Mr. McMillan, of the Brockerhoff House, entertained a large number of friends on last Monday afternoon, in commemoration of New Year's Day, in a very happy and agreeable manner.

The person that handed in to the editors of the Teacher's Journal the list of teachers, requests us to say that the name of Prof. C. L. Granley was inadvertently omitted. He attended promptly and faithfully.

Dr. Thomas R. Hayes and wife, of Linn street, are at present located at the Bingham House, Philadelphia. A card from the Doctor informs us that he expects to be absent from Bellefonte for about a month.

Gov. Curtin reached home on last Friday and remained until Wednesday morning, when he returned to Washington to resume his Congressional labors. He received hearty greetings from his old friends and neighbors, who were all delighted to see him in such apparent good health.

At the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Monday evening Mr. John Moore entertained the Boys' Branch with several experiments in chemistry to the delight of the boys. During the winter it is proposed to give several practical talks to these young people. On next Monday evening the subject is "Hard Coal and Mining."

The Teachers' Journal, published daily last week from the office of the DEMOCRAT, by Messrs. Lieb and Van Ormer, was an exceedingly attractive and creditable effort at journalism, and was one of the pleasant features of the Teachers' Institute. The gentlemen deserve great credit, not only for the ability displayed in their columns, but for their energy and enterprise.

We call attention to the notice of the new board of County Commissioners in another column, giving the rules and regulations which will govern the board in transacting the business of the office. It is important to citizens to note these rules by which it will be seen that there will be regular meetings of the board on the first and third Tuesday of each month.

Brother Deininger, of the Millheim Journal, passed several days pleasantly in Bellefonte this week. Yesterday morning he paid his respects to the DEMOCRAT and was a welcome visitor. We think he has been keeping a weather eye on the new county officials, only, however, to see that in the beginning they do all things "decently and in order."

Ex-Sheriff Spangler and family took their departure from the official residence on the hill on last Tuesday, to again make Centre Hall their home. Sheriff Spangler was a kind, considerate and excellent officer and in his retirement we know he will not be entirely lost from public view. In whatever business he may engage in the future we wish him success.

That perfect baking and cooking stove, the "Pioneer," is for sale only by Wilson, McFarlane & Co. All superfluous ornamentation has been dispensed with to secure a first-class kitchen stove. For weight, strength and durability it cannot be surpassed. In purchasing this stove you are not paying for nicker trimmings and beautiful finish, but you are getting what is far better and what you need in a good cook stove—a good, reliable baker and cook.

Auditors Pierce Musser, Judge Proudfoot and C. P. Hewes are this week making the annual examination of the accounts of the county officers for the past year. We understand they propose to do their work in a thorough and critical manner in order to meet in all respects the duties imposed upon them by the laws under which they act. We do not doubt they will find all the accounts correct; the officers have all been men of honor and probity who would not be guilty of the slightest crookedness in their official conduct; but as these annual audits have been of a somewhat superficial character in the past, we think the present board is to be commended for their effort to more fully perform their duties. They will prepare an elaborate financial and statistical statement, which when completed will be laid before the taxpayers of the county.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.—With the exception of the Prothonotary's office, there was on last Monday an entire change in the Court House officials of Centre county. In the office named, Mr. Harper is his own successor, and will prove as faithful, efficient and popular in his second term as he has during the past three years. In the office of County Treasurer, Adam Yearick, gives way to Daniel C. Keller. Mr. Yearick has been an excellent custodian of the county funds and will take with him in his retirement, the respect of all who knew him in office. Mr. Keller, who succeeds, is fully competent for the duties of the position, and will no doubt also make an excellent and capable officer and in every respect meet the expectations of his many friends. Thomas J. Dunkel has taken the place of that faithful officer Sheriff Spangler and commenced promptly to perform his arduous and oftentimes unpleasent duties in a manner that already does him great credit. James A. McClain is the successor of W. E. Burchfield, who in his six years of service proved himself to be one of the best Registers the county ever had. Mr. McClain is an accurate and experienced clerk, and will discharge every duty required of him with care and fidelity. The office could not be in better hands. W. A. Tobias has stepped out of the Recorder's office to make room for Frank Bible. "Toby," as his friends delight to call him, kept the books of the Recorder's office in elegant style during two terms of office, and we are pleased to state that "Frank" is persistently practicing a style of book hand writing that promises to eclipse even the regular and legible lines of his predecessor. Frank will fill the bill and make a popular official. And now we come, lastly, to the change in the Commissioner's office, and it is a proper time to say a good word for George Swab, Jacob Dunkel and Andrew Gregg, and their clerk Henry Beck. It can be said of these gentlemen that they were never lavish or improvident in spending the funds of the county, and they have not at all times escaped censure for what some persons were pleased to regard as unnecessary closeness. All this was, however, in the interests of the tax payers and the large majority of those from whose pockets the money comes will not be likely to complain. One thing is certain; the board was always governed by good motives and their actions were the result of honest judgment, and they leave their places with a clear and honorable record. In the new board consisting of John Wolf, A. J. Griest and Henry Campbell, we have entire confidence, and believe that they will also make a like creditable record for themselves. Thus the old officials retire and the new ones elected last fall by the voters of the county step to the front, and will exercise the functions of their offices during the coming three years.

