DEMOCRATS TO THE FRONT.

Grand Mass Meeting at Bellefonte next Tuesday evening, August 29th, 1882.

Rally to the support of Pattison and Reform.

Chauncy F. Black AND W. U. HENSEL.

It affords us a great deal of pleasure to announce that Chauncy F. Black, Esq., Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and W. U. Hensel, Esq., one of the editors of the Lancaster Intelligencer, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, have been engaged to address the members of the party of Jefferson and Jackson at the court house in this place on Tuesday evening next.

Ex-Gov. Curtin and Hon. C. T. Alexander are expected to speak. Do not fail to profit by this annual gathering.

Lock Haven is to have Barnum's show. Happy (?) Lock Haven.

The picnic, on Wednesday, of St. John's Catholic church, was well attended. The receipts amounted to about $500.

Mr. W. E. Burchfield is selling glass ware at a great reduction, in order to make room for new goods. Call before it is too late.

The building occupied by J. W. Hartwick, merchant, at Lemont, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. Loss not stated, insurance $1,050, origin unknown.

Mr. "Eddy" Graham, who went to Philadelphia some time ago for medical treatment, was taken seriously ill while there and his father was sent for. We understand he is now convalescent but not out of danger. His many friends are a unit in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. A. J. Swartz, of near Pleasant Gap, met with a serious accident, on last Thursday morning, while engaged in milking a cow, she was knocked down and tramped upon by another one, had three ribs broken and was otherwise bruised and injured.

The re-union of the 53d Penna. Vet. Vols., has been postponed until the 25th day of October next at which time it will be held at Pottstown, Pa., the place selected at its last re-union at Milton, Pa. This information has been given us by Major Geo. D. Pifer, formerly of that regiment.

After all that any of us can say is said it will be acknowledged that our statement is correct that Messrs. S. & A. Loeb are to-day enjoying a larger trade than any other of the general merchants in Bellefonte. It seems as though the usual inactivity of trade at this period of the year has little or no effect upon them. They sell Arbuckle's roasted coffee at 17 cents per pound, and everything else at the same rate. Their motto being "Live and let live."

At this time, during the heated term it is very natural for us to desire to wear as little clothing as possible. But the time is coming when heavier garments will be needed and there is no reason why preparation should not be made now. The Philadelphia Branch disposed of a great deal of summer clothing during the season and still has anything in that line that you may need. Take our advice, call upon Mr. Lewin and see whether or not he can give you a bargain in fall clothing. There are many inducements that he is prepared to extend during the coming thirty days.

The basket-lunch Sunday-school convention at Centre Hill on Thursday, the 17th inst., was the first experiment of the kind in Northern Pennsylvania. Many witnesses will cheerfully testify that it was a very gratifying success. The large audience room of the church was full at the three sessions and the baskets more than sufficed to satisfy the temporal wants of the large and happy assemblage of adults and children. The most delightful feature of the convention was the manifest and sweetly experienced proof of an essential unanimity among all the servants of the Lord.

Two Bush meetings at one time did not appear to be one too many on Sunday. Both were well attended, more white people being present than colored ones. The sermon of Rev. John Palmer, in the afternoon, was exceedingly creditable. We inferred that it was his "farewell sermon," and should he leave Bellefonte, he will have the pleasure of knowing that his upright course here has commanded the respect and esteem of all. The parties who desecrated the Sabbath by loud, boisterous singing, on the way to town from the grounds, should profit by the good example of their sable friends.

A great many persons outside of the Catholic church approve the action of that body in prohibiting round dancing. It has never been made very plain why it should be right for a young man, a perfect stranger, perhaps, to throw his arm around a young woman on a ball room floor, and have the same performance be considered improper and indecent anywhere else. In this way ladies are not infrequently brought in direct collision with gentlemen (?) whose behavior and general deportment render them any thing but desirable society friends of genteel ladies. There are too many evils covered and hidden by actions generally conceded to be harmless. Bishop Lafecche, however, when he prohibited "curled hair and handsome dress" probably shot clear over the mark he intended to hit, for an occasional instance is made public where hair will curl in spite of you, and even our plain Methodist lady friends are well aware of the fact that handsome dresses are often inexpensive ones. Bishop Lafecche may really desire a return to the plain customs and common manners of the time of John Wesley, and if he could effect this there would be considerable falling off of bangs and other flummery that now constitute such an important part of the average female make up.

