

The Centre Democrat.

Thursday Morning, May 25, 1882.

Correspondence, containing important news, solicited from any part of the county. No communication inserted unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Local Department.

Fresh flannel for me, mother, New woolen stockings buy, Let Ann rebuild the furnace fire And pile the coal on high. There's ice by all the streamlets, The buds shrink in the blast, I'm nearly frozen, mother dear, For spring has come at last. -BROOKLYN EAGLE.

Lyons meat market presents a decidedly fresh appearance in its new livery of red and green paint.

We are informed that Mr. H. D. Van Pelt, of Centre Hall, will be a candidate for the Legislature.

The finest and best assortment of boots and shoes in Centre county, for a proof of this we ask a trial--Doll & Mingle.

Eve, with a supercilious toss of her head as she passed out of the garden of Eden, said: "I don't care, Adam."

Miss Maggie Schaeffer and Miss Josephine Martin, two of Nittany's pleasant ladies, spent last Friday evening in town.

The many friends of John Keen, Esq., of Millheim, will be pleased to know that he is able to be out and has regained most of his wonted vigor.

The Undine fire company will go to Tyrone, July 4th. The boys have a pleasant time in view, and we hope they may not be disappointed.

Mrs. Dr. Coolidge, she who was Miss Nannie McGinley, will return to her home at Carbondale, Pa., accompanied by her sister, Miss Sallie McGinley, this week.

The Logan Hose company has accepted an invitation to participate in a firemen's parade at Lock Haven July 4. There are few better organizations in Pennsylvania.

Rev. Dr. Black will have morning and evening service in the Episcopal church on Sunday next. It being Whit Sunday the Holy Communion will be celebrated at the morning service.

The cakes, bread, pies etc., used at the Spring Mills banquet last Thursday, were manufactured by Mr. Cal. Smith, the down-town baker. Mr. Smith is entitled to no little credit for the excellence of his manufactures, and in these goods he takes the lead.

We had the pleasure of a peep at the handsome face of Mr. M. H. Haines, of Tyrone, who was here on Sunday, attending to arrangements having in view the establishment of a little kingdom over which he means to be Lord of all he surveys. Particulars later.

Mr. Samuel K. Faust, of Miles township, one of the most prominent candidates for sheriff last fall, with Mr. Wm. Bright, of Aaronsburg, paid the DEMOCRAT a visit last week. The work of these gentlemen always tells when the "news comes over the mountain."

Mr. John A. Woodward, editor of the Agricultural Epitomat, is looming up as a prominent Democratic candidate for the Legislature. Mr. Woodward is a man of rare ability, and one upon whom the people of Centre county can lean, assured that their affairs will be honestly, promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

The Catholic church was thronged on Tuesday morning to witness the marriage of Mr. Frank McGowen, of Snow Shoe, to Miss Tillie Hazel, of near Bellefonte. These parties are well known, universally respected, and start down the stream of life under the influence of a favorable tide. We wish them happiness.

The members of Gregg Post G. A. R. will meet at their room on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in full uniform, for the purpose of proceeding in a body to the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Dr. A. B. Jack has kindly promised to preach a memorial sermon on that occasion, and we trust no member of the Post will fail to be present.

Our young friend Al. Garman has been captured. Miss Ella Cowdick, the fair and accomplished daughter of Mr. Morris Cowdick of this place, is the happy recipient of Al's affections and vows. Rev. Bonnell rector of the Episcopal church at Lock Haven, performed the marriage ceremony on Tuesday evening at the residence of the bride's parents. We tender our cordial congratulations, and trust that the new journey of life thus commenced may be one of unalloyed happiness to our young friends.

The second Sunday in June will be observed by the Methodist church of this place, as "Children's Day." Many will remember with pleasure the Floral Service of two years ago. The church will be decorated with spruce and flowers and a very interesting exercise entitled, Rain, Flowers, Birds and Fruits, will be given by the children of the Sabbath-school.

She sat down at the piano, cleared her throat, and commenced to harmonize. Her first selection was: "I Can not Sing the Old Songs," and a gloom that was colder and bleaker than a Sunday dinner fell on the company when the stranger in the corner said: "And we trust you are not familiar with the new ones." Buy your cigars from Harry Green.

This is examination week in the public schools. The primary schools will close Friday noon, with an entertainment consisting of recitations, music, etc., to which the patrons of the schools are cordially invited. The higher grades will have their entertainment in the afternoon. An interesting program has been arranged and a pleasant time promised.

