A Great Texas Storm.

DALLAS, TEXAS, May 22.—Heavy wash-outs have seriously interfered with railway traffic in eastern Texas.

The News specials from Tyler, Martin Navosets, Crockett, Traverly and other points in northeastern Texas report another very heavy rain fall. This makes the fourth unusually heavy rainfall in that section since the first of May. Immense tracts of the country are flooded. Such tremendous rains have not been known in Texas for many years. Great damage to crops has already resulted. In some sections the crops that had been planted twice must now be planted again.

At Weatherford the rain fall during the past twenty-four hours was over eight inches; at Dallas, Palestine, Tyler and other points four inches; at Mexia, added to the torrents of rain, a tornado of considerable forces passed over the northwestern portion of the city last night. A peculiar glare of light followed in the track, at times being quite brilliant. It is not believed that much damage resulted.

Information is also received of a tornado two hundred yards wide, which passed between Fairfield and Stewartsville yesterday. Forests were uprooted in its pathway. Farmers were out ascertaining the extent of the damage by following the track.

A tornado passed through Hempstead county yesterday, sweeping everything before it. A child, six weeks old, was blown sixty yards unhurt. A house containing five negroes was blown down but all escaped except one child which was killed.

his tongue had somehow become very thick, and when he tried to speak, out would come an oath.

That may seem strange; but I have found out that all who build such monuments as John's, prefer oaths to any other word!

Now come with me and I will show you John's monument. It stands in a beautiful part of the city where five streets meet. Most men put such things in the cemetery. But John had his own way and put it on one of the finest lots to be found.

"Does it look like Bunker Hill monument?" asks little Amy Ariot by my side.

Not at all. John didn't want to be remembered that way. He might have taken that $50,000 and built an asylum for poor little children that have no home, and people would have called the asylum his monument.

But here we are at the front door. It is high and large, with great halls and towers, and velvet carpets, elegant mirrors and a piano, and I know not what all; so rich and grand.

This is John Jones' monument! and the man who sold John nearly all the whisky he drank, lives here with his family, and they all dress in the richest and finest clothes.

Do you understand it?

A Description of the Two Boys Recently Killed in This City.

Owing to the fact that the chief of police of this city is daily receiving a number of letters and telegrams relative to the personal appearance, etc., of the two young men who were accidentally killed in this city on Saturday morning last we publish the following descriptions of them, which our exchanges will please copy, in the hope that it may lead to their being found by their relatives:

The weight of the unfortunates as given by the undertaker was 130 and 140 pounds respectively. The one was 5 feet 8 inches in height and the other 5 feet 3 inches; age, about 16 or 20 years. Both were rather good looking, with brown hair and eyes and smooth faces with no marks upon them. They wore cheap sack coats, one of mixed grey material, the other blue striped (on the collar of one were the words, "our own mark"); dark pants, vests of a black diagonal material; both wore caps, and one brown, the other grey mixed. One of the boys had no quarter, two hole lace shoes, with a patch on the side of one, and the other had on a well-worn pair of brogans. On the person of one was found a small clasp pocketbook for carrying silver.

A more definite account of the two boys who were met by the miners at Lilly's station on Friday night last was given up yesterday. On being asked their places of residence they said they lived in Philadelphia, and on the solicitations of a man who wanted them to go to Dayton, Ohio, they went, but being unable to find employment, had been endeavoring as best they could to get back to their homes.—Altoona Tribune.

To The Rescue of Jersey.

The Reading Railroad Company's holdings of Jersey Central Railroad stock amounting to 50,000 shares have been placed absolutely beyond the reach of the bears. This was the object of the visit of Harrison McK. Twombly, the son-in-law of William H. Vanderbilt, to this city, on Friday. The share had been used as collaterals and were margined down to $50, and then down to $40. The attack of the bears was so persistent, however, that after the price got below $50 it seemed probable that there might be a still further drop, and Mr. Twombly came to Philadelphia with $1,250,000, with which he took up 31,000 shares of stock held by one of the prominent banking houses in the city. The balance of the 50,000 shares is being carried by several of the wealthier gentlemen connected with and interested in Reading affairs, who are amply able to protect it against the most severe raids that may be made. Two or three capitalists and one or two banking houses who were bearing the brunt of the attacks on Jersey were very thankful to have Mr. Twombly come to its rescue.

Governor Pattison and the colored Men.

