—Read the advertisement of the Bee Hive.

—Grand opening at the Bee Hive Oct. 13 and 14.

—Lamb street, east of Allegheny, is being repaired.

—Do not forget special bargain day, Oct. 14, at the Bee Hive.

—Mr. Chas. W. Flinn, the Snow Shoe watchmaker and jeweler, was in town on Monday.

—Miss Laura Keller, of Lock Haven, has gone to Chippewa Falls, there to teach elocution.

—The latest and greatest discovery is PERUNA. If you do not feel well take it at once.

—Mr. James McCormick, of Centre Hall, died, after an illness of nearly a year, on Tuesday of last week.

—Mr. Rush Larimer has purchased the interest of M. Chambers in the livery business, lately conducted by Chambers & Co.

—The event of the season, grand Fall and Winter opening at the Bee Hive, one price stores, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13 and 14.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Morr, of Ashland, Ohio, who had been visiting friends in various parts of the county, returned home on Tuesday morning.

—A new schedule went into effect on the Snow Shoe railroad, a week ago. The train that left this place at 6 P. M. will hereafter pull out 45 minutes later.

—Mr. M. Miller of the Brockerhoff house, says that the amount of business transacted by him during September was greatly in excess of that of any month since he has had charge.

—Mr. Teller, proprietor of the Bash house went to Altoona to see Jumbo, on Friday. He did not go alone, either, for we are told about twenty Bellefontaine participated in the Jumboree.

—A scarcity of school teachers is reported throughout the State. The meagre remuneration that is doled out to the hard-worked teacher, as well as the uncertainty of his position, accounts for the fact that so many of our most skillful teachers leave the profession every year. The most of teachers certainly get miserable wages.

—Our mercantile friends, in various parts of the county, are notified that Mr. W. B. Miller, late of Bedford, has located in Philadelphia, and is now a member of the firm, Spiece, Miller & Co., 26 N. 5th St., dealers in tobacco and cigars. We trust the new firm may meet with unbounded success.

—The following persons were elected by the Y. M. C. A. as officers for the ensuing year, at the meeting held last Friday evening:

- President—Dr. J. W. Rhone. Vice President—W. I. Fleming. Recording Secretary—Charles F. Cook. Treasurer—J. W. Gephart, Esq. Executive Committee—D. S. Keller, W. S. Zeller, F. Potts Green, Jas. A. Beaver, Clement Dale, A. S. Valentine, R. E. Shaffer and N. S. Bailey.

—We learn that Erie has adopted a system of water metres. The residents of that city will hereafter pay for the amount of water they use, and no more. The amount charged will be from six to ten cents per thousand gallons, according to amount used. Our people will hail with joy similar action by our council, for it would be just to rich and poor, and put a stop to the wastage of water, now too much indulged in. Give us the metres.

—A cursory stroll through the public school building, on Saturday, revealed the fact that our school board is thoroughly in earnest. The walls have been papered and calmed, the wood work cleaned and painted, and everything now looks as attractive and neat as the most fastidious could desire. Will the pupils appreciate the efforts being made in their behalf, and by close attention to work fulfill the expectations of their parents and friends?

—An abundance of elegant clothing, complete in every respect is being exhibited at the Philadelphia Branch. There is nothing in that line that you cannot buy at right prices. The assortment never was fuller, the quality of the goods handled never was better, the different grades, from which to select, never were more numerous, the clerks never were more attentive, and the proprietor never was in better spirits. Do not delay making your usual fall purchases until the best of everything is picked out.

—In dresses the prevailing color seems to be green-Russian or hunter's green, enlivened by fine threads in plaid shape. One of the most recent combinations is an amber shade with Russian green checks and light blue threads to form the plaids. The richest material for outer garments is satin with velvet flowers in relief. Fall or satin tolets have overskirts of this velvet. They are short, flat and round with the borders cut out. Long velvet or cloth redingotes are worn over faille-floated skirts in the color of the dress. They open both in front and in the back from the waist down, to give full freedom to the flounced skirt. Garnet, seal, wine, and navy blue are the favorite colors for these redingotes.

