Viewing the Remains.

THE SCENES IN AND AROUND NEW YORK CITY HALL.

NEW YORK, August 6.—People loitered in City Hall Park all night, and they were first in the line that soon after six o'clock this morning began filing past the remains of General Grant, where they lay in the City Hall. There were no throngs awaiting admission. Those who waited at 6 o'clock were not more than 1,000 persons. Inspector Steen was in charge. He had ordered that 150 policemen should report to him at City Hall at an early hour this morning. At 6 o'clock—the hour fixed for admitting the public—the Inspector's officers were filing into the plaza. The complement was present soon, and two lines of policemen were placed across the plaza, from the City Hall entrance to the fountain. These two lines formed a passage way, through which four men might walk abreast, along which all day the visitors to the remains should pass. Meanwhile the officers of the Twenty-second regiment, who had been on duty through the early morning, were filing out of the City Hall. They were going home, and their places were being taken by the officers of the Twelfth regiment.

THE GATES THROWN OPEN.
The clocks pointed to 6:05 o'clock, and at the Inspector's orders the iron gates were thrown open. Ten or twelve hundred people had jammed up against officers who barred the channel at the fountain circle, but when the gates were swung open the officers ceased to hold the people in check, and the stream began to flow past the remains and through the building.

The first person to view the remains to-day was a spare but sweet-faced little woman, who led with each hand a little boy. She was anxious the children should see the General's face, and the children were permitted to halt an instant and gaze over the side of the casket and peer into it. It was yet early. The police refrained from pushing the very first visitor, and she a woman. The police had not yet begun that annoying practice of bumping persons forward upon the heels and neck of their immediate predecessors.

THE PERSONNEL OF THE CROWDS.
The hour from 6 to 7 o'clock was employed by workmen and women, boys and girls, in the vicinity of the remains. They were on their way to work, the day was young and their opportunity better than at any other hour of the day. All through the hour the formation of the line was at a point near the fountain, and the time of waiting was not more than ten minutes from the point where the line formed to the place where the remains rested.

After 7 o'clock the line changed as to its personnel. There were less women and girls. They had gone through and were at work when the line began to lengthen. At 8 o'clock there was another change taking place in the complexion of the visitors. The laborers had gone and the clerks coming down town were stepping from elevated and surface cars into the line that was moving then at the rate of 110 and 120 per minute.

The hands of the clock dials marked 9 o'clock. The fountain circle was no longer the point of formation of the line. Every ear and train coming down town added its quota to those anxious to look upon the face of General Grant. By the remains the U. S. Grant Post had mounted another detail of thirteen men, and of the men of Wheeler Post, Saratoga—which first mounted a guard about the Mt. McGregor cottage after the General's death—was standing at the foot of the casket, while members of the military order of the Loyal Legion were likewise represented. Rapidly the people were augmenting. The crowd was fast becoming a throng and the line was being hurried through the hall at the rate of 140 per minute, and for a little while the pace was 170 per minute, which rate, if maintained for an hour, would have passed 10,200 persons but this could not be done. To accomplish it the visitors must be hurried through and past the remains almost upon a trot. This rate of speed comported ill with the dignity of the occasion, and more time was given. But the accretions were too rapid to be cared for, and the line of waiting people stretched out finally at 10 o'clock, around the band at the register's office and down Centre street.

At 11 o'clock between 30,000 and 31,000 persons had passed the casket and looked toward the remains, though many coming rapidly in from bright sunlight were scarcely able to distinguish them in the sombre shadows of the black draped corridor.

THE BURIAL SERVICES IN NEW YORK CITY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Before twenty minutes to ten o'clock Grant's body had been removed from its temporary resting place in the City hall, and was placed upon the catafalque, and ten minutes later the imposing funeral procession was in motion.

When the catafalque had reached the Fifth Avenue hotel the column slowed its march to allow the carriages containing the mourners, the president of the United States, ex-presidents, governors of states and various distinguished holders of national, state and civic offices to join the procession. Immediately after came the veteran associations, under command of General Sickles. This was a conspicuous feature of the procession, as about 17,000 men, most of whom had fought under General Grant, passed along for the last time under their old leader and showed their respect and honor for his memory by their journey to the tomb.

