-Mr. Jacob Gephart of Millheim while in town on Saturday spent a half hour with us.

-Mr. Jacob Wyle, one of our most valued Haines township friends shook hands with us on Monday.

-Mr. William Hipple of Pine Glen called on the Democrat on Monday. He is a most pleasant gentleman and will please call often

-Mr. Alex. Shannon returned to his home in Lena, Iil., last week, taking with Miss Mable Dornblazer, of Nittany Hall.

-The Brockerhoff house had eighty five arrivals on Tuesday, and has served up daily this week over two hundred and seventy five meals. McMillen is popular, and the house well run, thus we account for the milk in the cocoanut.

-Those of our readers who remember the excellent tinware manufactured by Mr. W. S. Wolf, will be pleased to know that his son Geo. H. Wolf is striving to maintain the reputation of the old firm at the same stand on Bishop street.

-Miss Clara Strickland is teaching select school at Valentines' works. Her cheery smile and winsome manners will win the heart of many an unruly pupil, while her educational qualifications will enable her to do good work in the school

-Mr. Ward W. Rishel on Monday com menced a session of subscription school in Central City. We infer from reports of Mr. Rishel's work during the winter term that he met with unusual success, and trust the same measure of prosperity may be meted out to him this summer.

-Mr. John Beezer will conduct the butchering business of Mr. Wm. Taylor after May 1st. Mr. Taylor on account of poor health was forced to retire. No doubt Mr. Reezer will meet the demands of the public in a way to warrant entire satisfaction. Give him a trial and find out.

-- We have just received a copy of piece of music called the "Verdict March," composed by Eugene L. Blake. This piece of music should be found in every household throughout the entire country Price, 40 cents per copy. Address F. W. Helmick, music publisher, 180 Elm street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

-Mr. A. C. Loneberger, one of the best painters that ever attempted to draw a brush, fell or jumped off a moving train at Duncan Hale & Co's., mill one day last week, and was somewhat surprised to discover how suddenly he stopped upon reaching the ground. He was not hurt any to speak of, but awfully scared.

tail dealer in tinware and spouting, is better prepared than ever to do first class work. Steam and gas pipes repaired on short notice and satisfaction guaranteed in every case. We trust our friends when in give him a trial.

-Chief Burgess Powers asserts his determination to put a stop to corner loafing. The affair has been placed in the hands of them responsible for the enforcement of the ordinance. He will promptly and impartially enforce the law in cases of all violators brought before him, even though he may have to call upon all of our better disposed citizens to assist him. Mr. Powers we are waiting.

-George Walker is dead. Since the war he has been a cripple. He is said to have been a brave champion of his country's cause. The pension paid him by the government was sufficient to support him, but rather than remain entirely idle, he chose to do light work. One year ago he was elected high constable for Bellefonte borough, and for some time past has been driving the stage that runs to Pine Grove Mills from this place. His death occurred at his residence on Sunday, and he leaves a wife and child. His funeral was largely attended on Tuesday, Gregg Post G. A. R., assisted by a detail of the Bellefonte Fencibles in full uniform paid the honors of war to the memory of their late com-

The Y.M. C. A. today moves into the rooms in the Centre County Bank building. In order to show to the citizens of Bellefonte, and vicinity, what they mean to do, next week will be devoted to a series of receptions. Monday evening, a musical entertainment by Mrs. J. G. Love, for the Boy's branch; each boy belonging to this organization is requested to get one or more admission tickets for boys who are not members. They can be gotten from members of the company committee, or by calling at the office of the general secretary. On Tuesday evening a reception will be given to the sustaining friends of the association, and the ladies of the town. Committee : Messrs. H. S. Sayre, Geo. L. Potter, Isaac Mitchell, Washington Reese, Edward Garman, Ellis L. Orvis and F. P. Green. Wednesday evening will be remembered as the time of prayer meeting in the various churches of town. Thurs day evening, a reception to young men the following members of the association will receive the persons invited: J. R Van Ormer, Newton S. Bailey, H. C. Weaver, Clement Dale, Esq., J. P. Irwin and Geo. S. Dare. On Friday evening Mr. John Sommerville, assisted by mem bers of the Boy's branch, will entertain the girls of the town; an important part of the program, on this occasion, will be the nagic lantern exhibition. That the rooms will be thronged each evening, we have every reason to believe, and promise a real genteelly enjoyable time to all who may accept the kind invitation given.

