Eddy Powers looks well. His trip down south improved his condition very much.

The largest stock of dress goods ever brought to Centre county is now opened at Loeb's.

The contested election of F. P. Musser as justice of the peace in Millheim will be up for trial next week.

The most pleasing sight this cold weather is a glance at the warm clothing in the Philadelphia Branch.

James Chambers means to take control of the Bush House stables as soon as they can be put in proper order.

Oh, the snow that covered the ground on Tuesday morning; but why did it not snow enough to make sleighing good?

Harry Green's cigar counter in F. P. Green's drug store is becoming a favorite resort with those who love a good cigar.

We noticed that genial gentleman Jack Eisenhuth, of Millheim, in town on Monday. He called on the DEMOCRAT on Tuesday morning.

There is said to be no small pox in Milesburg. Why will people circulate reports of this character knowing them at the time to be false.

Reports of cases of smallpox at Bellefonte, Milesburg and Howard are not correct. The disease has not appeared at either of these places.

The Normal class organized at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last week, with a good attendance and the interest of the members, foreshadows good results.

Mr. James Aiken, of Lewisburg, an old teacher, has presided over various schools for sixty years and is still doing good work. He taught Prof. Kirkham his first ideas of grammar.

Doc Geissinger is about organizing a glee club, the members of which will be selected from Company B. Any one wishing first class music would do well to consult the Doctor before going elsewhere.

Mr. J. H. Olinger, a successful teacher, of Howard township, took us by the hand on Monday. He is somewhat of a journalist, too, having been associated with the late Col. W. W. Brown, in Kansas last summer.

Mrs. Miss McMillen, wife and daughter of Mr. C. G. McMillen, of the Brockerhoff House, are expected to arrive in Bellefonte on Saturday evening. We trust they will have a long, pleasant and prosperous residence with us.

Mr. C. E. Ramage, of the Philadelphia Press has been spending a few days in our town looking after the business interests of that excellent and enterprising journal. Mr. Ramage is a pleasant gentleman with whom we were glad to form an acquaintance.

Call and examine the stock of ranges and cook stoves at Wilson, McFarlane & Co's; also their line of single and double heaters. They have for sale the Welcome Home double heater, which has been thoroughly and satisfactorily tested in this community.

The front of Bush's arcade is being repainted, this will add much to the appearance of the building, and is a substantial evidence of the desire of Mr. D. G. Bush to have things as they should be. A little paint judiciously applied would improve some more edifices we know of.

The second entertainment under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will be given early in February by Wm. I. Marshall, of Massachusetts. It will be on "An Evening in Wonderland, or the Yellowstone National Park." The lecture will be illustrated by a calcium light made to order for Prof. Marshall.

Mr. Rush Larimer has had some trouble in running the stage line across the mountain in consequence of sick horses. We are glad to say, however, that Rush's stock has entirely recovered and he is now on the road as usual, prepared to give all travellers to Penn's valley by stage the best accommodations they have had on that route for many years.

A gentleman named Eisenhuth, of Coburn, walked into the canal at the depot on Tuesday evening. Some barrier should be erected at this particular place to prevent strangers taking involuntary baths, since at this time of year immersion is decidedly unpopular and inconvenient.

Mr. Wm. Thompson an excellent tailor who learned the mysteries connected with his business, under the direction of Messrs. Montgomery, at present residing at Brookville, Jefferson county, is visiting friends here. He is a son of that estimable gentleman, Mr. Robert Thompson, of Walker township. He is accompanied by his lady and interesting children.

Thomas Tomchak, while at work in the Mapleton colliery, near Houtzdale, was crushed to death by the sudden giving way of the roof of the mine. The accident happened on Tuesday of last week. The deceased was a Hungarian and leaves a widow and two children in destitute circumstances.