THE COST OF LIVING.—Mr. Atkinson, a well-known writer on social subjects, asserts that the average earnings of the whole population of this country are not over fifty cents a day, or $1 a day for a family of two persons, and $2 a day for a family of four; and there are thousands of families who manage to get along on an income of $300 a year. When social conventionalism, therefore, lays it down that a young couple have no business getting married on a smaller income than $1,000 a year, it not only defies notorious facts, but forgets that the majority of those who constitute our best society began life on half a thousand a year. That expenses may not exceed the income it is necessary that some attention be paid to the quality as well as quantity of what is purchased. If your income be large or small it will pay you to buy groceries from Sechler & Co.

THE ALLEGHENY CONFERENCE OF THE CHURCH OF THE UNITED BRETHREN IN CHRIST, convened, to hold its forty-fourth annual session, in Wayne church, Millin Co., Pa., Sept. 27, 1882, and closed Saturday evening. Bishop J. Dickson, D. D., presided. L. W. Stahl was re-elected secretary. A. L. Funk, A. Davidson, C. B. Gruber and Thomas Cameron were received into conference. W. K. Shimp died during the year, and appropriate memorial services were held, Saturday afternoon. The reports from the different charges were encouraging. The various interests of the church and conference were carefully looked after. Able and carefully prepared papers were read on Missions, Sunday-schools, Education, Church-Erection, &c., and adopted. The Bishop read the following report of the Stationing committee:

Altoona District, L. W. Stahl, P. E., Altoona Station, M. O. Lane and Altoona Mission, one to be supplied, Tyrone Miss. Sta., B. J. Hummel, Huntingdon Sta., I. P. Hayes, Bellefonte, J. Felix, Port Matilda, U. Conley, Moshannon, Thomas Cameron, Clearfield, J. M. Smith, Otterhelm, R. S. Woodward, Juniata, J. F. Fallheim, Three Springs, J. A. Clemm, Tuscarora, J. Landis, Liverpool, E. A. Zeek, East Salem, Geo. W. Kaminizer, D. Sheerer, P. E., Johnstown District, D. Sheerer, P. E., Johnston, J. Medger, Wilmore and Conemaugh, J. S. Miller, Somerset, A. E. Fulton, Rockwood, B. F. Noon, Hollidaysburg, W. H. Mattern, New Paris, W. A. Jackson, Lyctippus, A. Davidson, Cambria, Isa. Potter, Fallen Timber, M. G. Potter, Burnside, C. W. Raver, Indiana, W. Beighel, Stony Creek Mission, Dr. Geo. Wagoner, Ligonier, J. H. Pershing, Greensburg District, F. Fisher, P. E., Pittsburg Mission, Geo. Noden, Braddock Sta., A. L. DeLong, Greensburg Sta., J. L. Resler, Mt. Pleasant, L. R. Jones, Westmoreland, A. L. Funk, Connelville, J. G. Sheerer, Springfield, J. E. McClay, Madison, J. S. Buell, Washington, D. Ellis, Allegheny, J. L. Baker, Mohoning, C. Wortman, Brookville, C. B. Gruber, Coakburg, L. M. Gates, H. A. Thompson, D. D. President of Otterhelm University, Geo. A. Funkhouser, D. D. Professor in Union Biblical Seminary, D. D. DeLong, President of Lebanon Valley College, W. J. Zeck, Professor in Lebanon College, D. Speck, stationed at Annville, Pa.

The conference was well attended, very pleasant and harmonious. Bishop Dickson preached on Sabbath morning a very able sermon, which was very much enjoyed by those who heard it. Truly it was good to be there.

