—We learn that Chas. E. Schroeder, Esq., now of Reading, thinks of getting married—well, it doesn't matter what, and we wish him happiness, any way.

—On Monday Mr. W. P. Brown, of Snow Shoe, called to see us. "Billy," as we prefer to call him, is a good fellow and is making a success of it out there.

—Miss Carrie Bruger, of Unionville, is visiting the family of Mr. Bleim, 1543 North 9th street, Philadelphia, and will not return before the latter part of June.

—The papers of our town have located Dr. Hesel at different places, but he has finally taken the matter into his own hands, and after this week will be found at Lemont, Pa.

—Among the different railroad operators in this county Mr. Phil. J. Barry, boss of Senator King's job on the B. C., S. W. & C. R., is one of the most active and competent. His headquarters are at Snow Shoe.

—Communications from Centre Hall, Hubbersburg and Millheim crowded out because they did not reach us in time. Correspondents should see to it that matter for publication is here before noon on Tuesday.

—The last prize, "Maroon Band" chamber set, offered by Messrs. E. Brown, Jr. & Co., was drawn by Miss Kate, daughter of Hon. John Powers, whose number was 425. An elegant tea set is the next to be given away.

—Little Joe, youngest son of Mr. Isaac Guggenheimer, one day last week in jumping over a fence got one foot fast between two pales, where it was held after he had fallen headforemost to the pavement. A badly torn shoe was the only damage done.

—D. H. Hastings and R. M. Magee, two of our attorneys, came up from Lock Haven on the early train, last Friday. Rising at 3 o'clock must have had a bad effect on the former for he kept getting off paps during the entire time between that place and Bellefonte.

—The Milesburg Evangelical congregation will hold a festival on Friday (tomorrow) evening and Saturday afternoon and evening, proceeds for the benefit of the new church building of the congregation. Rev. Mr. Morris, the pastor is actively engaged working the matter up.

—Walter Ferdinand Bayard, of Bellefonte, honored Clearfield town with a visit last week much to the edification of the young men and young ladies of this ancient burg. In the spring time it is refreshing to see fresh things—but we have no reference to an allusion.—Clearfield Citizen.

—Messrs. W. P. Brown & Co., beer-bottlers desire to state that at no time have they been as well prepared as now to fill orders—large and small. Their place of business is at the Butts house and calls will be answered promptly. Use the telephone if time is too short to attend in person. Free delivery.

—Mr. John G. Uzzie, of Snow Shoe, unquestionably has the most comfortably fitted up hotel in central Pennsylvania. Every room is elegantly painted and frescoed and musical instruments of all kinds scattered through the house. His one weakness appears to be a love for wild animals, and he has now about him enough to start a real menagerie. The business of the house is conducted by his two sons George and Jimmy, both bright, promising boys.

MATRIMONIAL.—John Ardell, Jr. Esq., and Miss Mary L., daughter of Rev. R. Crittenden, of this place, were united in marriage by the lady's father at the family residence, on Wednesday evening, of last week. The friends of the contracting parties have been busy ever since tendering congratulations and wishing the happy couple a long lease of prosperous and felicitous existence.

A RECORD TO BEAT.—Our senior editor has voted the Democratic ticket fifty-two consecutive years, forty-eight of these years in the borough of Bellefonte. He has been twice before the people for office, once for Senator and once for member of the House of Representatives, to both of which he was elected by his fellow citizens, and yet he never solicited a vote for himself either at the primaries of his party or at the polls.

SNOW SHOE, PENNA., May 28, 1883. EDITOR CENTRE DEMOCRAT.—Dear Sir: Please find shipment of coal sent over B. & S. S. Branch of Tyrone Division for week ending May 26th, 1883:

A PLEASANT TIME.—On Saturday Mr. Thos. McCain, who is the agent of the P. R. R. at Snow Shoe, entertained the following persons: Owen McCann and son, of Cleveland, Ohio; Michael McCann, lady and child and Mrs. James McCann and child, of Tyrone. The party returned in the afternoon to Tyrone greatly pleased with their visit.

EDITORS DEMOCRAT: One of the grandest entertainments ever rendered in this section of the State is expected to be given here in Lucas Bros. Hall on next Saturday evening, June 23. This entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Howard Cornet Band just lately organized and now under the instruction and leadership of the very able and efficient Prof. W. O. Stewart, formerly of Pleasant Gap, this county, but now a resident of this place.