We desire to call especial attention to the meat market of Mr. John Beezer, on High street, next door to Centre County Bank building. Mr. Beezer is meeting with unbounded success, and why, because he offers only first class stock for sale and sells a trifle lower than any other dealer. He is worthy of patronage and is striving to make friends and treat them all squarely and retain their custom. Try him.

The mammoth general merchandise stores of S. & A. Loeb have been stocked with the most elegant line of spring and summer goods ever brought to this town. Their selections were made to accommodate every class of customers, and sold at wonderfully low prices. This house is the oldest in Centre county and has ever enjoyed the confidence of the public, and had a fair portion of the patronage of the citizens of the county. Their mottoes: Good goods, fair prices, reasonable profits and constant attention to business.

In the matter of stores, of all different descriptions, Bellefonte takes the lead. One of the most important, and one, too, favored with an extensive patronage is the Bee Hive, Goldsmith Bros., proprietors. Their goods are marked in plain figures, sold at one price and guaranteed as represented in every particular. Polite attendants, every attention paid customers and all treated precisely alike. The goods handled are the very best in each of the departments, and the fact that the firm is engaged in wholesale business in New York is sufficient evidence of their ability to buy and sell right.

Wilson, McFarlane & Co., call attention to the only reliable Ready Mixed Paint in the market. The Pioneer Prepared Paint is not only superior to any Ready Mixed Paint sold but rivals pure white lead in its smoothness in working and durability. This paint is guaranteed by the manufacturers not to crack or peel within three years. The guarantee is not only good for replacing the paint but it will be put on if it should crack or peel within the time specified. It will be to your interest to call and see Wilson, McFarlane & Co., before purchasing either white lead or any other Ready Mixed Paint.

Guests at the Brockerhoff house now put away their soup to the tune of "Home sweet, home;" meats and vegetables are stowed away as the band plays "When Johnny comes marching home," and "See that my grave's kept green" does not prevent any one gorging himself with pastry. The truth of the matter is that Mr. McMillen, with his usual shrewdness has placed an elegant Swiss music box in the dining hall that may have, unless Mac, gets it to playing "My Grandfather's Clock," or some other equally interesting production of some mulethead, this effect--cause boarders to eat too much and thus ruin business.

Men who are worth having want women for wives. A bundle of gawds, bounded with a string of flaps and quivers, sprinkled with cologne and set in a carmine saucer is of no use to a man who expects to raise a family of boys on bread and meat. The piano and lace fabrics are very good in their places, and so are frills and tinsel; but you cannot make a dinner out of the former, nor a bed blanket out of the latter, and awful as the idea may seem to you, both the dinner and the bed blanket are domestic necessities. Life has its realities as well as its fancies, but you make it all decoration, remembering the tinsel and tassels and forgetting the bedstead. Suppose a man of good sense and good prospects to be looking for a wife, what chance would you stand to be chosen? You may catch him or you may trip him, but how much better to render yourself worth catching. Merit being caught and you will not need a shrewd and designing mother to help you find a market.

Our people will learn with much satisfaction that the health of the Rev. John Hewitt, of the Episcopal church, is improving. This deservedly popular divine, so individually esteemed in religious and social circles, has been in failing health for some time, is on a visit to the far west in hope that relaxation and change would restore him, and we sincerely trust that hope will not be disappointed.

ITEMS FROM SPRING MILLS AND VICINITY. During the past week our little railroad city has been unusually active. On Thursday last Mr. Nash, manager of the big hotel had a grand opening, of which I had intended giving an extended description, but as your junior editor was there in person and can write up the affair to suit him better than I might, I will leave the task to him.

John Grenoble, Esq., having bought a lot on the corner of Railroad and Sinking Creek streets, is preparing to build a 20x40 ft. tin shop and store room.

Mr. J. B. Fisher, of Penn Hall, has added an agricultural implement department to his store.

Messrs. Whitmer and Spiglemeyer have added a hardware and glassware department to their establishment.

John D. Long has quit saddlery, and has opened a general store in one of Mr. Runk's store rooms, the room formerly occupied by Messrs. Hicks & Bro. He still deals in grain, coal, and lime.

Wm. Barick, who bought out Mr. Krumrine's grain depot, is kept very busy just now receiving grain, the wet weather giving the farmers a chance to market wheat while the price is up.