MILLSBURG DOINGS.—The Baptist Sunday school picniced last Saturday up at Long Reach. The weather was favorable and everyone enjoyed themselves very much. The Pleasant Gap band was in attendance accompanied by Prof. Lowell Myers, of Centre Hall, and furnished most excellent music for the occasion. The Methodists did not have a picnic but they did have a festival in the evening of the same day, in the old machine shop building close by the bridge. The bill of fare consisted of ice cream, oysters, cakes, puddings, lemonade, besides nuts and candies. As it is getting a little late in the season for festivals, the house was not overcrowded although there was a reasonable good attendance and receipts about $90.

Hog cholera still prevails to quite an extent and as it is in nearly every case fatal, fears are entertained that pork will be high.

Dr. Grove has lately come into possession of a team of mustangs, and the way he gets over the road is a caution.

Our schools will open next Monday, Oct. 16, G. M. Noll teaching the 1st grade, Mr. Butler, 2d grade. The 3d grade taught by Miss Lidie Taylor has been going on for several weeks.

We don't know whether it will be called the Holly Tree Inn or not, but Mr. J. C. P. Jones is about erecting an oyster saloon and eating house here.

The axe pole factory, owned and operated by Harry Levi, situated close by the R. R. bridge, has been moved over to the Esington and Coover property, and by them will be owned and operated in the future.

There is quite a novel game of checkers in progress between a Mr. Bierly, who lives about a mile from town, and an Ohio party. We have heard of the like being down by telegraph but this is by postal card, and admits of about two moves a week and will be quite a lengthy game.

Our friend "Crooked" had some sport of his own one evening last week. From some cause or other our engine did quite a lot of whistling over in Tangletown and Crooked cried out, "A witch," whereupon E. Noll, Ross Coover, Tom Paxton and others started over. When they got as far as the old race they saw there was nothing wrong and began to look round for Crooked but he had sloped. Lucky for him too, or he would have got a ducking in the stream.

—A novel case is on the docket of the court of Luzerne county, and the decision is being awaited with unabated interest. A young gentleman, wealthy and refined, possessing ample means, has been sued by the father of a young lady for damages sustained by his daughter while in company of the young man, and fixes $50,000 as the amount to which she is entitled. For over two years, up to December last, no Romeo could have been more devoted, at which time she was prostrated by, and has since been treated for spinal affection. The man is bow-legged and sitting on his lap has always been considered dangerous, and usually he has his arms around any one who may have perched upon his knee to prevent them from falling through on to the floor. In this case he underestimated the danger, forgot his usual precaution and away she went. The father will testify that the young man had been advised upon several occasions to put a board across his lap to prevent the catastrophe spoken of above. The defense will claim that any girl who will for hours rest upon a pair of parenthesis legs deserves to have her back broken; that he is just as nature made him and that folks must take their chances; that had she put her arms around his neck and held on, as other girls do, there would have been no trouble, and that while she has his sympathy she can have none of his lucre, if he can help it.

—A sudden and rather mysterious death occurred in Centre Hall, says the Reporter, a few days ago. Mr. James Wolf, a young man and son of John Wolf, of Potters Mills, was found at the residence of Jno. Gingerich, of this place, on Saturday evening, in convulsions and unconscious. Dr. Jacobs being called, found the patient suffering from all symptoms of poisoning, though his death which followed next day, Sunday noon, may have been caused by congestion of the brain. Mr. Wolf seemed depressed a short time before he was discovered in the condition above mentioned. If his death was from poisoning by his own act, by accident, or otherwise, remains a mystery now, and only a chemical analysis of the stomach can prove whether it was from poison at all. The mystery should be cleared up by an examination so as to set at rest any ungrounded rumors that may arise from such a circumstance.

—The October number of Demorest's Monthly Magazine combines most agreeably the useful and the entertaining, and contains a vast amount of information on a variety of subjects. "The Plantin Museum at Antwerp," "A Trip to the West," "Woman's Work and Wages," and "Talks With Women," by Jennie June, are all capital articles. The Household Department is well filled, the articles on "Home Art and Home Comfort," and "How to treat our doors," being especially good. Mrs. Alexander's entertaining story, "The Admiral's Ward," is continued, and the shorter stories are excellent. "Current Topics," "The Fashions," poems, and miscellaneous articles, complete this interesting number. The oil picture, "A Trial of Patience," is quite a gem, and the engravings are admirable.

