The Game of base ball between the Black Diamonds and the Muckamullens on last Saturday, resulted in a score of 25 to 19 in favor of the Black Diamonds.

Read Lieut. Gov. Black's letter of acceptance and then ask yourself the question whether any true democrat can conscientiously cut the state or county ticket.

Mr. George Blackford has placed a new glass front in his building on Bishop street, and otherwise improved the interior of the same, and now has an excellent eating room and restaurant.

Jacob brothers manufacture all kinds of candies, and store keepers throughout the country will do well to write them for prices. The address is 10 West Bishop street, Bellefonte Pa.

Wednesday's Altoona Times say W. J. Brennan the Republican candidate for Auditor General and J. M. Beaden as in Harrisburg. The Times evidently is not very familiar with the candidates.

The Veterans picnic was very largely attended on Saturday. The regular excursion train contained eight cars, and every one was crowded, while the regular trains carried a large number of passengers.

A mischievously inclined young rascal broke one of the panes of glass in Ying Wah's laundry the other day. Another was broken, caused by the slamming of a door during the wind storm of Saturday.

On last Saturday an old individual attempted to set fire to Mr. Koehlbekers stable in Milesburg, and then to a hay stack. He was arrested and is now hoarding with Sheriff Walker. It is supposed he is deranged.

The present style the ladies have of doing up their hair is slovenly, and untidy to say the least, but is a great convenience to the girl who does not have time to comb, or who is to lazy, for the elastic condition of her hair is exquisite style.

Prof. De Voe predicts an earthquake on the 26th of this month and an ill colored woman says the world will come to an end on the 29th inst., but Ed Powers will continue to sell boots and shoes at prices more astonishing than an earthquake.

Last night Miss Louise Pomeroy and her excellent company produced "As You Like It," to a good sized audience. She is an actress of wonderful expression, and dramatic force, and her support, Mr. Arthur Elliot, is an actor justly deserving the position he now holds, and the fame he has already achieved. To-night "Camille" will occupy the boards. Don't fail to see this excellent star.

Dress goods—Garman's. Mayor Smith was impeached by a vote of 49 to 38 at the meeting of the council on Monday night.

The Lock Haven Democrat always was a good paper but it is bound to grow better under its present editor, Joe Furey.

Prof. Francis Speer who so successfully conducted a night school in this place last winter, will open a night school in one of the rooms of the public building in the near future. All those who cannot attend school during the day should attend this night school.

On last Friday a young man by the name of Campbell was riding upon a load of mine props on a tram road near Paddy Run on the L. and T. R. R. near the Centre and Union county line, when the car left the track and threw Mr. Campbell against a tree instantly killing him.

On Friday a fancy pillow belonging to one of the lady boarders at the Bush House accidentally blew out of an up stairs window, falling into the creek. The stream carried it along its course until it reached the dam just below the end of the Bush House yard, where it was recovered by an employe of the house.

On Monday a man was struck by the night train between Dunbar and Osceola and instantly killed. He was seen on the railroad at a distance, and the train gave the signal but could not be stopped in time. His neck was broken. We have not learned his name but he is supposed to be from Pittsburg and was working in the neighborhood of Osceola.

The Special Delivery System will be extended to all offices on the first of October. A ten cent delivery stamp will insure prompt delivery to any point within a distance of one mile of the postoffice. Heretofore the system was only in use in larger cities, no towns with less than four thousand, being entitled to the system. Now that it has been extended to all offices, it will no doubt be a success.

The following is the Greenback ticket as nominated at Harrisburg, Thursday of last week: For Governor, Robert J. Houston, Lancaster; Lieutenant governor, John Parker, Schuylkill; Auditor General, Daniel S. Early, Harrisburg; Secretary of Internal Affairs, Seth H. Hoagland, Mercer; Congressman-at-large, Dr. C. D. Thompson, Venango. T. P. Rynder was re-elected chairman of the executive committee.

The complimentary democratic votes General Beaver might have received in this county are growing beautifully less, and will continue, so long as his organ is allowed to slander and grossly misrepresent respectable men. Feidler is always looking after some persons private character. Is Mr. Feidler's personal character above reproach? Mr. Feidler taught school in Renovo. He also attended the Lock Haven Normal, then did not attend, then did attend? Now this is the man who attempts to assail the personal character of such men as Rhone, Woodward, Schaeffer and other respectable gentlemen his superiors in every respect.

