BELLEFONTE, PA. AGRICULTURAL. NEWS, FACTS AND SUGGESTIONS.

Every farmer in his annual experience discovers something of value.

Gleanings. Raspberries and Blackberries, where new plantations are to be made.

A well-kept flock of poultry is proportionately the most profitable of all farm stock.

Strawberries potted, and layer plants may still be set out during this month.

A fall feed of hay for horses, following the feeding of concentrated food is wasteful.

For the purpose of making stiff soil friable, sifted coal-ashes are said by some persons to be better than manure.

They send potted into the filled barrels of apples and potatoes after storing in the cellar.

Texas farmers sold last year $59,000,000 worth of cotton.

Mr. Samuel Miller tells the Germantown Telegraph that if fresh fodder corn is stacked with straw.

To pinch off the later blooms of the tomato plant will hasten the maturity of the fruit already set.

A HOME-MADE FLOWER STAND.—A very pretty flower stand can be made out of a table, a bucket, and half a dozen old tin cans.

THREE canning firms in Botetourt, Va., will put up over 1,000,000 cans of fruit and vegetables.

A Paying Poultry Farm.

A poultry farm of 8,000 Plymouth Rocks is owned and carried on by A. C. Hawkins at Lancaster, near Boston, Mass.

His farm contains twenty-five acres, and his poultry buildings occupy an acre and a half.

Mr. Hawkins believes that if confined poultry have all their wants attended to, they will do as well in egg-producing as if allowed free range.

Grass Seed for Lawns.

Perhaps there is no one thing about which so much nonsense in connection with making a lawn as in the selection of the seed.

Our seedsmen usually endeavor to keep such goods as are called for by their customers, and among them may be found mixtures under the name of English lawn grass.