—We call attention to the new advertisement of S. & A. Loeb, to be found in this issue of the DEMOCRAT. They say "our stock of fall and winter clothing is now complete; we can show 50 different kinds of boy's school suits, patches with each one; we have nearly all our boots and shoes made to order and are selling a grade of goods that are just as good as the best leather with careful workmanship can make them, a special guarantee with hand-made boots; in groceries we are underselling the lowest and in dry goods we cannot be undersold." Remember they know what they are talking about and mean it all.

—Dr. F. P. Hoy, of Cassopolis, Mich., a brother of our genial, enterprising and successful friend, Dr. H. K. Hoy, of this place, and son of John Hoy, Esq., of Spring township, is visiting his relatives and friends here. He arrived on Thursday last and will remain until Monday. He thinks many changes have occurred here since he left, and while he always enjoyed life in Pennsylvania he prefers the west.

—Rev. A. J. Myers, who years ago was stationed here as pastor of the Methodist congregation, is introducing the "People's Cyclopaedia." Speaking of this, under the caption "Tons of Books," the Boston Daily Herald of Sept. 4th says: "Upon a single day last week the firm of Martin Garrison & Co, received from the New York publishers of 'The People's Cyclopaedia,' bound volumes of that work, for the supply of their Massachusetts subscribers, which weighed four and a half tons. The firm claims that this is the largest shipment of knowledge for the people ever sent to Boston upon a single day. The invoice was valued at $12,000."

—Powers and Son received another order for boots to be worn in Wyoming Territory. The same gentleman also ordered three pairs of the same kind for friends, saying that Powers' work is superior to any he has ever seen.

—Bumors of a new opera house are circulating and it is probable that arrangements will be completed before long leading to the erection of a handsome building, one that will reflect credit upon the town.

—Mr. Chas. McClure, we understand, is now with a surveying party, in service somewhere in New Mexico. He is doing well.

—If our preacher would take PERUNA his hoarseness would soon leave him.

—Mrs. R. H. Forster is at Aaronsburg. During her absence Miss Lizzie will preside.

—Mr. J. B. G. Kinslow, editor of the Lock Haven Republican, accompanied by Capt. Chatham, of the same place, called on Tuesday.

—With Diamond Dyes any lady can get as good results as the best practical dyer. Every dye warranted true to name and sample.

—Mr. Elias E. Smith, one of our Penn Hall friends, and a Democrat in whom there is no guile, paid us the compliment of a visit on Tuesday.

—The editors of the DEMOCRAT thank Mr. W. H. Aaron, of Unionville, for the box of peaches sent us on Tuesday. The fruit is delicious, grown on trees of his own rearing—but three years old, and compares favorably with any produced by high priced nursery stock.

—At the special examination held by Supt. D. M. Wolf, on Saturday last, the following persons constituted the class: Misses Anna M. Haines, Jennie Archey, Ida D. Hass, Flora Rothrock, Annie Love, Maggie B. Thomas and Annie C. Blair; Messrs. W. B. Haines, E. W. Kline, A. G. Archey, D. E. Sellers, J. B. Moore, William Bible, C. E. Emerick, C. E. Knarr, H. B. Leitzell, J. W. Neff and G. S. Peifer.

—Ladies, universally, strive to render their feet attractive; some are naturally small and pretty, others are not. Whether Nature been kind or otherwise is a matter of small import because Doll and Mingle now are offering for sale goods that must attract the attention of all. Women's pebble goat button shoes—$2. nothing of the kind ever seen in Centre county before and equal to $2.50 shoes sold elsewhere.

