Local Department.

-New chestnuts have made their appearance.

-Fresh fish every Thursday and Friday at Brown's Bishop street grocery.

-Loeb's is the place to buy dry goods. Large assortment, low prices and good goods at all times.

-Call and see the largest stock even brought to Bellefonte and at the lowest rock bottom prices. Lyon & Co.

-Surviving veterans of the Eightyfourth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers will hold a reunion in Altoona on the 20th inst.

-For fine furniture of any description call upon A. J. Brown & Co., Bishop street, Bellefonte. Prices low and satisfaction guaranteed.

-County Superintendent Wolf will hold a special examination of teachers at Bellefonte on Tuesday, October 18, to begin at 9 o'clock A. M.

-Ladies' new fall hats and trimmings; double-width brocade at 121c; cashmeres, colored and black, from 8c, 10c, 121c and up the best quality, at Lyon & Co.'s.

-Lawrence Brown occupied a prominent position in Reynolds' Opera House on Tuesday evening. He was elevated on a stool that was almost as high as the gallery.

-The State Sabbath School Convention meets at Johnstown on the 18th of the present month. All the Sabbath schools in the State are entitled to two delegates to the convention.

-Of clothing we have such an immense stock and such a variety of styles that we can suit those who are the hardest to please. We have a big line of good, heavy, serviceable cassimere spits from $8 to $15. Lyon & Co.

-Coal is being laid in by a number of our citizens as though another winter was among the certainties of time. They don't seem to place much stock in the an nouncement of the world ending in November.

-In the case of Father Stack vs. Bishop O'Hara the judgments of the lower courts have been affirmed. This decision defeats Father Stack and sets at rest a case that has been in litigation for a long term of years.

"Never milk while the cow is eating, is the advice of a bucolic contemporary. Judging from the character of much of the milk that comes to market it would be

-Our enterprising mercantile firm of S. & A. Loeb have established for themselves within the last few years a reputation for selling the best ready-made clothing in Central Pennsylvania. It is a rep. utation which they justly deserve for their endeavors to procure a good fitting and vell made garment. Their sales have been so large in this particular line that Messrs. Stein, Adler & Co., of Rochester, have given them the exclusive sale of their goods. Persons who have purchased these goods once do not want their measure taken by any merchant tailor, for they give perfect satisfaction in all respects.

-The senior editor of the DEMOCRAT returns his thanks to Hon. G. R. Barrett for his kindly remembrance of him in connection with the fair now in progress in Clearfield. Nothing would have given nim more pleasure than to have renewed his acquaintance with his old friends in Clearfield county, but pressing business engagements make it impossible. The fair in Clearfield will undoubtedly be a success. When such men as Judge Barrett take the helm success comes as a matter of course.

-A man with legs came down from the Bald Eagle ridges to see Duprez & Benedict's minstrels on Tuesday evening. He sat on the edge of the gallery with his pedal extremities hanging down in full view of ihe audience. He had evidently read about hanging your banners on the outer walls and he presented the dirtiest pair of legs ever seen sn Bellefonte. His pantaloons gracefully retired above his knees so as to give full scope to the accumulated dirt of many months, which entirely robbed his legs of their original Anglo-Saxon whiteness.

-On next Thursday, the 20th inst., there will be an interesting contest between a picked five of Company H, Fifth regiment, N. G. of Pa., of Johnstown, and a corresponding number of the crack shots of Company B, of Bellefonte. The visiting five from Company H will come in charge of Captain Carswell, and Captain Mullen will personally look after the men from his own company. The shooting will be done above the farm of William Humes and will be sure to attract much attention. The range will be one and two hundred yards.

-That perfect baking and cooking stove, the "Pioneer," is for sale only by Wilson, McFarlane & Co. All superfluous ornamentation has been dispensed with to ecure a first-class kitchen stove. For weight, strength and durability it cannot be surpassed. In purchasing this stove you are not paying for nickel trimmings and beautiful finish, but you are getting what is far better and what you need in a cook stove-a good, reliable baker and cook.

-1t is said that thirty persons in a small town in Michigan were poisoned recently by eating sausage. This comes from having brass collars on dogs .- Ex. Now, that's the difference in butchers. Here in Bellefonte the greatest care is exercised in that particular, our butchers always removing the collars before grinding up the dogs.