-Mr. Bernard Lauth, the iron manu facturer at Howard, had quite a novel experience in Wellsville, Ohio, on Thursday of last week. He retired as usual, in good time, and left orders at the office to be called early. He was awakened by noise in the coreidor near his room and supposed the time had come for him to get up. which he did. He was greatly surprised to find his clothing in a different part of the room from where he had placed it, and him his neice, Mrs. Anna Dornblazer, and still more so to find his pockets empty. The proprietor was called, and the con sequent confusion attracted many more. As soon as given the particulars the landlord advised Mr. Lauth to keep a little quiet, for evidently the thief was in the crowd; and after a hasty glance, he point ed to a person and in an undertone said "That is the man, there ; I'll call a police man." Immediately, our friend, whose muscular strength is said to be prodigious. seized the man, threw him upon the floor examined his pockets and found part of his missing property, the balance had been secreted in several parts of the room. Had the thief not been caught Mr. Lauth would have been a heavy loser. We congratulate him upon his presence mind, bravery and valor.

> -Happening into the office of Mr Lawrence L. Brown, the other day, we were struck with the beauty of the new safe he recently put there, and made inquiry as to where it came from, what it cost, how much it weighed, who sells them, how long it would last, whether or not its contents would be preserved intact in case it should be taken through a course of treatment, such as was served up to safes of different manufacturers in the late Haverhill, Mass., fire, and many other questions; our victim endeavored to reply but as the tide "wanted to know" kept on flowing, he finally, in sheer despair, direct ed us to Mr. Bond Valentine; this gentleman with his usual susvity of manne informed the reporter that the safe was manufactured by Morris & Ireland, Boston and in common with every safe sent out by his firm has a record second to none in the world. To prove this the enterprising agent read some nineteen testimonials of different business men whose papers, books etc., were at the mercy of the flames in the fire mentioned above, and whose safes, manufactured by Morris & Ireland, after lying in the smoking ruins from two to fifteen days, each one salamander like came out wholly preserved with not a square inch of paper burned.

A VENERABLE MAN CALLED AWAY -On Sunday April 16, 1882, Adam Shafer Sr., of Madisonburg this county, breathed his last. He was 85 years, 4 months and 24 days old. He was one of the first pioneers, and earliest settlers of Brushvalley, ever noted for his strict integrity, sterling worth and remarkable force of character. All his life had been devoted to farming and in his old age the excellent farm he had succeeded in securing as his competency, was a source of continual comfort and support. His funeral was largely attended.

His sons Aaron and Henry, who for nany years have been enterprising, well to-do resident farmers of Stephenson county, Illinios, were home to receive their fathers parting blessing and to participate in the last sad honors conferred upon his re-

Two Surgical Operations .- Dr. H. K. Hoy is daily adding laurels to his already extensive reputation. The latest eases: John Gilgore, strabisimus operation, trouble-cross or squint eye, April 19th. The eye now is straight, and the operation promises to be entirely successful Mrs. Adam Yearick, removal of an abdominal lipoma tumor, probably the largest ever removed in this county, April 20th. No febrite disturbance followed he operation, although the angesthetic administered weakened her for a day or two She is rapidly recovering and without any doubt will soon have entirely recovered.

-John Brett, father of our friend Mr. R. G. Brett, of Pine Grove Mills, aged 67 years was gathered home on the 12th nstant. He was extensively known and greatly admired and loved by all. One after another these connecting links unitng us with generations and days long agone, are severed, and the loss sustained by relatives and friends is not triflingtheir advice and experience of long useful ives enabling them to help and direct those much younger and less acquainted with the world. We tender Mr. Brett our sympathy and condolence.

-The Butts' house, under the management of Mr. F. X. Lehman, is rapidly regaining all of its old popularity. The proprietor desires us to state that each of its departments-the hotel proper, the bar and the restaurant-has undergone a com plete renovating and improving process and now desires a fair share of public patronage, assured of his ability to render entire satisfaction. Mr. Lehman, evidently, understands his business and we ask a trial of him at the hands of any who stand in need of the services of a real jolly landlord who runs a first class house.

-The case of Geo. Gates, charged with ruelty to his grandchild, was settled by his agreeing to give bond in the amount of $2,000, that the expense of her education and sustaining of the girl by the poor authorities of Halfmoon township, into whose custody Gates agreed to place her, should be borne by him, and by paying all osts and attorney's fees. This is letting him down easy, and only the ends of public justice are reached.

Mr. Geary is a member of the Lock Haven bar, and judging from his appearance, we conclude a brilliant future, and a life of usefulness and pleasure are in store for him. For one of his years he is unusually intelligent and well informed; do not forget us in the future

-A great many attending court this week have been wise enough to improve the opportunity of visiting the Philadelphia branch. The spring and summer stock, of Mr. Lewin's clothing etc., never was more carefully selected, and from quolations given us could not be sold any lower then it is being sold now. Before you go home drop in to seen him and get the nestest and best grocery stores to be acquainted.