—The death of Mrs. Derr, relict of the late Daniel Derr, occurred at the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, on the night of the 6th instant. She had been removed to that institution about a week prior to her death to have a tumor, that was slowly but surely wasting her vitality, removed. The operation was successfully performed and indications pointed to her recovery, but a relapse set in and her death resulted. She was buried by the side of her husband, on Tuesday afternoon.

—Wilson, McFarlane & Co., call attention to the only reliable Ready Mixed Paint in the market. The Pioneer Prepared Paint is not only superior to any Ready Mixed Paint sold but rivals pure white lead in its smoothness in working and durability. This paint is guaranteed by the manufacturers not to crack or peel within three years. The guarantee is not only good for replacing the paint but it will be put on if it should crack or peel within the time specified. It will be to your interest to call and see Wilson, McFarlane & Co., before purchasing either white lead or any other Ready Mixed Paint.

—Messrs. Goldsmith Bros., during their short stay in our midst, have to a certain extent revolutionized methods of business in their particular line. They ask and accept but one price for goods sold. In order to reduce stock in certain departments they will offer as BARGAINS on Saturday, next, many articles for less than cost. For example, 50 dozens, extra length Ladies fancy wool and mixed hosiery, finished seams, slightly imperfect at 10 cts, worth 20; 50 dozens, same kind, extra fine, perfectly sound at 20 cts, worth 50, also several other articles proportionately cheap. In order to distribute these goods fairly among their patrons and friends they will have arranged a separate counter, and sell to each only a limited quantity. Sale to commence at 10 A. M. and close at 2 P. M. unless the goods are sooner disposed of.

—The oyster supper given by the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday night, was a success. The receipts were not in excess of what was anticipated, but sufficient to supply the want on which account the fund was raised. All who attended expressed their gratification. The young men's orchestra enlivened the occasion. The members, who have been mentioned before, were assisted by Messrs. E. A. Smith and Frank Schrock. The Association is proud of this feature of its various facilities for entertaining and the gentlemen are tendered the thanks of all concerned. The committee is under obligations to the following ladies: Mrs. Wm. Shortlidge, Mrs. John T. Johnson, Mrs. John Harper, Mrs. A. G. Curtin, Mrs. J. H. Rankin, Mrs. Butts. Those who waited upon the tables were zealous in meeting the wants of their guests, and the presence of so many young gentlemen can be accounted for in no other way than that these pleasant waiters attracted them there, they were Misses Minnie Brew, Jennie Dare, Emma Graham, Emma Lingle, Lizzie Foster, Bessie Montgomery, Minnie Garman, Anna Shortlidge, Ella Gerbrich, Bella Rankin, Lizzie Shortlidge, Effie Straub, Nellie Boal, Clara Pruner and Mrs. W. F. Reber. To the persons who responded to the request for tables and other necessary articles the committee is thankful and the heartfelt wish of each member is that they may be rewarded for their kindness.

Obituary.

The people of Centre Hill and vicinity have been called upon to mourn the loss of another respected and well beloved neighbor. On last Tuesday, Oct. 3d, James M. Cornick, an old citizen of Potter township, after patient endurance, was released from his suffering, having passed into that sleep that knows no awakening.

For over a year he has been suffering from heart disease, and last Spring he was attacked by dropsy from which time he was mostly confined to his bed.

For many years he was a consistent member of the Centre Hill Presbyterian Church, and during his sickness he manifested that christian patience which distinguishes the true follower of the "meek and lowly" Savior. He was a member of the order of Patrons of Husbandry, being master of the Grange at Centre Hill at the time of his death.

He was also a member of Old Fort Lodge No. 537 F. and A. M., having joined that Lodge shortly after its organization.

Rev. Reeder, of the Reformed church, made the address at the house, the Presbyterian minister, Rev. W. K. Foster, being absent attending a meeting of Presbytery. The remains were then taken charge of by the Masonic fraternity and conveyed to the burying ground at Centre Hill where they were interred with the beautiful and impressive ritual of that order. On the coffin were placed a beautiful floral circle and an evergreen square and compass the work of Misses Cora and Aggie Murray of Centre Hill.