The regular troops numbered about 630, the marines about 400, and the sailors about 1,000. The First division, New York National Guard, numbered about 5,000 men, and the Second division, National Guard, about 4,000. The division of Veteran Guards numbered probably 1,500 men. The visiting military organizations, including the New Jersey division, may be estimated at 2,500. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic formed a considerable part of the procession. The New York posts alone furnish over 10,000 men, and from other states about half that number are here. The veteran organizations not included in the Grand Army of the Republic contain probably 3,000 men, the civic organizations probably number 20,000 men. The entire number of men in line is from 55,000 to 60,000.

The funeral procession did not reach the grave until 4:50 o'clock. When the relatives were assembled around the grave the following ritual services were performed:

Post Commander Alexander Reed: Assembled to pay the last sad tribute of respect to our late commander and illustrious comrade, U. S. Grant; let us unite in prayer. The chaplain will invoke Divine blessing.

Post Chaplain C. Irvin Wright then offered a prayer and Post Commander Alexander Reed delivered a brief eulogy.

Senior Vice Commander Lewis W. Moore (laying a wreath of evergreen upon the coffin): In behalf of the post I give this tribute, a symbol of undying love for comrades of the war.

Vice Commander John A. Weidensheim (laying a bunch of flowers upon the coffin): Symbol of purity, we offer at this sepulchre a rose. May future generations emulate the unselfish devotion of even the lowliest of our heroes.

Post Commander A. J. Sellers (laying a laurel wreath upon the coffin): Last token of affection among comrades in arms, we crown these remains with a symbol of victory.

Rev. J. W. Sayre, chaplain-in-chief of the department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, delivered an address, after which Rev. H. Clay Trumbull offered prayer. The bugle call "Rest" was then sounded. Dr. Newman and Bishop Harris then read the ritual service for burial of the Methodist Episcopal Church. During these ceremonies the family as named, stood at the foot of the casket. Mrs. Grant was not there.

When the religious services had ended the trumpeter of Company A, Fifth artillery, stepped close to the casket and sounded the tattoo. Little Julia then laid on the coffin a wreath, "To Grandpa." The guard of honor bore the remains within the tomb and at 5:03 o'clock placed them within the steel case. The sealing of both leaden lining and steel case was then performed. The family entered the tomb, remaining only a few moments.

It is an unworthy thought indulged in by a local Republican contemporary, says the Harrisburg Patriot, which attributes to General Hancock a political motive in appointing Fitzhugh Lee as an aid at General Grant's funeral. It seems hardly credible that even party ingenuity could be able to construe General Hancock's action in this matter as designed to put the funeral of the dead hero to political use. Says this conspicuous partisan sheet: "General Hancock is a democrat, and Fitzhugh Lee is a democratic candidate for Governor of Virginia. Do you see?" Is the journal in question unable to see an expression of something better, higher and nobler than this in Hancock's selection of a southern soldier as one of his aids at the funeral? Would it not more correctly interpret his motive by attributing the choice of General Fitzhugh Lee for that duty to the same sentiment that induced the selection of distinguished Confederate generals as pall-bearers? Would it not be a more kindly tribute to the dead soldier's memory to believe that the example he set of friendly feeling for the soldiers of the South prompted General Hancock to choose one of them, bearing the name of General Grant's most distinguished antagonists, to conspicuously participate in the obsequies.

Instead of being made the subject of mean political suspicion that choice is worthy of the highest commendation as he most happily designed to emphasize the conciliatory and patriotic sentiments entertained by General Grant towards the soldiers and the people of the South.

The Condition of the Wheat Crop.

St. Louis, Mo., August 6.—From a tabulated statement in the Globe-Democrat to-day, covering over 300 replies received by a firm of flour merchants from milling correspondents in Kansas, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, it appears that the present wheat crop compared with 1881, shows this: Missouri, 42 per cent; Illinois, 32 per cent; Indiana, 55 per cent; Kansas, 31 per cent.

