The Spring Mills Grange P. of H. is in a flourishing condition having initiated a large number of members during the past year. They own the best Grange hall in the country.

Some of our people have so many friends visiting them this summer that their houses seem more like a hotel or boarding house, than like a private dwelling.

George A. Runk is visiting in the far West. John Wilson of the firm of Wilson &

Van Valzah at Tyrone has been visiting his aged father at this place. E. C. Krumrine of the Lewisburg Implement store had a sale of wagons and farm implements last Saturday.

Very few articles, however, were sold, as the bids were very low.

Boring for water is all the craze in this neighborhood this summer. Two parties are operating with a steamer and boring opporations. They put down three wells at Penn Hall, several at Spring Mills, one at the Penn

Said they: "The birthday of our monarch is always commemorated, but this year it has a peculiar significance. Goog Si, or, as it is given in the native tongue, Kwangsu, has been nom nally a ruler since he was four years old, now ten years ago, but the Government has been managed by a regency. "The new reign will make great changes in the domestic and foreign policy of China. The Empress Regent and her Ministers have been conservative and have, to a large extent prevented the introduction of Western ideas and instutitions. The young Emperor, Gong Si, is reported to be liberal, intelligent and progressive."-Harrisburg Patriot.

A Remarkable Bullet
