been for the spirit of favoritism that ruled the administration of Hayes, Captain Breese would have been made a Commodore His distinguished services and his rank in the navy entitled him to this distinction. But a number of names were unfairly placed on the rolls of the navy and Capt. Breese, with many others, was denied a just recognition. However, earthly honors would not have preserved his life to his sorrowing family and friends. He has gone where the king and the peasant are equal. We tender to his stricken wife and his family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy. Capt. Breese had just passed his 50th year, and the cause of his death was heart disease.

SPRING MILLS-VETERAN PICNIC, ETC. -Spring Mills has had a gaia day ; a day fraught with many happy recollections and pleasing reminiscences, long to be remembered. The Boys in Blue, soldiers no longer, but peaceable civilians, have met again and parted, not on the tented field of conflict, but in the sylvan retreat of our little mountain city's pic nic grounds. For weeks, aye months, the chief topic of conversation. has been the Re-union pic nic of our bold "soger boys." So absorbent was this topic that it eclipsed all other social gatherings, even the great Granger pic nic was seldom mentioned. Several days previous to the time, Mr. David Borrell, President of the Spring Mills Veteran Club, called a meeting of the veterans and citicens for the purpose of preparing for the occasion. Mr. George A. Runk was cho sen chairman, or Director General, of the the work, and various committees appointed to get the grounds ready, and make the necessary preparation. A stand for the speakers was erected, and tastefully decorated with evergreens and flags. Commodious seats were arranged for those who wish ed to listen to the addresses. Large tubs, or rather hogsheads, whre placed in differ ent parts of the ground filled with iec water, where the thirsty could quench their thirst. Every thing possible was doue to make the meeting a pleasant and agreeable one. On the morning of that day and while old Sol. was scarcely above the horison the crowd began to gather. They came from hillside and hollow, from mountain and from vale until it seemed as if the very earth was giving up the dead, so thick and fast did they pour in. It is estimated that there were three thousand persons on the ground. About 9 o'clock the veterans of the various clubs were formed in line on the green opposite the hotel by Chief Marshal Jno. R. Tate and Assistant Marshals James Kennelley and Will Krape, and at the command of "forward, march" all started for the picnic grounds at the foot of the mountain. The meeting being called to order by the President of the Centre County Veteran's Association was opened with prayer by Rev. G. A. Marr. After various exercises the crowd was dismissed for the purpose of refreshing the nner man. Tables loaded down with akes, chickens, pies, and other edibles, oo numerous to mention, were to be seen scattered throughout the grounds, to which the hungry ones were cordially invited After dinner the audience was called to order by General Beaver, who introduced J. Merrill Linn, af Lewisburg. As the train on which the speaker was to return home, whistled soon afser he arose to speak, he cut it off very short, and closed y inviting us all to the reunion of the ilst regiment, at Lewisburg. Capt. Linn was followed by Mr. Cassidy, of Ohio, ormerly of Bellefonte, who paid a glowing tribute to his fellow-comrades of Centre county. He was followed by Pennsylvania's War Governor, ex-Gov. A. G. Curtin, who delivered a masterly oration on "National Patriotism." This was considered by all who heard it the crowning

Some very appropriate remarks were Mifflin County Association, and by Capt. Marks, of Lewistown. Invitations were then given to all old soldiers who were not members of the club to step up, fork over a dollar and have their names put on its roster, when the meeting was adjourned to meet next September at Snow Shoe. The following bands were present and enlivened the exercises with excellent music : Farmer's Mills, Millheim, Reedsville The following officers have been chosen

THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENrion .- In pursuance of the call of the chairman of the county committee the delegates elected to represent the Republicans of Centre county, met in the court house at Bellefonte, on Tuesday last, at 2 o'clock P. M. The delegates were called to order by Chairman Rankin, and on motion of Michael Musser, of Haines township, Col. James P. Coburn, was elected President of the convention. On taking the chair Mr. Coburn made a neat speech, thanking the convention for the honor conferred upon him. William Allison, of Gregg township, William Lucas of Howard, and S. D. Gray of Bellefonte, were then elected secretaries. The following delegates then presented their credentials and took their seats as members of the convention :

-On last Saturday morning, at about four o'clock, the large frame flourering mill of Mr. Wm. J. Thompson, at Potter's Mills, was discovered to be on fire, and before any one could reach the burning building the flames were under such headway that they could not be subdued. The building and all the valuable machinery it contained were totally destroyed. To make the matter worse Mr. Thompson had permitted his insurance policies to expire and unfortunately had no insurance upon the burned property. This is the second disastrous fire that he has met with in the past two years and the loss is a very severe one to him. His many friends deeply sympathize with him in his misfortune. If a person is convicted on a charge of this kind and is unable to pay the fine he can be imprisoned one day for each dollar of the imposed penalty.

-The officers of the Centre County Agricultural Society are making energetic efforts to have a good county fair this fall. As heretofore announced, the fair will open on the 5th of October, and it is expected to have an unusually creditable display in all the departments. In the work that is under way to bring this about the management should have the active support of all the friends of the society in the county. It is praiseworthy undertaking and should not be permitted to fail.

-Misses Mollie and Nellie Larimer, have been spending a school vacation of two months at the hospitable home of their aunt, Mrs. Speer, of Pleasant Gap. These young ladies are the daughters of the late Harvey Larimer, in his life time se highly med by a large circle of friends Their home at present is with the Hon. A. V. Larimer of Council Bluffs, Iowa, but bey are receiving their education at Park titute, Chicago, to which place they took their departure on Monday morning. The young ladies have had a charming visit, and return to their studies, delighted with their sojourn among their Centre county relatives.

Every pen in the sheep department is packed with fine wool, middle wool and long wool bucks and ewes. Nearly all are prize-winners, and several are valued as high as $5,000 apiece. The display of swine is larger than at any previous fair, and their are 350 coops of exhibition poultry. The display of vegetables and grain is also very extensive and embraces every variety and species.

The fitting up of Floral Hall is comtended, and its sessions of interest not only to those directly interested in Y. M. C. A. pleted. DEATHS.

NEFF.-In Howard, Pa., of dysentery, Richard Col-burn, son of William and Anna Neff, agod 4 years, 4 months and 15 days. It does not seem possible that little Richie is really lead. His few short days of suffering appear like bad dream, and we almost expect to awaken and hear the patter of his feet and catch the glad ring of his mischievous laugh. His little life was short, but com-plete. The dear Master lent him to us just long enough to serve as a "bit of brightness" in our own ries, and then meelf and gently came Hi