On last Saturday the Presbyterian congregation of Centre Hill voted to give a call to Rev. W. K. Foster. On Sabbath evening, 21st, he preached at Spring Mills. This young gentleman, who was raised near Centre Hall, is a graduate of Princeton Seminary. He has a host of acquaintances and friends in this valley, and it is hoped that his labors, provided he accepts the call, will result in great good.

Decorations day will be observed here as usual. The Veteran club, of Spring Mills, has charge of the exercises.

Mr. Steel, from near Humes' mill, and two of his sons are doing some work in their line for Mr. Philip Dale.

Why are not fruit trees more generally planted on lawns or in gardens? The idea seems to prevail that fruit trees must be confined to the orchard or kitchen garden; yet what can be more beautiful than the pale pink and white of the apple blossoms, the pure white of the cherry and pear, and the deep rose of the peach? Cherry trees literally white with blossoms are of no rare sight, and what is more charming than the graceful branches clad in spotless purity? Then, too, the ripe fruit in thick clusters upon them, is no less pleasing to the eye than gratifying to the taste. There are many varieties of trees which are planted in the yards and lawns, which have no more slightly appearance than an apple tree, without its wealth of fragrant bloom or its shower of luscious fruit. Even in the suburbs of cities and large towns, where but a few feet of land is allotted to each home, and where one would suppose that each inch of room would be made available, the front yards are planted with evergreen trees, or purely ornamental shrubs, to the utter exclusion of apple, pear or plum trees, any of which would be far preferable in every respect. Why do not people more generally purchase groceries, etc., from Sechler & Co., Bellefonte? Their goods are always first class, kept in good condition and sold cheap.

Main's "Mammoth International Coliseum of wondrous performing gymnasts and congress of living wonders, will exhibit at Bellefonte, June 3d, in two of the grandest exhibitions ever rendered on canvas. The grandest show of the season, coming in a glorious pageant of splendor. The most pleasing, laughable, interesting and funniest. No gambling, games of chance or give-away schemes of any description whatever allowed upon the exhibition grounds. Admission reduced to half price, only 25 cents.

The decoration of soldier's graves will be conducted by Gregg Post, G. A. R., assisted by the Bellefonte Fencibles, the members of the Boy's branch, Y. M. C. A., and others. It is meet and proper that our citizens turn out and pay this annual tribute to the memory of the boys in blue, and keep alive the sentiments of gratitude due those who nobly sacrificed their lives that the Nation might live.

Our friend and neighbor, Mr. W. C. Heinle, District Attorney, while in Philadelphia on Sunday, the 14th inst., in stepping on the curbstone in front of the Girard House, slipped and severed several ligaments of his right ankle. The wound is of a serious nature and may disable him for some time. He returned home on Thursday following the day of the accident.

The pet cock belonging to the Bush house took a walk on Monday. A liberal reward was offered for his return, but no one secured it. After having concluded to lose him, and a general shedding of tears all round, Jeff coolly walked into the office, and Teller declares, wanted to register as a new arrival.

A little boy, a member of the school taught by Miss Emma Graham, fell, last Friday afternoon, striking his head against the iron foot of the desk, making an ugly wound over the eye. Prof. Lieb called Dr. Dart who dressed the injuries.

For tinware that will stand the racket we know of none equal to that manufactured by our friend Mr. George H. Wolf. Copper pipes supplied and repaired on short notice. All work guaranteed.

For fine low shoes, either ties or button, try Doll & Mingle. A shoe lift given with each pair.

OPENING OF SPRING MILLS HOTEL. This new building, situated on a hill commanding a view of a large part of Pennsylvania, a little south of the village, is designed to accommodate summer guests, and with the advantages possessed--an absolutely pure, invigorating air; water clear as crystal, healthy and strengthening; pleasant drives; streams, in the immediate neighborhood, bountifully supplied with trout and other fish; entire absence of any malarial influences and the house arranged, furnished and equipped in accordance with modern improvements and conveniences,--should be liberally patronized by resident summer boarders and tourists.

The house was formally opened on last Thursday evening; the manager, Mr. Geo. B. Nash, who is an hotelier of many years experience, officiated as host, and exerted himself to the utmost to insure the happiness of guests. He is a large, portly man, aged, we judge, about fifty years, and possesses all the qualities, requisite to successfully conduct an establishment of such magnificent and gigantic proportions. The number of persons who responded to the invitations must have been near two hundred.

