Strike.

Fellow traverers on the road to an honest living, and on which you expect to accumulate enough of your hones; and hard earned gains to purchase a home of your own, and in which you will someday want to sit down and rest demand for seed. Six thousand paper from weary labor, do you think you will gain that boom if you do not hold up your own hands and protect yourselves from the outrageous and glutton ous corporation? The answer is emphatically, no. "The mills of God grind slowly but sure." We are not socialists or commists or any other kind of "ists," but American citizens. . The corof this country are becoming as much of a curse to the laboring class as the land lordism and all other such arrangements of the eastern countries. Shall we be reduced to such degredation and poverty as now, and has been for years, torturing the poor Irishman? No, we are an American people, and as such we shall have to teach other nations as did our forefathers, that this is the home of "the free," and will continue so to be. Aristocratic ideas and customs are slowly but surely creeping into this country where capital rules. Let us keep them out. Who shall do it? Why, the laboring class. What does the capitalist mean ? Does he consider the question carefully? We hardly it must come down. think so. Let us ask him who is to protect his wife and his daughters, and his boasted wealth, if it is not the laboring man? Who saved this country from having two flags wave over it, but the laboring man. The rich man had money and he paid; the laboring man had none and he left his fireside for the

M., and as it was about that hour when Munich says he left Tillie at the gate, some distance from the build. ing, and as Munich states that just as he left her he heaad a click resembling the sound of a door being locked, the impression is growing in the minds of some people that Miss Smith, who had never been out so late before, may have found herself locked out when she reached the hou and in walking around the grounds may have been accosted by tramps; for it is almost certain from appearances that two persons were engaged in the assult upon her. Meanwhile the officials are endeavoring to run down every apparent clew, and the community is puzzled as to the outcome.

But for the uncertainity in the labor market it is probable that building contracts amounting to two or three million dol'ars would be given out during the next few months.

It is the most popular boycotting ever heard of-labor boycotting itself. The man who to spite his neighbor, turned himself and his family out of doors at an inclement season and had to beg shelter from his neighbor on the other side, pursued not a more inconsistent course than the workmen are pursuing by their self-boycotting process.

In this way thousands of mechanics and laboring men will be compelled to capitalists, real estate owners and builders would give them. There would be work enough for all at good pay. As i is there will be very little for any .-Pittsburg Times.

CHICAGO, April 13 .- While the Methodist Ministers were discussing the 8 hours labor movment yesterday, Bishop Bowman, of St. Louis, said there was no such conflict between capital and labor as has been intimated. The agitators were not considering the fact that the price of labor had leed stea! ly increasing for 50 years, while for the same time the income of capital was decreasing.
