CANCER CURED.

No disease has so thoroughly baffled the skill of the medical profession as cancerous affections and as they have always been considered incurable, it has been thought disreputable to adopt their treatment as a specialty; and hence physicians have neglected their proper study. But of late years new and important discoveries have brought forth a course that now proves successful in any of its forms, with certainty, without the use of the knife or caustic plasters. We have a treatment that is comparatively mild. It is not poisonous, does not interfere with the healthy flesh, can be applied to any part of the body, even the tongue. We take nothing for our services until the cancer is cured.

How he Went Wrong.

CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—Isaac A. Stanley, paying teller of the National Bank of Commerce, was jailed this evening for embezzling $100,000 from the bank. The shortage was discovered yesterday afternoon when Cashier Garretts counted the reserve fund kept in a special apartment of the vault, the combination of which was known only to Garretts and Stanley. When asked to explain the shrinkage Stanley confessed that a year ago he was troubled about a debt of $8000 on his house, and thought he could take that sum from the reserve fund without harm to anyone, invest it in grain, realize a profit, pay off the mortgage on his place and return the money, but the investment was unfortunate, and to cover his loss he took more, and so on until he had taken a clean $100,000. The directors of the bank met last evening, and after consultation, held Stanley a prisoner at the hotel in the custody of a detective. To-day more conferences were held resulting in his arrest. Stanley has assigned his property and some speculative deals. The bank announces in a card that it will realize a part of the loss from this, and will not be affected by the defalcation.

Floods Over the State.

CURWENSVILLE AGAIN VISITED BY HIGH WATER.

CURWENSVILLE, Pa., June 11.—This town has been visited by another disastrous flood, the second within three months. A storm of terrific force broke upon us at an early hour last evening, and rain fell incessantly during the night. At 1 a. m., Anderson creek which divides the town and empties into the West Branch of the Susquehanna, was over its banks and sending torrents of water over the flats and into John B. Alley & Co.'s large steam tannery, covering the vats to a depth of six inches, and carrying with it logs and lumber which had gone adrift above the town. Further down the stream the water entered Alexander H. Irwin's shingle mill, covering the boilers and engine and damaging the building. Approaches to the bridge crossing the creek were torn away and swept into the river. A small stream running through the town from the north and crossing State street at the Park House, tore away the sheds and warehouse attached to Z. McNaul's tannery, carrying away agricultural implements and other goods stored therein. At 8 o'clock this morning the dam eight miles above here was torn away, setting adrift thousands of logs which, rushing down upon the village of Bridgeport, one mile from here, carried away a number of houses and barns but fortunately causing no loss of life. No estimate of the loss can be made at this hour. Z. McNaul, John B. Alley & Co., N. E. Arnold and Alexander H. Irwin will be the principal losers, and their losses will no doubt aggregate a thousand dollars. The borough loses two bridges. A number of small bridges west and north of here are gone, causing a suspension of travel for some time. There was no damage to the railroad.

Not Democratic Heroes.

From the Chambersburg Valley Spirit.

It was a waste of words for Senator John Stewart to declare in the court house on Monday night, as he is reported to have done, that if one of the Apostles had been nominated at Chicago the democrats would have been quick to denounce him. The senator didn't say which "one" of the Apostles, but we presume he meant Judas Iscariot. It is very true that individual would have met with no encouragement from democratic voters however much it might have delighted the republicans to hallow for him. The democrats have no admiration for the dead Judas and no friendship for his surviving relatives who go about trying to barter their influence for notoriety pelf or position.

Importance of the Negro Voter to the Republican Party.

The St. Louis Republican says: An erroneous statement of the negro vote in 10 of the Northern States, purporting to come from the New York Globe, a paper owned and published by a colored man is finding wide circulation. The aggregate vote is set down at 955,843. As shown by the census of 1880 the ten Northern States named had male negroes over the age of 21 as follows:

Connecticut.....	3,522
Illinois.....	13,686
Indiana.....	10,729
Kansas.....	10,765
Massachusetts.....	5,956
Nichigan.....	5,150
New Jersey.....	10,670
Ohio.....	21,706
Pennsylvania.....	23,892
New York.....	29,059
Total.....	127,135

In at least seven of these States the negroes hold the fate of the Republican party in their hands. In only Kansas Massachusetts and Michigan is the Republican majority such as to enable that party to let the negro go. Without the colored vote they have scarcely a fighting chance in several of these States and yet not one of the ten has sent a negro delegate to the Chicago Convention. In not one of the ten is there a negro in a desirable elective office. The greed for place will not permit the blacks to have even a nubb in out of the public crib. There is, however, one thing the colored voters may count on: They will be remembered in the platforms. General Limber himself could not promise more, with less intention of performing anything.

Treasure Trove.

WRECKERS RECOVER OLD CANNON FROM A SUNKEN REVOLUTIONARY FRIGATE.

Three large cannon from the wreck of the British frigate Augusta, which was sunk during the Revolutionary War off Red Bank, N. J., were recovered yesterday by W. S. Mason & Co., who are removing the wreck. The guns were taken to I. P. Morris' iron works to be broken up for old iron. The pieces which are of the finest iron, average in weight about three tons, and have laid in the water more than one hundred years. They are in an excellent state of preservation. Old coins and silver spoons bearing the initials of officers of the Augusta are frequently dragged ashore in the fisherman's nets.

The Augusta was one of six war vessels sent up the Delaware by Lord Howe to cannonade Fort Mercer, at Red Bank, while the Hessian, under the unfortunate Count Donop, assaulted it from the land. Captain Reynolds commanded the Augusta, which carried 64 guns. About October 22, 1777, the vessels arrived in front of the fort, having successfully passed a chevaux-de-frise. The obstructions in the river had altered the channel, however, and the Augusta grounded near the mouth of Mantua Creek, and the Merlin near her, and before morning the Roebuck was also aground. Morning disclosed to the Americans the perilous position of the frigates. Four fire-ships were sent against the Augusta, but she plied her batteries so lustily as to cripple them, and she was left unharmed. Either from hot shot or her own guns the Augusta took fire, and her magazine exploded before all the crew could be removed, involving a considerable loss of men. The other ships were driven back, and the Merlin was abandoned and burnt by her own crew.—Philadelphia Record.

Additional Local.

ACCIDENT.—A runaway occurred near Bezer's distillery on the Roopburg road on Sunday evening which may result fatally to a little boy who was thrown from the vehicle. Mr. George Campbell, of Milesburg, was driving in a buggy along that road. He had with him his little son. By some means one of the wheels came off the buggy and the single tree, in falling, struck the horse's head, causing the animal to become unmanageable. When Mr. Campbell saw that he could not control the horse he leaped from the vehicle and endeavored to take his little son with him. But the boy was much terrified and clung tightly to the seat of the vehicle. The horse, thus suddenly freed from all resistance, sprang forward with the little fellow still in the buggy. The buggy came in contact with the still house and was upset, the boy being thrown out. His head struck the ground, rendering him unconscious. When the child was picked up he was thought to be dead, but we are glad to hear that he is still living. We hope to hear of his recovery.
