A HAPPY TIME.—The 25th anniversary of the day (Jan. 10, 1858,) upon which Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Smith, of this place were married, was most fittingly celebrated by that couple, their children and friends on Wednesday of last week, at their residence on west Logan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married by Rev. Wm. Humberger, in Fishing Creek Valley, Perry county, and for twenty-five years have enjoyed the companionship, ove and assistance known only to those who fully understand the true dignity, importance and responsibilities of the married state, Mr. Smith is one of our foremost business men, enterprising, honest and efficient, the proprietor of the most extensive bakery and confectionery establishment in Centre county, located in Belle onte, of which a branch has lately been stablished at Snow Shoe, both enjoying he benefit of a large and increasing trade Personally he is a genial, open-hearted, riendly gentleman, of pleasant and taking address, and in consequence popular, repected and esteemed.

Very much of the success that has attenled the endeavors and efforts of Mr. S. since his location here is due to the untirng and constant assistance of Mrs. Smith who during her husband's absence, assume ntire control of the business.

The festivities were participated in by a ame all were invited to partake of what was pronounced the most beautiful, tastefully arranged and complete set-out they had ever seen. The central attraction being the bride's cake-tier upon tier of frosted sweetness-surmounted by a handome little couple, suggestive of the inident peculiar to the occasion; a basket, nade entirely of candy, which elicited nuch favorable comment, the work of Mr. Emory Beales, is probably the only specimen of artistic labor of the kind ever seen in Bellefonte; pyramids of fruit of choice and costly kinds; chicken salad; ornamented hams, this ornamentation consisted of roses-made of beets and turnips, somehing entirely new, cloves inserted in fanciful shapes and wonderful arrangement of paper and other articles; candies; nuts; ce cream and everything the taste of experienced caterers could suggest. During he evening the large company was agreeably entertained by music, the voices of Derstine, C. Dinges and Wm. Wolf, En-Misses Jennie Fisher, Celia Montgomery tertainment. — Centre Hall Reporter. and Nellie Kline being particularly no-upon discovering their mistake. Uno. CLERICAL TICKETS DISCONTINUED. The authorities of the Pennsylvania Railton county. His appointments thus far road Company, away back in the early history of the corporation, inaugurated a custom of furnishing the ministers of the various churches along their line with what were denominated, "clerical tickets." The rate charged for these tickets was twothirds the usual fare. The privilege was not asked for by the clergymen, but was a voluntary act by and concession from the officers of the company. With the beginning of the current year this custom was abrogated, or at least so limited in its application as to be of little practical use

So exacting are the conditions upon which orders for clerical tickets are now issued that very few clergymen can sign the application. In order to obtain a ticket of the character named, the minister must certify that he has two or more charges on the road, and that the pasteboard will be used exclusively for the purpose of his visitations to those charges North Moore streets, New York.
