-Buy your blankets at Loebs.

-Don't worry any longer with pain; take PERUNA.

-Boys' boots from $1 a pair up to the best at Lyon & Co.'s.

-It is said that September last was warmest known for sixteen years. -The largest stock of dress goods ever brought to Centre county is now opened at -You don't get cigars like Harry Green's at any other place in town. Go to Green.

-The finest stock of underclothing in the town can be bought the cheapest at Lewin's, Philadelphia Branch.

-Brilliantly colored forest leaves will be scarce this fall. The dry weather dried up the sap in the foliage before the frost had time to get its work in.

-Our merchants should remember that a few dollars spent in judicious advertising may greatly increase their trade and, consequently, their profits. -The standard rail used by the Pennsylvania railroad company weighs sixtyseven pounds to the yard on the main line line and sixty pounds to the yard on the branch roads

-The very best production that can be had from first class stock and excellent workmanship in boots and shoes, at prices no higher than common eastern trash, are now open and for sale by S. & A. Loeb.

-Vennor is out with a prediction that a warm wave will generally prevail this winter, and he likewise prophesied four or five months ago that the coming December would be the warmest ever known in this country

-Call and examine the stock of ranges and cook stoves at Wilson, McFarlane & Co's; also their line of single and double heaters. They have for sale the Welcome Home double heater, which has been thoroughly and satisfactorily tested in this community.

-Many persons iron towels, fold them and place them away before they are dry. This is an error, and sometimes leads to results not expected. In this condition there is a mould which thus forms upon them, one variety of which causes a skin disease known as ringworm.

-An enterprising Altoona paper speaks of the new building of the Centre County Banking Company here as being "nearly completed." The Altoona paper is entirely too rapid in its conclusions, as the proposed building is not yet "nearly completed"not by a Dern-ed sight!

-An exchange says that the soot falling on the carpet from open chimneys or from carelessly handled stovepipes if covered thickly with salt can be brushed up without damage to the carpet. As the season for putting up stoves has come the above may be of profit to housewives.

-Mr. James A. Keller, secretary of Pomona Grange, requests us to announce that a meeting of that organization will be held at Centre Hall on Thursday, Nov. 10, when and where everybody interested in the affairs for the conduct of which the grange was organized can attend.

-Traveling men, especially those whose routes lie through our Southern States. should always provide themselves with Green's No. 1 and 2 Liver Pills if they would keep clear of all malarial disease They are without exception the best family medicine ever offered to the public.

-It is not going to be very expensive to dress well this winter. Ladies can no longer put twenty-five or thirty yards of silk into a dress, for they are to be very plain, mostly embroidered with chenille or beads, and must clear the ground several inches, according to the foot of the wearer.

-If the charges of "Horatio" against John I. Rankin, one of the Republican candidates for County Commissioner-appearing in our morning contemporary last Monday—are true there is certainly a foul weather look in the candidate's political atmosphere. "Horatio" predicts that Mr. Rankin, if his party does what it should do, will not receive one hundred Republican votes.

-Our morning centemperary would have the people believe that by visiting the performance of Helen Potter's Pleiades they will enjoy a rare dramatic entertainment. The company gives nothing of the sort; it is, in fact, simply a refined variety show, and, according to the statement of onte gentleman who saw the Pleiades in Philadelphia last week, the Swedish ladies' quartette, advertised as a special atn, was not with the company at all -at least he did not see or hear those

"sweet singers." -Mr. A. A. Hauke, connected with the Fidelity life insurance company of Philadelphia-an unusually inexpensive and eminently reliable organization-was in town last week looking after the interests of his company with the idea of establishlishing an agency here. He is this week in Lock Haven and will spend next week in Bellefonte, when it is probable definite steps will be taken in regard to the agen-Hon. John B. Linn, of this place, and General Jesse Merrill, of Lock Haven, are prised in the membership of the Board of Local Trustees, which is of itself a re-