Our contemporaries of the press are busy reporting the progress made on work on various railroad enterprises in this and adjoining counties. The indications point to a speedy completion of facilities for a large out-put of bituminous coal from the region of which Snow Shoe is the centre. Beech Creek is the scene of active operations, many men being employed by rival companies, in grading the road. One of these, the Penna. and Western has for years been slowly at work and apparently had the field all to themselves. But a week or two ago intelligence leaked out to the effect that a corporation styling itself the Clearfield and Williamsport R. R. Co., intended to construct a road over the identical route. This wakened up the other and now the pleasing spectacle of hundreds of men busily engaged is presented. It matters little which company is successful, provided the road is built. Another railroad the Buffalo Run, to intersect the L. & S. C. at or near State College is also promised us in the immediate future to offer needed transportation to those owning lands upon which the deposit of iron ore is almost inexhaustible. Centre county is destined to become one of the wealthiest and busiest in the State.

In a few weeks the public schools of Bellefonte will be in active operation. Teachers and pupils will return to their work benefited by the vacation now about to close. In performing the duties assigned them it is to be hoped the instructors will be guided solely by a desire to instruct; too many teachers become masters and thus fail to subserve the end whereunto they were sent. To those who will begin with the ensuing term, we would say teaching is work, nowhere is dilatoriness, indifference and laziness less excusable, and nowhere are the ill effects of this plan of action so obvious. Your work, and the seed you sow, will have little in it that is good unless your efforts are guided by earnest, candid desire to improve those with whom you are brought in contact. The boys and girls can materially assist in the great work by being studious, manly and obedient. Your parents and friends will expect improvement.

When the glass works discontinued operations, some time ago, much of the glass that had been reduced to a fluid state was allowed to cool in the pots. One of these vessels was emptied by breaking the deposit and a large piece, clear as crystal, of a beautiful light blue color, now adorns the table of Mr. Kyle McFarlane. Viewed as a curiosity it is valuable and as a specimen of the quality of work turned out by the Bellefonte Glass Co., is an excellent advertisement.

Jacksonville lost a valuable young citizen, in the person of Wm. Irwin, Jr., who died at the residence of his parents, on Thursday last, aged seventeen years, of intermittent fever. The loss effects not only the family but the community, as he was a youth greatly admired and respected by a large circle of acquaintances whose grief will be partially assuaged by knowing that he died prepared to go.

On our sixth page will be found an article, from the Philadelphia Times, embodying the particulars of the Burnside estate, valued at many millions. Among other heirs is Thomas Burnside, Esq., of this place. The facts as set forth are only partially correct, as we have been reliably informed there will be little if any litigation in properly disbursing the wealth left by the deceased.

Mrs. Louis Wian, of Boiling Springs, died on Friday last, after a long and lingering illness. She was a patient sufferer and during the time that Death's cold, icy fingers were tightening their grasp upon her vitals she did not complain. Three children and her husband, in addition to many friends and relatives will mourn her demise.

A certain Bellefonte lady, who decks her person with sun flowers, has promised one of our young limbs of the law some elegant embroidery, wrought by herself. It was not so in the days of Noah, ah no!

Now for war.—People visiting Bellefonte during court week are requested to stop and see the terrible slaughter in prices of summer goods, sold below cost, at the great Boston clothing house, just opened in Reynolds' block, Bellefonte, Pa.

GRAND RESOLUTIONS.—The following resolutions were unanimously adopted at the Centre county Pomona Grange, No. 13, P. of H., August 4th, 1882:

WHEREAS, In these times of political degeneracy when the public official most unfrequently plays the role of master instead of servant, and

WHEREAS, In many cases the sacred right of petition guaranteed by constitutional enactment is virtually disregarded and the expressed will of the people consigned to the waste basket; and

WHEREAS, We believe it to be aduty to commend the faithful and condemn the unfaithful; and

WHEREAS, The Representatives in Congress from this district has been unremitting in his exertions to serve our people and organization by forwarding contributions of desirable cereals, cuttings and valuable public documents and his warm, constant support of the bill elevating the department of Agriculture to equal rank and honor with the other heads of departments with a Cabinet officer of equal rank and authority with other departments of our National Government; therefore

RESOLVED, That the warmest thanks of this Grange are due and are hereby tendered to Hon. A. G. Curtin our able and energetic Representative in Congress, for the liberal manner in which he has been forwarding our several submissions, and his valuable contributions of desirable cereals, cuttings and valuable public documents and his ardent support of the bill elevating the department of Agriculture to a Cabinet position with equal rank and authority with other departments of the National Government;

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the press for publication.

