GEN. PORTER'S PETITION.

An Appeal to the President for Redress.

EX-PRESIDENT GRANT'S LETTER OF INDORSEMENT—A PRIVATE LETTER OF APOLOGY FROM GENERAL TERRY.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23, 1881.—To the President, Washington, D. C.—Sir:

I respectfully represent that in January, 1863, by Court-martial, I was most unjustly declared guilty of charges against me and sentenced "to be cashiered and forever disqualified from holding any office of trust or profit under the government of the United States."

From the promulgation of the verdict of that Court I have protested my innocence of all wrong done and asserted the injustice of the sentence, and, presenting the sustaining evidence, I have from time to time urged a rehearing.

In 1878 the President, in order to be fully informed of the facts of the case and to be enabled to act advisedly upon my application for relief, appointed a Board of army officers to examine into the merits of the case and to report what action, if any, in their opinion justice required should be taken on my application.

That Board, after a thorough examination into the facts of the case, vindicated me in every respect, and reported that in their opinion justice required that the hands of the President such action as may be necessary to annul and set aside the findings and sentence of the Court-martial and restore me to the positions of which that sentence deprived me—such restoration to take effect from the date of dismissal from the service.

And I now respectfully and urgently represent that the sentence is a continuing sentence, and so long as it exists is within the reach and under the control of Executive power, that, harsh and burdensome originally and lasting through many years, it is for stronger reasons a subject for the consideration and action of the Executive now that it is proved to have been founded in error and to be unjust, and I respectfully ask you, if convinced of the justice of the recommendation of the Advisory Board, to annul and set aside the findings and sentence of the Court-martial and to nominate me to the Senate for restoration to my rank in the army, under an act of Congress of 1868 allowing that mode of redress of wrong committed by a Court-martial.

And this I ask not merely in justice to me and those most dear to me, but in justice to the army to which I belonged and which has ever believed in me, and to the government which honored and trusted me.

Very respectfully yours, FITZ JOHN PORTER.

NEW YORK, December 21, 1881.—The President, Washington, D. C.—Dear Sir:

At the request of General Fitz John Porter I have recently reviewed his trial and the testimony furnished before the Schofield Court of Inquiry, held in 1879, giving to the subject three full days of careful reading and consideration and much thought in the intervening time.

The reading of the whole of this record has thoroughly convinced me that for these nineteen years I have been doing a gallant and efficient soldier a very great injustice in thought and some times in speech. I feel it incumbent upon me now to do whatever lies in my power to remove from him and from his family the stain upon his good name.

I feel this the more incumbent upon me than I should if I had been a corps commander only, or occupying any other command in the army than the one which I did; but as General I had it possibly in my power to have obtained for him the hearing which he only got at a later day, and as President I certainly had the power to have ordered that hearing.

In justification for my injustice to General Porter I can only state that shortly after the war closed his defence was brought to my attention, but I read it in connection with a sketch of the field where his offences were said to have been committed, which I now see—since perfect maps have been made by the Engineers' Department of the whole field—were totally incorrect as showing the position of the two armies.

I have read it in connection with statements made on the other side against General Porter, and I am afraid possibly with some little prejudice in the case, although General Porter was a man whom I personally knew and liked before; but I got the impression, with many others, that there was a half-hearted support of General Pope in his campaigns, and that General Porter, while possibly not more guilty than others, happened to be placed in a position where he could be made responsible for his indifference, and that the punishment was not a severe one for such an offense. I am now convinced that he rendered faithful, efficient and intelligent service, and the fact that he was retained in command of a corps for months after his offences were said to have been committed is in his favor.

What I would ask in General Porter's behalf from you is, if you can possibly give the time, that you give the subject the same study and thought that I have given it and then act as your judgment dictates. But feeling that you will not have the time for such an investigation (for it would take several days,) I would ask that the whole matter be laid before the Attorney General for his examination and opinion.

Hoping that you will be able to do this much for an officer who has suffered for nineteen years a punishment that never should be inflicted upon any but the most guilty.

I am very truly yours, U. S. GRANT.

