

The Way To Build Up Our Towns.

The following is said to be the way to build up a town, and we think it well put: Talk about it. Write about it. Help to improve it. Beautify the streets. Patronize the merchants. Advertise in the newspapers. Elect good men to all the offices. Pay your taxes without grumbling. Never let an opportunity to speak a word about it pass. If you think of nothing good to say about it say nothing bad. Remember that every dollar you invest as a permanent improvement, is that much money at interest. Never "kick" against any proposed necessary improvement because it is not near your own door, or for fear your taxes will be raised fifteen cents.

One of the Presidents Afternoons.

Among the number of ladies who called to pay their respects on Monday was a handsome, matronly lady who came from some place in the Northern part of New York. Upon taking the President's hand said pleasantly: "Mr. President, I will call here again in six months, and by that time I want to see Mrs. Cleveland. Now don't forget it." The President smiling, said: "Give me a little more time, please. It takes time to make such a selection." "Not one moment more," said the lady, as she passed out of the east room; "you have already had time enough, and for all I know you may have already made a selection. There should be a Mrs. Cleveland in this house, and I shall want to see her when I call again.

The incident was much enjoyed by some other ladies who heard the conversation. Indeed, it did not seem to give the President any annoyance, for the smile never left his face during the reception.

When about one half of those who had gathered in the east room had shaken hands with the President, Secretary Whitney entered the room and looked on very much interested, remarking to a newspaper correspondent: "This is the first time that I have seen this part of the President's duties being performed. I don't see how he can stand it, though he does stand it very well, and actually appears to thrive under it."

General Sheridan and Mackey.

John Mackey has gone to Washington to lobby through a claim of $250,000 which, he holds, the Government owes the Bank of Nevada on account of moneys advanced to land speculators and surveyors and sharks. It is not exactly known where General Sheridan is now, but it is to be hoped he is not in Washington. If Sheridan should ever meet Mackey at close hand there is no knowing what the result might be. Sheridan is short Mackey is tall, but one is a fighter and the other isn't. Mackey once got Sheridan to make an investment of over $12,000 in the Sierra Grande mine down in New Mexico. This was the famous George Roberts steal, and most of those who got jammed never whimpered. Sheridan would not, perhaps, have squeaked had he not heard that Mackey claimed to have nothing whatever to do with the thing; that he had no money in it, and was merely backing George Roberts, an old con artist, in the latter's scheme. When Little Phil got on to the scheme he never squeaked, but he laid for John Mackey. He made a journey from Chicago to New York expressly. He saw the husband of Mrs. Mackey and the "Arde Triomphe," and the man with the pick under ground gave way to the man on the black horse. History will, perhaps, never contain the record of that interview, but the story is that the cavalryman raided the miner and got his sluice boxes. He got his $12,000 back.

When in the Wrong Channel.

The bile wreaks grievous injury. Headaches, constipation, pain in the liver and stomach, jaundice, nausea ensue. A few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will reform these evils and prevent further injury. It is a pleasant aperient, its action upon the bowels being unaccompanied by griping. The liver is both regulated and stimulated by it, and it is very impolite to disregard disorder of that organ, which through neglect may culminate in dangerous congestion and hepatic abscess. The Bitters should be resorted to at an early stage. Failure to do this renders a contest with the malady more protracted. Fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, are remedied by this fine medicine, and the increasing infirmities of age mitigated by it. It may be also used in convalescence with advantage, as it hastens the restoration of vigor.

We desire to call particular attention to the Boot & Shoe business conducted by A. C. Mingle. He is determined to enter the fall trade at the head of the list. During the summer he reduced his stock, so as to enable him to start with a good fresh stock for fall and winter, and how well he succeeded, we will let the public judge. Mr. Mingle has had a long experience in the business, and is intimately acquainted with many of the best manufacturers in the country thereby giving him an advantage in selecting the styles at manufacturers prices, which enables him to sell goods as low as small dealers (who are seldom in the market), must pay jobbers or middle men for older and inferior goods. Goods are cheaper this fall than they were ever known to be in the history of the trade. While other merchants cry hard times, Mr. M's sales are continuingly on the increase. What he promises and intends to carry out is this: he will give you just as good shoes at as low prices, as can possibly be had at any store in America and better and cheaper than you will find in most of them. His manufacturing department deserves mention. It is managed by Mr. H. Robb, a workman of large experience, with the best workmen under him. The work turned out from this shop, is second to none in the State. Persons desiring hand made goods, will do well by trying Mr. Robb at Mingle's. His work can be seen at the store which will tell better than we can write it.

CANCER CURED.

No disease has so thoroughly baffled the skill of the medical profession as cancerous affections and as they have always been considered incurable, it has been thought disreputable to adopt their treatment as a specialty; and hence physicians have neglected their proper study. But of late years new and important discoveries have brought forth a course that now proves successful in any of its forms, with certainty, without the use of the knife or caustic plasters. We have a treatment that is comparatively mild. It is not poisonous, does not interfere with the healthy flesh, can be applied to any part of the body, even the tongue. We take nothing for our services until the cancer is cured. Address D. J. HULBERT, Eagleville, Centre Co., Pa.