A CHANGE AT THE BROCKERHOFF.—Mr. C. G. MacMillan, the new proprietor of the Brockerhoff House took possession of the elegant hotel on last Saturday evening, and gives promise of making a very popular "mine host." Mr. MacMillan has had large experience in the business and in all respects seems to know how to "keep a hotel." He is an affable, obliging and pleasant gentleman, with an extensive acquaintance, and will undoubtedly command a large share of patronage. The house is at present in elegant order, having under the management of the Brockerhoff Brothers been recently refitted and refurnished, and should do a thriving business. We wish the new management plenty of guests and a full tide of success.

THE NEW BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.—The new board of County Commissioners elected last fall, consisting of John Wolfe, Esq., of Miles township, A. J. Griest, Esq., of Unionville, and Henry Campbell, Esq., of Ferguson township, took the oath of office and organized by the selection of Mr. Wolfe for President of the board. The board then elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: Clerk, W. Miles Walker; Attorney, David F. Fortney; Physician to the county prison, Dr. James H. Dobbin; Janitor, Bartom Galbraith.

By a reference to our obituary notices it will be observed that two venerable citizens of the county, Mr. Henry Meyer, of Miles township, and Mr. Daniel Kramer, of Penn township, have recently passed to the other world. Both had lived beyond their eighty-sixth year, and both were prominent, excellent and highly esteemed citizens of the localities in which their long and useful lives had been passed.

Mr. Meyer was the father of Mr. Henry Meyer, the late county superintendent of schools, and the appropriate mention made of him by Mr. Linn in another column of this paper, is a just tribute to his virtues and memory.

Daniel Kramer reached Penn's valley with his parents as early as a day as Mr. Meyer did Brush valley, and, like him when he grew to manhood, was of imposing stature, vigorous in body and mind and of strong religious convictions. We knew him well for many years and always to respect and honor him as a just, honest and conscientious man. He was a farmer by occupation and prospered in life, though in his early years he shared all the hardships and privations incident to a new settlement; and now, crowned with his grand chaplet of eighty-six years, we doubt not he has gone to meet the reward of the "just made perfect."

MARRIAGE BELLS.—On Tuesday evening of this week the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lyon, on Curtin street, was the scene of a happy and joyous event in the marriage of their amiable and accomplished daughter, Miss Clara V. Lyon and Mr. William J. Nicholls. The nuptial ceremony took place at six o'clock, P. M., and was performed by Rev. G. D. Penacker, of the M. E. Church, assisted by Rev. John Hewitt, of the Episcopal church. We understand that only relatives of the family were present to witness the uniting of these "two hearts that beat as one," and to extend to them congratulations and sincere prayers for a long life of wedded bliss and prosperity. The happy young couple took the 8:55 train for an extended wedding journey. The groom is in the employ of Berwind, White & Co., the large coal operators of the Snow Shoe region, and we believe goes to Texas as the agent of the company to establish in that distant State a market for their coal. The bride was a favorite in Bellefonte society, and will carry with her to her far off home the good wishes of an entire community. May the journey of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls through life be one of unclouded brightness.