-Bill Lyon caught thre large rats in his trap on Saturday and Abe Baum was promptly on hand with his favorite dog, bent on their immolation. As Baum and o his dog bounced on the scene he cried "Leave 'em all out at once, or by golly Jack will chaw up the trap!" The rats were left out and two of them, of course, escaped.

-Mr. Robert B. Larimer, of the DEMO CRAT, left on Tuesday evening, accompanied by his charming wife, to attend the fair at Clearfield, the home of Mrs. Larimer. "Bob" will no doubt meet many old friends from the cloud-capped hills non which Brookville looks th surrounding country to the dead level of the Susquehanna.

-The following we copy from the York Evening Dispatch of last Friday. The Mr. McKeever mentioned in the article quoted below was formerly a clerk at the Brockerhoff House here and subsequently its manager. He is well known in Bellefonte, having left here but recently:

"Sheriff Atland yesterday arrived York with William McKeever and V McKeever and Wil liam Spahr, of Dillsburg, charged with assault and battery and false imprison-ment. They both entered into recognizance for their appearance when wanted. The circumstances of the case are as fol-The circumstance The circumstances of the case are as fol-lows: On the 29th of September, it is al-leged, Mrs. Barntz, a widow, residing in Carlisle, with her son Harley, aged about 14, visited her brother-in-law, George P. Weaver, residing in York county, about three miles above Dillsburg. A few days after McKeever appeared at she house re-presenting that he was sent by Governor Hoyt to see her son and ascertain how large he was. When the boy was pro-duced McKeever attempted to arrest him, large he was. When the boy was pro-duced McKeever attempted to arrest him, saying that he held a warrant from the Governor, but not producing it. The lad saying that he held a warrant from the Governor, but not producing it. The lad made his escape and ran into the moun-tain brush, where he was pursued and caught by McKeever, who handcaffed him and carried him back to the house. There, when his mother wanted to change the boy's clothes, McKeever himself went up stains rough here having back and the states of the second transformed by the second sec stairs, put on the boy's best suit and scat-tered the ether clothing about the room. He then took young Barnts in his buggy to the depot at Dillsburg and went away with him on the train. McKeever re-turned to Dillsburg in a few days but without the boy, who has not yet been heard from, and his whereabouts are un-known. The lad is said to be the sole heir to property worth $30,000. The war-rants for arrest were issued by Justice Beaverson

-The ladies "God bless them" are more lovely this fall than ever before. They look sweet enough in their rich costumes which betoken the near approach of winter, to be transplanted bodily to the shores of the beautiful river. But then we can't spare them. When the thermometer in our own sanctum is endeavoring to convince us that it never even hinted at warmth, one of these terrestrial angels in trappings of warmest fur passes along and immediately we are blessed by the heat of the tropics. Our numbed fingers tingle and our frozen brow burns with the glow of awakened genius. It is the chief duty of a woman to be beautiful, and never have our fair sisters and cousins and aunts so admirably met their obligation. The most beautiful living pictures we have ever seen are our ladies in the gorgeous colors and subdued shade which blends in their newly donned fall costumes. And then the unsurpassed bloom of the cheek ; the elasticity of the step; the bounding gracefulness of these mundane sylphs, and -we give it up. One of the above decription just passed down Bishop street and our pencil slipped from our nerveless fingers.

-The following is the favorite hymn of the late President. It is touching and beautiful :

- Ho! reaper's of Life's harvest, Why stand with rusted blade, Until the night draws 'round thes And day begins to fade? Why stand ye, ible, waiting For respers more to come? The respers' more is passing, Why sit ye idle-dumb?

PLEASANT GAP JOTTINGS .- Many funny things have happened since my last communication to the DEMOCRAT. Among the most noteworthy, the Owl has been among us. Some of our folks had their characters well ventilated, but the reporter was rather partial. He only referred to those he did not like ; and he was not careful in covering his tracks, for the most ignorant know who the writer was. But there is always allowance to be made for him. He is a model of perfection himself, and his daily walk, though very slow, proves that he is free from reproach. "He that is without sin let him cast the first stone," is his motto.

