

Poultry Houses And Yards.

Mr. James Rankin, maker of the Msnaeh Incubator, sends to the New England Homestead the following practical hints on poultry buildings and yards: In regard to questions as to how to build poultry houses and yards they are rather difficult to answer, as it would depend much upon location and circumstances. With plenty of cheap land it would be better to colonize fowls at a little distance from each other in small portable houses, say 8 to 10 feet square. It would be rather more trouble to care for them in this way, but they would give decidedly better returns. If limited for room the buildings should run parallel with each other, with 30 or 40 feet frontage for yards. They can be carried out to any desired length according to the number of fowls kept. These buildings can be made of 2x4 spruce for sills and rafters, with 2x3 stiff for girls and posts. They may have a shed roof with four feet posts in the rear and six feet in front. Use hemlock boards for the roof, covering it with tarred felt. This, if purchased at the right place, will cost $1.25 per 100 square feet, and is the cheapest and most desirable covering extant. It is composed of three thicknesses of tarred paper with plastic cement between. These buildings can be 10 or 12 feet wide, and two feet pitch to the roof with this covering will be sufficient. The front and rear should be covered with matched pine and well be warm enough if painted to keep the sun from warping them.

Buildings of this description can be put up with good material, nicely painted and trimmed for about $1.60 lineal foot. With coarser material and mineral paint, for $1.25 per foot.

Yards should be constructed of wire netting made for the purpose No. 18 wire, two inch mesh, 36 inches in height, is all sufficient for Asiatics of all kinds. Leghorns and other smaller breeds need a fence 42 inches high. This netting can be had of the proper parties for 1c. per square foot, and is not only cheaper than lath fence but far more durable. It is also portable and can be moved at a few moments' notice.

Housekeepers cannot be too careful with regard to keeping drains and cellars in proper condition. A plentiful supply of sulphate of iron (copperas) should be kept in every household and used daily to deodorize the drains. After each dish washing have a quart of boiling water in which two tablespoons of washing soda have been dissolved, poured into the sink so that all the grease particles may be destroyed. Then flush the sink with hot water for a few minutes. Pour a solution of copperas, one tablespoonful dissolved in a quart of boiling water, each day in the pipes leading from the bathtub and closet. If you have stationary wash-basins treat them in the same way, not forgetting the flushing process. See that no decomposing vegetables remain in the cellar; have at least two windows always open, and, if possible, keep the outer cellar door open that the sunlight may purify the air. Two or three times during the season fumigate with roll brimstone; be careful to close all the openings, so that the fumes of the sulphur may do their perfect work. If possible, never have ashes in the cellar, and on no account permit any garbage from the kitchen to be placed there.

When in the Wrong Channel.

The bile wreaks grievous injury. Headaches, constipation, pain in the liver and stomach, jaundice, nausea ensue. A few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will reform these evils and prevent further injury. It is a pleasant aperient, its action upon the bowels being unaccompanied by griping. The liver is both regulated and stimulated by it, and it is very impolite to disregard disorder of that organ, which through neglect may culminate in dangerous congestion and hepatic abscess. The Bitters should be resorted to at an early stage. Failure to do this renders a contest with the malady more protracted. Fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, are remedied by this fine medicine, and the increasing infirmities of age mitigated by it. It may be also used in convalescence with advantage, as it hastens the restoration of vigor.

A Queen's Opinion.

J. M. Queen writes from Johnston, Va., that he has been sorely afflicted for several years, but he was urged to try PERUNA, which he did, and he now feels that he is about over his trouble, and considers it the greatest medicine in the world. He says he has to go or send a distance of fifteen miles to obtain PERUNA, but it will repay him for this.

Ellwood Shalkcross, former editor of the Saturday Journal, Wheeling, W. Va., says: "Gentlemen: Some time ago I was afflicted with a pain in my back in the region of the kidneys, and suffered considerably. Having read your advertisement, I went to Logan & Co., of this city, and purchased a bottle of PERUNA, which I took, and it resulted in the complete removal of the pain. I think I can safely recommend it as a superior panacea for pains."

Mr. Aaron Shreffler, Alma, Marion county, Ill., writes: "Dr. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, O. Dear Sirs: Myself and wife have taken three bottles of your medicine and received much benefit by the use of them. My wife was troubled with neuralgia, headache and weak stomach. Her headache has not troubled her for the last two weeks, and her stomach is much better. She took only PERUNA. I used both medicines, and my general health is so much improved that I feel like a new man. My stomach is very much better, and the MANALIN keeps my bowels all right. We intend to keep taking the medicines until we are permanently cured."

Evans T. Jones, Prospect, Marion Co., O., says: "After having taken medicine from different physicians of this place without any relief, I was induced to try your PERUNA, which I purchased of Cook Bros., druggists, of this place, and after using some six bottles of the same, I feel very much benefited. Am sure it will finally work an entire cure."

T. J. Ewing, Cattleblaine, Ky., writes: "In the early part of last winter I contracted a severe cold, attended with a bad cough, then, being exposed during late flood, added to my disability. I have taken your PERUNA with good results. My cough has entirely left, soreness is gone, and am increasing in flesh."

Thomas Bradford, 314 Western Avenue, Allegheny City, Pa., writes: "I have had liver complaint for three years, I thought I would have to quit work; I have taken two bottles of your PERUNA, and am well."

S. Wolf & Son, Wilmot, Ohio, write: "We handle your goods, and they give good satisfaction."

PERUNA is sold by all druggists. Price $1.00 per bottle, six bottles $5.00. If you cannot get it from your druggist, we will send it on receipt of regular price. We prefer you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order from us at once as directed. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, Ohio.
