

GEO. P. BIBLE, Local Editor and Business Manager.

Local Department.

NOTICE.—Mr. George H. Knicey, is the only authorized collector for the Democrat.

—Mauch Chunk is to have a silk mill.

—Mr. James Fulger, of Zion, dropped in to see us Saturday.

—Our book binder is here, and at work. Bring on your books.

—Judge C. L. Pershing will be the guest of Gen. Jas. A. Beaver.

—Our people have thrown open their doors to the members of the Synod.

—Mr. George Jack, of Boalsburg, was in town the early part of the week.

—Mr. Chas. Scott, Williamsport's big book agent was in town on Tuesday.

—Mr. Geo. J. Rodgers, ex-county treasurer of Cambria county, died on Saturday last.

—A "Buck Ball" is advertised in Wilkesbarre. Wonder if it is akin to a "stag dance?"

—A few broken stones put on Water street would help the aforesaid street amazingly. Try it.

—The first meeting of the Presbyterian Synod will be held in the church of that denomination in this place this afternoon.

—Ward Rishel, of Central City, who has been ill with typhoid fever for several weeks, is, we are glad to say, convalescent.

—Brush up on "foreordination" and "predestination" and put on your "blue stockings," the "pristeterians" are coming.

—A new counterfeit $20 gold piece has been discovered. Any kind of a gold piece would be a great discovery for us just at this time.

—Lewistown having a population less than 4000 is counted out by the special delivery system. So are we, but the next time we will get in.

—Clay Poorman, the gentlemanly clerk of the Mountain House, Snow Shoe, was seen perambulating the streets of the metropolis on Tuesday.

—Bob Taylor, of Philipsburg, distinguished himself at the Clearfield fair. They say that "Tom O'Shanter's" ride was nothing compared to Bob's.

—A man by the name of Peter Skirns was found dead in the barn of Shurr's Hotel at Pine, Clinton county. It is supposed he died while laboring under a fit.

—The special train bringing the delegates will arrive in town at 3 p. m. today (Thursday). Supper will be the first meal provided by those entertaining guests.

—We regret to say that our herd of Holsteins, Frisians, Durhams and Jerseys, failed to take a prize at the State fair. Our "Jersey Lily" was very much admired, however.

—Prof. Philip Meyer, of Linden Hall, called at our office on Tuesday. Philip is a first class vocalist, and it would be a treat to have him hold one of his musical conventions here during the coming winter.

—The long talked of new paper, the Fountain will begin its first issue on Saturday next. The office is located in the same building with the Republican, and we may look for lively times over there. See their ad. in another column.

—Mr. J. Wm. Abrams, one of the typos in the Lock Haven Republican office made himself generally useful in our office on last Wednesday evening, assisting us in mailing our papers. He proved himself to be a familiar hand at folding.

—Some of the daily papers got the name Bellefontaine confounded with Bellefonte and placed a sad case of suicide at the latter place. Bellefontaine were surprised to read such startling news about their town and especially when the act did not occur here.

—Parents should not fail to visit the public schools. It will be an incentive for their children to study when they see their parents take a practical interest in them. It is a satisfaction to the teachers to have you show that you appreciate the work they are doing in teaching your children.

—Harry Wilson goes to Orange, Texas, this week, where he takes charge of the motor power of Lucher and Moore's extensive milling establishment. Harry is a first class workman and will be of great service to his new employers. We hope his stay in the Lone Star State may be both pleasant and profitable.

—On last Tuesday the trio, Messrs. Lyman Beck, Randolph Nightingale and Samuel Wetzel all of this place bid farewell to home and friends and departed for Florida, the "land of flowers," where they expect to spend the winter with the prospect of locating permanently should the country suit them.

—The wedding anniversaries celebrated are as follows: 5th, wooden; 10th, tin; 15th, glass; 20th, china; 25th, silver; 30th, pearl; 40th, ruby or gem; 50th, golden.

—We suggest the following as an incentive for pupils to attend school regularly, and to awaken more interest in study. Take sufficient interest and time to send in a report of your school for publication, and interesting notes concerning the same, and then read it to them and observe how pleased they are.

—Large posters announce a mass meeting in the interest of the people at Milesburg. Chairman Rynder is hard at work to make it a large gathering. Hon. Jesse Harper of Illinois, and a number of other prominent men are expected to be present. A more complete notice is found in another column of this issue.

—Jack Griest and Jack Spangler have been tilting about Griest's editorial in the county papers. Spangler dislikes the title "Demosthenes Spangler," applied to him by Mr. Griest, as he says he don't count much on his Greek, but as for Latin, just call him Cicero. Mr. Griest is willing to change his adjective from Demosthenes to Cicero. The two Jacks are trumps, and have agreed to bury the hatchet.