Our Republican friends have now con solidated their forces against T. J. Dunkle. They are counting largely for Andy. They expect to roll up a large majority for him, but the trouble is they do not know where their vote will come from, for all the voters of this place are well acquainted with him and they cannot see why they should vote for Mr. Gregg for they all know he would be the last man to vote for a Demoerat. Will our leading Republicans give us some good reason why Mr. G. merits the support of any honest Democrat? Surely his past record does not command the respect of the Democratic voters of Spring or any other township. True we have a few bolters, but that will not make any material difference when the vote is counted. With all the aid that our dissatisfied Democrats can give, it will not make a difference of half a dozen votes. We are after you boys and will be with you till after the election. Mr. J. M. Furey's house is nearing com pletion ; so is Mr. Haag's new grist mill

Soon we will be able to get our milling done close to home. Mr. Charles From, son of John From,

was thrown from the stable door by an unruly cow and had his arm broken.

Mrs. J. H. Musser left for the far West a few days ago ; now John is felling lonely, but still is selling lots of tomb stones. Rev. Wanner preached a temperance rmon on last Sabbath. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the audience was small. In two weeks from last Sabbath he proposes to preach from the same text. All are cordially invited ; subject, "Moderate Drinking." Come one, come all, you tiplers, and you will hear something that will do you good.

THE FAIR .- The annual exhibition of the Ceptre County Agricultural Society passed off last week in a manner satisfactory at least to the management. We are informed that financially it was a success. but we are sorry to say that, outside of the trials of speed between some very fine horses, the Exhibition was not of a charac ter to deserve faverable comment. Indeed. the paucity of exhibits elicited universal re. mark and was the cause of much unfavorable comment. Unless more interest is taken by our people in making a creditable dis. play the Agricultural Society will find little encouragement in making provision for these yearly meetings. The few exhibits on the ground were of a very high order, but their general excellence could not disguise the fact that the interest of our farmers, artisans, merchants and manufactur. ers has been steadily waning, that year by year the exhibition has gradually deteriorated. We will not attempt to give a description of the exhibits or a full account of the fair. As soon as the premiums are awarded we will take occasion to lay the list before our readers. The chief interest appeared to centre in the fast horse that on Thursday and Friday displayed their speed to the infinite satisfaction of all lovers of good racing.

The attendance on Thursday was very large, but did not compare with that of the corresponding day in past years. On Friday there were a goodly number of people present who were rewarded by seeing se

A Card.

To the Voters of Centre County: It is not a pleasant duty to write cards, but understanding that certain parties are industriously circulating stories deroga-Industriously circulating stories derogen-tory to my private character, integrity, qualifications and official intentions, I deem it nothing more than what is due to the party that honored me with its nomi-nation and to myself to thus publicly take notice of them.

As to my private character, habits, &c., which have been assailed, I can only refer those who do not know me to the citizens of the townships in which I was born and have since resided (Howard and Rush) and also to any citizen of the county to whom I am personally known, feeling confident that their verdict will prove the falsity of the charges and the malicious intent with which they are circulated. As to the story that I have promised the deputy sheriffalty to this, that or the other man I desire to brand it as an intentional falsehood. I have made no pledges of any kind to any one, nor do I propose to; only to promise to the people of the county that if elected I will, to the best of my ability, fulfill the duties of Sheriff of the county impartially, faithfully and to the best interests of the people generally. Very respectfully, Thomas J. DUNKLE. respectfully, Thomas J. DUNKLE SANDY RIDGE, Pa., October 4, 1881.

-J. L. Spangler, Esq., was selected at Williamsport as the member of the Democratic State Committee for the 34th Sena torial district. This was a wise selection. Mr. Spangler possesses all the qualifications and experience needed to make a good committeeman. Mr. Spangler attended the meeting of the committee at Harrisburg on last Tuesday.

-Adam Wait was accidentally shot through the neck at Valentines Iron Works on last Tuesday by Frank Sager. Sager was shooting mark with a re volver and Wait was in the rear of a stable upon which Sager had his mark. A ball from Sager's revolver passed through the barn and struck Wait in the neck, inflicting a dangerous if not fatal wound. The doctors have not yet probed for the OFFICIAL NOTIFICATION OF HIS NOMINA-TION.

