—Fringes and passamentries—Garman's. —Lauth's furnace at Howard was put in blast on Saturday. —The largest stock of men's boots, low, set prices, at Mingle's. —Cutting off corn, making cider and threshing is now in order. —Don't forget the reliable furniture store of Spangler & Co.'s. —Miss M. L. Macbride has had steam heat put into her house this week. —Go to Spangler & Co.'s for your furniture, and bedroom sets, at prices to suit the times. —Mr. Henry C. Ho'ter has just completed building a large bank barn in Liberty township for P. B. Cifer. —A little 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Brickley died on Saturday morning last after a lingering illness. —Mr. Jacob Leathers, of Roland, has raised over 5000 Democratic cucumbers during this season. Reat that if you can. —Mr. David Brickley, of Romola, has erected a new house near the site of the old one which was destroyed by fire some time since. —The weekly return of coal sent over the B. & S. S. Branch of the Penn. R. R. was received too late for this issue, but will appear regularly hereafter. —The American Rapid Telegraph Company have just completed their line to this place. Mr. Wm. Spear is superintendent and Mr. Geo. Kennedy operator. —Notice the change in S. A. Loeb's advertisement in our next issue. They have just received a large select stock of men's and boy's suits, for this fall and winter trade. —Special court on Monday was devoted principally to granting and considering the application for naturalization, road and orphans' court applications, and other special business was transacted. —A difficult task was attempted in our office last week, that of making a deaf man hear a conversation through the phone. The young man was obliged to go to the other end of the line to communicate. —G. A. R. Post, No. 262, of Howard, will hold a picnic and festival Saturday afternoon and evening, the 27th inst. Refreshments and the usual abundance of good eatables will be served. All are invited to attend. —Rev. Crouse, of Williamsport, preached in the Evangelical church Sunday evening at Centre Hall, and will hereafter fill the appointment of Rev. Curran until his health is sufficiently restored to admit of the labor of a clergyman. —Mr. Jacob Metzler, of the Loop, who was thought to be fatally injured by the falling of a tree upon him in the Huston timber tract, about one and one-half miles east of Centre Hall, is slowly improving, though not entirely out of danger. —The numerous lights seen along the river banks of nights, that move like the will o' the wisp, are torches used by fishermen who are taking advantage of the low water to gig eels, suckers—and probably bass if they should accidentally be at hand. —As there has been quite a number of orders received from the members of the G. A. R. for extra copies containing the proceedings of the Encampment, we would say that we have yet a few copies on hand. Send five cents in postage and secure one. —Mr. Mark Kurns, who esters to the wants of Frank Lehman's many customers, received last Friday a handsome gold breast pin, a present from his employer as a token of the esteem in which he is held by Mr. L., the occasion being Mark's birthday. —Miss Ammerman, who recently returned to her home in Tyrone, is again among her friends in this place, and is considering the possibility of making Bellefonte her future home. She is a native of this county and like most of Centre county people, finds but few places that have more charms than old Centre. —Miss Puella Dornblazer, of Mackeyville, and Miss Flora Neff, President, and other members of the Ladies Lutheran Missionary Society of Centre Hall, organized a society at the Union church near Farmers' Mills Sunday evening last. Miss Dornblazer is a live member in that organization and is doing a great and good work. —The death of Mrs. Chas. Craran, an aged citizen of Bellefonte, occurred on last Saturday morning at about 3 o'clock. She was a sister of Edward Brown, Sr., of this place, and had been ill for some time. Her remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery on Monday morning at 8 o'clock, the funeral being largely attended by friends and relatives. —Spangler and Co. shipped some elegant furniture to Snow Shoe and other points in the county last week. They are offering furniture at prices so low that it really tempts one to buy when you go in to look at their fine and select stock. Young married people who contemplate going to housekeeping will do well to visit this store and buy their furniture and other necessary articles in this line.