Only Temperance Bitters Known.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL
DEWALKER'S CALIFORNIA
BUREAU

No other medicine known so effectively purifies the blood, cures Pimples, Acne, Eruptions, Itch, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurs, Discolorations, Humors and diseases of the skin, of whatever nature or origin, as this Bitters. It is a purely Vegetable Preparation, made from the native herbs and roots of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol.

It cures the disease of disease, and the patient recovers his health.

It is the great Blood Purifier and Liferestorer. It is a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the power of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to.

The Alternative, Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritive, Laxative, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Anti-Bilious, Solvent, Diuretic and Tonic properties of VINEGAR BITTERS exceed those of any other medicine in the world. No person can take the BITTERS according to directions and remain long unwell, provided his bowels are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Bilious, Remittent, Intermittent and Malarial Fevers, of almost all kinds, throughout the United States, particularly in the valleys of our great rivers and their vast tributaries during the Summer and Autumn, especially during seasons of unusual heat and dryness.

These Fevers are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, in their treatment a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these organs, is absolutely necessary.

There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as it will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time soothe the irritation, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

It is the only remedy against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fortified. It invigorates the stomach and stimulates the torpid Liver and Bowels, restores the blood of all impurities, imparting life and vigor to the frame, and carrying off without the least danger, either mental or physical, the morbid matter from the system. It is easy of administration, prompt in action, and certain in its results.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Pneumonia, Dizziness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Vertigoes, no anti-bilious, the Heart, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are at once relieved by VINEGAR BITTERS.

For Rheumatism and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, the Bitters have no equal. In these, as in all constitutional diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS has shown its great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Chronic Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to various ailments of the Bowels. To guard against this, take occasional doses of VINEGAR BITTERS.

Skin Diseases.—Scald-head, Salt Rheum, Urticaria, Swellings, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurs, Discolorations, Humors and diseases of the skin, of whatever nature or origin, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of the Bitters.

Pile, Tape and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectively destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no cathartics, will free the system from worms like VINEGAR BITTERS.

Scarlet Fever, Mumps, Whooping Cough, and all children's diseases may be made less severe by keeping the bowels open with mild doses of the Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, this Bitters has no equal.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood when its impurities burst through the skin in Eruptions of sores, cleanse it when obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when, and the health of the system will follow.

In conclusion! Give the Bitters a trial. It will speak for itself. One bottle is a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Around each bottle are full directions printed in different languages.

—JAMES VICK STRAWBERRIES.—This new and valuable berry originated with Samuel Miller of Bluffton, Montgomery county, Missouri. As a seedling it attracted attention by the unusual glossiness and vigor of its foliage, before it fruited, and this vigor and strength of growth has to a still greater degree appeared in its enormous bearing qualities.

The berries are nearly round, of uniformly large size, deep scarlet and of excellent flavor. In respect to its keeping qualities, it is among strawberries what the Hansell and Souhegan are among raspberries. Its fruits has been known to stand on the vines a week after becoming ripe, without softening or rotting. It is not only a stand-by for family use but for a market berry it stands pre-eminently at the head. The originator of this berry is well-known as a horticulturist, having originated the Martha Grape and other fruits of great value. He has never sent out a new variety which has not taken its place in the front rank and held it, and the fact that he has allowed the James Vick to come before the public as one of his seedlings is of itself evidence of its excellence.

The valuable qualities of this new strawberry may be summed up as follows: 1st. Fine quality of fruit, great vigor and hermaphrodite (or perfect) blossoms; 2d. Color, form and firmness of berry; 3rd. Ability to remain on the vines a long time without injury; 4th. Ability to stand drought; 5th. Uniformity of size of fruit, which averages large; 6th. The rapidity with which it forms new sets; 7th. The glossy and beautiful appearance of the foliage, retaining its verdure until very late in the fall, making it one of the finest border plants for flower beds that can be obtained; 8th. enormous productiveness; 9th. all these qualities united to make it the most valuable market berry, which has ever been produced.
