

The Centre Democrat.

Thursday Morning, October 26, 1882.

Correspondence, containing important news, solicited from any part of the county. No communication inserted unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Local Department.

Owing to the fact that it is impossible to secure extra cars no train will leave here for Tyrone on Friday and Pattison will not speak there at that time as previously agreed upon. He will speak at Altoona, Friday night, however, and those wishing to see and hear him can leave here on the 5 p. m. train Friday.

A sure, positive cure for costiveness, MANALIN.

The Pine Hall (Washington) Cornet Band enlisted things on Thursday afternoon.

A party composed of the friends and social acquaintances of Miss Bella Rankin met at the residence of her father, on Thursday evening last, and passed the time most pleasantly.

Company "B" N. G. P., of this place with about thirty-five men in uniform left for Philadelphia Tuesday evening. This will be the first visit to that city of some of the boys and they will have a pleasant time while there.

The sad news of two aged men driving a horse to death last week causes one to think that there are still some first class fools in our midst. The only way to successfully treat disorders of this kind is to prosecute the offenders to the full extent of the law.

The Democrats of Penns and Brush valleys should turn out to a man to hear ex-Gov. Curtin and Hon. John D. Stiles, of Allentown. Both these gentlemen are veterans and the opportunity to hear them should not be allowed to slip by unimproved on Saturday next at Millheim.

You can find the largest line of ladies and misses gossamers and gum coats at the Boston Clothing House, Bellefonte, Pa., and at prices less than any other store in the county, and every one is warranted to give satisfaction. Call at the Boston Clothing House when you are in town.

Parties unknown, but suspected, broke into the Pleasant Gap hotel last Thursday night and appropriated about $50 in money and personal property the value of which is not stated. They also entered the place of business of Mr. John Barnes and Mr. R. B. Barnes. In the interest of order and safety the guilty parties should be ferreted out and severely punished.

A well to do farmer was asked the other day by a business man why he would not deal with him. Well, said the farmer, you never invited me; whenever I want to buy anything I always take my paper and look over the advertisements and see where I can get the articles I want, and I never found your name. I always find a liberal advertiser is also a liberal dealer.

Prof. Aaron Girod has opened an oyster and eating saloon near the depot in Millersburg. It is a neat, tidy, comfortable affair and if our musical friends fail to secure the patronage he so richly deserves it will not be because he has not attended to every detail and spared neither trouble nor expense to be able to accommodate guests in the very best manner. When hungry, or inclined to listen to good music, drop in to see him.

General Beaver, at the reception tendered him by the citizens of this place, upon his arrival home from the convention at Harrisburg that nominated him, said in a speech, replying to the address of welcome by Mr. Furst, that he would much sooner stay at home among his neighbors and friends than move to Harrisburg. And yet strange to say the General has spent very little of his time among those he professes to love so much, since then, but has been scattering himself all over the state, wherever, in the opinion of Boss Cooper, he could do the most good.

The present comet in the Eastern sky, which can be distinctly seen by everyone at early morning, is certainly the most remarkable one of all the modern comets. Prof. Lewis Swift states that the comet grazed the sun so closely as to cause great disturbance, so much so that it has divided into no less than eight separate parts, all of which can be distinctly seen by a good telescope. There is only one other instance on record where a comet has divided, that one being Biella's comet of 1845, which separated into two parts. Applications have been made on Mr. H. H. Warner by parties who have noted these cometary offshoots, claiming the $200 prize for each of them. Whether the great comet will continue to produce a brood of smaller comets remains to be seen.

Hon. Stewart Pearce, of Wilkesbarre, died in that place on Friday, the 18th instant. He was a brother of Mrs. Frances Hewes, of this place, and uncle of our young legal friend, Mr. Charles Hewes. Miss Nancy and Miss Jane Pearce, of Pottery Mills, this county, are sisters of the deceased, and Rev. John J. Pearce, ex-congressman and ex-presiding elder, is a brother. Mr. Pearce was a member of the legislature of this State from Columbia county in 1846 and 1847, and was afterward collector of tolls on the Pennsylvania canal and railroad. Gen. Grant when President appointed him postmaster of Wilkesbarre, which position he held for eight years. During the latter part of his life he was almost totally blind.—Watchman.