—A friendly adieu between ice cream and oyster stew. —Elegant lounges, chairs and parlor sets at Spangler's. —We were out among our Howard and Marsh Creek friends collecting, and while we did not get so very much money we were given everything good to eat, plenty of it, and served in excellent style. —We had the pleasure on Thursday last of meeting Mr. F. M. Kessinger, commander of W. R. Foster Post, 247, G. A. R., of Millifinburg, Pa. Mr. K. is in the live stock insurance business and is meeting with flattering success in this section, which latter is due to his fair representation and square dealing with his fellow men. —Poulsen & Co.'s handle factory of Howard was destroyed by fire on Monday night. They were enterprising young men, having started their factory a few years ago, and were doing a good business. The probable loss is between two and three thousand dollars. A large quantity of handles of all kinds together with the machinery was burned. —Mr. John DeHass, a well known and respected citizen of Romola, or perhaps better known as Marsh Creek, died on Sunday night, the 14th inst., about eight o'clock. The remains were interred in the Marsh Creek Disciple burying ground on Tuesday following. The deceased was 67 years, 5 months and 13 days old, and leaves a wife and family to mourn his death. —Prof. Lewis Robb, Principal of the select school at Howard, has just closed a very successful term. The Professor is an able scholar, being a graduate of Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa. He was Principal of the Centre Hall schools and afterwards of the Millifinburg graded school. He expects to enter the Reformed Theological Seminary at Lancaster next Friday and prepare for the ministry. We wish him success and a bright future. —The large stone grist mill near Tusseyville, known as Ruble's mill, together with his house and coach shop, was entirely destroyed by fire on last Sunday night. It is supposed to have been the devilish work of an incendiary. Almost every article of furniture and household goods, flour and grain, etc., were consumed. The mill was insured for $4000, and was probably worth between five and six thousand dollars. $1500 of insurance was on the house. —Mr. Benjamin Schrock, an aged and highly respectable citizen, died at his residence in this place on Tuesday evening last, after a confinement of several years by paralysis. Mr. Schrock before disease laid its heavy hand upon him, was for many years an active and esteemed mechanic in this town, and fairly entitled himself to rank among its best citizens. He was 71 years of age, and leaves a widow and a number of sons and daughters, all of whom have attained their majority, to mourn his loss. —Mrs. Martha Gordon Muffley wife of Joseph R. Muffley Esq., of Philadelphia and the only daughter of Mary S. and the late James Gordon deceased, died at the residence of her mother in this place on Monday evening last of consumption. Mrs. Muffley has been in delicate health for a number of years, and two weeks ago was brought to this place when her death as above mentioned occurred. She was a refined and accomplished lady in every respect, and highly esteemed by all who knew her. She leaves a husband and two children together with many dear friends to mourn her death. The deceased was 39 years of age, and her remains were interred in the Bellefonte cemetery. —The skating rink is losing none of its interest, but is growing more popular each week. The managers, Messrs. McDougall, are gentlemanly, courteous and obliging, and have won for themselves the esteem and respect of all who have met them. There is always a band in attendance on Saturday night. The most appropriate music to skate to is a waltz, and the band that comes with a choice selection of this kind of music will always meet with favor on the part of the patrons of the rink. The Zion band was present on Saturday night, and while this is undoubtedly the best band in the county, we cannot say that their music was any more suitable than that furnished by some others, in as much as the skaters, (not the spectators) want something that they can skate the time to. A march was ordered and participated in by the ladies and gentlemen and was well received by the audience. Many who never took part in skating a march before were on the floor, and taking this fact into consideration the whole figure was very gracefully and successfully gone through with. The Daily News, however, from continually complimenting certain ones among the many who attend the rink would have the public believe that there are only about a half dozen who can skate, and their grace and ease is watched so closely as to need special mention each day. With justice to others whose names have not been mentioned or brought to public notice, and whose grace and skill is equally appreciated and commented upon by the audience assembled, we would say that there are at least fifty, and safely say thirty, whose movements are as easy and graceful as those already mentioned. The fact that they have not made themselves conspicuous by skating all kinds of strides, glides, and in the way of others, they are left unnoticed.