-The little 3-year-old daughter of John Dunkelbarger, living at Plaasant Gap, while playing the other day placed a grain of corn in her mouth. Somehow it got into her throat, where it stuck, and before a physician could be summoned the little girl was strangled to death. The parents were particularly affected by their unusual and peculiar bereavement. P. S .- Since the foregoing was written it has been learned that Mrs. Dunkelbarger roasted some corn for her children on Thursday afternoon, and the child, whose name was Lucy, was given a portion. Soon after she began vomiting violently and was thought to be choking to death. The mother succeeded, as she believed, in removing the obstruction, but the relief was only temporary. The child showed no symptoms of distress during the night, slept soundly and ate a hearty breakfast. Soon after vomit ing and coughing returned, and the spasms were so violent that the little girl died in a very short time.

-We are always happy to receive ar orks and appreciate a fine picture whether it be in oil or on steel. But the specinen sent us yesterday of what was no doubt a superior work on steel of the engraver's art arrived in such a horribly dilapidated condition that no appreciative panegyric could in justice be pronounced The picture, which was doubtless of a very pretty subject-judging from the ragged portion received here-arrived with the wooden roller broken in two and but half the engraving clinging to it. We are of ourse much obliged to the Messrs. Peteron, the Philadelphia magazine publishers and booksellers, for their intended courtesy, but if this is indicative of the fate of acceeding works of art to our address through the mail we'd prefer to have them ent by freight.

-The boy orator, Ralph Bingham, gives universal satisfaction. Read these testimo nials: New York Clipper, March 1, 1879. 'His versatility, memory and power of mitation would be remarkable in any one and it is truly wonderful that a lad of his years should display talents and abilities that many a professional might well be proud of. If there ever was a prodigy he certainly is one." Baltimore American 'Another century will probably go by before such another boy is likely to appear on earth." Washington Republican: "His genius is wonderful, and he will doubtless receive ovations wherever he goes.

-You will shortly be compelled to buy your winter clothing. Before deciding on what you will buy see what the celebrated Rochester manufacturers, Messrs. Stein, Adler & Co., have turned out this season. equal in fit, workmanship and trimmings any custom made goods. Prices very reasonable. To be had only at S. & A Loeb's who by their square dealing have did much to build up the large demand of this very superior grade of clothing.

-Captain Amos Mullen, commanding Bellefonte's Company B, under the head of "General Orders No. 5" has issued a mandate to the company imperatively commanding the members thereof to report at the armory, fully armed and equipped for drill, on Saturday, November 5, 1881, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. The Captain plainly tells the boys, likewise, that no excuse will be accepted for non-attendance except sickness, certified to by a practicing physician.

-J. P. Newman, D. D., of Washington says of the boy orator, Ralph Bingham: What others have labored all through life's journey to accomplish this child has caught up by the wayside on the morn of that journey." Ralph appears at the Court House on Tuesday evening next, November 1. Admission, 25 cents; reserved seats, 35 cents; children, 15 cents. Proceeds for the benefit of the Boys' Branch Y. M. C. A.

-Read what is said of the boy orator, bune: "A youth of only 8 years, he stands to-day among the finest elocutionists in the land, and his wonderful delivery-clear, distinct and forcible-has won for him reputation to be envied by all." You can hear him at the Court House on Tuesday evening next.

-Sechler, the great Bush House grocer, is actually beginning to look as though he were on his "last legs" owing to the tremendous rush of business that keeps him and his assistants busy night and day and all the year round. It is to be hoped that Sechler will be preserved to serve customers for a thousand years yet.

-It is impossible for a woman after a faithful course of treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to continue to suffer with a weakness of the uterus. Inclose a stamp to Mrs. Lydia E-Pinkham, 233 Western avenue, Lynn, Mass., for her pamphlets.

-Lyon & Co. have the best medium weight farmers' dress boot, guaranteed; also nice light kip, heavy and light calf boots, heavy driving boots, lumberman's boots, with strap and buckles around top

-In addition to your county paper, which every citizen should take, you need a good city weekly. The Cincinnati Weekly Times will cost you but one dollar a year.