THE GLASS WORKS.—After the late suspension of the glass works, as noticed in the last issue of the DEMOCRAT, active measures were taken by a number of energetic and influential business men of our town to re-organize the works, and it is gratifying to know that their efforts have been crowned with success. The factory is again in operation under auspices which may be regarded as most favorable to their continued activity. The "Bellefonte Glass Company, Limited," has been formed with the following named well known and reputable gentlemen as the board of managers: C. T. Alexander, John Ardell, Jr., Dr. R. L. Dart, Hammon Sechler and C. M. Bower. C. T. Alexander is chairman of the board, and C. M. Bower, secretary and treasurer. L. T. Munson is the clerk and book keeper of the company, and a better selection could not have been made. Mr. Munson is a competent and experienced accountant, and will see that the books of the concern are always properly kept. The first glass was blown by the new company sometime last week, and the result of the operations thus far have been entirely satisfactory. It is to be hoped this important local interest will now thrive, and experience many years of prosperity. No factory in the United States can make a finer article of window glass, and there should be no reason why the company should not find a profitable market for their product. Every one at home, at least, will wish the new company abundant success.

FROM CENTRE HALL.—Thursday morning, December 29, though it seemed the rain would never cease, it still brought some light hearts. On the preceding day Mr. Bruce Lingle, with his bride, had returned from an extended wedding tour through the western States, and on the 29th, at two o'clock, P. M., a grand reception was given to them at the residence of Mr. Thomas Lingle, the groom's home, about one mile west of this place. The guests numbered one hundred and six, (about twenty others invited not being present) among whom were represented the counties of Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Clinton and Centre. At 2:30 o'clock, forty-five of these were seated to the most sumptuous banquet that has been given in this section for many years. After the dinner all of this large company took the privilege, which they soon found was presented to them, to enjoy themselves as best suited their tastes, and the pleasures of the evening continued until a late hour. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the recent festival given by the young ladies and gentlemen of the Lutheran congregation of this place, was in all respects a decided success. A clear profit of about one hundred dollars was realized, and all connected with the affair deserve great credit for their generous efforts towards this successful result.

MADISONBURG, Jan. 2, 1882. MESSRS. EDITORS.—Our attention was called last week to the fine appearance which the Evangelical church at this place now presents. A number of tasty and elegant improvements have recently been made to the building under the direction and superintendence of our friends, Mr. Samuel K. Faust and Rev. H. Stover, assisted by Mr. William Henszell and Mr. John Lose. The church is indeed a credit to the town and to its membership. The audience room is beautifully frescoed and painted. There is also a well arranged recess and vestibule, a fine chandelier, and every other necessary outfit. Much credit is due to S. K. Faust and Rev. Stover, the pastor, for the splendid and successful manner in which they have managed the work of improvement entrusted to their care and judgment. The congregation will have a re-opening of the church on Sunday, January 8th, and all friends of christianity are cordially invited to be present—most especially is it desirable that all "free givers" should attend. In addition to this fine house of worship, the other congregations of Madisonburg are not behind the times in church buildings. The German Reformed congregation has one of the finest churches in Centre county, and it is all paid for. A FRIEND.

PERUNA AND MANALIN ARE TWO kinds of the Materia Medica.

HENRY MEYER.—We have to record the death of one of the oldest and best known residents of our county, Henry Meyer, of Miles township, who died on Wednesday, Dec. 28th, 1881, at his residence three miles east of Rebersburg, at the advanced age of 86 years, 3 months and 26 days.

He was a son of Col. Henry Meyer, who moved into Brush valley in the year 1797, (when his son Henry was about three years old) having purchased of Col. Samuel Miles, the Christopher Bink's warrant tract, on which he settled and where his son Henry passed his long and useful life who has just deceased.

In Henry Meyer's boyhood days, Centre Furnace, owned by Gen. John Potter and Col. Samuel Miles, was the market for the early settlers of Brush valley, but in 1828 when the turnpike west of Lewisburg was located, and the cross cut canal to Lewisburg agitated, wheat rose to $1.25, and the tide of Brush valley trade set eastwardly, and continued that way for thirty years or more, and Henry Meyer was as generally known among business men in Lewisburg as in his native valley. His word was as good as his bond, and when his name was offered as security no questions were asked. The question was the other way "could you get Henry Meyer to bail you?" I well recollect my father, who was sometime associated with Mr. Meyer in views, remarking that Henry Meyer was a man of remarkably good common sense and sound judgment. They, in connection with Adam Stover, who still survives them, [a life long sentinel at the "entering in" of Brush valley] located the great road through Brush valley to Buffalo valley, which will remain an ever-enduring memorial of a man who, without any knowledge of engineering, could tell exactly where a road should be located.

