Saturday, the 29th ult., was observed throughout the country as memorial day. We could not have been favored with a more lovely day in every respect than last Saturday. The forenoon was devoted to the receiving and arranging the floral tributes at the Post room, and the little children vieing with each and Mr. Wm. Holt was killed. "Ed," other in their lovely display of flowers, prosession, headed by the Zion Cornet Band, formed in the diamond. Company "B" N. G. in full uniform followed the band, and next in order were the battle scared veterans of Gregg Post, No. 95, bearing with them many hand. decorated with nature's choices tributes. The Logan Hose boys in full regalia added very materially to the procession and presented a very creditable appearance. A large hack loaded with little girls dressed in white, each bear ing a boquet of choice flowers brought up the rear of the procession. The line of march was down High street to Spring; Spring to Bishop; Bishop to Allegheny; Allegheny to Howard thense to the Union Cemetery, where a hollow square was formed, inside of which were those who were to conduct the exercises. Commander, John Noll, read an address, which was followed by a dirge from the Zion band. The chaplain, Rev. Woodcock, then offered prayer, after which a choir composed of Messrs. Cal. Meyer, Schaeffer, Chas. Shuey, Lukenbach and Prof. Bierly, sang a memorial hymn. The graves within the square which attracted immediate attention were those of "James W. Ward, 46 Regt., Pa. Vol." "B. K. Armor, Pa. Malitia Vol." "Wm. Schrock, Pa. Vol. Militia." and "James Armor, War of 1812." These were decorated by Col. Keller, Dr. Geo. Keller introduced Mr. Murray, the orator of the evening, who delivered the finest oration our people have had the pleasure of listing to for some years. Many fearing the Hall, which is small, would be overcrowded stayed away while others attended the meeting at the rink and festival. This accounts to some extent for the small audience, for upon other occasions like this the Court House was unable to accommodate the people. -E. A. Nolan, of Snow Shoe, long and favorably known to the traveling public over the Bellefonte and Snow Shoe Railroad, was buried in Bellefonte on Tuesday of this week. He had been sick for over a year, his illness being find their reward for this, and, may attributed to his fall when the Miller's Spring Trestle went down in 1878. Mr. Nolen was quite seriously hurt then, as he was familiarly called, never fully were eagerly waiting to hand over their recovered from the shock. He was for beautiful boquets. At three o'clock the many years conductor on the road, was a member of the Borough Council and one of the charter members of the Undine Hose Company. No man had more or truer friends than had he, and his funeral was very largely attended. Services were held at the Catholic some floral designs, principally among church here, and the interment took them an immense cross elaborately place in the Catholic cemetery. At the grave the body was exposed to view and many old friends took their last look at the kindly face of a noble man. A widow and two children survive him. Mr. Nolan was kind, generous and brave, as many can testify who saw him on a certain occasion in our town, when an: gry crowd threatened the life of a citizen. Of a happy cheerful disposion life was full of pleasure to him, until his last and fatal illness attacked him. Yet even them, in moments of the most intense suffering he had a smile for his friends. He clung tenaciously to life and did not abandon hope until three days before he died when he realized that life for him was short. He died a faithful member of the Catholic church, a good neighbor and a model citizen. May be awake to eternal joy in the land beyond the river.