Penn Bi-Centennial.

OPENING EXERCISES IN CHESTER. The opening exercises of the Bi-Centennial celebration of Pennsylvania, will very properly be held at Chester, on Monday, October 23d, 1882. The citizens of the thriving city of Chester, and of Delaware county have been actively at work for some time arranging an appropriate form of celebration to take place where the great founder of the Commonwealth, William Penn, first set foot upon Pennsylvania soil, and the committee having the matter in charge have announced a programme which will be unusually interesting and shows that Chester does not propose to be far behind her larger neighbor in memorializing the great event. Monday of the Bi-Centennial week was fortunately left open for Chester to begin the celebration, for it was in that old, now famous city, that Penn first landed, and held his first Assembly in this State, he afterwards going to Philadelphia where imposing ceremonies will begin on Tuesday and continue four days. People who wish to take advantage of the low excursion rates on all railroads by going to Philadelphia on the 21st to hear the sermons on Sunday, can slip down to Chester, only fourteen miles distant, on Monday and see the grand opening demonstration at that place.

The exercises will begin at 9:30 A. M., with the landing of Wm Penn, on the actual spot where Penn landed, Oct. 26, 1682. English, Dutch, Swedes and Indians will be present in costume of the period to receive Penn who lands with his associates and meets Capt. Markham and Robert Wade. The incident of the naming of Chester, at that time called Upland, a talk with Tamamen, Chief of the Leni Lenape Tribe who lived in that vicinity, and a visit to the Essex House, the residence of Robert Wade and to the well from which Penn drank in the yard of the Essex house which is still in use, will form some of the features of the landing. The house on Chester creek where Penn lived is still standing and no doubt will be visited by a large number of people.

At 10:30 A. M. a meeting at the grand stand where an appropriate oration will be delivered by the Hon. John M. Broomall, to be followed by singing the Bi-Centennial ode by 2000 school children, music by a band of fifty pieces and other interesting exercises.

At 2 P. M., a grand parade will take place. The procession will embrace Red Men, civic associations of all kinds. Firemen from different parts of the State, Grand Army Posts, Military, Cadets, Industrial and Trades display exhibiting the workings of the various trades. Butchers in full uniform and many other interesting features, and a full rigged model of the steamship "City of Tokio," which was an object of great interest in the parade at Gen. Grant's reception in Philadelphia, will be in the procession. In all, there will be eight thousand people in line, forming the grandest pageant ever witnessed in Delaware county.

At 7:30 P. M., a magnificent exhibition of fireworks will be given in which will be displayed a number of large and beautiful pieces, closing with a colossal figure of Wm. Penn and the ship Welcome. The historical places in the city, about thirty in number, among them the place where the first Assembly met will be appropriately marked. There will also be a free exhibition of old articles in the City Hall built in 1724. The North Atlantic Squadron will be anchored in the river. The city will be in holiday attire, and a large number of distinguished guests will be present. There is ample accommodation at the hotels, and the citizens intend keeping open house that day, so that there will be abundant entertainment for visitors. No one having the time and means should omit a visit to Chester on this occasion.

FOR INFORMATION.—EDITORS DEMOCRAT: Allow me to remind your readers that one chief object of The American Sunday School Union is to furnish grants of books and papers in aid of Union and Mission Sunday schools that cannot sufficiently provide for themselves. As the Society's missionary in Northern Central Pennsylvania, applications for aid from this section of the State should be made through me. It always gives me pleasure to provide for such needy schools so far as our means admit. Before any donation is made I am required to ascertain the circumstances of the case so that the means entrusted to us for these objects may be applied as judiciously as possible. Within the past few days a person has been soliciting money in Bellefonte for a Sunday school in a community where there is no Sunday school nor any intention of opening one. The above information has been previously and repeatedly given to guard our generous citizens against impostors, Bellefonte, Oct. 6. R. CRITTENDEN.