Let us hear no more about Democrats not being willing to give the colored brother a chance. In the committee of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference on the State of the Church the main report, recommending that "race, color or previous condition is no bar" to admission into connectional churches or colleges, was adopted by a vote of twenty six to twenty five. The one vote required to adopt the report was given by Chairman of the committee—the Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania. By the way, they say the Governor is so popular in the Conference that he would have been made a Bishop save for his office.—Lancaster Intelligencer, May 22.

—JOHN JONES' MONUMENT.—John Jones began at the age of fifteen to build a monument and finished it at fifty. He worked night and day, often all night long, and Sabbath. He seemed to be in a great hurry to get it done. He spent all the money he earned upon it—some say $50,000. Then he borrowed all he could; and when no one would loan him any more he would take his wife's dresses and the bed clothes, and many other valuable things in his home and sell them to get more money to finish that monument.

They say he came home one day and was about to take the blankets that lay over his sleeping baby to keep it warm and his wife tried to stop him; but he drew back his fist and knocked her down and then went away with the blankets and never brought them back, and the poor baby sickened and died from the exposure. At last there was not anything left in the house. The poor heart-broken wife soon followed the baby to the grave. Yet John Jones kept working all the more at the monument. I saw him when he was about fifty years old. The monument was nearly done; but he had worked so hard at it that I hardly knew him, he was so worn; his clothes were all to tatters, and his hands and face, indeed, his whole body was covered with scars which he got in laying up some of the stones. And the wretched man had been so little, all this while he was building in good society, that he had about forgotten how to use the English language.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Vigorous preparations are making toward grading a railroad from Cresson down Clearfield creek to Coalport. This enterprise, when completed, will practically open the largest bituminous coal field in Pennsylvania. Judge Dean is the prime mover in this enterprise, the line of road passing through the road of Dean & Caldwell, and near the newly developed coal in Daugherty section, now owned by Messrs McEnally & McCurdy and others. In that territory, the Moshannon vein is six feet in thickness and of good quality, with other workable veins above and below it.—Altoona Call.

A young girl named Mary Whiteford who had been living as a domestic at the residence of Mrs. Andrews in Johnstown, was on Saturday last arrested in that place for shop lifting. She had taken a bonnet worth $8.50 from the millinery store of Mrs. Sarah Canan and also some dress goods from several other stores. She was brought to jail here on Monday last, not being able to furnish bail in the sum of $900, which was the amount demanded.—Cambria Freeman.

Koitsi Sakaki, an intelligent, well-educated Japanese, started for Tokio, by way of San Francisco, yesterday, carrying with him a trunk full of text books and notes gathered principally in this city. The young man came to America eighteen months ago, commissioned by the principal railroad company of Japan to study railroad management in this country. He decided to acquaint himself with the details of the Pennsylvania Company's management and, although only imperfectly acquainted with the English language his progress is described as marvelous and his politeness won him friends wherever he went. He spent several months in the Pennsylvania Company's general office studying up the minutest details of the business, mastering the system of accounts perfectly, visited the company's shops at Altoona and studied the mechanical features of rail roading. In a short time, under Koitsi Sakaki's direction, the clumsy English

All other American Watches at reduced prices.

DIGHTON, Jan. 27, 1882.

The Rockford watch purchased Feb. 1879, has performed better than any Watch I ever had. Have carried it every day and at no time has it been irregular, or in the least unreliable. I cheerfully recommend the Rockford Watch.

HORACE B. HORTON,
at Dighton Furnace Co.

TAUNTON, Sept. 18, 1881.

The Rockford Watch runs very accurately; better than any watch I ever owned, and I have had one that cost $150. Can recommend the Rockford Watch to everybody who wishes a fine timekeeper.

S. P. HUBBARD, M. D.

This is to certify that the Rockford Watch bought Feb. 22, 1879, has run very well the past year. Having set it only twice during that time, its only variation being three minutes. It has run very much better than I ever anticipated. It was not adjusted and only cost $20.

CANCER CURED.

No disease has so thoroughly baffled the skill of the medical profession as cancerous affections and as they have always been considered incurable, it has been thought disreputable to adopt their treatment as a specialty; and hence physicians have neglected their proper study. But of late years new and important discoveries have brought forth a course that now proves successful in any of its forms, with certainty without the use of the knife or caustic plasters. We have a treatment that is comparatively mild. It is not poisonous, does not interfere with the healthy flesh, can be applied to any part of the body, even the tongue. We take nothing for our services until the cancer is cured.