Personal.

Mr. Washington Rees is erecting a neat little house on Methodist hill.

Mr. M. Kerster, of Spring township, dropped into our sanctum on Monday.

Mr. Samuel Decker and Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, called upon us on Saturday.

Capt. R. C. Cheesman and family, formerly of Bellefonte, now of Washington, are in town.

Miss G—k, of Wiskosh, Ockecousin, an intimate friend of Mr. Aaron Goldsmith, is in town.

Col. J. P. Coburn, of Aaronburg, and Col. R. H. Duncan, of Spring Mills, were in town last week.

The mother of Hon. S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, was buried at that place on Monday afternoon.

Mr. P. C. Bauder, of Lock Haven, accompanied by his brother visited Bellefonte friends on Tuesday.

Mr. D. P. Barnes, agent for Glenn Bros., Rochester, N. Y., nurserymen, has been doing some good work in this neighborhood.

Miss Fanny Grey, of the Republican, is in Houtzdale. No doubt she will enjoy her visit and return to her work newly invigorated for continued application.

Mr. A. C. Moore, the jolly manager of the business of the Howe Sewing Machine Co., at this place, with his lady, is in Philadelphia, to be absent all week.

Messrs. Adam and John Shaffer with their wives and Mr. Michael Gephart and sister (children of John Gephart, Esq., of Zion), of Wayne county, Indiana, are visiting relatives and friends at Zion.

Mr. E. L. Gray, of the Daily News, and Al. Garman, of the Garman House, Bellefonte, called at this office, Saturday. Come again, gentlemen, the latch string is always on the outside for you.—Lock Haven Express.

While in town Mr. W. B. Scott, representing Johnston & Co., Harrisburg, a genial, wide-awake, pushing gentleman, called to see us on Thursday last. Mr. Scott appears to be the right man in the right place.

Mr. R. A. Bumiller, one of the editors of the Millheim Journal, paid us the compliment of a visit on Monday. Mr. B. is a representative newspaper man and we are glad to know that he and his are flourishing finely.

In appointing H. A. McKee, Esq., its attorney for this county, the S. & S. R. R. displays good judgment. Among our young attorneys no one is considered more capable and reliable than Mac and we cheerfully tender our congratulations.

Brown Bros., as E. Brown, Jr. & Co., have opened in their beautiful rooms, opposite this office, a complete stock of general groceries and provisions and invite the attention of the public to their goods and prices. We trust our young friends may meet with the recognition they deserve.

Prof. Wm. F. Smith, of Millheim, called to see us on Saturday. Mr. Smith has for many years stood high in the estimation of the patrons of our public schools as a teacher of unusual ability and one entirely successful. For some reason or other he has chosen to turn his attention to other business. We wish him success.

An excellent portrait of Benj. F. Hunter, Esq., one of the Democratic nominees for the legislature, executed by his son—a young gentleman, sixteen years of age, who never received any instruction in the art of crayon work—is perhaps one of the finest specimens of this kind of skill we have ever seen. It can be seen at the office of Sitzer & M. Gee.

D. M. Wagner, Esq., on Saturday, ran across the wrong man, in the person of Mr. Jac. Runkle. Every one knows how fond our venerable friend is of bluffing those of opposite political opinions, by proposing to bet. Mr. Runkle "took him up" and, gentle reader, you should have seen him weaken. No leicle ever melted more gracefully or completely.