Our friend William Parsons, Esq., some years ago District Attorney of Clinton county, but at present a resident of the city of New Haven, Conn., paid Bellefonte a visit on last Monday, remaining with us until Tuesday morning. Mr. Parsons is one of the editors of the New Haven Daily Register, a leading and influential Democratic newspaper of the state of Connecticut. He is enthusiastic over his present occupation, believing that editing a Democratic newspaper is one of the most honorable and praise-worthy callings that any man can follow. He was accompanied by Capt. Kress, of Lock Haven, while here, and both gentlemen were registered at the Brockerhoff House, where they met many friends and acquaintances.

Dr. J. Jay Villers delivered his lecture, "Funny People," to a select and appreciative audience on Monday evening. The entertainment was pleasing throughout and hearty applause followed each effort. Pathetic and humorous, without trying to be either, no wonder he exerts so powerful an influence upon those who hear him. Should he choose to again visit Bellefonte he will have another full house. This augurs good for the Y. M. C. A. as an initiatory lecture and we compliment them upon the manner in which they have been favored.

Mr. William Kerstetter who collects State and county tax in Millheim was relieved of some two hundred and thirty dollars on last Saturday night while he and family were attending the concert. The guilty parties entered the house and with a chisel, which they left behind them, cut out the lock of the desk which served as a depository for the treasure taken. This is one more warning, telling folks to keep very little money in the house or about their persons. Mr. K. does not have any idea as to who may have done the deed.

The admirers of John Howard Payne's "Home, Sweet Home," will appreciate the following additional verses, written in 1883 and presented to an American lady, the wife of an eminent London banker: To us, in despite of the absence of years, But mine has been checked with many a weal! Yet, though different our fortunes, our thoughts are the same, And both, as we think of Columbia exclaim, Home, home, sweet, sweet home! etc.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bald Eagle Valley railroad company, held in Philadelphia, last week, the board declared a dividend of four per cent., upon the earnings of the road during the past six months. We understand that over and above the amount required for the dividend, quite a handsome surplus remains in the treasury of the company. A semi-annual divy of four per cent. will not only be good news to the stockholders, but also shows that the company is doing a large and prosperous business.

Benner township seems to be infested with sheep killing dogs. J. H. Fishburn, of that township, had five of his finest sheep destroyed on last Saturday night by dogs. Three of them were literally torn to pieces, while the other two were so severely bitten that it was found necessary to shoot them. Persons knowing themselves to be the owners of such dogs should either kill them at once or not allow them to run loose over the country. The owner of a sheep killing dog is liable to pay for any and all sheep killed by such dog.

The State encampment of the G. A. R. will meet at Williamsport, on Wednesday of next week, the 25th instant, on which day the members of the various posts present will make a street parade. The meeting will continue over the 26th, and Reno Post, of Williamsport, is making extensive preparations to insure a successful encampment. We presume some of the members of Gregg Post of Bellefonte, and also of Robert M. Foster Post, of College township, will attend.

Candidates have commenced to loom up and are busily engaged in entering their names for the go-as-you-please, free-to-all race next fall. Our late County Superintendent, and the editor of the Millheim Journal each are casting a wishful eye toward Harrisburg. We wish you luck gentlemen, and want you to turn up your vocal organs so as to be able to sing with the spirit and understanding also, "Howdy do, howdy do, How's your wife and how are you?"

The membership of the Methodist church in this place, was augmented by the addition of about twenty new members on Sunday evening last. The pastor, Rev. Pennepacker, preached one of the most convincing and able sermons we have had the pleasure of hearing, from Mark 8: 36, and as a natural consequence the altar was crowded with penitents earnestly and humbly asking forgiveness.

Some of the newspapers say that on last Sunday afternoon a young man, whose friends we said to reside at Harrisburg, was found at the Mayor's office in Altoona, with his face covered with smallpox sores. He said he came there on a ticket furnished to him by the Mayor of Allegheny, where the nature of his sickness was fully understood. We can hardly credit this story, but if it is true the aforesaid Mayor must be a very wicked and heartless man. The man who thus willfully spreads pestilence abroad, deserves any punishment—not even short of hanging—that could be inflicted upon him.