-The most complete stock of boots and shoes, the very cheapest and the very best ever offered, at Lyon & Co.'s.

-Harry Green's cigars still sustain their remarkable reputation. Buy no other.

MORE ABOUT THE NEW NITTARY VAL. LEY RAILROAD. -The new Nittany Valley railroad, to which allusion was made last week, is a fixed fact, as a charter was granted on Tuesday last and was brought to Bellefonte by Mr. Adam Hoy. The road is to extend a distance of a little more than three miles from a point near Bellefonte to the Annesly ore bank, and privileges to build various branches to meet the wants of the company are conceded. The capital stock is $25,000, which is expected on to be increased, and officers are as follows: President, Robert Valentine; Secretary and Treasurer, Harry C. Valentine; Chief Engineer and Superintendent, W. J. Nichols; Directors, Jacob D. Valentine, George Valentine, A. S. Valentine, W. J. Nichols, Adam Hoy, John P. Harris.

Our morning contemporary has the folowing as to the route: "The survey for the new road has already been completed under the management of Superintendent Nichols, and as near as we can learn-and we get our information from one of the directors of the company-will connect with the Bald Eagle Valley road at the meadow just below town, opposite Cowdrick's brickyard. From this point the road starts, and a substantial bridge will span Spring creek and carry the road over to Armor's meadow, whence it will take up through the ravine and along a small stream of water running down through the hollow. The line will cross the Jacksonville road on the farm of ex-Sheriff Kline, about a mile below town, from whence it again takes through a hollow and a strip of wood, coming out near the farm house of Mr. James Curtin and making straight for the Annesly ore bank, a short distance below this point, and which for the present will be the terminus of the road.'

Already money enough is subscribed to carry the road thus far, and it is the intention to continue the line to Hublersburg. which is claimed to be in the heart of the richest hematite ore deposit in the State, just as soon as sufficient stock is subscribed to warrant the undertaking. Branches will be built connecting Curtin's, Hoy's and the Bellefonte Ore Companies with the main line, and also the several banks of the Messrs. Valentine. It was the company's original intention to begin the construction of the road at once, but as some very unexpected and annoying obstacles have been encountered within the past few days by the management it is not at all probable that the building of the road will e commenced until spring. The Valentines appear to be the leading movers in this new and very commendable enterprise, as they have important interests at stake. One of the members of that firm stated the other day that for years they had been greatly exercised to know how to get their supply of ore from their several banks. Hauling it with teams was both expensive and uncertain, but it is hoped that the proposed new arrangement will overcome this perplexing difficulty. He further stated that it should be understood from the outset that the new road was not to be built solely in the interest of any firm or corporation, but that it was intended to be a public improvement for the public good, and that it was hoped the people of Bellefonte more particularly would reap a great benefit in many different ways.

The new road, it seems, will not be used exclusively for carrying ore, but a passenger car will be attached to all trains, and, as the road is to pass quite a number of vilages in the valley, there is no doubt that the people thereof will take liberal advantage of the new means of transportation offered. We sincerely wish the new corporation abundant success.

-Professor Murdoch, the distinguished elocutionist, says of the boy oratar, Ralph Bingham: "He stands alone in the world. without an equal, as a natural elecutionist and it would be absolutely impossible for the ablest elocutionist in the country to teach him that which nature has taught him better." Don't fail to hear him. At the Court House on Tuesday evening next for the benefit of the Boys' Branch of the Y. M. C. A.

- One day week before last two Aarons burg boys, the one a son of Mr. Summers and the other a son of Mr. Fred. Limbert, engaged in a hand to hand fight in that place and in a fit of uncontrollable passion young Summers made use of a knife and stabbed Limbert in the thigh, severing one of the arteries. The boys, it is stated, had an old spite at each other that finally resulted in this passionate fight.