A brass band, at intervals during the latter part of the afternoon and evening, afforded delightful outdoor entertainment, while within a string band with piano accompaniment, directed the movements of an infatuated assembly of the votaries of Terpsichore; and to the few well flowers the graceful forms and agile motions of the dancers presented a delightfully animated group of fun-loving lads and lassies. Any attempt to convey to our readers an idea of the royal "set out," to which the guests were introduced would be abortive, it consisted of all delicacies procurable and disposed of on the table with the best possible effect. Mr. Nash, assisted by many willing waiters saw to it that all were served.

After eating, dancing, and participating in other genteel pastimes, we were relegated to our rooms with visions of luscious edibles, pretty ladies, accommodating managers, brilliant reception rooms and kind friends, fantastically and curiously blended, floating through our minds.

Thus this hotel was brought before the public as an aspirant for an equitable portion of its patronage, as a candidate for general support we consider it eligible and with our only hat in our hand wish it and all connected therewith, (especially the talented, captivating and entertaining daughter of the manager, Miss Carrie,) a permanent residence among us, and a successful business experience while here.

LECTURE. Rev. A. B. Jack will lecture in Humes' Hall, Bellefonte, on Monday evening, May 29th, 1882. Subject, "Sir Walter Scott." Mr. Jack is one of the most gifted divines in the Presbyterian church. It will be a rare treat to hear him give his personal reminiscences of Scotland, his native land--and no one is more competent than he to delineate the character of one of the greatest poets that ever lived. Reserved seats, 50cts; for sale at Miller's book store. Secure seats early. Mr. Jack will also preach in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, May 28, morning and evening.

DEATH OF MRS. CHAMBERS. Mrs. Hannah Chambers died at her residence near the water works on Monday morning at six o'clock. She was a very estimable lady and the relict of the late John Chambers. Her disease was consumption, from which she had been long a sufferer. Her age was about thirty-five years, and during the larger part of her life she had been a consistent member of the M. E. church. She was well and favorably known by a large number of residents of this vicinity, by whom her death will be deeply lamented. Her body will be interred in Gray's churchyard at Half Moon, the funeral cortege leaving the house for that place at an early hour on Wednesday morning. -Republican.

A SEWING MACHINE REPLEVIED. About a year ago Mrs. Courtney, bought a sewing machine valued at $50, from the agent of the Singer machine in this city. She failed to make the payments as required by the agreement and on Saturday the sheriff and the agent armed with a writ of replevin went to Courtney's house to recover the machine. The lady of the house refused to admit them, but when she saw that they intended forcing the door, she told them to go around to the back door and she would give them the sewing machine. They went around as requested, but instead of handing the machine out to them, or allowing them to go in and take it, the angry lady raised the window and tilted it out. Fortunately the machine landed on its feet. It received a bad shaking, and was slightly broken, but not seriously. -Morning Tribune, Altoona.

Harry Teats & Co., are fixed up in their new room, opposite the Bush House, and ready for business. Groceries, glassware, etc., offered for sale at fair prices. They have some excellent bargains but go and see them for yourselves, and you will be apt to buy nowhere else.

They who have subscribed for season tickets for the musical entertainments to be given by the Bellefonte Orchestra for benefit of "piano fund" of the Y. M. C. A., are requested to call at Green's drug store and lift them. Entertainment No. 1 will be given Thursday, June 1st. This series of entertainments is going to prove interesting and the many who failed to secure tickets will regret having done so.

Men's whole stock brogans, $1.00; women's button shoes, $1.25; women's carpet slippers, 25c; men's fine button shoe, London toe, $2.00; men's carpet slippers, 50c.

MILESBURG CULLINGS. The recent rains raised the Bald Eagle almost full, and as a natural consequence there were any amount of fishermen thronging its banks. The innocent sport was marred some by John, the tombstone man, threatening to return the parties who were participating. We wish him to understand if he comes to this town talking that way, very often, he will get into trouble.

Why don't some of our neighboring towns follow the good example set by Milesburg in regard to the temperance question? We have organized meetings here for quite a long time, with good attendance and a great deal of interest. This is certainly an excellent cause and we should like to hear from other places that are doing a little something to help on in the great work.

Our Republican friends seem very well satisfied with the nomination of General Beaver, judging from their pleasant countenances as they gather around their headquarters.

The Baptist church here is without a minister at present. Rev. E. B. Morris having gone in quest of another place better suited to his taste. We all wish him well.

The new axe factory will start in about two weeks, and we judge when it does get going it will be an enterprise of a good bit of importance.

Mr. J. A. W. Rishel is teaching a term of subscription school in Centre city, and so are Messrs. Butler and Mitchell in Milesburg. USCLE NED.