Personal. —Mrs. Brew and son returned from a visit to Wilkesbarre on last Saturday. —Mr. Jacob Deltz, one of Howard's Democrats, who began taking the DEMOCRAT six years ago, renewed his subscription. —Mr. Barney Clark, the gentlemanly assistant at Jack Newton's, left for his home at Clearfield on Saturday last, returning on Wednesday evening. —Miss Sallie Crisman and Miss Mollie Jones, of Phillipsburg, on their way home from Watkins Glen, N. Y., spent a few days with Miss Emma Lingle, of this place last week. —Mrs. Elizabeth Funk, of Howard, renewed her subscription to the CENTRE DEMOCRAT. She has been a reader of the DEMOCRAT for a number of years, and desires to continue the same. —Our friend, Mr. Chas. B. Bush, of Buffalo Run, returned to Philadelphia to attend the Jefferson Medical College. This is his last year, and next spring he will attend to the sick and afflicted. —J. L. Barnhart, brother of our friend James Barnhart of this place, and family are visiting at the home of his father near Roland. Mr. B. is employed as express-man and baggage master on the P. & E. R. R. —We are pleased to see our friend Mr. Elmer Green, who has been lying ill with typhoid fever for the past three weeks, again able to be about. Mr. Green, as soon as sufficiently strong, will be employed in the carpenter department at the State College. —Mr. Miles Walker, who was bridegroom on the occasion of T. J. Dunkle's marriage, should profit by the sheriff's late example and take unto himself a wife before the close of the term of his office, and not live in the stone mansion wifeless. —Miss Lizzie Welmer, a vivacious and entertaining young lady of Marysville, Pa., who has been visiting at the residence of Jno. Brackbill for the past two weeks, departed for her home on Saturday last. Miss Welmer made many friends while here who greatly regret her departure. —Mrs. Jacob Swavely, wife of our foreman, and Miss Alice Musser, returned from a two weeks' visit to Renovo, on Saturday last, highly pleased with their trip but equally as glad to get back to Bellefonte. We notice a bright smile on Jake's face now, accountable of course. —Miss Morris, daughter of Joel Morris, of Brush Valley, passed through town on Monday en route for Snow Shoe where she expects to remain with her sister. Miss M. transacted some business for her father in this place and did not forget the CENTRE DEMOCRAT by renewing his subscription. —R. M. McGee, Esq., and family after a very pleasant business and pleasure trip of over one month returned on the 5 P. M. train on Saturday evening last. They visited Bradford and a number of towns in the oil country, and then went to Buffalo and the Niagara Falls, Watkins Glen, Chautauque and other points of interest in New York State. Upon their return to Bradford they attended the funeral of the late Moran Hibler, whose death we recorded in our last issue. —Mr. Robert Hunter, our talented artist of Buffalo Run, has on exhibition, at F. P. Blair's jewelry store, a painting, "Still Life," consisting of fruit and wine. This is his first effort at painting a still life picture, and if we are capable of judging art merit, we pronounce it a fine painting. It is for sale and would be an elegant ornament for a dining room. Any one wishing to purchase a fine painting would do well to call and see Mr. Hunter's "Still Life." —There seems to be no end to Mr. McMillen's enterprising spirit. In addition to being proprietor and manager of the new Brokerhoff House he will superintend the "Oyster Ocean." On Saturday, the 27th inst., Mr. McMillen will serve oysters in all styles in his large and elegant dining room between the hours of 7 and 11 o'clock in the evenings excepting Sundays. Any hour during the day until 11 o'clock oysters may be had on the ground floor of the hotel. Remember this ocean, like any other ocean, always contains fresh oysters. Mr. Burtin his chief clerk we understand is interested in the enterprise and will personally attend to serving this favorite dish. —The Granger picnic, held on the top of Nittany mountain last Thursday, was attended by a large number of people, although a great many remained away on account of the cold weather. Every thing passed off in a very orderly manner, and the enjoyment seemed to be universal. The Lemont and Farmers Mills Bands were present and relieved the occasion with some choice music. Agricultural implements of various kinds were exhibited and their worth fully explained by agents. During the afternoon Mr. W. W. Downey, State Lecturer of West Virginia, delivered an able address, which was attentively listened to by a very large number of people. On account of illness Mr. Leonard Rhoads did not address the audience. During the evening the Pleasant Gap band held a dance which was largely attended and enjoyed by all, besides being a financial success for the boys.

