

On the night of December 30th, while the wagon of D. S. Houck was on its way to Philadelphia with a load of ready made clothing, it was robbed of $360 worth of goods. On Tuesday afternoon last the goods were discovered in the bottom of a well at the Seven Stars, Plymouth township, Montgomery county. The clothes were covered with water.—Daylesstown Democrat.

As Dr Axtell, of Youngsville, was returning from visiting a patient some evenings since, he was approached by a person cautiously, who peered into his face, as the doctor thought, with a view to recognize him. The next the doctor knew he was lying on the ground, his face covered with blood, and on searching his pockets, discovered he had been robbed of seven dollars in money and a valuable watch. Mr. Axtell gathered himself up as soon as possible, and proceeded home. He has no idea who his assailant was, and up to this time the affair is shrouded in mystery.—Elk Democrat.

Joseph H. Dosch rang the door-bell of Judge Livingston's residence in the city of Lancaster, this State, about 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon, and was shown into the Judge's office. Dosch, in an excited manner, ran up to the Judge, pulled out a large revolver, put it to the judge's head and swore he would kill him. The judge took in the situation in an instant, and being a large, strong man he took hold of Dosch threw him upon the floor, and took the revolver, which had seven loads in it, from him. Dosch left the house but was soon afterward arrested and placed in prison. The court refused to grant him a license to keep a saloon, some time ago, and that was the reason why he made the murderous assault upon Judge Livingston. It is believed by some persons that Dosch is insane.—Monitor.

The Cambria Iron Company is at present filling an order for four thousand tons of steel rails for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. The first shipment was made yesterday over the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The price at which the rails were sold is said to have been $34 per ton.—Allentown Times.

Bedford county is prolific of wonderful stories, and the following from the Bedford Republican and Inquirer of yesterday is only surpassed by the snake story published by the same paper a few weeks ago, and which it vouched for entirely true. But here is the latest: A few weeks ago Superintendent John H. Cessna purchased a fine young horse which is a confirmed tobacco chewer, or, rather, eater. The horse is high spirited, and Mr. Cessna having somehow learned that his horse was fond of tobacco, now treats him to a mouthful every time he goes to the stable. If he fails to give his horse his customary chew, he acts so badly that he can hardly hitch him up. But when he gives him his "tobacker" he is as docile as a lamb. Mr. Cessna, who does not use the weed, always carries with him a pouch of tobacco for his steed.—Allentown Times.

There is a good bit of out door relief needed by the poor, not only throughout the county but in our town. Some have had to apply to the directors of the poor for relief and the charity has been extended.

The stingiest man on record lives in Juniata county. It is reported that he always gets behind a tree to look at his watch for fear some one will ask him the time of day.—McFeyson Journal.

Holt, Chipman & Co's Allport mines met with a serious accident last week, through the collapse of the large boilers which furnish steam to the pumps, and the traction cable as well, and new boilers are being set.—Phillipsburg Ledger.

Last Sunday morning before daylight, the engineer of a passenger train coming westward over the Allegheny mountain saw ahead of him, when near the summit, the red light of a flagman's lantern, which was being waved feebly in the air. The train was stopped, and the man with the lantern was found in the snow up to his shoulders, almost frozen to death. He was taken to a car where, after being violently rubbed, he soon recovered. It is supposed he was out flagging and when his train whistled for him he was unable to get on, which caused him to remain in the position in which he was found.—Johnstown Tribune.

We trust that those young people who profess religion at the different church meetings in this place will have the strength to cling to their convictions no matter how they are assailed. Those who simply join the church in hopes of thereby inducing a respect that would not otherwise be given will soon find that vast army of hypocrites which is less to be respected than the host of sinners.—Clearfield Democrat.

Holly Epps, who murdered Henry Dobson, in Greene county, Ind., two weeks ago, was taken from jail at Vincennes on Sunday morning and lynched by a mob of masked men.

Four Men Frozen to Death.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 16.—A special to the Tribune Republican from Berkeley says that G. W. Tupper, who resided on a claim eleven miles southwest of there started for the house of a neighbor, but lost his way and was found on the 8th instant frozen to death.

Three men, named Cherry, Carson and Caster, left Wano, Kansas, on the 6th instant, Cherry to go to his home, sixteen miles south, and Carson and Caster on their way to Grandy, eighteen miles further. They lost their way, and their bodies were found five days later about sixteen miles from Cherry's place, all lying side by side on a small sled. Their horses were all frozen. With them on the sled were three bales of hay, twenty gallons of kerosene and some matches.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 14.—A horrible story comes from Wallingford. The report says that a colored woman living near Pond Hill, wishing to call her husband, closed her baby up in an oven to keep warm, the fire nearly out. While she was away her husband came home, and unaware of the whereabouts of the child, built a hot fire. The woman noticed the smoke coming from the chimney and hurried home, but arrived too late, as the child was found literally roasted.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—A special dispatch from Deming, N. M., published here this morning says: A gentleman who is connected with Territorial Government affairs is authority for the statement that the Territorial Government is actually negotiating with Colonel Baylor, of Texas, the noted Indian fighter, to raise a body of rangers to come over into New Mexico and exterminate the murdering Apaches. Baylor has had great experience as an Indian hunter, and it is thought that, with a couple of hundred picked rangers, he would capture the Apaches or bring their scalps in long before the army officers could succeed in getting sight of them.

A NARROW ESCAPE. R. W. KNOX, wife and two children made a very narrow escape last night from asphyxiation, caused by coal gas issuing from the stove in the dining room. The door of the stove had been left partially open when the family retired. The escaping gas from the stove filled the dining room and then forced its way up into their bed room through the register. At 5:30 o'clock Mrs. Knox attempted to get up. She discovered that she was unable to do so. She made three attempts, but failed at each effort. Mr. Knox managed to get to the door and open it, after which he opened the windows. This removed the gas from the room. He then went down stairs and was nearly stifled on entering the dining room. He describes the sensation as horrible, and he thinks there never was a more grateful party than himself and family when the cold air was admitted to the bed room. The two boys, Ed. and Charlie, were made deathly sick. They woke up sick at the stomach and commenced vomiting. Mr. Knox says it is the first time that he was ever caught in such a box, and knows it will be the last. Coal gas is a most subtle deathly agent, and people who have double heaters should be very careful in regulating the stove before going to bed, as the gas fills the room almost imperceptibly, and the sleeping innocents are destroyed without warning. Be very careful.—Renovo News.

Newport, R. I., January 18.—Mrs. Anna Maria Greene, the oldest lady in Rhode Island, a daughter-in-law of General Nathaniel Greene, of Revolutionary fame, and granddaughter of Samuel Warn, Colonial Governor of Rhode Island in 1761, died at her home in Middletown yesterday, aged one hundred and two years, two months and nine days. Mrs. Greene retained her faculties up to the last.

No Doom that Science has Conferred Has been fought with greater blessings than that which has accrued to the inhabitants of malarial ridden portions of the United States and the Tropics from the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The experience of many years has but too clearly demonstrated the inefficiency of quinine and other drugs to effectually combat the progress of intermittent, congestive and bilious remittent fevers, while on the other hand, it has been no less clearly shown that the use of the Bitters, a medicine congenial to the frailest constitution, and derived from purely botanic sources, affords a reliable safeguard against malarial disease, and arrest it when developed. For disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, for general debility and renal inactivity, it is also a most efficient remedy. Appetite and sleep are improved by it, it expels rheumatic humors from the blood, and enriches a circulation impoverished by mal-assimilation.

A Valuable Medical Treatise. The edition for 1886 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fifth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items &c., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1886 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg Pa., on receipt of a two-cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.