-Messrs, Doll & Mingle have for some ime been receiving their spring and summer stock of all kinds of boots and shoes. Their room is filled to overflowing, every vailable spot being used to store away the ate purchases. In the arrangement of their goods they are especially tasty; after ingering for half an hour, looking at the nany choice products of the knee and last, one can hardly understand why any need go barefoot, for in prices and qualities they are able to suit any taste, or the condition of any wallet. One secret of the success with which this firm has met is the uniform courteevy they extend to all visitors whether their errand is to purchase or not. Among many other goods ock brogans, $1.00, men's carpet slipper stock brogans, $1.00, men's carpet slippers, 50, women's carpet slippers, 25, fine button snees, $2.00, calf boots, $2.50. Mr. A. BATCHELLER & DORIS' GREAT INTEROCEAN SHOW THE LARGEST IN AMERICA
AT BELLEFONTE, MONDAY, MAY 1.—The prateeworthy ambition of Messrs. Batchelier and Doris to have the largest, grandest and most complete show in the world has been realized in their present colossal aggregation of meteoric lights of the arena, the wonders of nature and denizens of jungles, air and see, as combined in circus, museum, aquarium and menagerie. In BATCHELLER & DORIS' GREAT INTERthe wonders of nature and denizens of jungles, air and sea, as combined in circus, museum, aquarium and menagerie. In this combination Messrs Batcheiler and Doris bave enough talent to stock a half dozen circuses and their daily outlay would have been considered sufficient twenty years ago to run a show for a month. The performance in the circus tent will be given in one ring only, Messrs, Batcheiler and Doris being satisfied from experience and observation that performances in more than one ring are disappointing to the public and unsatisfactory to the performers, more acts will be given, more novel ring features will be given more novel ring features will be given than by any circus travelling. The menagerie exhibition is the finest ever seen in this country most of the animals having arrived in this country this Spring being secured by Mr.

country this Spring being secured by Mr. Doris while abroad last Winter in search Obris while abroad last Winter in Search of novelties. Among this vast collection of animals, birds and reptiles may be mentioned two cages of performing lions and lionesses, six in number; two huge lions, said so be the largest in this country; two cubs, scarcely a year old; Betsy, the oldest elephant in this country; leopards and panthers; one pair of blouse boks, most curious and valuable of all animals; eight lion slavers elevant camels. lion slayers, eleven camels, one of which is the largest ever seen here; two im-mense sea lions, three Z-bras, sacred ox, a huge sea cow, sacred bull, ibex, wart hog, three dens of performing snakes, fifty in number; kangaroo and baby kangaroo, etc., twelve vampires or flying foxes.

Another great feature of this show is he most wonderful of all physical omena. Miss Millie Christine, the " Batcheller & Doris secured at a salary of $25,000 for the season. It is almost an impossibility to describe her, res she must be seen to be thoroughly understood. She is one person with two heads, four arms and four legs. She sings, dances, converses in five or six languages and is without doubt the "Eighth Wonder of the out doubt the "Eighth Wonder of the World" While abroad Millie Christine appeared twice before Queen Victoria and was presented by her Majesty with a mag-nificent diamond necklare. Millie Christine, it must be remembered, appears in big show. The street pageant made by Batcheller and Doris' show is entirely original in conception and is carried out on a scale of grandear and magnificence hitherto uncern. It introduces the handsomest woman in the world, the winner of Batcheller than in the world, the winner of Batchel-ier and Doris' $10,000 prize. In the pa geant swill be magnificent tableaux cars, charlots, gilt cages, bands of music, color-ed Jubilee singers, etc. Everywhere this street parade has been pronounced by the press and the public as the finest ever seen

EDITORS DEMOCRAT: The account you gave of my thoroughbred heifer, that was -inuphtered by Messrs. Sechler & Co., was -ubstantially correct. For thirty year,
I have been feeding stock for our markets, I have been feeding stock for our markets, and have fed from thoroughbred down through the different grades to our common stock, and have always gotten best returns from high bred cattle. With the annual increase of consumption of beef in this county, it would be to the benefit of those farmers who yearly raise from one to six head, to take some interest in having our breeds improved, which can be done by introducing thoroughbred sires, or high the processing the state of the state by introducing thoroughbred sires, or high bred ones—to be bought more cheap y— and have them distributed throughout the different townships in the county. I see no other plan to secure this end than to apply to the Legislature, asking for the apply to the Legislature, asking for the passage of an act imposing a tax on all bulls kept for breeding purposes. No one would care to pay a tax on arruband their places would be filled by good animals. My experience satisfies me that with proper improvement of the breeds of cattle in Centre country, an increase of fifty per cent, would be gained to the farmers, and the proposed tax would not the county quite a sum and thus benefit us all.
