Taking Out A Man's Jaw.

A remarkable and interesting surgical operation was performed on Saturday last at the hospital of the Medico-Chirurgical College, by Dr. J. C. Garretson. The patient was a gentleman from Scranton, who had gone to Wills Eye Hospital for a supposed disease of the right eye, which caused it to protrude from its socket. Professor Keyser, turned the patient over to the Medico-Chirurgical College, where the complete diagnosis of the case determined the cause of the trouble to be a large tumor which filled the nasal cavity and grew through the cheek and jaw-bone and the base of the skull.

In order to save his life it was decided to remove the tumor. On Saturday the operation was performed. The patient was placed under the influence of ether, when all the skin and flesh on the right side of his face was cut loose from the bones beneath and laid back. Then a circular saw, driven by a surgical engine at a speed of 15,000 revolutions a minute, was brought into play to cut away the right side of the nose, the maxillary, or the jaw bones and the ethmoid, or base of the vault of the skull. As the cutting was done the arteries were taken up one by one, but a considerable amount of blood was unavoidably lost. When the bones were removed there was nothing left of the right side of the face below the eye and above the neck. The eye itself was held in place by one of the six assistants, while another one held back the base of the brain. The tumorous bones now being removed the space left vacant was filled with several sponges, the flesh and skin drawn back and sewed fast to the other side of the face by fifty stitches.

A skillful mechanical dentist will in a few weeks model the interior cavity and construct an artificial jaw. The patient is 68 years of age, and it is believed he will be over.

THE TUMOR PATIENT IMPROVING.
Mr. Brand, of Scranton, who, to remove a tumor, had the right side of the nose, and upper jaw-bone and the base of the vault of the skull cut out, on Saturday, is improving beyond what the physician expected. The cavity left by the removal of the bones is filled with sponges, with strings attached, that hang from his mouth. In a few weeks, when the surface is healed, these will be removed, and an impression will be taken with wax, and from this will be made of vulcanite a substitute for the bones that were taken out. This will have teeth attached, and the loss will not be apparent.—Record.

RICHMOND, Va., July 13.—The Coroner's Jury in the case of Mrs. G. L. Stone, Jr., found dead last Monday, rendered a verdict that she came to her death from cruel and brutal treatment at the hands of her husband and his father. The evidence shows that the deceased was tortured to death by most shameful and unusual treatment. Both father and son are under arrest and it is thought they will be lynched to-night.

Want More Wages.
About 200 coal miners of the Cambria Iron company, at Johnstown, refused to go to work Saturday morning on account of low wages. Last week a committee was appointed to request of the officials an increase of ten per cent. per ton, their present wages being thirty-five cents a ton. There being no satisfactory reply to their request, the miners notified the company Friday that they would not go to work Saturday morning unless some satisfactory arrangements were made. A meeting of the committee and General Manager Chapin and Mining Engineer Fulton took place. Mr. Chapin said the company could not increase wages at this time, but as soon as business brightens they would do so. The men will go to work to-day.—Allentown Times.

Early New Englanders.

It is a part of the history of the old church at Andover, Massachusetts, that the chief causes of discipline for 125 years were fornication and drunkenness. Theodore Parker, writing of the fathers of New England, says: "It is easier to praise them for virtues they did not possess than to judge them with fairness and discrimination." As illustrating the coarse intemperance of the times among Christian people, he states that it is recorded in the Probate Office that "in 1687, at the funeral of the widow of John Norton, one of the ministers of the First church, Boston, above fifty gallons of wine were consumed by the mourners. Just 200 years ago, at the funeral of the pastor of the church at Ipswich, Mass., there were consumed one barrel of wine and two barrels of cider." If this occurred at the funeral of an old and loved pastor, we can infer what excesses would be habitual on occasion less stated and solemn.

In a historical survey of the Congregational churches of one of the New England States, it is related that "not very far from the period of the Revolution, several councils were held in one of the towns where the people were trying to get rid of a minister who was often the worse for liquor, even in the pulpit, and once at least at the communion table, but some of the neighboring ministers stood by him, and the people had to endure him till death." This reminds me of the case of one who not above fifty years ago was deacon of a prominent church in Western Massachusetts who had habitually a drunken spree as an after-effect of tasting the wine at the sacrament, but those irregularities were not considered by the church sufficient ground for ecclesiastical impeachment. Rev. Dr. Leonard Woods said: "I remember when I could reckon up among my acquaintances for y ministers who were intemperate. A gentleman, in writing to a Boston paper of about that date, said: 'I have a list of 123 intemperate deacons in Massachusetts, forty-three of whom became sots.'

Blind Tom.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 10.—In the Federal Court yesterday the mother of Blind Tom, the colored musical phenomenon, sued out a writ of habeas corpus to get possession of her son, or a portion of his earnings, and making various allegations. Tom is under contract to General Bethune. The case came up to-day. Counsel for the mother and others claim that this court had jurisdiction of the case, and that the Fauquier county court had not and never could have acquired jurisdiction. The Judge decided that General Bethune became a resident of Virginia in 1870, and that Tom being then in Bethune's possession under a contract, he also became a resident, and that the Court of Fauquier had jurisdiction. The Judge in delivering his opinion said: "I have nothing to do with the question of his lunacy. My only inquiry is whether Tom is held as a slave. I do not see how the petitioner, in this case, his mother, after her contract of 1863, and her acquiescence for fifteen years in the action of the Fauquier court in committing Tom to Bethune, can now insist that he is held as a slave. Evidently he is not held as a slave. I therefore, have no right or jurisdiction to remove him from his present custody and feel bound in the interest of humanity to remand him to the custody in which he was born, and in which he has lived all his life, and in which he is anxious to remain." During the trial, in order to a low the court to form an opinion as to the mental condition of Tom, several questions were propounded to him by the court, to all of which he gave fairly intelligible answers, but he wanted to stay with Gen. Bethune and go back to Warrenton.