Wanted.

Wanted—A wife who can handle a broom. To brush down the corners and sweep up the room. To make decent bread, that's fellow can cut. Not the horrible compound you everywhere meet. Who knows how to mend, to fry and to roast. Make a cup of good tea and a platter of toast. And make her own garments, so clean and so white. So horrid expensive as every one knows. A common sense nature, and still with a mind. To teach and to guide—no item finally. A sort of an angel and household comrade.

EXTRAORDINARY.—On Saturday, Oct. 14, there will be a special sale of bargains, which has been announced through our regular circular of invitation. Yours respectfully, GOLDSMITH BROS.

MEDICAL INSTRUCTION.—The undersigned wishes to give instruction in music in remuneration for board. Please address: MISS S. OHRMACHT, BELLEFONTE, P. O.

RE-UNION.—The fifth reunion of the Society of the 49th Reg't. Pa. Vet. Vol., will be held at Huntingdon, Pa., on the 14th and 15th of November.

All honorably discharged members of the regiment are requested to send their post office address and letter of company to Capt. C. Dale, Jr. Orders for railroad tickets, at reduced rates, will be furnished by I. Newton Risher, Secretary, 739 North Seventh street, Philadelphia.

WALNUT LEAF HAIR RESTORER.—It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from the dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. Smith, Kline & Co., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and C. N. Crittenden, New York. 4-1

SPRING MILLS NEWS.—The Spring Mills Academy, after a prosperous session of five months closed with a successful entertainment Sept. 29. Prof. Reiter, the principal, returns to Lancaster, to enter the Theological Seminary of the Reformed church. Harvey Twittmeyer, his assistant, goes to Watsonstown to take charge of the Grammar, or High school in that place.

The summer visitors have all left, too, so that the place seems quite deserted. Jacob M'Cool has commenced raising his house. It is on the first lot west of the big hotel, in a very commanding place, and Jacob says it shall have all the latest improvements.

R. H. Duncan, who had been sick at Milton, has recovered, so as to be about again. His family, which was with him at Spring Mills all summer, has returned to Milton.

Rev. W. K. Foster was at Shade Gap, Huntingdon county, attending a meeting of Presbytery for the purpose of being ordained.

MARRIAGES.

FUGATE-REYNOLDS—On Oct. 3d, 1882, by Rev. W. H. Fisher, Mr. Robert M. Fugate, formerly of Centre county and Miss Mary A. Reynolds, of Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, Pa.

DEATHS.

SHIGERT—On Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1882, William F. Shigert son of J. D. and M. S. Shigert. A tiny lamb was away from the fold. It was missed by the Master's watchful eye. "I must open," he said "the gates of gold. To welcome it back to its place in life."

From heaven's pasture it may not roam. It was only lent for a little while. To breathe with brightness on earthy home. With its clinging love and dimpled smile."

So the Shepherd came for the precious one, And it knew his voice, as he gently said: "I will bear it away, little darling, come. For such is the Master's love is made."

In his bosom he carries it safely now. Noted close to the tender, loving breast. Neither care nor sorrow can touch its brow. In that home of the ransomed, ever blest. F. A. S.

HAUGHWOUT—On Friday, Oct. 6th 1882, at Mill Hill Station, county, Jean, youngest daughter of Rev. L. I. and J. A. Haughwout, aged three years.

"I'm so tired," she said, As she fell asleep; While the shadows drearied, and the shadows creep. You—adieu to the path, Of this world of ours, But to waken again, 'Mid heavenly spheres."

Little wrenny one, now, Thy rest is in a little while. At the Savior's feet. While his hands off press, On thy sunny hair, To tenderly bloom, The babe so fair, Recall her? not so— From that blissful rest. Blessed Father, we know That Thy way, is best. Oh! the radiant glory, Her eyes have seen, In that better life, We angel join. F. A. S.