—Subscribe for "The Fountain" a new paper published in Bellefonte, just the companion you want to while away the long winter evenings. A paper that can safely be put into the hands of your sons and daughters to read, and will prove a most welcome visitor to the family circle. As its name signifies it is a fountain of the freshest literature from the most popular authors, containing two serial stories, seven short stories complete in each number, a sermon by Talmage, etc. Try it one month and see how you like it. It will cost you but 20cts, or buy it of the news dealers at 5 cents per copy. See advertisement in another column.

—The educational columns in the Clearfield papers are edited by Prof. Matt Savage, County Superintendent. We have a number of able professors in this county, and we have offered a column each week to be devoted to educational topics, but so far have failed to receive any matter for the same. There are always new and interesting experiments being made at the State College which would not only be of great interest and value to the reading public but would be the means of justly placing that growing institution before the public. There are a number of professors and teachers in all parts of the county who could furnish interesting items.

—Each Grand Juror for the November Term has been furnished with a little book of instructions, which will enable those who desire to be posted on the duties of Grand Jurors, to inform themselves. To Judge Furst and the Board of Commissioners the credit for this little book is due. The Grand Jury is the Grand Inquest of the County, and each individual member should be perfectly familiar with his duties. These little books should be carefully read. The intelligent Grand Juror is a great aid in the business of the Courts, he helps to push business along and saves expense to the tax payers. Post yourselves.

—Judge Furst, of Huntingdon county, in sentencing a young man to the penitentiary for carrying concealed weapons made the following remarks: "There is no crime that the court looks upon with more disapprobation than the crime of young men carrying concealed weapons and then getting drunk and attacking citizens whenever they get an opportunity, and we warn you and others who are indulging in this practice that it must bestop."

—Take notice razor carriers of Bellefonte. The court considers a razor a very dangerous "weeping" and the first lamb caught with one in his possession will likely wear a suit of striped clothes in Pittsburg.

—The death of Mr. Samuel Olewine which occurred on last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock though not wholly unexpected, was learned with regret and sorrow by those who knew him. On Friday of last week he was stricken with apoplexy which resulted in his death as above stated. He was 61 years old on the 21st day of September. A highly respected citizen and a Christian gentleman, he will be greatly missed by the community. He was a member of the Lutheran church and his life was an exemplary one. The deceased leaves three daughters and one son to mourn his death, his wife having died about eleven years ago. The funeral services were held at his residence on Willow Bank street on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock and were largely attended. He was the father of our young and enterprising merchant, Jno. Olewine, of the firm of Jas. Harris & Co.

BELLEFONTE MACHINE SHOPS.—A visit to the machine shops of Wm. P. Duncan & Co. will repay anybody who will take the pains to go through the works. Mr. Howard Lingle or Mr. Jenkins are always on hand to extend the hospitality of the works to visitors or customers. About thirty men are employed in the different departments of the shops.

This firm manufactures as a specialty, the "Vulcan Power Hammer" which is the invention of Wm. Jenkins. This piece of machinery is getting a reputation all over the world, inquiries are constantly coming to the firm concerning it. The firm shipped one to Sweden this summer. The Bellefonte Turbine water wheel is another specialty of this establishment. Engines, ore washing machinery, rolling mills and axe factory machinery are being made constantly. The machine shops are equipped with a great variety of improved machinery and are able to do any kind of work. The firm has recently established agencies in San Francisco, Pittsburg New York and Philadelphia. A beautiful sample of the skill of their mechanics is the paper cutter now in use in the Watchman office, which was designed by Mr. Jenkins and put up in their shops. There is a very large foundry connected with the shops where all the castings are made. The capacity of the cupola is about five tons. In the pattern rooms are thousand of patterns to replace which it would take thousands of dollars, and they are constantly increasing as new machines are being invented. In the blacksmith shops may be seen two "Vulcan power hammers" running any day. The machine shops of this firm are never idle, during the severest panics they have run constantly. The men are paid in cash, and have never been on a strike. It is one of the substantial industrial establishments of our town and is constantly increasing its business which now reaches all over North America and even into Europe. We have not time for an extended description of this establishment but it is worth a visit any time. Manufactories like this assure the prosperity of a town, and the future may see them spring up all around us. The question of railroad facilities and cheap transportation once settled our town will take the position which nature has undoubtedly assigned her, first among manufacturing towns of the State. Speed the day when the smoke of an hundred industrial establishments will ascend in our beautiful town.

A NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.—The School Board has long realized the inadequate school room facility for our Borough schools, but each time the question of a new building was brought up, the poverty of the district admonished them to make haste slowly. The crowded condition of our schools has been the great drawback to the progress of the pupils. The town has grown wonderfully in the past three years, and with it the school population. The question of a new building could not be put off any longer, the law is mandatory in that all children shall have the advantages of the public schools. On Tuesday night at a meeting of the Board a committee was appointed to receive proposals for a new building, to be erected on the public school grounds. The building is to be brick and not to cost more than $10,000. President Fortney, Jno. Moore, and W. B. Rankin are the committee to receive proposals. Well done gentlemen of the board, now look after, light and convenience in the new building.

