internal revenue bureau should not be worked in the interest of the swarthy Illinoisan as it was for the benefit of Long John Sherman in 1880. Mr. Raum therefore found that the politest and the pleasantest thing that remained to him of his official career was to resign his office. To say that Mr. Raum's enforced retirement from official life created an uproar among the stalwarts and is producing the bitterest kind of feeling against the administration, especially in the west, is to present the truth in its mildest form.

Then the tariff question threatens a division of the Republican party on a line which will run straight through both the stalwart and half-breed factions. Journals like the New York Commercial Advertiser and the Chicago Inter-Ocean insist that the Republican party is committed to a tariff for protection only and read out the party unceremoniously all who dare to differ from them on this point. On the other hand another class of Republican organs of which the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune are representatives, declare for a tariff for revenue only and refuse to swallow the protection dose which is very verjuice to their stomachs. Under such circumstances it is not a matter of wonder that reconciliation fails to reconcile.—Harrisburg Patriot.

It is evident that when the national debt is paid off the United States will be found to be a large gainer through the destruction and loss of its paper promises to pay. Every month the debt on which interest has ceased, says a writer, and for which no one claims payment, increases, until there is now laying in the treasury nearly eleven millions of unclaimed principal and interest, which has accrued of various dates from 1837 and earlier down to December 23d, 1882. Of the $49,000,000 of fractional paper currency issued during and since the war $15,386,512 are still outstanding, and redemption have almost ceased. By an act of Congress passed in 1879, $8,375,934, which it was estimated had been destroyed, were declared canceled, and entered as paid on the treasury books. A more correct estimate of the government gain from this source would have been $15,000,000, or more than 30 per cent. of the amount issued. The government gain on the $346,000,000 legal tender notes will doubtless be very large, though a much smaller percentage than in the case of fractional currency, where the wear and tear was very great. Whether the government or the banks will eventually receive the benefit arising from lost and destroyed bank currency is a point not definitely determined, but it seems reasonable that for the currency lost while in the possession of the people themselves, through the government, should receive what benefit shall finally accrue on account of this destruction.

A Dark Crime Unveiled.
TWO OF THE PHOENIX PARK MURDERERS PLEAD GUILTY AND ARE SENTENCED.

DUBLIN, May 2.—Patrick Delaney and Thomas Caffrey, two more of the men charged with participation in the murder of Cavendish and Burke, in Phoenix Park, on the evening of the 6th of May, were arraigned for trial this morning. They created a sensation in court by pleading guilty to the charge against them. They were both sentenced by Judge O'Brien to be hanged on the second day of June next. In pleading guilty Delaney said he was forced to go to the park by the society to which he belonged. He saw the murders committed but took no part in them. He went to the park in Kavanagh's car. Kavanagh and Carey, he said, speak the truth. The murders were committed by Joe Brady and Timothy Kelly, and by nobody else. Caffrey said he had to go to the park under pain of death, and that he did not know what was going to happen until twenty minutes before the murder was committed.

The sentence of Delaney will probably be commuted to a life long servitude. John Hanlon, one of the prisoners awaiting trial, has finally been accepted as an approver. He will confirm the evidence of the two Careys against thirteen prisoners in Kilmainham jail charged with conspiracy to murder.

Mrs. Gaines Awarded $1,926,668.

NEW ORLEANS, May 3.—Judge Billings today rendered an opinion in the case of Myra Clark Gaines against the city of New Orleans, on an exception to the report of the master in chancery. The report of the master is confirmed, and interest is added. Mrs. Gaines gets judgment against the city for $1,926,667, of which $566,707 is interest. This suit was brought by Mrs. Gaines to recover rents and profits resulting from the occupation of property known as the Blanc tract, which the city has not had in its possession since March 10, 1837. City Attorney Buck says the case will doubtless be appealed to the Supreme court of the United States.

General News.

George Bancroft, though past eighty-two, still rides on horseback and sits more erect than many young men.