PITTSBURG, October 3, 1881. To the Hon. Orange Noble-Dear Sir: We have been authorized by the Demo-cratic State Convention which met at Williamsport on the 28th day of Sep-tember last to formally announce to you the action of that body in nominating you to the important office of State reasurer of Pennsylvania. It must be a source of gratification for you to know that your selection by the convention as a standard bearer of the party and the representative of its principles in the present campaign was made from a large number of the most reputable gentlemen of the State, the nomination of any one of whom would have reflected credit upon the party.

It is also a fact worthy of note that nomination was uninfluenced by fac-tion, corrupt combinations or boss dictation, which are ever abhorent to Democratic ideas, but was accom-plished by the reprentatives of the party, acting freely in the exercise of their judgment as to its best interests and the will of the majority thus expressed, finally ratified by the unani-mous voice of the convention. With every reasonable prospect of

And in the event of election we are sured that the solemn pledges made by the convention to the people, in the resolutions adopted, will be by you re-deemed; that you will hold the office as a sacred trust from the people; and that the rigid administration of the finances of the State inaugurated by you will mark the end of the power and influence of the "Treasury ring" in Pennsylvania.

Very truly your obedient servants. W. MILLER, GEORGE W. MILLE GEORGE McGOWAN, W. J. BRENNAN, P. F. CONNOLLY, R. E. JAMES.

THE REPLY. ERIE, October 10, 1881.

Messrs. George W. Miller, George Mc-Gowan, W. J. Brennan, P. F. Connolly and R. E. James, Committee-Gentle-ment: Your letter formally notifying me of my nomination for State Treas urer by the recent Democratic State Convention at Williamsport would have been answered soouer but for unavoidable absence from home. You say truly that it is a high compliment to have been made the nominee when so many worthy gentlemen were competitors for the position. I am gratified to know that the rivalry for the nomination was of the most friend-ly character both before and during the sessions of the convention, and as-sure you that, if the choice had fallen upon any other one of the candidates. by friends and myself would have given im a ready and active support. The reflection to which you so appropriate-ly refer, that the nomination "was un-influenced by faction, corrupt combina-

influenced by faction, corrupt combina-tions or boss dictation," adds very much to my appreciation of the bonor. I accept the nomination with a full understanding of the responsibility it imposes, and pledge myself that if the confidence repowed in me by the con-ventian is ratified by the people they shall not be disappointed in their just expectations. The treasury will be ad-ministered as "a sacred trust from the ministered as "a sacred trust from the people;" care will be taken to employ ministered as will be taken to employ none but pure, competent and trust-worthy men; the records of the office will always be open for the most rigid scrutiny; the corrupt "rings" will be discountenanced, and the constant ef-fort will be to reduce expenses, collect the revenues impartially and in every way possible to promote the interests of the State. Not a dollar that does not legimitely belong to me shall be ta-ken as a part of the compensation of the office. ken as a j the office. The platform is one of the boldest and soundest that has been adopted by a convention of any party in Pennsyl-vania for many years. Those portions especially which relate to the rights, duties and control of the great co great corpor-my life-long ations are in accord with convictions, and I cannot While I would not take from any cor-poration a single right that properly belongs to it I insist, in common with most of the business men, farmers and mechanics of the State, that none shall be above the less that more shall be above the law, that monopolies must not be tolerated and that the "greatest not be tolerated and that the "greatest good of the greatest number" must be the supreme object of the government. Having made no pledges of patronage during the canvass for the nomination, and being determined to continue the same policy until the close of the cam-paign, I will be free, in the event of my election, to make such appoint-ments as will best advance the princi-ples above stated. I have no enemies oles above stated. I have no enemies o punish and will know no factions in ples above stated. the selection of my subordinates. With thanks to the convenies and kind regards for each of the committee, I am yours truly, ORANGE NOBLE.

THE SECRETARYSHIP OF THE Y. M. C. A .- We have not much space to devote to this subject, but heartily echo the sentiments recently expressed by the Daily News. We are surprised that the mans gers of the Young Men's Christian Association should entertain the idea of securing the services of a young man from abroad for the position of general secretary when there are so many well-qualified, Christian young gentlemen in our midst. If we were to express our opinion we would certainly recommend the one who has for several years past acted in that capacity, if he will accept the position. Why not elect Mr. Newton S. Bailey? He is competent and certainly worthy.