MILHEIM GOSSIP. The sale, by public outcry, of the merchandise of the late Jno. D. Foote began on Friday, and will be continued until all is sold.

Miss Maggie Alexander is visiting Lewisburg friends.

The new Lutheran church will be completed before long. It is a grand affair, the finest building in Centre county, outside of Bellefonte, devoted to the worship of God.

David Stoner, son of John Stoner, Esq., before retiring on Sunday night, 14th inst., fearing burglars, or some other equally maliciously disposed marauders might invade the secrecy of his chamber, took precautions to give them a warm reception by looking after the condition of his revolver.

He carries his hand in a sling, the ball having passed clear through it.

Mr. E. C. Campbell has admitted his son, Samuel M. Campbell, into partnership, and the new firm means to take the lead in Millheim mercantile circles.

The National hotel is being improved by building an addition to the rear of it.

Our borough council was asked to pass an ordinance prohibiting persons gathering dandelion within the borough limits. Dandelion must have become suddenly valuable, but the councilmen did not take that view of the case and the bill has not passed.

Millheim has unsurpassed facilities for the successful carrying on of any sort of manufacturing business. Could you not send us some of your Bellefonte enterprise, money and grit? (No. We have none to spare, but sincerely trust the citizens of your live town may soon be favored as you wish. -Ed.)

The Butts' house, under the management of Mr. F. X. Lehman, is rapidly regaining all of its old popularity. The proprietor desires us to state that each of its departments--the hotel proper, the bar and the restaurant--has undergone a complete renovating and improving process, and now desires a fair share of public patronage, assured of his ability to render entire satisfaction. Mr. Lehman, evidently, understands his business and we ask a trial of him at the hands of any who stand in need of the services of a real jolly landlord who runs a first class house.

No wonder Spring Mills is booming, when such men as Mr. I. J. Grenoble and Mr. G. R. Spiglemeyer take hold of anything, something is to be done.

Try the excellent tea now offered for sale by Mr. Geo. W. Eaton at the new store in Brockerhoff house row. The brand he sells for $1.00 per pound cannot be equalled in town. Fresh fruits, vegetables, confectionery and tobacco and cigars.

Clothing, gent's furnishing goods, hats and caps, and a complete line of all goods kept in a first class clothing store, at the Philadelphia Branch. All goods sold as cheap as can be to be consistent and only one price asked. Mr. Lewin is always glad to show goods.

"Mamma, is the old hen going to be sent away for the summer?" "No, Charlie, but why do you ask?" "Well, I heard papa tell the new governess that they would have a fine time when he sent the old hen away for the summer." Mamma put little Charlie to bed, after giving him a dose of Sines' Tar, Wild Cherry and Hoarhound for his cold, telling him he would be well in the morning; and then she laid for papa--and only for his having a bottle of Roberts' Embrocation in the house, might have been a cripple for life.

The rush at Doll & Mingle's still increases. They have all the latest styles, and prices that defy competition.

Mrs. F. Simmering, Millersville, Pa., had Ozena and Chronic Catarrh. PERUNA cured her entirely.

Spring and Summer season, 1882. Woolen stock now complete. Early orders solicited. 44-45 MORTON & Co., Tailors.

A VOICE FROM THE PRESS. I take this opportunity to bear testimony to the efficacy of your "Hop Bitters." Expecting to find them nauseous and bitter and composed of bad whiskey we were agreeably surprised at their mild taste, just like a cup of tea. A Mrs. Crosswell and a Mrs. Connor, friends, have likewise tried, and pronounce them the best medicine they have ever taken for building up strength and toning up the system. I was troubled with costiveness, headache and want of appetite. My ailments are now all gone. I have a yearly contract with a doctor to look after the health of myself and family, but need him not now.

July 25, 1878. S. GILLILAND, People's Advocate, Pittsburg, Pa.

You can save from 100 to 200 per cent. on a good dress, from 100 to 300 per cent. on a suit, from 35 to 100 per cent. on a pair of shoes, and in everything that you need you will find it to your interest to buy your goods where you get them at first cost. LYON & Co.

Mrs. Charles Diley, Pittsburg, 1875, she had Chronic Catarrh badly. PERUNA cured her perfectly.

Lyon & Co., are closing out their entire stock of dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes at cost, in order to quit the business.

If you want to save money in your purchases, go to Lyon & Co., as they are selling everything at cost. LYON & Co.

$30,000 worth of dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, dress goods, &c., for cost at LYON & Co.
