him they were ready to go to work in a body in accordance with his notice, so at 12,30 the cars were started out-It is said that many of the old drivers applied at the stables and begged of Superintendent Robertson to be taken back. His unvarying reply, however, was: "It is to late; we don't need you now."

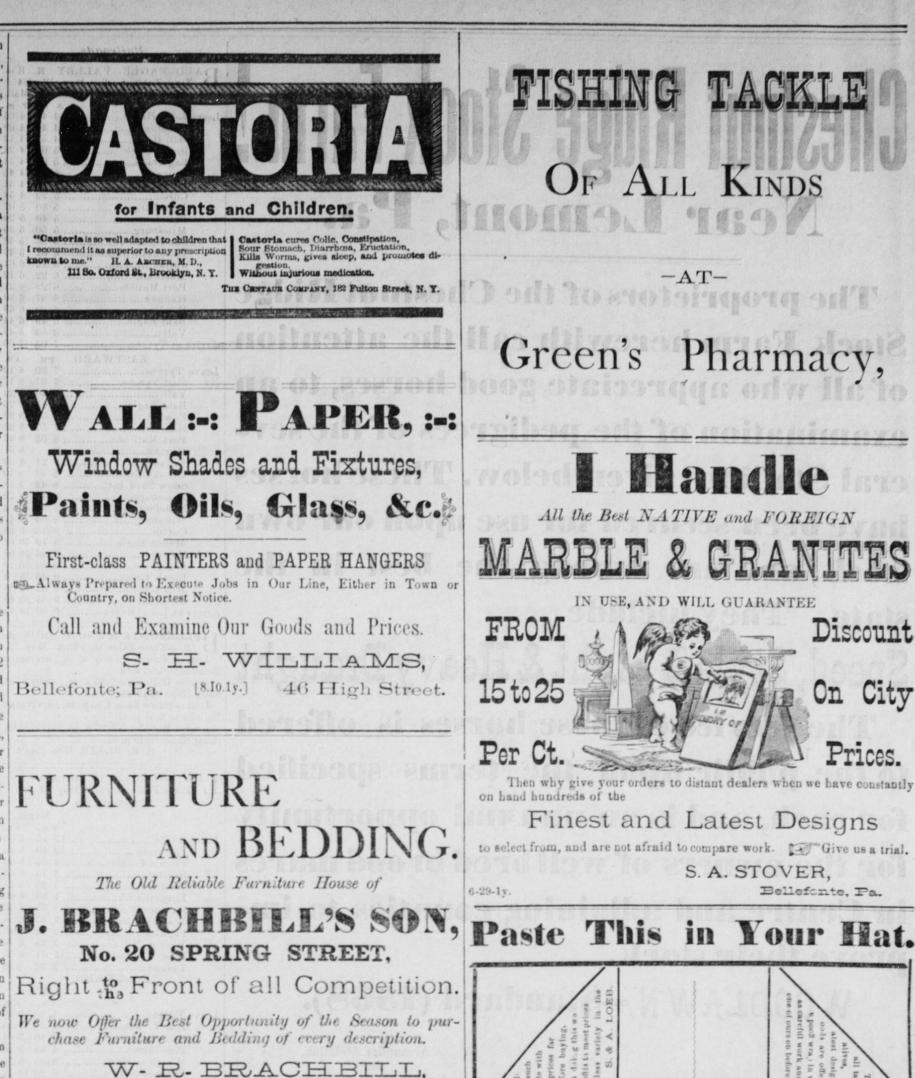

President Lyon, of the Third Avenue Road, to-day said: "This is a general surrender of the Knights that will mark the beginning of their final dissolution, and they may lay the whole blame to the incapacity and utter lack of honor and honesty in their leaders. It is a victory for the workingmen over the tyranny of ignorant and avaricious men whom they have allowed to lead them by the nose. We have beaten them at every point-at the strike, at the boycott and at the tie-up-and it has now become a fixed fact that we run our road regardless of their dictates."

