—Mrs. Gen. Beaver has a "night-blooming cereus," in bloom. This rare and beautiful plant only blooms at night, and its delicate fragrance perfumes the whole house. The flower grows on a stem four or five inches long, which springs from the leaf of the plant, and is a pure white, with numerous delicate stamens and pistils. It is, when full blown, as large as an ordinary saucer. It is very rare, and among the most beautiful of all flowers. Mrs. Beaver takes great pleasure in showing it, and when about to bloom she always sends out and notifies her friends. The flower is short-lived, lasting only one night.

—ENTERTAINMENT.—A large and refined audience witnessed the musical and literary entertainment given in Humes' Hall on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Lutheran Church. The music furnished by our orchestra, which at all times is good, was exceptionally fine upon this occasion. The organization comprises the following excellent performers: Miss S. Ohnmacht, Dr. A. Hibler, F. Potts Green, Lemuel Bierly, Nathan Bierly, Robert Bierly, Jacob Loyn and Chas. Smith. Follow'ing the overture, was a select reading entitled "A Blissful Vision," by Rev. Chas. Steck which was rendered in a very pleasing manner and was heartily applauded. Miss Annie Grove, of the Pennsylvania State College, then favored the audience with a vocal solo, entitled "But the Lord is Mindful." Miss Grove has a contralto voice under perfect control, full of melody and sweetness, rich and powerful in the lower register, but owing to a severe cold, sang to some little disadvantage, hence did not respond to enchor although the audience seemed determined to have her answer, and kept up a continuous applause. Among other selections read and recited by Rev. Chas. Steck, were the "Burial of Moses," "Bernardo DelCarpio," "Hamlet" and "Poes Raven." His conception of the Shakesperian characters are the finest, and perhaps the most correct of any Shakesperian reader now before the public. His rendition of "Bernard Del-Carpio" and "Poes Raven" was very fine. The climax in the former piece, where the living King and his horse are lead up face to face with the dead, was the finest picture any artist could portray, and was highly appreciated by the audience.

The orchestra rendered the following selections during the evening: "Serenade Waltz," "A Night in Grenada," "Svedish Wedding March," "Silver Bells." Miss Grove sang a solo, entitled the "Lost Chord," in a very pleasing and artistic manner, and also a duet with Mr. C. E. Schaeffer. Among the tableaux were "The Spider and the Fly," represented by Miss Ida Gerbrick and Ed Richard. Another "The New Mother" third and last "Pawning the Wedding Gown."

Too much credit cannot be given to Ida Gerbrick, Ella Rhone and Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer, in the manner in which they arranged the tableaux, and for their untiring efforts to make their part of the programme a success. The entertainment throughout was a success financially and in every other respect, and was enjoyed by those present. We understand they realized about $100, over and above expenses.

—Thursday the 24th of June is the date of the musical concert to be given in Humes Hall under the management of Prof. Bierly of New York. The class which is quite large embraces some of the best musicians in town, and under the special training of this popular instructor they will no doubt render "Farmers Mass in B Flat" (which is to form a very important feature in the programme,) in excellent style. The chorus is strong, and the leading roles will be well sustained. Duets, quartets and solos, instrumental and vocal solos, will be among the additional features at the concert. Prof. Bierly thoroughly understands how to drill a large chorus and his abilities in this art is fully appreciated by those who attend. He is the first who has attempted anything of the kind here, and the manner in which he has accomplished such good results, is a source of gratification to all. He has succeeded in arousing an interest, in short a long felt want in this direction. For outside of a few the knowledge of the elemental principal of music has greatly been neglected in Bellefonte when it comes down to a test of reading music. Prof. Bierly will no doubt be able to raise a very large class here, after the close of his concert, should he conclude to remain among us.

—About 125 of our citizens went to State College on Saturday to witness the game of ball between the College boys and a select nine from this place. Out of that number we are confident there will not be a half dozen who will attend the commencement exercises at that institution, from the fact that they were made the object of unbecoming remarks and insinuations by the students. Our citizens were utterly disgusted, and speak in the most unfavorable terms of the treatment received at the hands of the students. Such actions always reflect very discreditably upon an institution and its management. These evils together with a few others should be remedied, and the sooner the better. The President surely should have control over a handful of students. The conduct of a few in the rear of the college chapel last commencement, so thoroughly disgusted some of our people, that they have attended the exercises for the last time under the present management at least.

Mr. Will Hastings brother of Col. D. H. Hastings, quietly slipped off for a two months visit in Europe on last Thursday. A man of Mr. Hastings' education and experience, who is familiar with and speaks six or eight different languages fluently, can enjoy a trip to any part of the world, and especially to Europe.

A serious accident occurred to Mrs. John J. Packer, who lives near Romola this county, on Friday last, which might have proven fatal. Mr. and Mrs. Packer are quite elderly people, and the former desiring to attend church at Howard, his wife volunteered to accompany him as far as what is known as the "divide." Accordingly a horse was hitched up, and when the divide was reached, Mr. Packer alighted from the buggy. In turning around the vehicle was overturned and Mrs. Packer thrown to the ground, breaking her right arm near the shoulder, and other wise badly bruising and injuring her person. She is also injured inwardly. Medical aid was immediately summoned, and the old lady made as comfortable as possible. We hope to hear of her speedy recovery.