The Public Schools closed last week after a very successful term of eight months. The Intermediate and Primary departments closed on Wednesday afternoon with exercises similar to those of last year, music, recitations, &c. The other grades closed on Thursday morning, with an unusually interesting program. The concert singing by the schools was excellent, and among the selections rendered were "Who is a Patriot," "Hall Friends" and "Merry Spring time."

Resolved, That we counsel the cultivation of fraternity and co-operation among all workers for our common cause in our State.

Resolved, That we will return to our homes determined immediately to renew all possible lines of work necessary to secure the proper presentation of our demand for the submission of a prohibitory amendment to the next Legislature.

Resolved, That while we reaffirm and emphasize the non-partisan character of our association, nevertheless we must not lose sight of the fact that our opportunity and power in the settlement of this question, from first to last, centre in the ballot-box. We therefore, urge all friends of constitutional amendment to attend the primary meetings of their respective political parties and use their influence upon the nomination of only such candidates for the Legislature as are known by their public and private record to favor the submission to the people.

Resolved, That we appoint two delegates to attend the annual convention of the superintendents of common schools of Pennsylvania and also the State Teachers' Association, in order to impress upon them the importance of introducing into the schools instruction in the nature of alcohol and its effects upon the system and character, and to enlist their members in the work of thorough organization of temperance societies in the school districts of the State.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.—STATE CONVENTION.—The association of Pennsylvania met in annual convention in the Court House here on Wednesday of last week, at 10 o'clock A. M. The morning session was devoted to organization, reports, etc.

After the response by Gen. F. H. Lane, of Huntingdon, Hon. J. N. Emory, member of the house from Lawrence county, told why the bill lately introduced in the house was defeated. The remainder of the session was given to hearing county reports by delegates in attendance.

The evening session found the Court House crowded. The speakers, Miss N. E. White, of Mercer county, Mrs. Anna Wittmeyer, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Helen J. Foster, of Iowa, did themselves and the cause much credit by the manner in which they discoursed the subject.

Resolved, That the friends of Constitutional Amendment, in reviewing the labors and results of the past year, feel that they have great occasion for gratitude and encouragement despite the temporary repulse which their measure has received in the Legislature.

Resolved, That we hold up to public reprobation the vote by which the House of Representatives not only so wantonly disregarded the respectful request of such a large number of their voting and non-voting constituents for submission of a prohibition amendment to the decision of the sovereign people, but also by so doing struck a dangerous blow at the sacred right of petition which our fathers secured for us at the price of their blood.

Resolved, That we give this willing expression of our appreciation of the efforts of Hon. John N. Emery and his faithful co-laborers in the Legislature, to secure the submission of the amendment unincumbered by the compensation clause, which was added in committee and afterwards supported in the House by the enemies of the measure in order to defeat it; and we heartily approve of their course in fighting against the bill after the refusal to take off the objectionable provision.

Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are also due and are hereby tendered to Hon. W. M. Nelson and his co-laborers in the Senate for their earnest efforts by influence, voice and vote in favor of submitting a prohibitory amendment to a vote of the people of the State.

Resolved, That the earnest thanks are due to the various organizations throughout the State that have assisted in this movement, and especially to the W. C. T. U., which has always proved itself to be the strong arm of our association in all its work.

Resolved, That we counsel the cultivation of fraternity and co-operation among all workers for our common cause in our State.

Enterprise. Beaver Street. Less than two years ago our enterprising citizen, J. L. Spangler, Esq., purchased a tract of land in East Curtin street and immediately opened that splendid highway for building lots. These lots, we understand were sold off rapidly and others acquired in their places, until the entire street was placed into the hands of responsible and deserving owners. This season the purchasers have concluded to erect handsome residences. Among these we notice a splendid foundation of A. G. Curtin, Jr., which promises to be the seat of a most elegant and complete residence.

Register McClain has built a beautiful home and is just now moving his family into it. We wish him many pleasant years in his new home. Will Rankin is also rejoicing in the gradual growth of his future home on the same street. Recorder Bible has settled in a cozy place a short distance from Messrs. McClain and Rankin, and his home will be under headway during the next thirty days.

Bookkeeper Buck has measured off his foundation and expects to be the possessor of a comfortable residence by fall. Strange as it may seem it is rumored that the jolly little bachelor Aaron Williams has secured a lot and proposes to get married, build a handsome home and live like other people do.

Many others have purchased lots whose names we did not learn, but it seems pretty well assured that Curtin street will be entirely built up in two years. All these lots are now in the hands of persons who will improve them. So great has been the demand for building sites on Curtin, that Register McClain and others have concluded to purchase and open another street beyond Curtin, and have named it "Beaver street." This is a laudable enterprise.

