Good Enough!-"The closing exami nations of the Unionville and Centre Hall Grammar Schools were interesting and satisfactory. I was also present at the closing exercises of the second and third grades of the Philipsburg schools, which were creditable to both teachers and pupils. The teachers and pupils of the Millheim Grammar School began the collection of minerals, for which the Board provided a suitable and convenient cabinet. They also supplied the school with a Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, a set of charts and outline maps, and frames for the preservation of specimens of drawing and penmanship."-Co. Supt. Wolf, in Penna. School Journal, for June.

THE CLEAN NEWSPAPER .- The following pertinent remarks, by a favorite exchange, on a growing evil, are so good that we can not resist the temptation to copy them entire :

There is a growing feeling, in healthy communities, against journals which make it their special object to minister to a perverted taste by seeking out and serving up in a seductive form disgusting and licentious revelations. There is good reasons to believe that the clean is good reasons to believe that the clean newspaper is more highly prized to-day than it was four or five years ago. It is also safe to predict that, as people in all ranks of life who protect their own, at least, from contamination, become more conscious of the pernicious influence of a certain class of journals, called enter-prising because they are ambitious to serve up dirty scandals, they will be careful to see that the journals they permit to be read in the family circle are the class that never forget the pro-prieties of life. Already men and wo-men of refinement and healthy morals have had their attention called to the pernicious influence of bad literature, and have made commendable efforts to counteract the same by causing sound literature to be published and sold at popular prices. These efforts are worknal that devotes itself to sickening revelations of immorality will be compelled to find its supporters solely among those classes who practice vice and crime, or are ambitious to learn to

These persons are not in any sense essential to the proper management of the paper hotel, family affairs, bar-room, grocery, train or circus, but are necessary evils that must be endured.

Those belonging to journalism, as a corn does to a toe, an ugly knarled knot to a tree, our opera house to our town or the friend who never fails, when given a chance, to say wisely and gravely "I told you so!" are of many kinds: the occasional contributor, who writes only when he wishes to throw a slur at some inoffensive and harmless neighbor; the "taxpayer,'bdisgusted with his fela more competent man, who desires to "give it to them" but is too cowardly to suffix his own name to the article; the exchange thief; the man who drops in press nights to see the machine work and does not go out until he manages to put a copy in his pocket, and last, but

This grand consolidation of the two Monster Snows, comes to us well recommended by the press, wherever it has pitched its 168,000 square yards of canvass. Of it the Frankfort News says:

One of the chief attractions in riding in the Grand Circus Royal, etc., is the extraordinary performances of Miss Mollie Brown. This lady differs, in her general display of horsemanship, from all others who have preceded her in the American arena. She owes her unpre-cedented success mostly to the wondercedented success mostly to the wonderful balance and muscular power she possesses, which enables her to assume almost impossible attitudes and changes of position, upon her naked horse, during her lightning-like flight around the arena. All her movements are marvels of grace and dexterity, animated pictures of elegant intrepidity, thrilling dashes of super-eminent art, self-control and indomitable nerve, such as no other equestrian, either male or female, ever accomplished before her. Her specially wonderful achievement of throwing somersaults from the back of her naked horse, while in full motion, together horse, while in full motion, together with her rapid and reckless style of backward riding, in all the principal cities of the new and old worlds, have caused presidents, senators, and the public, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, to minel, their shouts of archive and public, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, to mingle their shouts of applause and wild huzzas of delighted approval. Whatever claims others of the profession may make concerning their skill in bareback equestrianism, certain it is that no lady has ever accomplished the feats or equaled the daring of this—"America's own peerless representative"—Miss Mollie Brown.

-A very interesting number of Demrest's Magazine is the June issue of this opening article, which is illustrated, is literature to be published and sold at popular prices. These efforts are working a silent but sure revolution. The best authors are more generally read to-day than at any previous date. The sickly sentimental story paper, and the wild ranger and pirate story books, are slowly but surely yielding the field to worthier claimants. To the praise of the decont newspapers, it may be said that where it has a place in the family, and has been read for years by young as well as old, it has developed such a healthy tone and such a discriminating taste, that the life nature of the slums has no admirers. Fortunately, the number of such families is increasing in the land, and as they increase the journal that devotes itself to sickening.

> A DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT .- There A DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—There are dangerous counterfeits in circulation purporting to be "Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer." The strongest evidence of its great value is the fact that parties knowing its great efficacy try to invitate it. Each bottle of the genuine has a fac simile of a walnut leaf—blown in the glass; and a Green Leaf on the outside wrapper. The "Restorer" is as harmless as water, while it possesses all the properties necessary to restore life, vigor, growth and color to the hair. Purchase only from responsible parties. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. Johnston, Holloway & Co., Philadelphia, and Hall & Ruckel, New York, Wholesale Agents. 4—ly.

Superior Excellence.

The reasons for Peruna's superior ex cellence in all diseases, and its modu operandi, are fully explained in Dr. Hartman's lecture reported in his book on the "Ills of Life, and How to Cure Them," from page 1 to page 10, though the whole book should be read and studied to get the full value of this par llent remedy. These books can be had at all the drug stores gratis.

Peruna is the best immediate Expectorant (Cough Medicine,) that has yet been compounded by physicians or druggist. There is nothing in medical print that can at all compare with it. And no less so is it the very best Tonic, Stimulant, Nervine, Diuretic, Alterative, Anti-Dyspeptic, Appetizer, Hæmatic, (Blood Medicine,) &c., &c., that has ever been compounded by doctor or layman. It should, therefore, always be kept on hand for immediate use. 23-2t.