MR. PEALE AND THE LIBEL SUIT .- The Watchman of last week took occasion to arraign the DEMOCRAT for its article on the Peale-Humes libel suit, and it endeavors to convey the idea that what was said by this paper did great injustice to Mr. Peale. Whether it did or not is of but minor consequence, inasmuch as the report was not printed as the opinion of the DEM-CRAT, which would require only ordinary intelligence to observe. The affair was called to the notice of our reporter and prepared for publication as an item of news, and not for the purpose of creating an opinion favorable or unfavorable to either side. The Watchman, however, avoided presenting any aspect of the case, contenting itself with an attempt to place the DEMOCRAT in a questionable position. If our reporter had seen Mr. Peale at the time the Humes aspect of the suit was obtained last week he would have endeavored to secure Mr. Peale's views in reference to the matter for publication in connection with the story printed in our last edition. Mr. Peale arrived in town on Monday of this week and the same evening our reporter called upon him at the office of Peale & McKee to learn if he desired to make this position very largely to the judgment any statement in connection with the pending suit. The gentleman said he had felt considerably aggrieved at the tone of the article in some respects, particularly with the assertion that he had instituted a libel suit without knowing whether the charges of the defendant could be proved or not, but he had after reflection decided that he would say nothing upon the subject for publication, and he requested that nothing further be printed bearing on the subject of the libel suit, although he had no objection to the publication of the substance of the conversation taking place at the time. He said he was perfectly content to abide the result of the trial of the suit (in a confident tone), which will come up at the next term of court.

Mr. Peale, it is a pleasure to say, is a gentleman of high standing and acknowledged ability in his profession; has always amanded the respect and confidence of every one who knows him, and nothing could have been further from the intention of the DEMOCRAT than to do him an injustice, or in any way to create prejudice against him in the suit he has seen proper to bring against Mr. Humes. GOVERNOR CURTIN AT THE FOUR TEENTH CAVALBY REUNION .- The surviving members of the Fourteenth Regiment, Pennsylvania cavalry, held a reunion at Elizabeth, Allegheny county, on Wednesday, the 19th instant. The attendance of veterans was not as large as it might have been, the regiment in the war nsisting of twelve companies, owing to the distance from the place of meeting at which so many of the soldiers resided. A most enjoyable and satisfactory meeting was had, however, and at the reunion proper, held in the evening, Hon. Andrew G. Curtin was introduced to the audience, being received with a storm of applause and speaking for the greater part of an hour. His address was, as is always the case, grandly eloquent and intensely interesting. The following extract therefrom is a tribute to the genius and patriotism of the American people, and of the influences which go out to the world from the spirit of our free institutions:

"The war that came upon us was in "The war that came upon us was in obedience to the higher law. It was inevitable. But after it was over what prosperity attended us! How we grew and prospered! Our growth and prosperity were the marvel of the age; the eyes of the world were upon us. You all know the world were upon us. You all know how when our President was assassinated words of sympathy came from nations o every clime and from the islands of the sea. It was because this is recognized as the greatest and freest government on the greatest and freest government on earth. [Applause.] And [God intends that it shall be so; it is the great law. These men before you were His instru-ments in making it so, and to them you owe a great debt of gratitude. I have said owe a great debt of gratitude. I have said that we have the respect of the whole world. If this be not literally true and there be nations whose respect we do not have, we will yet compel it! [Applause]
"We have never been propagandists of our ideas of government; it has not been necessary to send out misssonaries to convert the world to our way of thinking and vert the world to our way of thinking and bring in emigrants to people the country. Our example has been sufficient, and has compelled recognition from foreign nations. Our example to-day is remoulding governments the world over, to give the masses of the people higher and greater liberty. It has made a republic in France possible. It has kindled aspirations in Irish hearts which will yet compel England to grant to the Emerald Isle the concessions which justice demands she should have. If not granted voluntarily five millions of sturdy Irishmen will rise in their lions of stardy Irishmen will rise in their might and compel it! [Applausa.] It has shown to Russia the blessings of free-dom and has aroused a feeling which will bring every Czar who ascends the imperial throne to a violent death until the people turone to a violent death until the people have their rights. God forbid that I should justify assessination, but it is the logic of events and must be."

