-Various causes are attributed to the cause of the inadequate supply of water. Wm. Galbreth thinks "it is the steam heating pipes." Samuel Ryan says "the pipes are too small" and Lucien Buffington says "neither one is correct, but that the people are simply too big for the pipes. When great worthies like these differ what is the world coming to, anyway?

-The Pennsvalley Insurance Co. held its 26th annual election for Directors and the following persons were elected for the ensuing year: Henry Keller, Frederick Samuel Gramley, H. E. Duck, J H. Musser, Daniel Brumgard, John G Bailey, R. G. Brett, George K. Baker, Samuel G. Slack, Samuel I. Herring, I. B. Fisher. Fred Kurtz, President; Samuel I. Herring, Vice President; D. F. Luse, Secretary and Wm. Wolf, Treasurer.

-Sheriff Dunkel is very fond of a cold bath, even in mid-winter, and while chasing the O'Neil brothers near Beech Creek he took a "near cut" across the ice to head one of them off. He saw (?) an air hole but could not resist the temptation to take a bath, and plunged in head over ears. Only for this weakness the Sheriff would have had his prisoners in Bellefonte one day earlier. But he'd have lost the bath.

A sleighing party of some fifteen couples, drawn by Lew Gettig's spanking team of grays, left Bellefonte on Friday evening for the residence of Mr. Robt. McKnight at Fillmore. Bobby and his sister threw open the house to the visitors at once, and made every one feel right at home from the beginning. The merry peals of laugh ter and the good humor that prevailed during the whole of the evening (and morning) was the best evidence that "happiness reigned supreme." Only one circumstance took place to mar (?) the pleasure of the company during the entire evening-that of the mis (s) fortune to Mr. Joseph Un. dercaugher. We warned Joe in time, but our warning was not heeded, and the climax came eventually. For several minutes Joe lay prostrate upon the couch. Pale and anxious faces watched over him for signs of life. Some surmised that perhaps a Car (r) had passed over him, but it Joe had merely inwas all a miss-take. dulged in too much sweet cake and taffy.

AN HONORABLE RECORD. -It does not require a man to attain to the honors of State, to acquire wealth or distinction in the world of letters, to merit exclusive consideration of his fellow men, however desirable and proper these are, but those who fill a more humble sphere in life, by acting well their part, are entitled to equal consideration and respect. This record has been made by Mr. Allison Haupt on the Bald Eagle railroad, who for twenty years for strict performance of duty, or any act to compromise him as a gentleman.

Mr. Richard Beaston, of Fowler, was in own a few days since. Did you come to see about that "S-ong- with a silken (h)ord," Diek?

Mr. Jno. Harper, of Centre Hail, and ather of our good-natured Prothonotary, Cal Harper, Esq., favored us with a pleasant call on last Saturday.

Mr. Henry Hoffman, who has been confined to his home on Lamb street for some time past on account of sickness, is again able to be about.

Messrs. Geo. Downing and Henry Yeager have purchased a restaurant and eating house at Altoona. Success to you, gentle-

Edward L. Gray, of the Daily News, we are sorry to say, is again confined to his home on Linn street, on account of illness. We wish him a speedy recovery.

F. P. Bible, Esq., moved to his new residence last week and is now a nabob of Curtin street. Frank says the "corner stone" is the greatest thing about the whole house.

-Mrs. W. E. Burchfield and little boys, who have been visiting among friends in Bellefonte for the past two weeks, returned to her home in Philips. burg Wednesday evening.

Mr. S. M. Buck and family expect to eave for Chicago in a few days, where Mr. Buck, we understand, has accepted an excellent situation. We regret exceedingly to lose Mr. Buck from our midst, as he i very energetic and enterprising citizen.

Mr. J. Q. Scharp, the gentlemanly bookkeeper at the Brockerhoff House, has returned from his visit to Clearfield and is again at his post of duty. Dame Rumor whispered it quietly abroad that he was not scharp enough, and went in search of at least a better half more. As Mr. Scharp returned without said better half, we surmise there must have been some mistake.

Olie Meek foreman of the Watchman office, we understand, has been appointed to a clerkship at Washington. Olie has been a faithful, industrious young man in the position he has filled so long, and now goes into a larger field with bright prosects: Success attend you, young man. Now get marfled and settle down.