The Republicans of this county have nominated our friend Mr. G. R. Spigelmyer, of Spring Mills, for the Legislature. Could we see the slightest indication of the possibility of success perching upon Mr. S's political banner we should invoke the aid of our memory and tickle our readers with a history of his political goings and comings, but as it is "here's to you," hoping that the majority polled for Prof. Meyer may not result a la Greely.

The particulars of a heartrending affair, actions that must forever blight the prospects of one life, we glean from the Lock Haven Express, of Monday: A young man of prepossessing appearance, (they all are,) named Lynn, a travelling salesman representing McGeer Bros., Auburn, N. Y., several weeks ago engaged board at the Irwin House in our neighboring city. He went to work, and apparently worked diligently for he succeeded in selling a buggy for $110 which was paid for as soon as received. Shortly after fixing himself at the hotel he failed to report there at night but had his meals there regularly. The solution of the latter problem is that he had secretly married a young girl. The scoundrel, who has a wife at Auburn, coldly deserted his second one, left the city without paying back money he had borrowed, without settling his board bill, and at last account had not remitted to his firm the money in his possession belonging to them. This will warn some of the many giddy maidens to be careful as to whose acquaintance they cultivate and prevent them taking entire strangers into their confidence to such an extent as to be willing to marry them.

One of the novelties in walking costumes for ladies is a redingote copied closely after gentlemen's Prince Albert frock coats. It is medium long, double breasted, and is buttoned from the collar to the waist line. The middle back-seam is slightly pleated. Two buttons behind define the waist, and the garment is finished with silk binding or faced with cut edges, exactly like a gentleman's coat. For underwear, French percale is very popular at present. The most elegant sets of this kind of apparel are now made with solid yokes and borders of lace edgings and insertion. For street wear balmaral skirts are at present preferred to white ones. Dark colors prevail. Skirts of black satin are greatly favored by those fond of the recherche, and they can be had at prices ranging from 11 to 18 dollars. Black silk for walking and semi dress costumes retains its popularity as it always will. The most elegant material shown at present is heavy corded ottoman silk, which has a very rich and distinctive appearance when made up. This material also shows up well when combined with velvet. The buttons used for these dresses are very beautiful, and to be proper must be very showy.

The Daily News takes exception to the manner in which we disposed of Mr. Butler last week. This is not at all surprising. The calumny heaped upon our Republican friends is borne with heroic indifference since they have been told that Quay will foot the bills. Now without any more fooling the situation is simply this—the Republican leaders advise members of the party to assist in the organization and maintenance of so-called green-back-labor clubs, and put forth every effort to induce Democrats to go in with them, and then when it comes to voting they vote their own ticket straight and allow the Democrats, who were near-sighted enough to be duped, to vote with the greenbackers. The game was played last year and would have been this campaign had not several prominent movers given the thing away. All right, Mr. News, the political day of judgment is upon you, and the same spirit of cringing sycophancy that allows you to swallow the unavary hash dished up by such outcasts as Butler will fit you for the journey to that political Utopia, where all is serene as a spring morning, the beautiful valleys at the head of Salt River.

It is a good thing to keep one's temper in control. It is a sad thing to have no temper to keep in control. Some men are disturbed because they are disturbed. They regret their temptation to get angry; whereas they would be worth a great deal less in the world if they couldn't get angry. Unless they were temptable, they would be neither admirable nor efficient. Thank God if you have a quick, strong temper; and pray God to enable you to keep it in due check, and to use it wisely. Ill-fitting clothes cause much of the display of fretfulness and so unpleasant to the party himself and those around him. It is seldom that any one who wears Lewin's clothing exhibits such poor control of their temper, as to get mad and make a dance of himself. Try the Phila. Branch and find out. Their goods and manner of dealing are veritable panaceas for ordinary discomfort.