A NARROW ESCAPE.-On Wednesday of last week Mr. William G. Carner, son of Anthony Carner, residing near Hublers burg, made a narrow escape from death while engaged in threshing wheat with a eparator on the farm of his father. By e means he was caught in the ma chinery of the separator near the coupling next to the belt wheel of the cylinder and before he could be extricated from his perilous position received severe bruises ind cuts about the right shoulder, breast and in both hands. The machine wa stopped and he was taken out with the infuries above stated. For several days he was confined to bed, but we learn that he to recovery.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS .- The annual meeting for election of officers was held on last Friday evening. A revised constitution and by laws were read and considered, and referred to a committee of five, who were to report at a meeting of the association to be held on the 25th of November, and who were also authorized to take the necessary steps to have the association incorporated. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz; President D. S. Keller; Vice President, Reuben E. Shaffer; Recording Secretary, Newton S. Bailey ; Treasurer, J. W. Gephart ; Executive Committee, F. W. Crider, Abram S. Valentine, W. S. Zeller, F. Potts Green, Dr. J. W. Rhone and James A. Beaver.

A meeting of the new Executive Committee was held at Col. Keller's office on Tuesday evening last at which were present, D. S. Keller, R. E. Shaffer, A. S. Valentine, Dr. J. W. Rhone, W. S. Zeller, F. Potts Green, and J. W. Gephart. The subjects of electing a General Secretary and the opening of the reading rooms were considered. In the matter of a General Secretary the committee agreed that it was best to leave the selection of a man for of the State Secretary, Rev. S. A. Taggart, who was familiar with the necessary qualifications for the office. In accordance with this view, the committee unanimously elected J. Willard Miller, of Luzerne ounty, at present filling the position of Principal of the High school at Shickshinny, Pa., and authorized the secretary pro tem. to correspond with him and extend a call on behalf of the association. Action was also taken that will lead to the opening of the Young Men's and Boy's reading rooms within a week or ten days.

The Boy's Branch is also moving along uccessfully. About 175 names are now enrolled and the average attendance continues at 125. Great interest is manifested in this department over the entertainnent to be given on Tuesday evening next. November 1, by Ralph Bingham, the Boy Orator for the benefit of the Branch.

-A young daughter of Thomas Watson, a farmer residing in the Bald Eagle ridges a couple of miles from Milesburg, died a week ago last Saturday under circumstances somewhat enshrouded in mystery. She was taken with violent retching in the morning of that day, but the parents for ome reason did not send for a physician. Dr. Grove, of Milesburg, passed the house late in the afternoon, and he was called in to see the little girl, who was about 7 years old, and he found her sinking so surely that he could express to the parents no hope of her recovery. The doctor said he could not uccessful diagnose the case owing to the child's weakened and critical condition, but the complaint at the outset resembled the symptoms of cholera morbus. The child died about 9 o'clock the same evenng without, it is said, exhibiting the least evidence of pain. The morning following the death of the little girl her younger brother was prostrated with scarlet fever, and the friends of the family are now inclined to believe that it was the same disease of a malignant type that took the life of the girl. The boy was still living when last heard from.

-One of the detail of Company B to the Yorktown centennial had a decidedly unpleasant experience during the passage of the transport across the bay. He was afflicted with a severe attack of seasickness and all his rations "came up." Wandering along the beach subsequently some of the Bellefonte soldiers gathered up a supply of nice-looking shell-fish which they took to be clams. The clams were properly prepared and the boys gleefully enjoyed a meal which they thought was mighty comfortable and good. But in a short time an unaccountable commotion was kicked up in their stomachs and the clams "came up" also, not being accustomed to that sort of The "solers" afterward dis covered that they had been indulging in that species of doubtful bivalve known as the "muscle." The detail are of the unanimous opinion that, in view of discouraging occurrences that distinguished the excursion just ended, they will make it convenient to absent themselves on the occasion of the next centennial celebration of the surrender of Cornwallis. The boys think that if Washington's army at Valley Forge had no better accommodations than were furnished the detail at Yorktown they must indeed have suffered.