General Beaver well deserves a compliment of this sort. Among all our citizens he was the only one who had the courage and enterprise to invest $10,000 of his capital in connection with other gentlemen in the "Bellefonte Nail Works," whose success and prosperity are beyond all question.

They are not only making money for the investors in the plant, but all of their employees are well and liberally paid in solid cash—not in cheap store goods. Give Bellefonte a few more concerns such as the Nail Works and its prosperity will be assured.

"Beaver street" is entirely proposed. Let the next street be called "Alexander street," for when everybody else had only contempt for The Glass Works, Mr. Alexander revived that old concern and is making money both for the men and stockholders. Enterprise and public prosperity will come with enterprising and public-spirited men.

From the State Capitol. HARRISBURG, MAY 30, 1883. EDITORS DEMOCRAT: In one week from to-day the Legislature, which will have been in session for one hundred and fifty days will leave us. How far they have met the expectation of the people who sent them here for the transaction of the public business, will be matter for consideration at the homes of each, while our city will again take up its accustomed round of social and business life, free from the excitement of legislative strife in which all more or less participated.

Probably more from being misinformed than from any personal experience, strangers erroneously look upon Harrisburg as a malarial district. Members of the Legislature and others, who are here for a protracted stay seem to lose sight of the fact that the entire change in manner of life and the absence of real active employment combined with high living and varied dissipation for a continuous number of months, has a demoralizing effect on the constitution, which sooner or later succumbs to the pressure and every indisposition is attributed to this miasmatic atmosphere.

The noble sacrifices of their good emulates a good example which others equally patriotic are willing to make for the simple sum of ten dollars a day. Thank God we know nothing of this morbid disease, this malarial bugbear, what is it? will some one be good enough to inform us, and if we are within the prescribed limits, would not this climatic change be confined to the summer season (not the winter) when these fanatical roosters are safe in the bosom of their families?

The broad Susquehanna skirts our little city and lends life and beauty to it, its water is as clear and free from impurities as a mountain stream. The air we breathe is not freighted with fatality and there are individuals here who have seen the sun rise and sit as many times as within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant of any other locality. If "the stranger who is within our gates" would be content to live consistently and moderately here there would be less written and said prejudicial to this latitude.

—On Tuesday (last week) afternoon about three o'clock Robert Patterson, a miner employed near Snow Shoe, was run over by a shifting engine between that place and the mines and was instantly killed. At the time of the occurrence he was sitting on the track apparently much intoxicated and did not notice the approaching engine, or if he did he was too much stupefied to realize his danger.

The engine struck him in such a way that while it did not mangle or disfigure him very much yet produced instant death. He was a Scotchman and unmarried. Mr. Jacob Rapp was the engineer and Mr. John Stewart the conductor of the engine. News.

—The Lock Haven Democrat playfully refers to one of our esteemed citizens, in the following complimentary style: Since the days of the Baron Munchausen the world has had no really inspired and ornamental liars. There have been some few second-rate aspirants, such as "Gath" or "Eli Perkins," but never any one who asserted his title to eminence by such prodigious achievements as lent immortality to the name of Munchausen.

It appears, however, that this generation is destined to produce a liar who will make Munchausen hide his head for shame, and reduce "Eli Perkins" to the proportions of a pigmy by comparison. We refer to the scribe of the Bellefonte Republican, who is endeavoring to deceive his readers as to extensive preparations in progress for our Fourth of July celebration. He doubtless came into the world labelled "Gath" and if he goes out in anything less than a brass coffin will miss his deserts.

—The Phila. Press, of recent date, in noticing the entries of noted horses for the June New Orleans races, gives them as follows: MRS. LANGTRY, NORFOLK, MARY ANDERSON, LION, CANTONARY, GIBBERT.

A DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—There are dangerous counterfeits in circulation purporting to be "Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer." The strongest evidence of its great value is the fact that parties knowing its great efficacy try to imitate it. Each bottle of the genuine has a fac simile of a walnut leaf—blown in the glass; and a Green Leaf on the outside wrapper.

PERUNA.—This medicine was introduced to the medical profession and to the public at large by S. B. HARTMAN, M. D., in 1877, after he had prescribed it to over 10,000 patients in almost every disease to which flesh is heir.

It is wholly composed of numerous vegetable ingredients, each one of which is acknowledged by the medical profession to be the most potent of all the herbal remedies known to medical science.

But its great virtue is mainly attributable to the new and peculiar proportions in which the harmonious ingredients are combined, and to the extreme care exercised in its manufacture, using only the pure, active principles, and excluding all that is crude or irritating.