Jefferson Davis is growing oranges on his Mississippi plantation, and believes the conditions there more favorable than in Florida.

Mr. Horatio Seymour, of New York will be seventy-three years old May 31. Of his four sisters the youngest is the wife of Roscoe Conkling.

Ex-Cadet Whittaker has asked the Government for a certified copy of the record in his case. The Government should give ear to his request.

Titian Peal, a brother of Rembrandt Peal, and one of Long's expedition to the Rocky mountains is still living in Philadelphia at the age of eighty-five.

"As John Sherman never lets go his hands until his feet touch the floor," says the Pittsburgh Post, "he cannot be induced to permit his name to be used in the gubernatorial race in Ohio."

Mrs. Louisa B. Stephens, widow of R. D. Stephens, has just been elected president of the First National Bank of Marion, Iowa. This is said to be the first election of the kind in this country.

The Galveston News is of the opinion that the tariff question can only be gotten out of politics by a final settlement on the stable basis of equal and exact justice to all, special and invidious to none.

England intimates that the time is coming when she will have to take a hand in the Panama canal scheme. At present, however, and for some years to come she is likely to find enough to fill her hands nearer home.

The Iowa Democrats will hold their convention on the 6th of June. They hope by presenting a good ticket and by putting into the campaign a reasonable amount of honest work, to make a handsome showing when the returns come in.

The London News reports that a volume of Mr. Sankey's hymns has been confiscated in Armenia by the Turkish authorities, who, in their ignorance of English, came to the conclusion that "Hold the Fort" was a patriotic song for revolutionary uses.

Tom Lee, the richest Chinaman in New York, has had his commission as deputy sheriff revoked, because he had established a regular system of payments to him for immunity from prosecution by the keepers of Chinese gambling places, "alleged same Melican man."

James Ridgway, a Brooklyn lobbyist, was expelled from the floor of the New York senate chamber, having found his way there without a pass. Senator Jacobs denounced him as an agent of British steamships seeking aid from the legislature; but even British gold couldn't save him.

The Charleston News and Courier denies the widely circulated statement that Senator Hampton will resign before this present term expires. The seat will therefore not be vacant until 1885, and it is not among the impossibilities that General Hampton will be a candidate for re-election.

THERE is "one dark stain" which the Baltimore American regrets to have found in the administration of President Arthur, and that is "the aid and comfort which it has given to the Virginia Repudiationists." The American states in positive terms that "Mahone is now engaged in deepening that blur by bulldozing the employees of the Norfolk navy yard into supporting the ticket which he has put up in that district in opposition to the regular Republican candidate." It says that, with the apparent approval of the administration, "this champion of financial dishonor is instructing those employees that they will lose their places if they do not work and vote for his puppet." The American, which, it must be borne in mind, is not a "Democratic calumniator," but an able and earnest Republican journal, concludes that all this "is an exceedingly shameful piece of business, and if the administration does not rebuke it Mr. Arthur will surely have cause for regret when the story of his official actions is made up." It is becoming more and more evident every day that Mahoneism is too heavy a load for any administration or any party to carry. And yet, it is said, in effect, by organs of the administration, that Mahone is the only hope of Republican salvation in 1884.—Washington Post.

The Labor Troubles.

A STRIKE OF AN IMMENSE MAGNITUDE ANTICIPATED.

An Unsuccessful Meeting of Manufacturers and Employes in Iron—Other Labor Troubles.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 3.—Just fifteen minutes were required this afternoon to decide that unless the manufacturers or the iron workers recede from their present position a strike of immense magnitude will be inaugurated on June 1. The committee of manufacturers, representing thirty million dollars, and a similar committee from the Amalgamated Association, representing one hundred thousand workmen, met this afternoon shortly after three o'clock to arrange, if possible, a scale of wages for the ensuing year from the first of next month. The manufacturers briefly stated to the representatives of the Amalgamated Association that owing to the present condition of trade a reduction of from ten to twenty per cent. on the present scale was absolutely necessary if the manufacturers wanted to run their mills without losing money, and if the iron workers would not accept such a reduction, the mills would close down at the expiration of this month and remain closed until a better condition of affairs existed or the employees accepted their terms. Mr. Jarrett, president of the Amalgamated Association, replied that the question of accepting a reduction had been voted on by all the lodges, and it had been unanimously decided to resist any attempt of the manufacturers to cut wages. Others did not coincide with the iron masters in regard to the condition of the trade, and did not consider that the tariff reductions and the present outlook would justify any reduction. They were willing to work at last year's wages but not for any less. Finding that both sides were firm and that a longer session would be productive of no good, the conference adjourned sine die. No more meetings will now be held, and unless one or the other weaken before the date set for the signing of the scale a strike will be the result.—Harrisburg Patriot.