REUNION OF THE FIFTY THIRD PROT-MENT, P. V .- The second reunion of the old Fifty-third regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, will be held at Milton, Northumberland county, on Tuesday, December 13. It is expected that a large proportion of the surviving members of the regiment will be present. George C. Anderson, of Latrobe, Westmoreland county, is president of the association; P. H. Schreyer, of Milton, vice president; John M. Caldwell, of Milton, treasurer, and A. B. Mann, of Coudersport, secretary. The executive committee consists of Major George D. Pifer, 214 Market street, Philadelphia, formerly of Bellefonte; Eli Chambers, of Latrobe; John McLaughlin, of Huntingdon; P. H. Schreyer, of Milton, and A. B. Mann, of Coudersport.

-The Philadelphia Branch is the box place to visit in cold weather when you want to be warmly rigged out for winter. Go to Lewin's.

-Call and see the largest stock ever brought to Bellefonte and at the lowest rock bottom prices. Lyon & Co.

GREGG TOWNSHIP MATTERS .- One day last week we had a jolly barn raising at Spring Mills. Will McN. Allison, having built a palace for himself and wife, decided to put up a first class building for his stock, Accordingly, that prince of carpenters, William McCormick, was called upon to plan and build a barn that will, when completed, be second to none in the valley. Several prominent characters graced the raising with their presence. Notably among these was Esquire Thompson, of Potters Mills, who did some tall lifting not only at the barn but afterward at the table. Another prominent character was Tuten's Agent, who was trying to kill two birds with one stone. He was canvassing for subscribers for the Republican and electioneering against John I. Rankin.

A meeting of the citizens was held on last Saturday evening to consider the subject of petitioning the court for a county bridge across Penn's creek, near Henry Krumrines.

The schools of Gregg opened last Monday with the exception of the Spring Mills Grammar school, which will open on the 31st instant, under charge of a teacher whose name I have not yet learned.

The Democrats on this side are solid for their ticket. No scratching with us! I hope the Democrats throughout the county will stick to their ticket. Don't give the Republicans any foot hold. Any Democrat who has read that villainous blackguarding address of Tom Cooper to the Republicans of Pennsylvania, and can have the cheek to scratch his ticket must be a very soft pumpkin. Any man who writes such vile stuff as is contained in that address is a worse traitor than Benedict Arnold or Jeff. Davis.

There are some good men on the Repubican ticket of Centre county, and there are just as good men in the rank and file of the party as in the Democratic party, and often a Democrat feels like substituting the name of some good personal Republican friend for the name of some one on his own ticket, but such language as their chairman has used in that address should be enough to prevent anything of the kind this election, at least.

BOURBON DEMOCRAT.

TO ALL SOLDIERS WHO SERVED WITH REYNOLDS:-At a meeting held at the Union League in Philadelphia, on the 1st of July, 1881, the eighteenth anniversary of the death of General John Fulton Reynolds at Gettsburg, it was resolved to form an association to erect an equestrian statue of that heroic soldier. Mr. J. E. Temple subscribed twenty-five thousand dollars. The Grand Army of the Republic, the Society of the Army of the Potomac, the Pennsylvania Reserves, the 3d U. S. Artillery, the 5th and the 14th U. S. Infantry, the Association of Graduates of West Point, the First Corps, the Third Corps, the Eleventh Corps, and Buford's Cavalry Division, and other military and civil organizations, heartily endorse the proposed onument as a fitting recognition of Reynolds' services. All soldiers who served with Reynolds are invited to contribute according to their means. A dollar from every man who was with Reynolds in his uccessive commands, from the time he left West Point until he fell at Gettsburg, will abundantly provide the sum required. Send whatever you can give, be it much or little; do what you can to secure additional subscriptions, and forward them to J. G. Rosengarten, Treasurer, 532 Walnut street, Philadelphia, who will promptly acknowledge the receipt.

By order of the Executive Committee Reynolds' Monument Association. A. G. CURTIN, President