A NEW EPISCOPAL DIOCESE.—For several years past the question of dividing the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Central Pennsylvania, presided over at present by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Howe, has been agitated in the church circles and convocations of that denomination. Bellefonte would belong to the new diocese, and those in favor of the division will be pleased to learn that the money necessary for that purpose has been subscribed, the amount aggregating thirty thousand dollars. The following letter upon the subject has been addressed to Bishop Howe by the Rev. J. H. Hopkins, of Williamsport: AN OPEN LETTER TO BISHOP HOWE.

To the Rt. Rev. The Bishop of Central Pa.: TR. REV. FATHER: After the adjournment of our last Diocesan convention, at which, by a unanimous vote, a committee of sixteen was appointed to take into consideration the subject of the division of the diocese, you were kind enough to open a correspondence with me, in regard to the amount of endowment which you would require of us, before giving your consent to the erection of any new See within the bounds of the present Diocese of Central Pennsylvania. The sum fixed upon by you in that correspondence, is thirty thousand dollars.

It gives me great pleasure to inform you that, including the $14,000 contributed from within the Convocation of Williamsport to the present Episcopal fund (nearly all of which was subscribed under the express condition that it should return to us in case of any future sub-division), the entire sum of thirty thousand dollars, and a little something over and above, is now subscribed and pledged for the new diocese to be erected out of the Convocation of Williamsport, in accordance with the MEMORIAL twice presented to the bishop and convention of the Diocese of Central Pennsylvania.

Not a dollar of these subscriptions comes from outside the limits of this convocation, or can be used for a new diocese with any other boundaries than those mentioned in our MEMORIAL.

The subscription papers are in my hands, and I shall be happy to lay them before the committee on the division of the diocese, for their examination at their first meeting in Reading, on the day appointed for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of your ordination to the diaconate.

Your obedient servant and son in the church, J. H. HOPKINS.

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 12, 1882.

We are informed that our townsman, Mr. William F. Reynolds, made a generous subscription to the above fund.

The Osceola Reville says that on last Thursday afternoon, while a miner named Boald Radcliff, was running a pit car load of clay from the work now being driven in on the old Decatur territory, by James Pasmore and others, he was instantly crushed to death under its wheels. The track from the pit mouth to the dump was heavy down grade, and Mr. Radcliff had been frequently advised to sprag the wheels, but this he neglected to do, trusting to his own strength in breaking the car down the decline. It is supposed that in his failure to do so—the track being slippery—he was thrown in front of the car. However this may be, when he was discovered, which could not have been more than ten minutes from the time of his leaving his fellow-workmen in the drift, the wheels of the car, containing over a ton and a half of clay and rock, was resting on his shoulders, and he was dead. He was an Englishman by birth and had been in the country but a few months.

Rush Larimer's stage coach, as it was returning from Centre Hall to Bellefonte on Tuesday afternoon, was the scene of a lively fight between two passengers, one named Seiler and the other Depo, who were on their way to town to appear as witnesses in an arbitration between Jonathan Rider and a Mr. Billmeyer, of Fowler station on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad. It seems there was an old grudge between the parties, and under the inspiration of that insidious and treacherous fomentor of brawls, fist-cuffs and riots, John Barleycorn, the fued between them broke out afresh. Bad words first, and then blows and kicks were the result. Seiler got by far the worst of the battle. He was severely beaten and kicked about the head and face, and was in a really pitiable plight when he reached town. A warrant was sworn out before Esquire Smith for the arrest of Depo for assault and battery. He was immediately taken into custody and bound over for his appearance at court to answer the charge.

The trade of Sechler & Co., has been steadily growing for years. Every year they increase their stock of groceries and the larger it is the more advantageous it is to the buyer. In the first place, a large stock affords to the customer a much greater variety in choice and quality of the goods he desires to purchase; and in the next place, the handling of a large stock by the dealer enables him to make your money go an uncommonly long way. Remember these things, and then call upon Sechler & Co., Bush House block.

The wife of Mr. Al. Haupt, whose sickness was noticed in the DEMOCRAT of last week, we are sorry to announce, is dead. She was employed along with her husband in a hotel at York, Pa., and about the first of January was stricken down with an attack of small pox. Mr. Haupt returned to Bellefonte, a day or two ago, and received the sympathy of many friends in his grievous bereavement.