DEATH OF MRS. MANN.—Mrs. Jane F. Mann, of Boiling Springs, died on Wednesday morning of last week. Jane Fleming Mann was a daughter of the elder Judge Burnside, and wife of Harvey Mann, Sr. She was well and favorably known in our community for her great kindness of heart and charitable disposition. She had reached the ripe age of seventy-five. Mrs. Mann was a well known figure in the life of Bellefonte, and until quite recently might be seen driving in and out of town in all kinds of weather. She was a very energetic old lady and took great interest in the welfare of her friends and neighbors. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and contributed generously to its support. Many friends and relatives mourn her death. The funeral took place on Friday at 2 p. m. and was very largely attended.

—When you want to buy, look around and consider where you can do best. Help young men who are honest industrious and deserving. When you want to buy anything in the hardware line consult your interests by calling on H. K. Hicks & Bro. They are young, energetic and accommodating, and sell at bottom prices. They are not afraid to advertise their goods because the quality is the best in the market. It does not pay to advertise poor goods, and as this firm keeps nothing but what they can recommend, they let the public know what they have. They are now running a specially fine lot of lap robes and horse blankets. Call and examine them.

THE SYNOD OF PENNSYLVANIA.—The Presbyterian Synod which convenes here to-day will be composed of about two hundred and forty Commissioners, Elders and Ministers. The Synod is next to the highest legislative body of the Presbyterian church, and the delegates or commissioners will be representative men of that denomination. The growth of Presbyterianism in the United States is one of the remarkable things in the ecclesiastical history of the country, and her theologians rank among the highest in the land. A Synod is composed of representatives of the different Presbyteries, each parish being allowed two delegates or commissioners. We believe that each Presbytery is allowed sixteen commissioners. Our people without regard to religious belief will extend the hospitalities of the town to the distinguished visitors and try to make their stay as pleasant as possible. Such has always been the custom of our town and no breach of hospitality has ever been charged to her. The proceedings of the Synod will be very interesting and its sessions will be open to the public. We extend a hearty welcome to our visitors.

The following is a list of the delegates to the Synod and their entertainers: At the residence of E. T. Tuten.—Rev. A. T. Stewart, John Matthews. J. C. Weaver.—Rev. W. J. McConkey, B. McClane. BALD EAGLE VALLEY.—Our trip last week and a few days of this, was through a portion of that narrow picturesque and fertile Bald Eagle Valley. The people of Nittany and Penna. Valley have often doubted the truth of the assertion that it is fertile. But the excellent crops and prosperity of its inhabitants, is the best evidence that it is as rich and productive as any portion of the country. In fact some of the farms along the Bald Eagle Creek are the best in the county, and since the lumber business is not carried on so extensively now as in former years, more attention is being given to the improvement of the land. Arriving at one of the thriving towns in the valley, we put up for the night with our friend Jack Newson, proprietor of the Syracuse House. Jack was formerly one of Bellefonte's boys, but seems to be closely allied with the interests of this town, and is making a first class landlord. His hotel is all that any one could wish for—excellent beds, good boarding and plenty of it, while Jack himself is always ready to look after the comfort of his guests. We called on our worthy representative, Hon. Jno. A. Woodward, and was ushered into his office where we found him busy compiling some agricultural statistics, but not too busy to "lend us his ears that he might hear" what we had to say. We also had a chat with that social gentleman, Mr. Jno. M. Confer, who is one of Mr. Woodward's farmers. John gave us the wherewith to make a collector happy. N. Confer, another sturdy farmer, was threshing buckwheat when we arrived, and as we are a lover of buck-wheat cakes we engaged some of the wheat. Mr. Jno. Z. Loder was the next friend we found. John is one of the noble sons of toil and as honest as the day is long. He was blasting the rocky formation underneath, and preparing the same to be converted into lime. Dr. G. A. Beck, a leading practitioner in this part of the county, was attending to the duties of his profession. He is the very picture of health, and is as hearty as he looks. He has a large practice. We next came to BLANCHARD. All along the road down to this town the wheat is looking very promising. The potato crop is fine, and apples are very plentiful all through the valley. We stopped with landlord James DeLong, who attends to the wants of the traveling public at this place, and does it in good style. W. F. Courter, one of the enterprising boot and shoe merchants and Justice of the Peace of this place engaged our attention for a short time, Mr. D. M. Berlev, dealer in the same kind of merchandise entertained us kindly to the amount of our subscription. The next half hour of our time was divided between Boston's Gardner, Jno. Bechdel and N. H. Johnston in agreeable conversation.

