Any Fool Ought to Know That

Bill Brelford is a well-to-do farmer of De Witt county. He was a witness one day in court. The bantering lawyer, in cross examining, asked Brelford if he saw the defendant wounded in the fracas.

What They Demand.

STATE GRANGERS ON THE SUBJECT OF LEGISLATION

The state grange, Patrons of Husbandry, is still in session in the hall of the house of representatives, and as the reports of the committees are made the meetings grow more interesting to the members.

It is the highest duty of the American citizen to uphold and defend the constitution of this country. It is the had rock upon which our political superstructure rests.

It is true the people are forebearing and long-suffering. Submission to unwise legislation is often silently endured. Difference of opinion is not esteemed a sufficient cause for resisting enforcement.

First—That the common school law be so amended as to embrace in the rank of studies such additional practical branches as agricultural chemistry, the natural sciences and other technical instructions pertaining to agriculture.

Second—We recommend that the state college, which was originally intended as a technical school of agriculture, be restored to the designs of its originators.

Third—We demand that corporations, claiming immunities as common carriers either by rail or water, shall be forbidden by law to discriminate between individuals or companies in carrying freight; that their rates shall be uniform for like service respectively.

Fourth—We recommend, in order to prevent jealousy and rivalry between different agricultural organizations in so far as relates to the election of members of the state board of agriculture that they be elected annually by the different agricultural societies including granges and farmers' clubs.

Fifth—We demand, at the earliest practicable moment, that just and fair apportionments be made, dividing our state into district of compact and contiguous territory so that the people of the state may have equal and fair representation in the councils of the nation and state legislature.

educational and moral organization, we unhesitatingly set our seal of condemnation upon intemperance, not only as an unmitigated evil morally, but as a fruitful source of expense in the administration of justice.

Seventh—We demand the equalization of taxes. Upon this subject we wish to be distinctly understood—equal taxes upon equal values upon the basis of the bill presented by the special committee to the legislature last winter.

Eight—That we, in state grange met, do resolve that congress should, and we ask them to foster, protect and encourage the production of sugar in our country, and ask them further to pass the needed appropriations to develop that industry.

To secure such legislation as hereby suggest will require effort on our part. It cannot be secured by supineness. Action must be had. It resolves itself back to the people in their primaries.

Another Wrinkle for Girls The Echoise Express' "Man About Town" thus gives the modus operandi of the postage stamp flirtation: The dear girls are all anxious to know about the postage stamp flirtation which is the latest thing out.

Waiting. "Till from my wiled brow shall fall This billowing cloud, this wearying thrall, Which holds me now from knowing all, Until my spirit slight shall see Into all things' mystery, See what it really is to be.

Oscar Wilde on America. A FEW EXTRACTS FROM THE LECTURE HE IS DELIVERING TO HIS COUNTRYMEN. Oscar Wilde, in the course of a lecture delivered last night in the Gaiety Theatre, said that if he were asked what most struck him on first landing he would say it was this, that if the Americans were not the most well-dressed people in the world—and he was afraid they were not—still they were the most comfortably dressed.

Oscar Wilde on America.

A FEW EXTRACTS FROM THE LECTURE HE IS DELIVERING TO HIS COUNTRYMEN. Oscar Wilde, in the course of a lecture delivered last night in the Gaiety Theatre, said that if he were asked what most struck him on first landing he would say it was this, that if the Americans were not the most well-dressed people in the world—and he was afraid they were not—still they were the most comfortably dressed.

Of course, when one went to America he was brought to see Niagara. Every young American when married went and spent part of his honeymoon at Niagara and he thought the great waterfall must prove the first disappointment in American married life.

California, the loveliest part of America, was beautiful as the Riviera in Spring. There, and there only, did he see a really artistic city—not San Francisco, with its steep streets and glaring white houses, but the city built by the Chinese, who come over either to build railways or dig in the mines.

American children seemed to be pale and precocious, and that might be owing to the fact that the only national game of America was the game of euchre, which could hardly, if industriously practised, tend to create and develop a fine or manly physique.

TRIED HIS MASTER.—A boy near Poughkeepsie took some paint and fixed up a dog to resemble an escapee me nagerie leopard. And of course the dog felt bad and hunted up his master and went to snuffing at his heels, and the master went up a tree so quick that it absolutely astounded the dog, which sat down to wait for the old man to descend.

Are you distressed at night and broken at your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. CANCER CURED.

No diseases have so thoroughly baffled the skill of the medical profession as cancerous affections, and as they have always been considered incurable, it has been thought desirable to adopt their treatment at a specialty; and hence physicians have neglected their proper study. But of late years new and important discoveries have brought forth a course that now proves successful in any of its forms, with certainty, without the use of the knife or caustic plasters. We have a treatment that is comparatively mild. It is not poisonous, does not interfere with the healthy flesh, can be applied to any part of the body, even the tongue. We take nothing for our services until the cancer is cured. Address DR. J. HULBERT, Eagleville, Centre Co., Pa.

Precious Hope—Peruna.

One morning while he (her husband) was holding her up in order that she could breathe more easily, after having struggled with a bad spell of coughing, he made the remark that he did not believe she would ever get well, when she, in her weakness, said: "Yes, I will if you will bring Dr. HARTMAN." The doctor was brought. He prescribed a teaspoonful of Peruna every hour. She began to improve from the first dose she took. She told me to-day she has never felt better in her life than she does now, and that she cannot say too much for Peruna. A. J. MILLER.

Her husband writes: "South Chicago, Ill., Dec. 19, 1881: I have a living witness of the virtue of Peruna in my wife, who was saved from death by it. I certify that every word on page 30 in Dr. HARTMAN'S book on the "ills of Life" is true in every particular. 48 24 T. S. EERLINE.