EXCHANGE GOSSIP.—It is said that our two ice wagons and their attendants, can make more noise than a freight train.—Christie Sentinel.

Bedford is enjoying a building boom, and the Gazette is jubilant in consequence thereof.

Mr. Jacob S. Brubaker, of Lebanon, has a clock which bears the date 1717, having been brought from Switzerland by his great grandfather, John Brubaker, who settled near Rohersstown, Lancaster county. He was the father of nine sons, from whom all the Brubakers in Pennsylvania and Canada spring. The clock is in good condition and an excellent time-keeper.—Valley Spirit.

A new jail is called for—one with walls that prisoners can't cut through with a case knife. Warden Dancy cannot hold his guests unless Dr. Porter and the County Commissioners make some improvement in the walls. The whole building is rotten and should be demolished.—Harrisburg Saturday Night.

Mr. Ward R. Bliss, of Lewisburg, has bought the Delaware County Republican.

According to a correspondent of the Altoona Tribune a Huntingdon man sent his photograph around the world by mail.

Some men wear their best trousers out in the knees in winter getting religion, and the seats of their pants out in the summer backsliding.—Unknown Civic.

It is said that Charles S. Wolfe is quietly organizing a new party, and will nominate himself as its candidate for governor. This may be a campaign rumor, but whatever he is doing he is very quiet about it.—Norristown Herald.

The Watchman and Republican have been standing round with chips on their shoulders and blood in their eyes for some time. Come, be men. The discussion, boiled down, amounts to this:

The Philadelphia Evening News pretends to have overheard the following: "Stranger—Why, bub, what are you building a mud dam across the gutter for?" Bub—"Why you see, father is a congressman, and if I make a dam that will hold a couple of quarts of water he can get an appropriation to make it navigable."

SOCIETY TALK.—Miss Lizzie, daughter of Maj. R. H. Foster, is visiting friends in Nittany valley.

Miss Constance Richards, with Miss Maggie Tomkinson, of Philadelphia, chaperoned by Mr. Edward Richards, spent Saturday and Sunday at Snow Shoe.

Alva S. Grow of the Lock Haven Journal, was an important personage at the reunion of the "Sixteeners" at Harrisburg, last week.

Curwensville's popular and enterprising young furniture dealer, Mr. J. C. Brachbill, was at home on Sunday.

Rev. Hall, of Chambersburg, officiated at the Episcopal church on Sunday, conducting both the morning and evening service. The Rector, Rev. John Hewitt, was unable, on account of poor health to assume his wonted duties.

Col. James T. Stewart, late postmaster at Boalsburg, resigned, and has been succeeded by Mr. George B. Jack.

Miss Jennie Weaver, of Spring street, is dispensing the smiles that have ever rendered her attractive, in the presence of Phillipsburg friends.

Col. Joe Furey is tired keeping bachelor's hall and sighs for the return of Mrs. F. Brace up, Joe.

Mr. L. B. McEntire, of Fillmore, Centre county, is spending a few days with his son, Dr. J. C., and family in this city.—Lock Haven Express.

Mr. H. B. Pontius is a truly remarkable man, in fact, any one who after many years of attentive devotion to business retains a cheerful, pleasant spirit is remarkable.

Mr. A. W. W. Bayard thinks he shall soon visit Williamsport, again. Is it not expensive sweetness?

The Patriot innocently intimates that the Juniata valley printers are coming to Bellefonte because we have quite a number lady compositors. Well, they are good looking enough to attract any class of excursionists.

Mrs. Kensey and daughter, of Washington, and Miss Cardwell, of Richmond, are visiting at Pleasant Hill, the delightful country seat of Mr. A. V. Miller.

