Possible President Davis on Republi-can Misrule.

From the New York World.

Senator David Davis's views of the managers, methods and principles of the Republican party which has just placed him next in the Presidential succession to General Arthur may not be without interest to our Republican friends and the public generally. During the last Presidential campaign he voted for General Hancock and against General Garfield, for various reasons alvoted for General Hancock and against General Garfield, for various reasons alleged in his letter of August 4 to Mr. James E. Harvey. "I have no hesitation in supporting General Hancock," he wrote, "because his election will put an end to sectional strife and to section al parties, and will revive a patriotic sentiment all over the land which political leaders and factions for sinsister ends have sought to prevent." Senator Logan, who proposed Mr. Davis for President pro tem., and his Grant brethren will remember that in that letter Mr. Davis said: "General Hancock's Order No. 40 stands out in striking contrast with the actions of his superior, Order No. 40 stands out in striking con-trast with the actions of his superior, who soon after rebuked and drove him from that command for uttering senti-ments worthy of all honor." And the faithful who annually point with pride to the record of the great Republican par-ty and approve its successive adminis-tration will be pleased to put this in their pipe of peace and smoke it: "After twenty years of domination by their pipe of peace and smoke it:

"After twenty years of domination by the Republicans, chronic abuses have become fastened upon the public service like barnacles upon the bottom of a stranded ship. There is no hope of reform by leaders who have created a system of mal administration and who are interested in verocatains. system of mai administration and who are interested in perpetuating its evils. Nothing short of the sternest remedy gives any promise of effective reform, and the first step toward it is in change of rulers. New blood must be infused of rulers. New blood must be infused into the management of public affairs before relief can be expected. The people demand a change, and, being in earnest, they are likely to be gratified."

Thus our Republican friends, by way of attesting their reverence and respect for the memory of President Garfield, have arranged that his successor, should anything happen to Mr. Arthur.

should anything happen to Mr. Arthur, shall be a man who had not sufficient faith in Mr. Garfield's patriotism and faith in Mr. Garfield's patriotism and integrity to vote for him, and who believed that it would be impossible to obtain good government without first destroying the Republican party! In his letter to Mr. O. H. Browning, May 14. 1880, Judge Davis laid down his views on the cardinal points of Republican policy as follows:

"The demand made by adherents of one of the great; arties for a strong government means substantially a centralized government, destructive of tralized government, destructive of home rule in the States and the very reverse of what Mr. Lincoln well described as a government of the people. Carried to its logical conclusion such a change would finally overthrow the Re-

Hurrah for Davis, Republicanism and —State Rights! Let us go on:

-State Rights: Let us go on:
"The existing tariff is regarded as a confused mass of incongruities and monopolies, created by special legislation and open to constant fraud on the revenue. It taxes the consumer heavily enue. It taxes the consumer heavily on those articles especially that are most needed by the toiling masses. It taxes every newspaper, every schoolbook, every bible and the salt of the working man with gross injustice, because the poor pretense of revenue does not exist to cover the wrong. A revision, therefore, which shall be at once searching and fair is demanded and should be promptly made."

Add to this Mr. Davis's declaration in the Senate, March 15, 1880, that—

"The time had come when the mass

"The time had come when the mass of incongruities and huge monopolies commonly called tariff should be reviewed and adapted to the spirit of a progressive age."

Hurrah for Davis, Republicanism and

-Free Trade! Let us go on:
"Elections ought to be exempt from any menacing force, and to be free from the contamination or corrupt re-turning boards. No party deserves confidence that seeks ascendency by striking down honest suffrage either by the use of troops, by fraud or by intim-idation."

the use of troops, by fraud or by intimidation."

Hurrah for Davis, Republicanism and —no Troops at the Polls nor any Deputy Marshal! And finally let us contribute to this new era of good feeling the following extract from Mr. Davis's speech in the Senate, March 11, 1881:

"An honorable recognition of the trust generously confided to my keeping by Democratic votes in 1877 requires me to sustain the existing organization of the Senate. Whatever may be the result, I can accept no honor at the hands of either side."

"When I said I would die a bachelor I did not think I should live till I were married."

His Bitter Foe!

His Bitter Foe!

Prom the Harrisburg Patriot

Prom the Harrisburg Patriot.

The most bitter foe of Orange Noble in this contest is the Standard Oil Company. Orange Noble in the legislature voted for a free pipe law which would have relieved the oil producers of Pennsylvania by giving them a free outlet and an open market. That is the chief ground of the hostility of the Standard Oil monopoly to the Democratic candidate for treasurer. As an oil producer Orange Noble has felt the tyranny of the monopoly, and by daring to defend his rights and interests he has provoked its hatred. The Standard Oil Company is a foreign corporation. Its members reside in New York, Ohio, New Jersey, anywhere but in the State from whose product they derive their enormous wealth. But this fact does not prevent the monopoly from interfering in the elections of Pennsylvania. Against the Standard Oil Company Pennsylvania has a claim of upwards of three million dollars for unpaid taxes. The monopoly is making a determined resistance to this claim and has one to the conclusion that the election of Orange Noble will interfere with its interesis. When an unscrupulous monopoly insolent with ill gotten wealth and power makes war upon a citizen of Pennsylvania when a candidate for office it becomes the duty of the people to cover him with their shields.
