

A SUCCESSFUL INSTITUTION.—Christie's School of Business begins another year with an encouraging outlook for increasing prosperity. The success of this institution is merited and the thorough, practical work it is doing entitles it to a position in the front rank of the educational institutions of the country. Encouraged by the liberal patronage of the past year Prof. Christie has added to the faculty two new members, Prof. N. A. Miller and Charles Marvin, jr., both gentlemen of superior qualifications and well fitted for rendering valuable assistance in the department of instruction.

The School of Business has the entire confidence of this community and is being patronized by our best citizens who are glad to avail themselves of such an opportunity for educating their sons and daughters.—Lock Haven Express.

—The Mexicans bitterly oppose the introduction of polygamy into Mexico, and Brigham Young Jr., has to comply with the laws of that country or get out. It is not very healthy for a man who is married to remain.

Grocer (in great haste): "Well, little girl, what can I do for you? Be quick, now, I'm very busy." Little Girl (frightened): "Please, sir, my m-mudder sent me for a-pound of cheese, but if you are very busy you can give me only h-half a p-pound."

While Allen Moyer was whipping his mule, the mule made for Mr. Moyer but with a destructive blow he killed the mule. It was a valuable mule.—Lewisport Democrat & Sentinel.

The wrong mule was killed. It should have been the other mule.

—Miss Laura Brumbaugh of Altoona committed suicide on Monday of last week by taking morphia. If those who dread death could exchange places with those who do not care to live, things would seem to be somewhat equalized, and the undertakers have just as much to do.

Old Block Frank Hatton has a 14-year old chip. "Pa," said the other day, "I've made up my mind where I would like to go to college." "Aha," replied his father, "and where is it, my boy?" "To Vassar," said the precocious child. "Humph!" ejaculated the proud father: "darned if I wouldn't like to go there myself."

Managing mamma (to Mr. Featherly): "That is my daughter to whom Mr. DeLyle is talking." Featherly: "Ah, indeed. What a sweet, modest-looking girl she is!" Mamma: "Yes, Clara is a very modest girl. Even the slightest improper remark will make her blush." Featherly (gazing in admiration): "Yes, and do you notice how becoming her blushes are as they come and go?"

—A mistake was made in running off the inside of last week's issue and the result was that we duplicated one page. One of our Petersburg (Huntingdon Co.) subscribers, who has never paid for his paper, was kind enough to apprise us of the fact. Had he made as great an effort to have sent the amount of his arrears it would have been more creditable to himself and more acceptable to us. But as it is he has made a greater mistake in allowing his subscription to more than duplicate.

In a Sixth avenue street car filled with ladies a ninety pound dude sat wedged in one corner. At Twenty-third street a fat woman, handsomely dressed, and with a little dog in her arms, got on. The little dude struggled to his feet and touched his hat politely, remarking facetiously: "Madame, will you take this seat?" The fat lady looked at the crevice he had left and thanked him pleasantly. "You are very kind sir," she said; "I think it will just fit the dog." And it did.

—The farmers of Pennsylvania and Ohio will not be much longer humbugged by tariff orators who try to make them believe that the low prices of wool are due a reduction of duties. If the tariff were advanced to the point of promotion on foreign wools it would not help a market that is choked by the domestic supply. The Western farmers have gone into the business of sheep-raising on the same grand scale that they raise cattle, wheat and corn. The shipments of very excellent quality from the Territory of Montana last year aggregated over 4,000,000, pounds and the number of sheep shows a yearly increase of over 25 per cent. Wool is a commodity that bears transportation for long distances. How are the farmers on our dear lands to make headway against the cheap production of the West and the cheap transportation that puts Oregon and Ohio almost on a dead level with each other in the Eastern market.—Philadelphia Record.

—Fighting editor Mitchell, of the Philadelphia Journal, has had another knock down in which he came out on top. It was a little delicate tailor who was the victim. Perhaps he was trying to collect a bill when Mitchell got across and sat down upon him. A tailor should know better than to try to collect a bill from an editor.

Gon Grant's Last Words.

At a reunion of the veterans of Gen. Grant's old regiment—the Twenty-first Illinois Volunteers—held at Neoga, Ill., Col. Fred Grant was present, and in response to requests for a speech said:

"I do not intend to make you a speech, for I have not been trained as a public talker. I have here a document that I would like to read to you. It is the last line written by my father upon matters pertaining to the war, and has never before been made public. As he entered into the war with you for his first companions, and as he always spoke of your regiment with affectionate interest, it is fitting that you should be the first to hear his parting words. This is what he wrote upon the pages I hold here:

"I feel that we are on the eve of a new era, when there is to be great harmony between the Federals and Confederates. I cannot stay to be a living witness to the correctness of this prophecy, but I feel it within me that it is to be so. The universally kind feeling expressed for me at a time when it was supposed that each day would prove my last seems to me the beginning of the answer to 'Let us have peace.' The expressions of these kindly feelings are not restricted to a section of the country, not a division of the people. They came from individual citizens of all nationalities, from all denominations—the Protestant, the Catholic, and the Jew—and from the various societies of the land, scientific, educational, religious, or otherwise. Politics did not enter into the matter at all. I am not egotist enough to suppose all this significance should be given this matter because I was the object of it. But the war between the States was a very bloody and a very costly war. One side or the other had to yield principles they deemed dearer than life before it could be brought to an end. I commanded the whole of the mighty host engaged on the victorious side; I was, no matter whether deservedly so or not, a representative of that side of the controversy. It is a significant and gratifying fact that Confederates should have joined heartily in their spontaneous move. I hope the good feeling inaugurated may continue to the end."

—The two young ladies who turned the hose on Dr. Harrison and his workmen last August when they attempted to cut down a portion of Hon. Saml. H. Orwig's residence have been tried for assault and battery. The jury found a verdict of not guilty. Where is there a jury that would find two handsome young ladies, bravely defending the rights of their uncle, guilty of assault and battery, Dr. Harrison is very wrathful, and says he is not through with some of the people in Lewisburg.

A Bold Strike, But Not Without Due Deliberation.

For a long time we have thought of changing our business to the

CASH SYSTEM.

Now we have done it, and it is time for our patrons and friends to deliberate also, when they can every time SAVE 10, and mostly 20 per cent. by buying

HARDWARE, STOVES, OILS, PAINTS, Etc.,

From us for CASH. We defy competition, and delight in pricing goods against our competitors, who do a cash and credit business. We pay cash and give you the benefit by receiving cash for our goods. We don't intend this for a ten days' wonder, but propose to keep it up right along. We have not started this system to close out our stock as some of our opposition allege, but will keep our stock filled up complete all the time. Write us for prices. Call and see us.

H. K. HICKS & BRO.,
BELLEFONTE, PA.

7:33-ly

Responsible parties ordering goods by mail, Telephone, Telegraph, or Bearer, will receive them promptly, accompanied with the bill—but with the distinct understanding that the money or check is sent by return mail.

It seems to be the impression of some that we contain plate selling out, as we are offering you goods so low for cash, but we wish it distinctly understood that such is not the case, that we intend to continue the Hardware business, and also our low prices and full stock of goods. We simply mean that high credit prices are at an end with us.