ELECTRIC MOTORS says the Philadelphia Record for railway trains have long occupied the attention of electricians, and several entirely successful inventions have been taken out in this country and in Europe for driving trains by electricity. The best known patents are those of Edison, Field and Siemens. Recently, to prevent a conflict between the two leading American patentees, Edison and Field, negotiations were begun to secure a consolidation of their interests, and, according to the New York Times this consolidation has just been accomplished. On the report of Professor George F. Baker, of the University of Pennsylvania, the patents have been appraised at two million dollars, and a company has been formed, with twenty thousand shares of one hundred dollars each, to work the united motor mechanisms. It is said that the company will use the Edison dynamo and the Field device for propelling the cars. The first experiments will be made on Edison's railway at Menlo Park, two steam engines being employed to generate electricity—one at each end of the route. By one device collisions will be avoided, because the simple approach of two trains within a certain distance of each other will deprive them both of their motive power. Edison's experiments at Menlo Park heretofore have secured a speed of one mile in two minutes, and even a higher rate can be obtained under the present improvements. Special efforts will be made to introduce the new motor on the elevated roads in New York, and sanguine hopes are entertained that it will come into general use not only on street railways but even on the railroads now using steam.

The May Atlantic continues the remarkable excellence attained by the previous numbers for this year. Those who have read Mr. Howells's delightful story, "Their Wedding Journey," will read with peculiar zest his charming paper, "Niagara Revisited, Twelve Years after their Wedding Journey." Dr. Holmes contributes a three-page poem, and one of the best he has ever written, entitled "The Flaneur,"—Boston Common, December, 1882, during the Transit of Venus." The Second Act of Henry James's comedy, "Daisy Miller," will have a host of readers. Miss Sarah Orne Jewett has written a very engaging two-part story, "A Landless Farmer," of which the first part appears in this number. Charles Egbert Craddock, whose stories of East Tennessee life have attracted so much attention, contributes another, entitled "The Harn't that walks Chilhowee." "Colonialism in the United States" is an admirable historical paper by Henry Cabot Lodge; "The Floods in the Mississippi Valley," by Prof. N. S. Shaler, cannot fail to enlist the immediate interest of many thousands who have a vivid recollection of the ravages these floods caused; "The Rain and the Fine Weather" is a capital out-door essay by Edith M. Thomas. Other poems, essays, reviews of important new books, and three bright, short essays in the Contributors' Club conclude a very interesting number of the Atlantic.

All other American Watches at reduced prices.

DIGHTON, Jan. 27, 1882.
The Rockford watch purchased Feb. 1879, has performed better than any Watch I ever had. Have carried it every day and at no time has it been irregular, or in the least unreliable. I cheerfully recommend the Rockford Watch.
HORACE B. HORTON,
at Dighton Furnace Co.

TAUNTON, Sept. 18, 1881.
The Rockford Watch runs very accurately; better than any watch I ever owned, and I have had one that cost $150. Can recommend the Rockford Watch to everybody who wishes a fine timekeeper.

S. P. HUBBARD, M. D.

This is to certify that the Rockford Watch bought Feb. 22, 1879, has run very well the past year. Having set it only twice during that time, its only variation being three minutes. It has run very much better than I ever anticipated. It was not adjusted and only cost $20.