Do not fail to be vaccinated. It can do no harm, and if it is a preventive why you then are making assurance doubly sure, that's all.

Ladies coats, jackets, dolmans, circulars and ulsterettes, in endless variety, styles and colors, and prices lower than elsewhere at S. & A. Loeb's.

DEATH OF WILLIAM A. SCHREYER.—Mr. William A. Schreyer, a son of Mr. Allen Schreyer, of this place, died at Williamsport, very suddenly, on last Saturday morning, from neuralgia of the brain. The deceased was for a number of years a resident of Bellefonte, and had many friends in our midst who will sincerely mourn his early demise. He was highly esteemed by his immediate relatives and to them the news of his unexpected death was a grievous shock. On Friday, the day before his death, he walked down stairs. After leaving Bellefonte, Mr. Schreyer went to Williamsport, where he entered the employ of Messrs. A. H. Heilman & Co., the extensive furniture manufacturers of that city, for whom he acted as a general salesman—a position for which he was well qualified by years of experience in the furniture business. The funeral took place at Williamsport on Monday afternoon. At half past two o'clock of that day the body was removed to the William street Lutheran church, where solemn and impressive services, conducted by ministers of the Lutheran and Methodist denominations, were held. At the conclusion of the religious services, an opportunity was given to the many friends of the deceased present to take a last look at his remains, after which they were followed to the Washington street cemetery for interment. The funeral called together a large assemblage of sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends, about one hundred members of the I. O. O. F., to which order the deceased belonged, taking part in the obsequies. Mr. Schreyer leaves a grief-stricken widow and one son, now about twelve years of age, to mourn his death. He was thirty-seven years, eleven months and four days old. The funeral was attended by many of his Bellefonte relatives and by a committee of Odd Fellows.

PLEASANT GAP JOTTINGS.—Since my last writing there has been a profound mystery, which has been the cause of a great many comments by people of our neighborhood. Some date the time back to the third of June; others say it was at a later date. Now, we don't know, neither do we care; but we are certain time will tell, for murder, according to William Shakespeare, will out.

We are still having more improvements. Another building is in course of construction. It is to be used for a shoe shop and confectionery and Mr. Jerry Gill will be the proprietor.

We have also another new enterprise. Mr. William Miller has opened a regular pawn broker's shop in connection with his store which is quite an addition to the place. We have needed such a ranch for a long time.

Our schools are in good condition, the teachers giving almost universal satisfaction. Of course a few families are dissatisfied, but such is always the case. We have not had a teacher for many years that has pleased these people and consequently but little attention is paid to their croakings.

Our politicians are looking pleasant and putting on their smiling faces as the spring election draws near. The stalwarts are looking round for candidates for the various local offices to be filled at that time. They are cautious, however, and use fictitious names when there are any listeners to their plans who do not reach their standard of politics. They use such names as pastebard, horse jockey, pension teaser and grabber. They say they have the bolters with them.

Mr. Haag's new mill is nearly completed and some of our boys think that the proprietor is getting things down to fine points, as they are not allowed to tell their big stories to the boss millwright during working hours.

I will say here to those fellows who have been writing to the different papers and forging my name to their productions, that they are treading on dangerous ground, especially the pimp who signed himself S. B. Jr. If you know when you are safe you will stop, for I will turn you up in your true character in a way which will not be pleasant for you. So, take warning.

Mr. John McCarty, brother of Rev. and Mrs. Wonnor, is visiting his relatives here. Our young ladies are much pleased with the gentleman.

Our new judge is full of official duties at present. He has lately been escorting a certain U. S. detective around the neighborhood. Don't know whom they are looking up, but some of the transgressors are a little frightened. SHINBONE.