It may be laid down as an incontrovertible principle that no family can be happy without employment—regular, diversified, continually recurring employment. There may be the possession of wealth, there may be an ample domain, there may be everything externally to enjoy, but unless there be appropriate employment to occupy the body, engross the mind, and awaken the energies, there cannot be happiness. It is the active, industrious, persevering family that is the truly happy family, not the idle, the slothful, the useless—not the family that has no definite plan, no fixed and important object, no personal and collective energy. Neither can a family be happy without a liberal supply of pure fresh groceries and provisions—in fact, the kind Sechler & Co., deal in.

Harkins & Vetter's Comedy company, met with a cool reception at the Opera house on Thursday night. They evidently have for some time failed to receive the flattering smile of Fortune, and wound up their career here. Had they been left alone the evening of the performance they might have succeeded in securing enough of an audience to have enabled them to pay expenses, but the very pressing demands of creditors disgusted those who were about to enter, and no house was the result. Mr. W. R. Teller, of the Bush House, and Mr. A. B. Steele, of the Republican, materially assisted the boys in their time of greatest need. If the members of the troupe are willing to be advised we would suggest that they turn their attention to some other business.

Entertainment No. 4, by the Bellefonte Orchestra, will be given Nov. 9, in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room. The program has been arranged with the same degree of care that so plainly marked previous ones, and it is thought that this will be the best yet held.

A pint of the finest ink for families or schools can be made from a ten-cent package of Diamond Dye. Try them.

For piles, constipation and a torpid liver, never fail to take MANALIN.

OVER-SHOOTING.—A grave and dignified D. D., after listening to the recitation of the catechism by a class of children, was asked to make a few remarks to them whereupon he arose and said: "I desire my young friends, to express an unqualified approbation of this exercise. I regard the catechism as the most admirable epitome of religious belief extant." The superintendent pulled his sleeve and asked him to explain the word epitome, which he elucidated as follows: "By epitome, children, I mean—that is—it is synonymous with synopsis." Too many merchants do the same thing. They use language that few if any understand and as a consequence the facts they wish to communicate are lost sight of. Now, if you will but turn to the advertisement of Messrs. S. & A. Loeb you will be able to read and know what they wish to communicate. Their English is plain and everything they claim will be fully substantiated.

CAMERON'S MONEY AT MILESBURG.—The emissaries of corruption are at work in our midst and plying their unwholy vocation within two miles of the home of Gen. Beaver. A self-constituted organizer of a political band, who resides in this place, has for some weeks been in the employ of the local leaders here and commissioned to BUY votes. He even claims to be in secret correspondence with Gen. Beaver, by whom, he alleges, he is advised, and by whom his movements are directed. At Milesburg he requested a local Democratic politician to name his price for the transfer of twenty-five votes that he supposed the Milesburg gentleman could control. To another man he offered $15 to secure his vote for the stalwart ticket. Our authority is direct, explicit and positive, and if the "organizer," or any of his friends, are not satisfied with this expose of his nefarious conduct it can without any trouble be readily proven.

Our only desire is to caution those who may be approached in this manner that it is not only a criminal offense to offer but equally as much to accept a bribe.

The representatives of the party of purity and honesty now have an excellent topic for discussion whenever it may suit their convenience to dispose of it.

PORT MATILDA.—Mr. Editor: Our town is improving. James Wiser and Lafayette Stine expect soon to have their houses ready to occupy. J. G. Jones has built an addition to his house and otherwise improved his dwelling house. Thos. Weston's shoe shop will soon be tenable, and John Mark has the foundation finished of a house that will be ready for occupancy this fall.

The school board of our township very wisely had the primary room repaired, remodeled and beautified, and a new room 24x30ft. built to it. A meeting of the board will be held on Friday to fill a vacancy in the grammar department caused by a resignation. If you know of any good teacher out of employment, send him this way.

The store of A. W. Reese was entered last Friday evening by burglars, and cash and goods to the amount of $15 taken. They attempted to drill a hole in the safe to blow it open, and it is supposed they were frightened away before succeeding.

The team of Elmer Way, on Friday evening took fright at the cars and demolished his wagon.