BEECH CREEK. The twin sister of Blanchard is in a flourishing condition, judging by the numerous improvements and the number of buildings erected there since the Beech Creek road has been built to this town. As this town bears the name of the road, it is making bold strides to build up and be a town "what is a town." We called on a number of parties here and then started for ROLAND. The iron works at this place owned and controlled by Curtins & Co. are in full blast, in fact they have been running all summer. Curtins & Co. deserve just praise for the manner in which they have managed to keep their work running during the past year. This management is duly appreciated by the hands they employ, for while others were idle they have had work. Improvements have been made in and around their works and grist mill. H. D. Barnhart learning that we had opened a book binding establishment said he had a precious relic in the shape of a German Bible, (not like the ones in the binding business, however), that he desired rebound. The age of this venerable book is traced back over three hundred years, and has been in the family of the Barnharts for six generations, being the property of Mr. H. L. Barnhart's (the present owner) great, great, great grandfather. The book is now in our possession for rebounding, and is indeed a relic. We took dinner with Jos. L. Neff, the man who does so much crying at sales, and who also is engaged in farming and coaling. We went back into the region of the pits with him and got a few new subscribers to the Democrat. Having gotten over this part of the route we returned to take a new trip this week. COLLECTOR.

Rally! Rally!

A Grand Mass Meeting of the people will be held in the big tent at Milesburg, Saturday, Oct. 24, 1885, to discuss the reasons why our merchants are failing, our farmers are losing money, our mechanics and laborers idle, and why monopoly is eating up the substance of the people as a hungry army eats fresh bread. Meetings in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and in the evening at 7 o'clock. Ladies especially invited. A brass band on hand. Farmers of Centre county, hitch your big horses in your big wagons and bring your wives, sons and daughters to this meeting. Bring your neighbors who haven't got teams. Spend one day in finding out why your farms are falling in value, and your taxes increasing. Hon. Jesse Harper of Illinois, the friend of Lincoln, T. A. Armstrong, the statesman labor leader, Hon. Chas. Jenkins, of Ohio, the statistical farmer-orator, will positively be present and discuss these questions. Hon. Chas. N. Brumm, of Pennsylvania, and Gen. A. J. Warner, of Ohio, have been invited and is believed will be present. Efforts are being made to get special trains, but we invite the people to come in their wagons, on horseback or on foot. These questions go right down into the pockets of everybody. Give one day for the benefit of your pocketbook. By order of the State Committee. T. P. RYNDER, Chairman National Greenback Labor Party of Pennsylvania.

Milesburg, Centre Co., Pa., Oct. 14, 1885. 41-2t

A VALUABLE BOOK.—We have just received from the enterprising publishers A. H. Andrews & Co. a most useful little volume, suggestively called "LOOK WITHIN FOR FIVE THOUSAND FACTS THAT EVERYBODY WANTS TO KNOW." It contains 75 pages of condensed information on Mechanics, Statistics, History, Medicine, Astronomy, Finance, Mythology, Education, Mathematics, The Bible, Politics, Agriculture, Religion, Science, Temperance, Trade, etc., etc., in fact there seems to be something for everybody and nothing that some one will not be glad to know. It is embellished with a number of colored diagrams, and is by far the most valuable and complete Pocket Cyclopaedia we have yet seen. It is offered for sale at the exceedingly low price of 15 cents, for which sum in stamps it will be sent postpaid by the publishers, A. H. Andrews & Co., Chicago.

—The dedicatory services of the Reformed church of Ansonburg will take place on the 25th inst., at 9:45 a. m. Prof. J. H. Dubs, D. D., of Lancaster, and Rev. L. K. Evans, of Pottstown, will take part in the services. Prof. D. M. Wolf will preach the opening sermon on Wednesday evening previous. Rev. N. J. Miller and others will officiate on the succeeding evenings of the week. The Sunday schools of the town will meet in the church on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, when several addresses will be delivered by members present. All are cordially invited to attend these services. Z. A. YEABICK, PASTOR.

MARRIED.

SEIGEL—LUCAS.—On September 28th, 1885, the Starbucktown N. E. parsonage, by Rev. W. E. Whitely, Mr. William W. Sigel to Miss Essie Lucas, both of Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, Pa.

DEATHS.

KELLEY.—On Wednesday, Sept. 30th, at his home in Coleville, Mr. James Kelley, of Consumption, age 28 years.

MAX.—On Wednesday morning, Sept. 30th, at the Boiling Springs, Mrs. Jane Fleming Mann, wife of Harvey Mann, Sr., deceased.

OLEWINE.—At his residence on Willow Bank street in Bellefonte, on Saturday, Oct. 10th, 1885, Samuel Olewine, on Oct. 10th.