CAMPY B.—At the last regular meeting of Company B. Fifth regiment, N. G., a committee, consisting of the following named members—Sergeants Schrader and Gessinger, Corporals Gross and Powers, and Private Phillips—was appointed to frame a constitution and draw up by-laws, by which the company will hereafter be governed. The committee will report at the next regular meeting of the company, and the report will there be submitted for approval. It would be well for all the members to be present at that meeting, as there might be something embodied in the constitution and by-laws which might not suit them, and the vote upon adoption or rejection should represent the full sentiment of the company.

PERVA will make your blood pure and healthy.

The concert given by the members of Prof. J. H. Kurzenknebe's class in Millheim, on Saturday last, was a grand affair. What surprised us most was the large audience; the sale of tickets had to be discontinued before the appointed time to open arrived. A pleasing feature was the excellent singing of dear little Mollie Miller, of Millinburg. She is not more than six years old but her execution of difficult parts evidences a thoroughly practical drill with inborn talent. Her father, Mr. Chas. Miller, is justly very proud of her. The manager, Prof. K., realized quite a handsome amount of money in payment of the services he rendered. Our Millheim friends are worthy of sincere congratulation upon the enjoyable occasion, as they of course contributed largely to its success.

An exchange remarks that physicians over the State are busily engaged in vaccinating the old and the young. This is a timely precaution. An epidemic of that dreadful disease, smallpox, seems to threaten all parts of the country, and it is now the settled belief of the most experienced and intelligent physicians that vaccination is the first great remedy against its spread and danger to life. As far as the disease has gone this winter in different localities, the doctors say it has been unusually fatal, which indicates its presence in an exceedingly malignant form. Our people should therefore not delay in the duty incumbent upon every one to be properly vaccinated. Doctors, go to work at once.

Troubles have grown upon Prothonotary Harper this week to an extent that excite feelings of sincere sympathy. First, he lost his pig, a diminutive specimen of the species porcine, it is true, and yet considered of sufficient value to the owner to induce him to offer a large reward for its recovery. Next, a fine turkey, reserved after Christmas for an extra family dinner, was missing. The turkey, however, we are glad to say has been recovered minus that posterior appendage commonly called the tail. Lastly, Mr. Harper, on Wednesday, was obliged to undergo the painful operation of having a four pronged tooth pulled. Dr. Rhone was equal to this last emergency, and the grinder is proudly exhibited as a specimen of the Doctor's skill in the way of pulling teeth. We are glad to say that Calvin is likely to survive all his troubles.

The Williamsport Daily Sun and Banner is responsible for the following: "A young lady in this city who had been attentively courted about four years without her bashful beau ever popping the question, had the cards printed announcing the wedding, and sent one to the intended bridegroom, who took the affair as a good joke and performed his part of the contract with consummate grace."

This was a good stroke of policy on the part of the young lady and he was a sensible fellow to take the matter in the way he did.

"Wet feet are common and colds are not scarce."—Dickens, in Sketches of Boz.—He should have added that Sines' Syrup of Tar cures cough and colds.

A great variety of beautiful garments for men and boys at the Philadelphia Branch.

Once it is known that PERVA cures disease and prevents its return, it will be absolute neglect of duty to be without it. Therefore always keep a bottle in your cupboard.

That poor bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the picture of health by a few bottles of Hop Bitters. Will you let them suffer? when so easily cured.

The very best production that can be had from first class stock and excellent workmanship in boots and shoes, at prices no higher than common eastern trash, are now open and for sale by S. & A. Loeb.

I have used Green's Compound Syrup of Tar, Honey and Bloodroot myself at different times during the past five or six years, and have seen the effects of it in many cases when used by others, and have found but one universal expression among those who have used it, namely, that "it surpassed any medicine they had ever used." BENJ. BEAVER, State College, Pa., Feb. 19, '81.

That perfect baking and cooking stove, the "Pioneer," is for sale only by Wilson, McFarlane & Co. All superbous ornamentation has been dispensed with to secure a first-class kitchen stove. For weight, strength and durability it cannot be surpassed. In purchasing this stove you are not paying for nickle trimmings and beautiful finish, but you are getting what is far better and what you need in a good cook stove—a good, reliable baker and cook.