He has closed his honest life in a serene old age, and his family cannot grieve, but rather thank God that he was so long spared for their happiness and the welfare of his native valley. He belonged to that grand old German stock which first peopled Brush valley, of robust body, vigorous mind, in freedom from the ordinary weakness of old age, he was able to communicate the stirring incidents of his early days, and to him the local historian is indebted for much valuable information which otherwise had passed into oblivion.

PLEASANT GAP JOTTINGS.—With this day the old year dies and leaves us only a history of things done and experienced during its stay with us. In many respects it has been a remarkable year—a year long to be remembered. The last hour is almost at hand and as we glance with retrospective eye we realize that many predictions and sayings when the year was ushered in has been seen and heard, though the prophecy of old Mother Shipton has not all come true. The earth still remains terra firma, and the inhabitants there are yet as busy as bees. But to many, hopes have been blasted and buried in an eternal grave. Many determined to turn over a new leaf. The male persuasion generally swore off drinking, smoking and useless extravagance, mentally resolving to undergo a moral reformation, but as a rule, we are sorry to think, that to many these resolves had a very ephemeral life. In the frailty of human nature they probably found themselves convicted liars before the first week of the year was numbered with the past.

A "New Year's Round" is frequently a trying gauntlet for the man who has decided to start a "teetotal." He may at first decline with "thanks" at one or two places, but the chances are that the importunities and demands of society will prevail over his good intentions long before the visits of the day are completed. But this is one of the strange phases of life, and the probabilities are that nearly all the newly turned leaves have already met the same fate as those turned in past years. Miss Maggie Swaney, who was seriously injured on last Friday morning by being thrown out of a buggy with her nephew, Frank Swaney, we are happy to say is now rapidly improving, and will be able to be removed to her home some time during the coming week.

Mr. Joe. Ross has discovered quite a large vein of first class cement on his farm. Joe says that if President Arthur gives any show at all for "home industry," he will get along well with his new discovery. We congratulate him. Gottlieb Haag says that if all the evil doers of Stalwartism were brought to justice for their many crimes there would be much left of the party, which would be bad for Gen. Beaver's chances to fill the Governor's chair after the next election. Henry Zeigler says that by reading many of the Republican papers published in different parts of the State, he has come to the conclusion that Giteau has done more for the Stalwarts politically than any other living man. Henry is about right. SMITHSON.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.—The members of the Milesburg Presbyterian church will please accept the thanks of Mr. and Mrs. Wright, for their splendid and generous gift of an elegant set of stone china of 120 pieces, presented to them on Christmas eve. The presentation was made through two young ladies, Miss Julia A. Morris and Miss Lizzie Hahn. Thanks are due also to Mr. George Brew, of Bellefonte, from whom the purchase was made, for his generosity. Also to Dr. Grove, of Milesburg, for a splendid turkey.

SOME FACTS FOR DIRECTORS.—From the table of Mr. J. C. Meyer, the agent of the "Appletons," during the session of Institute six books were taken (this is polite for stolen) valued at several dollars. From the table of Mr. D. M. Lieb, the agent of Clark & Maynard, three books were taken, valued about the same as above. Who took them? Children? No! Visitors? No! Who then? Teachers, nay not teachers, but some who like the silly ass in the fable, don the garment of a respectable title to cover the character of petty sneak thieves. We give the names of some of the books taken so that directors can question those seen with them, and find the guilty ones from the conscious blush of guilt: "Appleton's Language Lessons;" "Choice Thoughts;" "Choice Selections;" "Henderson's Test Words;" "School Classics;" "The Deserted Village;" "Anderson's General History, Part First;" "Ancient History;" Teachers' Journal.

The musical held at the residence of Mrs. J. G. Love, on Linn street, on Thursday evening, in the presence of a large number of friends, is said to have been a delightful affair. The program consisted of vocal and piano solos, duets, trios and choruses. The most interesting part of the whole was the competition between a number of Mrs. Love's pupils for certain pieces offered by that lady. All the different pieces were so finely rendered as to make it very difficult for the committee appointed to make the award. Miss Mary Green succeeded in carrying off the first prize, Miss Emily Valentine the second, Miss Bella Weaver the third and Master Eddie Valentine the fourth. Mrs. Love certainly deserves great praise for her efforts in endeavoring to develop the musical ability of the young folks of Bellefonte. —Teachers' Journal.