There has been considerable stir here in matrimonial circles. Mr. Jacob Williams and Mrs. L. A. Walker, and Mr. Wm. Van Pool and Miss M. Frances Smith, of Birmingham, were married, and others intend following their example. Mr. Rumor declares, with emphasis, that we are soon to have a few first class weddings in our town.

"Auntie" continues to visit our town and thinks it fortunate that he and his partner were here on Thursday evening instead of Friday. Come again.

On the 4th instant Mrs. Amanda C. Spackman, wife of John Spackman, died, aged 80 years, 7 months and 25 days. She was loved and respected by all, had been a member of the Presbyterian church for a number of years.

On the 7th of October, Mrs. Ann W. Mason departed this life, aged 89 years and 11 months. She was the oldest inhabitant of our town and for over 70 years had been a member of the Methodist church.

S. S. Miles recently purchased the intire interest in the store of Miles & Co.

Rev. G. B. Ague, pastor of the M. E. church, was granted a vacation and his parishoners concluded to take his family by surprise on their return home, last Friday evening. Quite a number took possession of the parsonage and proceeded to prepare an excellent supper. When they had gone Mr. and Mrs. Ague found themselves the possessors of sufficient groceries to do them until next spring.

The Democrats are very much encouraged by the news from Ohio and will turn out to a man on election day.

Worth township Democrats will hold a meeting on Thursday night. A full turnout is requested.

The many friends of Prof. W. G. Morrison will be glad to hear that he has recovered from his late injury and will be able, on Monday, to take charge of the Millheim schools. ICH DRIX.

Doll & Mingle inform us that on last Saturday their sales exceeded any one day's sales since they started into business. This certainly is a good showing, and is just what fair dealing, pluck and enterprise will do. We predict an immense fall trade for this firm, they surely deserve it.

Y. M. C. A. ANNIVERSARY.—The last business year of the Y. M. C. A. ended on the first instant. In reviewing the work one is surprised at the gigantic strides toward complete organization, systematic work, good results and interest awakened. At the election of officers held in Oct. '81 it was hard to find any one willing to assume the responsibility of the official conduct of what then seemed to be an expiring enterprise. In December the board of managers secured the services of J. Willard Miller as general secretary, since when marked improvement has attended every move made by the association. At the election of officers held two weeks ago four persons were voted for president, of whom Dr. J. H. Rhone received the most votes and was declared the choice of the members. Dr. Rhone will be ably and willingly supported by all and we hope his term of office may be an epoch of unusual prosperity. But in order to insure the fullest possible measure of success he needs the active assistance of each and all.

The annual meeting was held in the large auditorium of the Presbyterian church, on Sunday evening. Rev. Pennepacker, of the Methodist church, presided. After singing, prayer by Rev. A. J. Meyers, of Baltimore, and scripture reading by Rev. J. F. D. Long, of the Reformed church, the reports of the retiring officers and chairmen of committees were read. The former, D. S. Keller, Esq., J. Wesley Gephart, Esq. and Mr. J. Willard Miller, the latter Messrs. C. F. Cook, Q. A. Daniels, G. W. Reese, A. W. Bayard W. I. Fleming and Master Walter Lembecky.

A characteristic address by Rev. S. A. Taggart, State secretary, closed one of the most enjoyable religious meetings with which Bellefonte has been favored for a long time.

An exchange says: When you write to an editor, send a three cent stamp. It will be a great curiosity to him.

Editors are slippery fellows. They have an unvisited facility for slipping out of the door just after publication day.

An editor's veracity will do to gamble on. He never lies except for a consideration, or in the plain discharge of his duties.

Never ask an editor to drink, unless you have good credit or an extra dime. You might cause him a painful disappointment.

When an editor's hair scales off and the top of his head begins to look like the skin of a cow hide attribute it to wisdom—not wife.