Garfield in Marble.

COLUMBUS, O., July 9.—The Garfield Statue Commission met at the Governor's office on Saturday afternoon, with Governor Hoadly in the chair, and on Chas. Cravens, of Toledo, Secretary. After a short session they accepted the report of the committee which had examined the statue at Washington, and then voted to accept the statue. It was decided to have engraved from the pedestal the letters: "James A.," and have only the name "Garfield" in large letters thereon. The sub-committee reported that there was nothing in their report that the marble was full of drives or spots as some Eastern papers have reported. A voucher on the State Treasurer for $9,600 was drawn in favor of the sculptor, Mr. Chas. Mehus, to be forwarded to his agent at Cincinnati. The manner of presenting the statue to Congress was left to Governor Hoadly, who will probably do so by letter. The statue is to be immediately unveiled without formality.

Nearing the End.

CLEVELAND, O., July 12.—It is probable that the Polish workmen of the Cleveland Rolling Mill Company, who comprised the greater number of the strikers, will resume work within a day or two. Their priest, after an interview with Mayor Gardner and President Chisholm, of the Rolling Mill Company, yesterday, stated that he was satisfied the men did not correctly understand the situation. In his sermon to-day he explained to the strikers the condition of affairs. He advised them to go home and think the matter over and go back to work. He told them that if they committed acts of violence they would lose the sympathy of the people and injure their cause. The priest has great influence over the men, and he expressed the belief after the sermon that the Poles would all resume work if the authorities would protect them against the other strikers. The priest denies that the Poles were imported for work for the rolling mill company, claiming that many of them are citizens and loyal to the United States. The rolling mill company will begin to-morrow morning the shipment of manufactured stock, and it is rumored that one department of the mills will be started.

A Passenger Train Saved by the Engineer's Heroism.

WABASH, IND., July 10.—The passengers on the Atlantic Express on the Wabash Road, due here last night, had a narrow escape one mile west of Wabash. A connecting rod on the engine snapped in two, destroying the cab and breaking a large hole in the boiler, from which the steam issued in such quantities that John Glenn, the engineer, could not reach his reverse lever, but was forced to hang out the gangway. At a terrific speed the engine passed through the city, and it seemed that when a short curve at the station was reached the engine would go into the ditch. Fortunately this was passed in safety, and half a mile east the engineer entered the cab and reversed the locomotive, bringing the train to a stand still.

Washington, July 10.—The President

this afternoon addressed the following letter to General Sheridan:
In view of the possible disturbances that may occur among the Indians on the Indian Territory, and the contemplated concentration of troops in that locality, I deem it desirable that you proceed at once to the location where the trouble is to be apprehended, and advise with and direct those in command as to the steps to be taken to prevent disorder and depredations by Indians, and as to disposition of the troops. Your acquaintance with the history and habits and customs of these Indians lead me also to recommend that you invite statements from these people in regard to any real or supposed injury or injustice done towards them or any other cause that may have led to discontent, and to inform yourself generally as to their condition. You are just in assuring them that any cause of complaint will be fully examined by the authorities here, and if wrongs exist they shall be remedied. I think I hardly need add that they must be fully assured of the determination on the part of the government to redress their peaceful conduct, and by the power it has at hand to prevent and punish acts of lawlessness and any outrages upon our settlers. Yours truly,
GROVER CLEVELAND.
Gen. Sheridan started to-night for the west to carry out the President's instructions.

Neuralgia of the Face.

Capt. John Orr, Pearlington, Miss., has been a most intense sufferer from facial neuralgia for over twenty years. He has had seventeen operations performed on the nerves—that is, had them divided, cut off close to the bone from which they emerge. But this never did him any good; the most excruciating pain continued without the least interruption. He often wished for death to relieve him of the intolerable pain. The best physicians failed to relieve him. They finally advised him to consult Drs. Hartman & Miller, at the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, which he did. They prescribed PERUNA, and in less than a month was entirely relieved of the pain. Before consulting these doctors the least touch to any part of his face or nose would cause the most fearful pain, while now he can blow his nose and wipe his face without the least fear of pain. The captain is grateful beyond measure for this unexpected and unhopd for result. Mrs. Elizabeth Kemmer, 98 Laurel street, New Orleans, has been one of the greatest sufferers from Neuralgia of the face during the past year that we have ever heard of. From morning to night, and from night to morning, there was one constant, racking, tearing, burning pain, extending clear around her head and deep down through every muscle, tooth and bone in her face. No rest and no sleep. All physicians failed to relieve her, as well as all remedies. She was constantly in the most agonizing despair. She called on Dr. Hartman, who said the cause was chronic catarrh. He prescribed PERUNA for her and now every pain has left her. She feels like another person and can eat heartily and sleep soundly.
Mrs. C. J. Miles, Gallipolis, O., writes: "Dr. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, O. My affliction has been rheumatism, located in the right arm and shoulder, of more than two years' standing, and after trying a great many remedies without any relief, I commenced the use of PERUNA, which, after using three bottles, found a decided change for the better. I continued to use it and now feel entirely well."
Huldah Ward, Wellston, O., writes: "I have been afflicted for years with that dreaded disease, catarrh. I tried a great many different kinds of medicine, but to no effect. I commenced taking your PERUNA about nine months ago, have taken about ten bottles. It is doing me much good. By its continued use I hope to be entirely cured."
Dr. A. B. Lovejoy, Dadeville, Ala., writes: "I have a fine run on your PERUNA and MANALIN. Please send me a lot of books, 'The Pills of Life.'"