Mr. W. H. Yearick and Mr. Emerick f Walker township, favored our sanctum last week with a frienly chat, which we hope they will repeat often. Mr. Yearick has ommenced the mercantile business in Hublersburg, with bright prospects of success. Being worthy of success, as an honest, upright man, he cannot fail to obtain to herself. She sings well. Miss Laura it from the intelligent and appreciating community in which he locates.

JACKSONVILLE JOTTINGS .- Prof. Beck. with about 25 of his Jacksonville singing class, went to Madisonburg to take part in the convention and concert. The sleighing in this section is very fine and all who can are making good use of the same. The snow makes the roads in Marion passible at least part of the year The Albrights have been holding a "big meeting" in their church at this place, and about 25 converts to the tenets of that association have been reported. Hope permanent good may result therefrom.

Andy McClintick had been teaching number of young persons of this place the rudiments of music during the fall and early part of the winter, but for the last six weeks we have heard nothing of it. Is Andy snowed up, or what is wrong?

Than Yearick expects a new store chair, of the latest and most approved style, as soon as our next sheriff is sworn into office. He says Joe wore his old chain out and must get him a new one.

James Martin did not attend the late concert for the reason, as he says, that he has an endless variety of music at home. The musicians came only recently, are twins, and sing either solos or duetts. The one sings bass and the other soprano.

The Jacksonville schools are in a fine condition. For good government they stand second to none in this section of the ounty.

Christ Glossner, aged 31 years, was suried from the Reformed church on the 12th inst. H. Y. P.

The Convention held in the Presbyterian church at Jacksonville, under the leadership, of Prof. W. F. Beck, closed with a concert on Saturday evening the 12th inst. The church was tastefully decorated with evergreens, and on the evening of the concert was crowded to its utmost capacity. Among the large audience we noticed persons from different parts of Nitvalley, Bellefonte, Lock Haven, Howard and Madisonburg.

At 7:30 the concert opened with a profound anthem entitled "O come let us sing unto the Lord." which was followed by olos, anthems, duetts, trios, quartettes, glees, and a few comic pieces, all of which vere excellently rendered; every one per forming his or her part well.

The class numbered about 80 singers and was one of the best drilled classes of promiscuous singers I ever had the pleasure of listening to, and the most difficult music was handled with apparent case. Among the most aifficult choruses was the "Gloria," from Mozart's 12th Mass which was rendered in a manner that would have done honor to older and more experienced singers. Much of the music was of a higher order than sung on sim ilar occasions. Miss Fiedler, of Madisonburg, sang a solo entitled "Sweet Violets," with credit Johnson, a member of the class, and not yet 11 years old, sang a solo entitled 'Homeless To-night," in a manner that would give credit to a much older person Mr. Charles Beck, a bass soloist of Free port, Ill., and a brother of the Professor rendered the solo "Committed to the Mr. Beck has not only a powerful voice but has perfect control over the same, and is among the best base soloists I ever heard. The beautiful but difficult duett entitled "Hope Beyond," was rendered by the Beck brothers-Charles and the Professor -- in grand style. Miss Maggie Shoemaker, a member of the class, deserves special mention for the manner in which she, with the Beck brothers, sang the profo and trio entitled "O restless Sea. Mis Shoemaker possesses not only a fine soprano voice, but other gifts which enatled her to sing with telling effect. Mess Byron Vandersloot, C. H. Wilson, W. J. Abey and D. E. Shoemaker, sang an Italian song entitled "Litta Mellamashee. Though they were called the "Italian Brothers" none of them understood a word of that which they sang, while of course the audience understood it all. Mr Vandersloot is from Yankeetown, but took an active part in the convention and concert, and being the possesser of a fine ciated. A comic song eneitled "Eggs for Breakfast in the Morning," was rendered by a double quartette of male voices, the growing, especially that by our friends "Than" and "Curt," was perfect, and brought down the house. Prof. Curns, from Lock Haven, with and examine specimens of work. part of his class from Madisonburg, was present and took part. We were glad to see them, so we know the Professer of old to be both a good musician and a gentle-

The convention, taking all together, was a grand success, both musically and financially. Everything passed off pleasantly, and the community is and around Jacksonville can well feel proud of a class of singers who can handle such music as was rendered on this occasion.

Prof. Beck is a fine musician, a good musical director and possesses excellent social qualities; and although this is his second convention and concert at this place, we hope the community will show its good judgment by employing him as long as he continues to render the satisfaction be did this and last winter.
