

DEPOT DEMOLISHED.—Through the agency of some designing person, who has thus far eluded arrest, the Union passenger depot in this place was partially demolished this morning at two minutes past 12 o'clock, by a freight train crashing through the handsome structure. The west end of the depot was entirely demolished and the interior of the building so badly damaged that several weeks of repairing will be required before it will be again ready for occupancy.

Engine 758, manned by Engineer W. S. Miller and Fireman Samuel B'ower, of Harrisburgh, was switched from main line of the Pennsylvania railroad to the Huntingdon and Broad Top railroad for thirty-five additional cars. In the meantime, it is believed, some designing person misplaced the switch, and on its return the train passed on to a siding leading direct to the passenger depot. The engine and tender crashed through the other wall into the baggage-room; thence through a twenty two inch brick partition into the main waiting-room, and finally landed in the cellar a total wreck.

The baggage room, including a portion of its contents, was completely demolished, the floor being ground to splinters and the walls knocked in every direction. Railroad Policeman Oliver Gipple, the only occupant of the room at that time of the accident, escaped by jumping out of the main doorway. Ten Italians, who were sleeping in the waiting room, also made a narrow escape, though none of them were injured beyond a bad fright. Samuel Africa, the night operator, escaped by jumping from a window in the office. The Union News company's stand in the northwest corner of the waiting-room was badly shattered and much of the goods it contained destroyed.

The engineer and fireman of the wrecked engine heroically remained at their post, vainly endeavoring to check the speed of the train until the crash came, when they jumped, barely escaping with their lives. The object of the person who tampered with the switch was evidently that of robbery, as it was generally known that much valuable baggage and several mail pouches were stored in the baggage room. The total loss on the building and rolling stock of the company will reach $25,000.—Tribune.

ROLAND

Fruit of all kind seems to be plenty in this section—especially apples. "Apple butter bilings" are numerous. Mrs. H. Harshberger and her little son Ralph of Bellefonte spent a week at the home of her parents, Col. P. W. Barnhart of this place.

On Sunday last as Rev. Owen Hicks drove in the Bald Eagle Creek, to give his horse a drink, he was very much astonished to find that both horse and buggy had stuck in the mud. Imagine the consternation of the Parson whose hour for service was already due, and one mile and a half yet to drive. Finding himself unable to get both horse and buggy in the road, left them in charge of a gentleman and started to walk. The congregation in waiting were surprised to see their minister, emerge from a cornfield, alone, and when accused of treading on forbidden ground, replied that "the deciples plucked corn on the sabbath." Rev. Hicks soon forgot his tedious trip and delivered a good sermon to attentive listeners. D.

Secretary Whitney's Way.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Secretary Whitney has made very few appointments since he took charge of the naval portfolio. One of his subordinates says Whitney has a very simple method of communicating his impression of an applicant for office to the appointing officers of his department. When an applicant presents his letter of introduction the Secretary reads it very carefully and acknowledges the introduction. He then takes the application and looks over the names of the indorsees. After this, while in conversation with the applicant, he eyes him very closely, sizing him up as it were. The inspection over he dismisses the applicant by saying: "Well, I will attend to the matter as soon as possible." He then writes on the application which is subsequently turned over to one of the appointing officers, one of the following indorsements: "I like the appearance of this man; give him the first vacancy;" "this man won't do; pigeon-hole this application;" or, "hold these papers over for a while and I will see whether I can do anything for the man." This has been his method of filling all vacancies occurring outside the civil service limits.

FROZEN PEACHES.—Rub enough ripe peaches through a fine sieve to obtain a pint of pulp; put the pulp into a vessel with ten ounces of powdered sugar and a few drops each of the essence of almond and vanilla; dissolve an ounce and an half of clarified gelatine with a glass of water, mix it with the pulp and cool it partially, then mix the whole carefully with a pint of well-whipped cream. Now beat the whites of three eggs to a very stiff froth, adding two ounces of pulverized sugar. Drop the egg by large teaspoonfuls into boiling sweetened milk. Cook them a little and then drain them on a sieve. Now cut six ounces of blanched peaches into small squares; imbed a jelly-mould in ice and put a layer of the cream an inch thick on the bottom. Allow this to congeal, and then add a layer of the egg and the cut peaches. Cover this with cream, freeze it again, and so repeat the layers until the mould is filled, finishing with the cream. Then set on the ice till wanted.

TOMATO FRITTERS.—Tomato fritters are an agreeable entree. Use one quart of stewed tomatoes, one small teaspoonful of soda; stir in flour enough to make a batter, like that for griddle cakes. Have some lard very hot on the stove; drop the batter in, a spoonful at a time, and fry.

BEEFSTEAK WITH TOMATO SAUCE.—Take a dozen ripe tomatoes, skin and scald them (canned tomatoes may be used), put them in a saucepan with half a pint of good beef gravy; season with salt and pepper, and put them to stew for an hour. When the steak is nicely broiled send it to table with sauce in a tureen.

CELERY SOUP.—Boil a small cupful of rice in three pints of milk until it will pass through a sieve. Grate the white part of three heads of celery on a bread grater; add this to the milk after it has been strained; put to it a quart of strong veal stock; let it boil till the celery is very tender. Season with salt and cayenne pepper and serve.

AN EXCELLENT RECIPE FOR MUFFINS is here given: Four quarts of sifted flour, one teacupful of sugar, one teacupful of butter, one cupful of yeast, four eggs, a little salt and two quarts of sweet milk; let this rise all night, after mixing thoroughly. Of course the quantity here mentioned can be reduced, keeping the same proportions. Bake in muffin-rings in a quick oven.

NITTANY.

Misses Kate Shaffer and Blanch Holmes have just returned from their visit in the sunny south, highly delighted with the kindness and courtesy they received from the southern folks, especially the Misses Hughes of Woodstock. On their return they visited the great Luray Caves in Virginia, Treverton Junction, Hagerstown, Columbia, Harrisburg, and Williamsport.

Mrs. M. E. Holmes was called to the death bed of her mother last Monday. Sympathy of the community is extended to her in this, her sad affliction. The Union Sabbath School, of Saydertown, held a basket picnic, Saturday 12th, in Ex-sheriff Shaffer's woods. It was an old fashioned celebration and free to all. Rev. Brubaker delivered the address. It was a most enjoyable occasion, and given for the enjoyment and encouragement of the little ones for their faithful attendance at school and lessons during the summer.

Rev. Brubaker returned from his vacation and is again busy at work. The new parsonage will be ready for him about the 1st of October.

We forgot to mention that the Ex-sheriff took a hand at the bat and ball on Saturday at the celebration. Oh! my! Oh! my! Hold my sides. Down he goes.

Capt. T. H. Tobert also took part in the game. Hi oh, hi oh, see him run, and forgot to strike at all. "You're out, Capt., no I ain't neither, I'm inside the ring, Oh! oh! hoi see him tumble, what a circus! Applause." Hton.