AT LAST.—This time the Sheriff's sale was made. It was a real bone-fide sale. For several months past it was hardly possible for our worthy Sheriff, Thomas J. Dunkle, to make a trip over the county, especially to Penn's Valley, without rumour having him married. If his mission was to take out a fish basket or tack up sale bills it was all the same, they had him married. As he went all the way to Williamsport to have the nuptial knot tied, with a few corrections, we will quote what the daily Sun and Banner of that city has to say of the event: "SHERIFF DUNKLE GONE ASTRAY. Yesterday afternoon (Sept. 22d), at about 2 o'clock, Mr. T. J. Dunkle, Sheriff of Centre county, and Miss Lizzie M. Fortney, of Tusseyville, Centre county, were united in marriage in the Hepburn House parlors, this city, Rev. W. E. Fisher officiating. Mr. M. W. Walker, the Democratic nominee for Sheriff of Centre county, was the bridegroom, and Miss Kate Powers, of Bellefonte, did duty as the bridesmaid. The affair was an enjoyable one all around. The newly married couple left on an extended eastern trip. Mr. Walker, the next Sheriff of Centre county, and Miss Powers returned home to inform the people of Bellefonte into what trouble Centre county's protector of the peace had got while sojourning in Williamsport. Mr. and Mrs. Dunkle have the good wishes of many friends in their native county as well as Williamsport." Success and continued happiness to Mr. Dunkle and his young wife are the expressions of his Centre county friends. —We clip the following account of a horrible murder committed in Clearfield from the Daily News: "Great excitement was created in the borough of West Clearfield by the announcement that a murder had been committed at a late hour on Thursday night. The victim was Thomas Martin, a mine inspector, and the murder was committed by his wife while in a fit of insane jealousy. They retired about 11 o'clock that night. Mrs. Martin was restless, and some twenty-five minutes after retiring arose, saying she was sick. While up she put on a flannel shirt, in the pocket of which she had concealed a 22-calibre revolver. She then returned to bed and in a short time after accused her husband of not loving her. Suddenly she turned on her elbow and leveling the revolver, fired, the ball entering his left temple. The fatal shot was fired at 12:25 and Martin died at 4:25 this morning. A coroner's inquest was held and the following verdict rendered: That Thomas Martin came to his death from a pistol shot in the hands of his wife, Mary Martin, between the hours of 12 o'clock Thursday night and 5 o'clock on Friday morning. Mrs. Martin was arrested and lodged in jail where she now remains to await trial." —On Tuesday, September 16th, Mr. Lawrence Solt, who was employed at Scotia Mines, and while engaged in coupling cars, was unfortunate enough to get on a car of which the brake was broken, consequently the car, in going down grade could not be checked, and in its course ran off the track, carrying its victim with it, falling on top of the man and inflicting most painful injuries, breaking right arm in five places, left arm in two places, besides crushing lower limbs considerably and inflicting internal injuries from which it was almost impossible to hope for recovery. An amputation was made some time after the accident, but of no avail, and on Wednesday, the day after the accident occurred, between 9 and 10 o'clock, the grim monster, death, put forth his claim and claimed the victim for his own, thus putting an end to his worldly sufferings. His brother remarked that "he was the worst used up man he ever saw." Deceased leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss. He was a son of the late Peter Solt who died some six or seven years ago, and of the widow, Mrs. Solt, now living at the car shops. The remains were interred in Boalsburg on Thursday of last week. —Master Frank VanOrmer who for three years past has been a faithful, conscientious, and trustworthy hand and student in this office, has now entered school under the tutorage of Prof. D. O. Eters assistant principal of the Bellefonte graded school. Frank is a boy of energy and with a business tact unequalled by many of his age, and his aptness and close application to the typographical art has made him a most valuable hand. After spending a term or so at school he will be prepared to enter the calling for which he evinces so strong a desire and love, with renewed energy and qualifications. We predict for him a bright future, and are confident he will never want for a position in this line. Success to you Frank and remember we claim you as our boy yet. —The "Six D. G." club of Centre Hall gave their first evening's entertainment in the shape of a ball on the 18th at Old Fort. There were some thirty present, among whom from a distance were, Miss Birdie Sweetwood, of Chicago, Miss Floy Orwig, of Cleveland, Misses Maggie Alexander, Clara Reifsnyder, Jennie Deinger, of Millheim, Miss Campbell, of Pine Grove Mills, Dr. M. Radcliff, of Philadelphia, Mr. James Nagney, of Millifin county, together with the six original members of the club, and others from Penn's and Nittany valleys. —Howard borough will have one of the finest public school buildings in the county when completed. It is a large, two-story frame, with two good sized class rooms on each floor. —James Means' $3 shoes, at Mingle's.