ST. PAUL, August 26, 1879.—Dear General: Soon after the publication of the report of the Schofield Board you wrote to me, thanking me as one of the Board for our action in your case. I intended to reply to your letter at once, but just then General Sheridan desired me to accompany him on a visit to some posts in my department, and I delayed my reply until my return to St. Paul; then in the multitude of things to which I had to attend I forgot to make it. I write now to say that it is not thanks but pardon which I should ask from you. For years I did you wrong in thought, and sometimes wrong in speech. It is true that this was through ignorance; but I had not the right to be so ignorant. I might have learned something at least of the truth had I diligently sought it. If you find anything in my action as a member of the Board which you can accept as an atonement for the wrong which I did you, I shall be more than gratified.

With great respect and admiration, I am yours most sincerely, ALFRED H. TERRY.

Major General Fitz John Porter, New York.

A Bid for Guiteau's Body.

AN OFFER OF $1,000, WHICH THE PRISONER THINKS OUGHT TO BE MADE $2,000.

WASHINGTON, January 6.

Mr. Scoville has received a bona fide proposition from a medical gentleman for the body of Charles J. Guiteau. This gentleman (whose name Mr. Scoville declines to make public at present) has offered to pay down immediately $1,000, the amount of the purchase money, on condition that he shall have the body of the prisoner as soon as the exactions of the law have been met, to dispose of absolutely as he shall see fit. He also agrees to take his chances of waiting one month or twenty years for the consummation of the bargain on Guiteau's part. This somewhat liberal proposition was submitted to Guiteau to-day and seemed to impress him quite favorably. After reflecting a moment he suggested: "I think I ought to bring more than that. Perhaps some other fellow will offer $2,000; then I can pay my debts, and if I get a new trial that miserable Corkhill can't bring on a lot of fellows just to swear how much I owe them."

The only persons admitted to the prisoner's cell to-day were J. W. Guiteau (his brother) and a friend who accompanied him. The brothers held a long conference in the effort to arrange the order of the arguments to be made before the jury. Guiteau not only insists upon speaking in his own behalf, but in making the closing argument for the defence. He cannot, he says, at this late stage jeopardize his case by allowing Mr. Scoville to have the last say. Mr. Scoville is perfectly willing to let Guiteau make a speech, but wants him to make it first, so that he (Mr. Scoville) can comment upon it (if desirable) to the jury. Guiteau was busily engaged when his brother called to-day in the preparation of his argument and had already covered four pages of fool scap.

Weather Predicted by Vennor During this Month.

Mr. Vennor, whose weather predictions for December were such ignominious failures, predicts that January will enter fine and moderate in the majority of sections, but with falling temperature toward on or about the third, and cold snap, varying in intensity according to location, between the third and fifth days. Heavy snowfalls probably throughout Central Canada and southwest to New York and Washington, with considerable bluster about the end of the week (seventh.) It is probable that the second week will give a very cold term in northern and western sections, moderating toward the end of the week to heavy snowfalls in Canada and northern States and rains in more southern sections. Unsettled and stormy but moderate weather will likely characterize the entry of the third week, with blustery and drifty weather in the west and rain to the southward, followed by still milder weather and alternation of snow, sleet and rain in northern sections. An occasional fine day between these disturbances. The twenty-fifth is likely to bring lower temperature. Week likely to end mild, with snow and rains extending southward to New York and Washington.

Mr. BLAINE, since his retirement from the Cabinet, is reported to be "up to his ears in business." This is misleading. Mr. Blaine is one of a class of Statesmen entirely too numerous who are never out of business. He has never become so engrossed in promoting the interests of other men that he has in anywise neglected his own. He has a large fortune that he did not earn, as an officeholder, from any salary he received. Sherman, Grant, Hayes and a host of other thrifty gentlemen keep, as near as they can, at the heels of Mr. Blaine in this particular. The war and its opportunities bred these gentry as thick as maggots in a cheese. Some of them have spent their money and some to choose we would prefer the clean hands of such a man as Thurman, Buckle or Conkling before all their double eagles.—Phila. Record.
