Yesterday afternoon a frightful accident took place near town, whereby young Harry Gray, only son of W Y. Gray, of 9th St., was killed. Jnoand Charlie Wolf, William Brown and the decessed Harry Grav, all young boys about 16 years of age. was accidentally discharged, and the was called on the first section. A and the ball promises to be a brilliant wounded boy exclaimed, 'I am shot and not a subject for debate." The is fully prepared to transport the large the sled arrived at Mr. Gray's house, the sufferer was dead. The frantic grief of the family, produced by his awful calamity, was painful to witness and we hope we may never see the that debate. like again. Harry Gray was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Gray, and a bright, handsome boy, whose death from natural cause would have been an irreparable loss to his parents but under such circumstances as this. is a most agonizing disaster, the recollection of which will always hang like a heavy cloud over the family, and they have the spontaneous sympathy of the community. His involuntary slayer, Willie Brown, is a good natured, kind hearted young boy, who is almost heart broken over the sad

He and young Gray were fast friends and associates, and young Brown would doubtless have willingly changed places with his dead friend as he lay lifeless and cold in the room yesterday afternoon. Young Brown's parents are nearly distracted over the fatal accident, and they are to be deeply pitied. A coroners jury, consisting of H. C. Williams, H. Hewitt, W. Dorland, Silas Reece, Joseph Brown, and J. Morgad were empanelled by Justice Lewis Hess, who sat upon the evidence and rendered the followidg verdict:

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Feb. 19, 1885. We the undersigned Coroners Jury empanelled to consider the evidence in case of the death of Harry Gray, do find upon all the evidence brought before us that the said Harry Gray came to his bowels received on the afternoon of Feb'y 17, 1885, near Cold Stream Dam. That t wound was produced by the accidental discharge of a pocket rifle in the hands of William Brown, minor, aged 15, while hunting. And we firmly believe from a careful consideration of all the evidence that the act upon the part of said William Brown was purely involuntary and without malice, ill will or spirit In witness whereo, we do hereby set our hands and seals day and date first above

In conclusion we would only say that this is a terrible lesson to parents and children on the folly of allowing young boys to handle fire arms. Numbers of boys frequent the vicinity of Cold Stream dam almost daily with guns and pistols, and this is one of the results, and should be a solemn warning in the future .- Philipsburg Ledger, Feb. 18.

In Babyhood for February "The Babys Bath," with all that pertains to it by Marion Harland, makes one of the interesting and practical subjects yet touched upon by this magazine. An important article on "False Croup: its Prevention and Treatment,' is by Dr. John H. Ripley, professor of the diseases of children at the New York Polyclinic. George E. Waring, Jr. the well-known sanitary engineer" gives many practical suggestions regarding plumbing in its relation to pure air for nursery inmates. Harlan H. Ballard, labors in the young peoples Agassiz Association have identified him as a friend of all lovers of nature, contributes a charming paper on "Nature in the Nursery," urging the desirability of giving full sway to inquiries by the littlest ones about "their friends, the flowers, the pebbles, and the birds." Dr. Cyrus Edson, of the New York Board of Health, writes on "Poisonous Candy" in a manner calculated to make a vast difference in the purchase of certain kinds of colored confectonary if his advice were heeded. The department of "Nusery Problems" -queries by readers, with answers by the editors-is becoming exceedingly useful, comprising a great variety of topics of interest to all.

-In our issue of last week we inadvertantly gave the number of books in the Y. M. C. A. library as fifteen hundred. This was an error on our part as the actual number is seven hundred and ninty-three volumes, but had the article been written a month later we think we would have been in error on the other side for after the book reception which will be held on the 17th of next month we hope to be able to state that the library contains 2000 volumes. On Fridry last Mr. Ed. Stewart, proprietor of "Leary's old book store forwarded twenty two volumes consisting of a complete set of Thackery's works in death from a gunshot wound through the eleven volumes, a set of Irvings' works in ten volumes and a large Worcester's | dle of Cedar Creek, on the line of Moore's dictionary; these books are all new and land, thence north 2° west 165 per thence south 78°, west 110 perches to pine; thence beautiful. > His Honor Judge Furst is strengthening at this term the favorable impression which he made at the recent Argument Court. He presides over the Court not only courteously, but impartially and resolutely.

The above from the Huntingdon Monitor is evidence that our worthy Judge Furst is meeting with just favor in Hunting county. He is being highly complimented in many respects and especially upon the order and dignity maintained while court is in session. This is a very commendable feature in our court in this county.