Neighboring. —A LARGE MAJORITY OF THE DEMOCRATS IN FAVOR OF CURTIN.—The Democracy of Clearfield county last week unanimously endorsed Hon. Andrew G. Curtin for congress. Thus the position the Free Press has taken in this issue, in claiming that the unmistakable sentiment of the Democracy of this district was in favor of Gov. Curtin's re-election to congress, has been emphatically sustained. Last fall Clearfield and Centre counties gave 1,398 more of a Democratic vote than the other four counties in the district combined! And the Democratic majority in these two counties, as a rule, is even larger than the figures we have given. This practically settles the question as to who the Democrats of this district want for congress. Now, the question arises, can the other counties in the district, although in the minority, as far as voters are concerned, to the number of almost 1,400, but in the majority as far as conferees are concerned, afford to disregard the wishes of the people in the premises? We trust not. There is such an enthusiasm for Mr. Curtin in this district that it is useless to try to suppress it. It can't be done. If Mr. Curtin receives the nomination at the hands of the district conference the success of the Democratic local ticket in this county will be strengthened fifty per cent. Some may make light of this assertion, but we know what we are writing about. But outside of that feature of the issue a majority of 1,398 of the Democratic voters of the district say they want Curtin for congress, and will it be wise for the minority to attempt to ignore the majority? If such is the case trouble may follow. At all events, end as it may, the Free Press has been sustained in its course.—Lewisport Free Press. —New prints, gingham, seersuckers and fancy flannels—Garman's. —We learn from the Williamsport Sun and Banner that Miss Burnard, a light-haired damsel of Beech Creek, Clinton county, about 18 years of age and weighing 140 pounds, fell in love with two young men, both of whom her dear father bitterly opposed. The young lady granted Pa's request by discontinuing the attentions of the one, and for a while, both. Pa's heart now beat with renewed love for his daughter, and his life was again made bright and happy. On Thursday night the young lady retired unusually early, complaining of a sick headache. About 10 o'clock, "while the old fellow was snoring asleep," the young man, who is a railroad man, whistled up courage and hastened his speed and was soon at the home of his intended eloper and they "skipped." The father shortly after learning of the disappearance, procured a rig and drove to Lock Haven at which point he hoped to intercept the runaway, but being disappointed in this he boarded the train and proceeded to Williamsport, where he learned that she was encoined in a Pullman with the railroad man. The train moved off before he was permitted to enter, and he returned to his home without the satisfaction of knowing whether they left the car at that point or proceeded on their mission east. She will undoubtedly return a wiser girl or eke out a miserable existence the remaining portion of her life, as few elopements result in continued happiness. Parents are very often to blame and very seldom gain anything by opposing the choice of their daughters, for "love will go where it is sent," and it is sent in some mighty queer places some times. —Brocade velvets, brown, garnet, black and blue—Garman's. —The trial of engineer William Graw, of Huntingdon, on the charge of gross negligence in running his engine over Lotie Boyce at Stonerstown on July 22, took place in Bedford last week. Judge Baer instructed the jury to acquit the defendant, as there was no evidence to convict. A verdict of acquittal was accordingly rendered, the costs of the suit to be paid by Bedford county.—McVeytown Journal. —Try our 50-cent curtain poles—Garman's. —Michael Murray, convicted of the murder of John Handcuff, in Cambria county, was hanged on Tuesday, the Board of Pardon having refused him commutation for imprisonment for life at their session held last week. The plea laid before the Board was insanity, as was also that in the case of Sarver, of Indiana, Pa., who killed his father. He was also refused, and he too will go to the gallows. —Heavy and lace curtains, raw silk and Turkoman rugs and ottomans, fringes, gimps, etc.—Garman's. —On Saturday last as Mr. Ross and wife and Mrs. Winters and two young children, who reside in Alexandria, were passing through Smithfield, in a spring wagon, the horse frightened, ran off, and the occupants were thrown out. All escaped injury but Mrs. Ross, who was bruised about the head and it is thought received internal injuries.—Monitor. —Our cotton flannels are unusually fine this year. Extra value for your money—Garman's. —Isiah Graham, of Oliver township, lost 25 hogs inside of ten days, from that dreaded disease hog cholera.—McVeytown Journal. —Ladies will find ease and comfort in the Waukenpaht shoe. Sold by John Powers & Son. —Pumpkin pie.

—Our efficient policeman, Mr. Henry Montgomery, faithfully and quietly attends to the duties of his charge, and one by one the lawless and boozey night pedestrians are lighted to the lockup. Several street corners are infested by a crowd of loafers who from their insulting remarks and other ungentlemanly actions are becoming a public nuisance. Efforts are being made to "pull" this gang and we trust it will have the desired effect of breaking up this habit. —List of unclaimed letters remaining in the post-office at Bellefonte, Pa., September 22, 1884: Andrew Banette, Oscar Croizer, Dixon, James Dennison R E Ellison, F J Greene, D F Greenwald, Geo Gill, Goginodo Guon, George Hassing, C B Haupt, J W S Johnston, Wm R Jones, Miss Annie L Irvin, William Irvin, Miss Sylvia Jones, Thomas Kelley, D L Keen, S Klein, Miss Clara Knaw, Christ Lowery, Miss Annie Mausil, G McMiller, William Meyers—2, F A Monethrop, Simon Nolan, James Neff, A Potter, Irving O.