An editor never steals. He always gives full credit, and he don't write "Ex" after an article. There are a number of brainless scoundrels in the profession who pass for editors and who steal, but they don't have the pure ring.

When you shake hands with an editor don't squeeze his fingers too hard, for they may be covered with valuable diamond rings.

When you owe an editor a dollar don't pay him, for the shock might be too great for his nervous system.

When you visit an office mix the editor's exchanges; he has plenty of time to straighten them. Steal them if you want to; he will not need them. Besides it is fashionable.

If you are a mean man don't mention the name of an advertising agent to an editor, for it will thrill his soul with delight and cause him to smile. And when an editor smiles the bark peels off and the air turns blue.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

At Linden Hall, Harris township, Tuesday evening, October 31, 1882, to be addressed by Adam Hoy and H. Y. Sitzer.

At Powellton, Rush township, Thursday evening November 2, 1882, to be addressed by D. F. Fortney and W. C. Heinle.

At Phillipsburg, Wednesday evening, November 1, 1882, to be addressed by Hon. A. G. Curtin.

HOUSEHOLD AFFAIRS.—It is the small leaks that impoverish a household. It is the small economies that lead to affluence. Soap your dirtiest clothes and soak them in warm water over night. Use hard soap to wash your clothes and socks and your floors. Soft soap is so slippery that it wastes a good deal in washing clothes.

A little salt sprinkled in starch while it is boiling tends to prevent it from sticking and it is likewise good to stir with a clean sperm-candle.

A few potatoes sliced, and boiling water poured over them, make an excellent preparation for cleaning and stiffening old rusty black silks. Green tea is also good for this purpose.

The gloves powder so generally used to prevent injury from perspiration is of no value; but common cornstarch rubbed thoroughly over the hands before putting on gloves will answer this purpose.

A pretty chair back is made of an antique lace stripe put over silk. Have the lace in the center and on the silk stripes of the same width at each side embroider a pretty vine. This is lovely made of the lace and blue silk, with sprays of small pink buds, or of cardinal satin with daisies and buttercups embroidered on it. The top is turned down and hemmed, and the bottom may be finished with lace or made in points with a tassel on each point.

It is not a good plan to have the white lawn and cambric dresses "done up" as the phrase is, to lay away for the winter, for the expectation that they will look and be ready for immediate wear in the spring will be disappointed. Of course they should not be put away dirty, but the starching and ironing may well be left till spring; only common calicoes should be starched and ironed before packing away.

Grease spots can be removed from silk by sprinkling French chalk on the spot and laying the garment away on a shelf in a dark closet. If the stain is obstinate this may have to be repeated. In ordinary cases this will be sufficient, but where the grease is not fresh and has spread it may be taken out by placing blotting paper over it and applying a hot iron to it. Do not let the iron stand on it long, and it must not be very hot, as there is danger of the color of the silk being changed.

Aprons made of brown linen of the proper width so that the selvege needs no hemming at the sides, may be made very pretty by fringing out the bottom to the depth of two inches; overcast the edge where the raveling comes, then about two inches above that draw out threads for an inch and a half, and then run a blue or scarlet ribbon through the threads that are left, making blocks of the ribbon and thread alternately. Above and below this a row of feather stitching is added, and a row on the hand and sides also; the pocket trimmed to match is put on at the right side.

Wilson, McFarlane & Co., call attention to the only reliable Ready Mixed Paint in the market. The Pioneer Prepared Paint is not only superior to any Ready Mixed Paint sold but rivals pure white lead in its smoothness in working and durability. This paint is guaranteed by the manufacturers not to crack or peel within three years. The guarantee is not only good for replacing the paint but it will be put on if it should crack or peel within the time specified. It will be to your interest to call and see Wilson, McFarlane & Co., before purchasing either white lead or any other Ready Mixed Paint.

WALNUT LEAF HAIR RESTORER.—It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from the dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. Smith, Kline & Co., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and C. N. Crittenden, New York. 4-ly