Miss Fisher, of Curwensville, who has been a guest of Mrs. Harry Teats for a number of months is entertaining Miss Thompson, of the same place.

We are under obligations to Frank A. Burr, of the Philadelphia Press, for a copy of the life of Gen. James A. Beaver.

Capt. Austin Curtin, who for many years has superintended and managed the Mill Hall Furnace, has been appointed one of the clerks in the Pension office at Washington at a salary of $1,200 per annum.

The May and June numbers of Saalfeld's 10 cent libraries have reached us. This publication is destined to meet a want long felt—first class music at reasonable rates. For particulars address R. A. Saalfeld, 12 Bible House, Astor Place, New York.

The proprietor of the Boston clothing house, Bellefonte, Pa., has just returned from the eastern cities with the largest line of clothing, boots and ladies' shoes, now daily arriving at the Boston clothing house, just opened in Reynolds' block, opposite Brockerhoff house, Bellefonte, Pa.

As fast as buggies are finished at Bartlett's they are run out in a line in front of the shop. The other day a gentleman, who visits town once a year, anxiously inquired of a person whom he happened to meet, in the vicinity, "Who's dead?" He mistook the display for a funeral procession.

A question of vital interest to farmers, is whether to sell their wheat now or hold for an advance in prices. Good judgment will, if allowed to act, answer the inquiry, in most cases, by advising sellers to be influenced by the present price and their necessity. When a fair price is offered, sell.

The Parlor Entertainment by the guests of the Spring Mills House, August 14, was a perfect success. The program:

It is to Miss Debbie Easton, daughter of Rev. C. T. Easton, of New Brunswick, N. J., that those who were present are indebted for the recherche pleasure of the occasion.

The pulpit of the Presbyterian church was filled on Sunday morning and evening by Rev. Mr. Marquis, of St. Louis, Mo. Rarely are Bellefonte audiences treated to as masterly discussions of scriptural topics as they were fortunate in being favored with on Sabbath last. The morning subject "Watchman, what of the night?" was intended to inspire those who are prone to become despondent when circumstances, over which they have no control, render everything dark and gloomy, and the breaking of the day never to be realized, with courage to enable them to trust in Him who orders all things wisely. Seldom is the hungry soul invited to partake of a repast so strengthening. In the evening the problem, so vexatious to commentators and expounders of the bible, the unpardonable sin, was discussed with the same ability that characterized his morning sermon. Mr. Marquis left town on Monday and will be followed to his Western home by the kind wishes of many admiring friends, here.

The following correspondence explains itself:

BELLEFONTE, Aug. 14, 1882.

T. J. DUNKLE, CHAS. SMITH, ROBERT MCKNIGHT—Gentlemen: I notice in the published proceedings of the Democratic Convention on the eighth of August that a resolution was offered appointing you congressional conferees, which met the approval of the convention; but from personal considerations my friend, Captain Hunter, amended the resolution giving me the appointment.

Being of the opinion that the convention should not delegate the power to appoint its representatives, and of the political party it represented, I very heartily ask you to accept the trust the convention would clearly have given you if the amendment to the resolution had not been proposed.

It has been the custom of the Democratic party of Centre county for many years to have congressional conferees appointed by the convention, and as you are very acceptable to me personally, I am glad to have the precedent followed in this accommodation to the expressed wish of the representatives of the party.

Truly, your friend,

A. G. CURTIN.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Aug. 16, 1882.

Ex-Gov. A. G. CURTIN—Dear Sir: Yours of the 14th inst., received, and in reply we think it due to you to say that we accept the trust in the spirit in which it is tendered. It is only necessary to add that by using all fair and honorable means to secure your re-nomination to the position which you have so ably and acceptably filled, we will, at once be carrying out our own personal preference, and at the same time representing the unanimous wishes of the Democracy of Centre county.

Yours truly,

T. J. DUNKLE, CHAS. SMITH, ROBERT MCKNIGHT.

Somebody writes to the Pittsburg Gazette that Camp Reynolds "has demonstrated one fact, that the State must own a camp ground. There are so many things actually needed—a parade ground free from fences, a rifle range properly equipped, sinks at retiring places, buildings for the safe keeping of forage, tents, and rations, and, above all, good water."