The strikers now openly denounces the Executive Board as a set of rascals who had led them to a strike and encouraged them to hold out for weeks when they might have returned to work.

A Frightful Death.

From the Johnstown Tribune we learn that John Hughes, a young man about 22 years of age, met death in horrible manner shortly after 12 o'clock Sunday morning. He had been in attendance at a picnic and hop at Morrellville on Saturday. The festivities continued far into the night, and at their close he escorted to her home in the vicinity of the Ten-Acre one of the young women in attendance, Miss Burns by name. After leaving her he started for his home in Cambria, intending to cross the Teu Acre railroad bridge of the Cambria Iron Company. He had been drinking heavily, and while walking along the track of the Company sank to the ground and fell asleep, his head resting on one of the rails. An engine happened along about the time above indicated. The engineer and fireman did not notice the prostrate form on the road until within a few yards of it.

The fireman at once jumped from the engine and rushed forward in the hope of being able to save the man's A. M. E. Church, West High Street, Rev. Norris. Pastor. The New York Tie-Up.

NEW YORK, June 6.-At 10 o'clock this morning every street-car line in the city was in operation except those on Second avenue. The men of this line, listless and discontented, loitered about the corners and the side entrances of saloons after all other workmen had taken out their cars, They were much surprised to learn that all the other roads had resumed chapel. The chapel was nicely decoraoperations. Their attention was soon called to the following notice posted at the offices of the line.

June 6, 1886 .- The employes of the Second Avenue Railway Com. pany are hereby notified that unless they resume work before Monday, each man handed the Archbishop a slip June 7, their places will be consider- of paper upon which was written the ed vacant and new men will be employed to fill them. Competent men who may be engaged will be guaranteed steady employment. William S. Thorn, President.

Immediately one of the pickets of the tied-up line hastened with the news to the Executive Committee. The news that the Second Avenue Road proposed a fight like that of the Third avenue Road spread rapidly, and soon knots of the tied-up men began arriving at the depot. Shortly before noon the cooler heads began to consider the question of going back to work without orders, but soon a messenger came from the Exacutive by a majority of thirty. Committee wit permission for the men to resume work. Then the men stone moved an adjournment till went to President Thorn and told Thursday, which was adopted.

he sank back just as the fireman took hold of him and engine struck him before the fireman could move him The engineer at once proceed at the notify Mr Alexander Stackhouse o what had happened. Men were sent to the scene of the accident to take charge of the young man's body, a st they removed it to the residence of the father, Mr. Peter Hughes,on Rui road street. Cambris Borough. Lis funeral took place Monday.

Convict Converts.

CHICAGO, June 6 .- The Daily News, Joliet, Ill., special says: The Joliet Penitentiary was the scene of a most interesting event this forenoon. It was the conterring of the right of confirmation on one hundred and seventeen convicts by Archbishop Feehan, of Chicago. The ceremonies were conducted in the presence of a large number of outsiders and occurred in the prison ted with flowors for the occasion, and each convict was provided with a bunch of white flowers to pin upon his breast. At 9 o'clock the Archbishop commenced it was decided to return to work at the confirmation, assisted by a number the old rates The men have been on

Only Half Alive.

There are hosts of men and women who, to coin a phrase, are only half alive. That is to say, they have seldom small pains and aches. In the presence of vigorous, exuberant vitality they selves, swallowing in the course of the year enough drugs to stock any apothe cary's shop of average dimensions. This of course, defeats instead of furthering the end in view, viz., the recovery of health and vigor. Were they to seek it from an unfailing source of vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, how different would be their case. Then vigor would return to their debilitated frames the glow of health to their wan cheeks, grow firm and elastic, appetite that grandest of all sauces, would give a relish for the daily food, were it ever so coarse, and refreshing sleep would crown the tasks of the day.
