National Trade Unions.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The following is the full text of the bill passed by the Senate to legalize the incorporation of national trade unions:

Be it enacted, etc., That the term "National Trade Union," in the meaning of this act, shall signify any association of working people having two or more branches in the states or territories of the United States for the purpose of aiding its members to become more skillful and efficient workers, the promotion of their general intelligence, the elevation of their character, the regulation of their wages and the hours and conditions of labor; the protection of their individual rights in the prosecution of their trade or trades, the raising of funds for the benefit of the sick, disabled or unemployed members, or the families of deceased members, or for such other object or objects for which working people may lawfully combine, having in view their mutual protection or benefit.

SEC. 2.—The national trade unions shall, upon filing their articles of incorporation in the office of the Recorder of the District of Columbia become a corporation under the technical name by which said national trade union desires to be known to the trade, and shall have the right to sue and be sued, to plead and be pleaded, to grant and receive, by its corporate or technical name, property, and the proceeds and the income thereof, for the objects of said corporation as in its character defined; provided, that each such incorporated union shall hold only so much real estate as shall be necessary for the purposes of its incorporation.

SEC. 3.—That an incorporated national trade union shall have the power to make and establish such constitution rules and by-laws as it may deem proper to carry out its lawful objects, and the same to alter, amend, add to or repeal at pleasure.

SEC. 4.—That an incorporated national trade union shall have power to define the duties and powers of all its officers, and prescribe their mode of election and term of office, and to establish branches and sub-unions in any territory of the United States.

SEC. 5.—That the headquarters of an incorporated national trade union shall be indicated in the District of Columbia.

The bill now goes to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

A White Potato Rot.

MOORESTOWN, N. J. June, 10.—A peculiar disease has attacked the white potato crop in New Jersey and the Eastern Delaware river line of counties in Pennsylvania. Many acres have been seized with the disease, which is said to closely resemble the "black rot" of the sweet potato. Its first appearance was manifested in lower and the wester sections of the State. Hon. Edward S. Burrough, President of the State Board of Agriculture, said this morning that numerous complaints had come to him accompanied by requests as to the cause of the rot, and that in his judgment the disease is wholly occasioned by the wet weather.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—J. S. McCue, editor of the Valley Democrat of Los Angeles, Cal., last night attempted to make a speech on the labor question on Pennsylvania avenue, but was prevented by the police, who informed him that only the Gospel could be preached on the streets. He then announced that he would preach a sermon at the same place to night. A large and enthusiastic crowd of workmen assembled to night to hear him. He attacked the land grant system, and indirect taxation, and advised the locked out workmen to prepare for co-operation. The police did not put in an appearance.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Mrs. Samuel L. Vining, residing at No. 3613 St. Louis avenue, has received from Secretary of State Bayard information to the effect that she is about to receive from the United States Treasurer $1,000,000, awarded by the Court of claims under the terms of the French Spoilation bill. Mrs. Vining has prudently retained possession of her claim during all the uncertainty of its ever being paid, and now congratulates herself that she has not disposed of it as some others have theirs for what the lawyers were willing to pay.

The Oldest Hotel in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Moravians, under Count Zinzendorf, began the building of Bethlehem, and seventeen years later established the Sun Inn, now known as the Sun Hotel. Among its ante Revolution guests were John and Richard Penn. The former married a sister of James Allen, who founded Allentown. General Gage was a guest in 1772. During the trying days of the Revolution the Sun sheltered at different times Generals Washington, Morgan, Sullivan, Armstrong, Schuyler, Mifflin, Greene, Knox, Lee, and Lafayette. After the Brooklyn defeat the general hospital of the Continental army was established at Bethlehem. After the battle of the Brandywine, nine hundred army wagons were drawn to the rear of the Inn awaiting a British invasion which luckily did not come. In the basement of the hotel are still shown the prison cells in which Hessians, Tories and other British prisoners were confined. While excavating for water pipes at the foot of the hill in West Bethlehem on Monday of last week, workmen uncovered a number of human skeletons. They were probably either British or Continental soldiers buried during the Revolutionary war, but even the oldest inhabitants fail to be able to give any knowledge upon the subject. In 1865 Hon. Asa Packer was entertained at the Sun by a company representing three hundred million dollars.—Allentown Democrat.

Story of a Fiddle.

CHICAGO, June 4.—A bit of detective work, which illustrates how small the world is now, has been developed here. Two or three days ago Mayer Harrison received a formidable looking document, the envelope of which was nearly a yard long. The contents of the document were a statement by Solomon Finkelstein, of Potlava, Russia, to the effect that he was the owner of a violin which disappeared from Potlava in 1881, and at the same time Isaac Horovalch failed to show up about the village inn. Finkelstein assured the mayor that he was confident both Horovalch and the violin were in Chicago. The matter was placed in the hands of the detectives and yesterday they found both the man and the fiddle. Horovalch gave up the instrument willingly, saying it had only been borrowed.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—W. W. Reed, druggist, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "One of my customers, Mrs. Louisa Pike, Barton, Randolph Co., Ind., was a long sufferer with Consumption, and was given up to die by her physicians. She heard of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and began buying it of me. In six months' time she walked to this city, a distance of six miles, and is now so much improved she has quit using it. She feels she owes her life to it." Free Trial Bottle at J. Zeller & Son., Drug Store.

A Selingsgrove girl who has been looking under her bed night after night for ten years, fearing she might find a man concealed there, has, at last, announced her object completed. She found one, and in July will make him a benedict. A long search, but a successful one, say the boys down at Selingsgrove. We should say so.—Millburg Telegraph.

SAVED HIS LIFE.—Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisis, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by J. Zeller & Son.

A Mother Held for Abusing a Dying Daughter.

HARRISBURG, June, 12.—Oliver Bateman and his wife given a hearing before the Mayor, the former on a charge of refusing to keep his son, and the latter charged with assault and battery on a little step-daughter that led to her death. The evidence against the man was sufficient to hold him for trial. The testimony against the woman was shocking, it being proved by neighbors that she drove her little step daughter out of the house at night in mid-winter while she was ill and could hardly walk, and afterward beat her. Once when the little girl fell down through weakness the mother picked her up and threw her with great force on a lounge. Mrs. Bateman was held for court.