Why did not the correspondent also stipulate for hammocks, umbrellas, awnings for tent doors, etc., and done with it. If armies in the field are provided with buildings for storing forage, a permanent rifle range "properly equipped" and parade grounds free from fences, then, and not until then, will the suggestions of the Gazette correspondent be in order. The only indispensable necessary thing, water, seems to have been a matter of small importance in locating the several brigades at Lewistown. While the men were forced to quench their thirst as best they could, the officers were discussing the propriety of an enormous outlay by the State, from which no benefit will be derived.

A friend who was present hands us the following report of the convention at Centre Hill:

A Centre County Sunday School Association met in convention at Centre Hill last Thursday, in answer to the call of Pres. Austin Curtin. At ten o'clock the morning session was begun by singing "No Book is Like the Bible." Rev. J. K. Tomlinson led in prayer after which Rev. Mr. Crittenden conducted a half hour prayer service. In the absence of Rev. J. F. DeLong, governor of morning session, Prof. D. M. Wolf was chosen chairman.

The old question "How shall we attract scholars to the Sabbath school?" was discussed by Revs. Fisher, Tomlinson, Crittenden, Wolf, Hughes and Messrs. Swartz and Harvey. The points elicited were, good music, beautiful pictures, fragrant flowers, well-lighted rooms, earnest work and no long speeches.

Rev. Jas. P. Hughes being appointed to open the subject of "Normal Work," convention recessed for five minutes. On being recalled Mr. Hughes dwelt particularly on knowing what you teach, and illustrated by Christ's example and from experience in the school room. Remarks on this subject were made by Prof. D. M. Wolf and Dr. Robert Hamill. The session was concluded by singing No. 310 in Gospel Hymns.

At two o'clock the afternoon exercises opened by the convention singing "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," after which prayer was offered by J. W. Miller. Following came "Children's Hour," in which many Sunday school scholars took part led by Rev. Crittenden.

"Some Sunday school mistakes" were suggested principally by the ladies in the form of little notes. A selected choir of singers rendered "Tell it to me Again," in a very effective manner. At this point Rev. Mr. Butler, of Sing Po, China, was introduced and spoke briefly of the work in that country.

Mr. W. Miller then read a paper on "Week-day Work for Sunday Schools." A business hour followed during which Dr. Hamill, Prof. Wolf and Rev. Crittenden were appointed delegates to the State convention, to be held at Easton, in October. Spring Mills was the point chosen for holding the next county convention.

The evening session opened with singing "Wonderful Words of Life," followed by prayer by H. L. Harvey. A service of song was conducted by Rev. S. E. Furst, who presided. "Music in the Sunday school" formed a fruitful subject, which was discussed by Rev. W. E. Fisher, R. Crittenden, John Tomlinson and Mr. H. L. Harvey.

Rev. John Tomlinson opened the subject "Claims of the Sunday school upon the church, the home and the community."

The concluding topic, "Possibilities of the Sunday school," was presented by Rev. S. E. Furst. Before adjourning the retiring president, Capt. Austin Curtin, and the secretary, Clement Dale, Esq., made interesting and touching speeches.

The sessions were all well attended and the work throughout the county must be stimulated by the convention.

It is peculiarly gratifying to know that the cause of Sunday school work is being so systematically and faithfully attended to by its friends. Our columns are open, not only to these, but to all christian workers, and they are requested to use them in the dissemination of healthy, religious intelligence and news.

"Take Sechler out?" our foreman was heard saying to one of the compositors, which set us to thinking (rather unusual too, by the way,) and the result of the meditation was that Mr. Sechler is one of those whom to "take out" is decidedly difficult. His manner of dealing, the quality of the groceries and other goods he keeps in stock is such that he is permanently entrenched in the affections and good graces of a large majority of our city's purchasers.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the 6th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1882, and the one hundred and sixth year of the Independence of the United States. THOMAS J. DUNKLE, Sheriff.

WALNUT LEAF HAIR RE!

STORER.—It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name implies, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from the dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen out. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair to a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. SMITH, KLINE & CO., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia and C. N. CRITTENDEN, New York.