—We regret to say that our "devil" had the temerity to tackle base ball the other evening, and is now in the Hospital undergoing the repairs incident to an indulgence in the national game. Usually he is a whole nine, with the umpire and the boss grumbler thrown in. Now he is as gentle as a day old lamb. He played all the important positions in the field. A catcher, he took a "foul" off the bat into the right eye, that member will not open for business this week. While pitching he stopped a "liner" with his stomach, result, stomach very much out of order. While making a "home run" he attempted to "slide" from third to "home plate" on his left arm. The carpenter has nailed two shingles on that arm. He is a physical wreck, but he enjoyed himself all the same. We have had an ante mortem examination made and the evidence is ready to set up. An inventory shows one damaged eye, one broken arm, three fingers stove up, sprained ankle, broken nose, volcanic stomach etc., everything broken and disorganized save his spirit. We have sixteen pounds of raw beef on different parts of his body, and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery.

—"Who will care for Mrs. Most, while 'Herr Most' is in Sing Sing Penitentiary? He was 'Herr Most' intimate friend, you know.

—A colored man by the name of Leonard Smith, a harmless and helpless individual who hails from Williamsport and who makes a visit to this town about once a year, soliciting aid, was greatly imposed upon on last Thursday evening by a crowd of boys and policeman Josh Fouk. The poor old crippled and wounded veteran was scarcely able to lift one foot after another and while plodding along the streets of our town was insulted and taunted by a lot of boys until he became angry and threatened the boys. At this juncture Josh Folk, who never arrests any person but some unfortunate or drunken individual, who is entirely helpless, bounced down upon him and dealt several severe blows with his black jack and took him off to the lockup. This cowardly treatment upon the part of Fouk, was uncalled for, in this case, Had he arrested the young men who were imposing upon him, it would have been performing his official duty in the proper way. There is entirely too much skull cracking done by some members on the police force, in this town.

—CHILDRENS DAY.—Was observed in most all of the churches on Sunday last. The most interesting exercises being held in the methodist church, which was most handsomely and artistically decorated with sweet scented flowers of every description; pyramids, arches and other designs, were arranged with excellent taste. The children occupied a platform, which was placed over the pulpit, and dressed in pure white they presented a very pretty picture. Speeches were made by a number of little folks, while the choir rendered some excellent music. An address of welcome was made by master Charley Noll, and speeches were delivered by Roland Curtin, Harry Irvin, Wallace Reeder, and by the following little girls: Elsie and Emma Horkheimer, Birdie Noll, and Annie Stott.

—Prof. Bierly is meeting with success in his large vocal class. Those who attend, speak in the highest and most commendable terms of the Professor's ability as an instructor. There are many more might attend the elementary class with advantage to themselves even those who are wont to think themselves proficient in the art of reading music. This is the first attempt made to raise a singing class upon so large a scale, and Prof. Bierly has reason to congratulate himself upon his success. In the future the trouble of getting up anything of the kind, will be greatly obviated in as much as many see the absolute necessity of more elementary training in the principles of music.

—Phillipsburg has a very generous and appreciative set of ladies. Last week the members of the W. C. T. U. gave a supper and ice cream festival for the benefit of the Reliance Hose Company, of that town. The proceeds over and above the expenses were $300. There was a little fire out there and the boys did some excellent work and as an evidence of the hearty appreciation of the citizens they aided them in the aforesaid manner. We had a little fire here over a year ago, on one of the coldest nights of winter, when the water froze to ice upon the faithful boys, but our boys did not fair as well as the Phillipsburgers.

—It has been decided to build the nail mill on the grounds of W. Kistler, located west of the P. & E. road house, and fronting on Spring street. The plot contains about four acres of ground is level, and being close to the railroad and freight depot, is well adapted for the purpose. This afternoon surveyors will commence the work of measuring and staking the ground. The work of building the mill will immediately follow.—Lock Haven Democrat

—The prospects are pretty bright for Milesburg getting the large furnace to be erected by Messrs. Collins. They have been looking for a location at this place, but the land sharks will not sell an inch of ground unless they sell the whole farm, and for that they ask $50,000. Messrs Collins are about disgusted with this kind of action, and are seriously thinking of locating elsewhere. They wanted to locate somewhere near Coleville, but can not purchase the land for any figure.

—The Bellefonte exchanges are of the opinion that a larger hall is needed in that town for public gatherings. It is a very good idea to accommodate all those who wish to attend any demonstration by having a comfortable room large enough to seat the entire audience.—Clearfield Republican.

—The Milesburg school Board pay their teachers the following wages: Principal $60, Assistant $28, six months term. "The way of the school teacher is hard," a better way would be to "board around."

—The newspaper fraternity congratulate themselves over the new postal law recently put in force by the post-office department. It makes the taking of a newspaper, and refusing to pay for the same, theft, and any person guilty of such action is liable to criminal proceedings the same as if he had stolen goods to the amount of the subscription. Hereafter it will not be considered a very shrewd scheme to take a newspaper from the postoffice for a year and then inform the editor that you never ordered it sent to you.—Ex

—Curtin street is being built up quite rapidly, but with but little regard to uniformity as to the location of the building. One individual will put his house back thirty feet from the side walk, the next man crowd his out to within an inch of his line, while a third will put up on a go-between, say ten or twelve feet from the walk. Order, which would add very materially to the appearance of this beautiful street, is the last thing thought of.

—The Salvation Army have tackled Clearfield, and will shake up the dry bones of that ancient "burg." The first noticeable change will likely be among the editorial fraternity of that town, as the mission of the army is to first reform the most unreformable.