The wedding of Mr. Thomas Brennan, of Braddock Pa. and Miss Alice, the charming daughter of Mr. Lawrence Cooney, of this place occurred on Thursday morning last at the Catholic church in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Miss Maggie Cooney, sister of the bride was bridesmaid, and Mr. Jas. Brennan brother of the groom, was groomsmen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father P. McArdle. The bride was attired in white satin with long white lace veil and orange blossoms. The groom was attired in a suit of black. The bridesmaid wore pink satin. The happy couple departed for Braddock on Friday where they will make their future home. They have the best wishes of the Democrat, for their future happiness and prosperity.

FATAL ACCIDENT—The sad and fatal accident which occurred at Gatesburg ore bank on Thursday night between seven and eight o'clock, and which caused the death of Mr. Joseph Garber, a highly esteemed young man of this county, cast a shadow of gloom over that community that is not easily dispelled. On Thursday Joe, as he was familiarly called, attended the Granger's picnic, returning about six o'clock, and immediately repairing to the bank, commenced work. Several hours later the paymaster called Joe up to receive his monthly pay, and it was while returning to his work that the mass of ore fell. He was in the act of picking up his shovel, when suddenly and without warning, the huge messenger of death fell, striking the unfortunate man upon the head, and crushing it into an unrecognizable shape. Fellow workmen who witnessed the accident were horrified and for an instant were speechless. Recovering they gave the alarm, which brought assistance and the debris was removed. The body was carried to the engine room, and Dr. Harris sent for, who, upon arrival shaped the crushed head into the best possible form, and the body removed to the residence of his heart-broken parents. A sister of the deceased who was confined to her bed by illness, sprang from her couch and descended the stairs, wildly bemoaning her dead brother's fate. What makes the affair doubly sad is the fact that Mr. Garber was shortly to be married to a very estimable young lady of this place, who has the sympathy of the community.

Deceased was about thirty years of age and had been working at ore mining ever since he has been able to work at all. Mr. Frank Garber, his father, was also engaged at the same place until about three weeks ago. The slide of ore was due to no carelessness or fault to any one, but was purely accidental, and unlooked for. The rain of the previous day softened the mass, which caused the fall. Immediately after the accident work was suspended in the Gatesburg, Taylor and Nye banks, and was not resumed again until Monday. The family of the deceased has the sympathy of everybody.

The funeral which occurred on Sunday afternoon, was one of the largest that has taken place in Bellefonte for some time. Long before the hour for the services at the Catholic church, the edifice was filled, and when the funeral arrived it was impossible for all to gain admittance. The Knights of Labor, of which he was a member, attended in a body, and the pall bearers were also members of that organization. Upwards of forty carriages and a large number of people a-foot followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery, where interment took place.

The Seventh Annual Convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Central Pennsylvania will be held in Bellefonte on September 28th and 29th. The order of exercises is nicely arranged and the topics for discussion are of interest to every person. Among those to be present from a distance who are assigned a topic are Mrs. S. A. Fair and Miss Kate Furst of Salona, Miss Dornblaser and Mrs. Dum of Mackeyville, Miss Minnie D. Bright of Wheeling, W. Va., Mrs. Rev. Gladhill of Newport, Pa.; Mrs. Rev. Lisher of McAllesterville, Miss Blanch Dale of Lemont, Mrs. Rev. Lenhart of Rebersburg, Mrs. Rev. Zimmerman of New York, Rev. Ukle of Indiana, Rev. J. A. Clutz of Baltimore, and other prominent ministers.

The steam fitting apparatus of the Steam Heating Company having been sold to W. T. Buck of this place, that gentleman will hereafter place the fixtures for heating purposes in all buildings where it is desired to obtain warmth by that process. Mr. Buck has secured the services of an experienced hand from Lock Haven, who will assist in superintending the work, while Mr. George Harmon, of this place, a competent workman, has been engaged as fitter. The residence of T. R. Reynolds and the jail building are now being supplied with heating fixtures.

The silly assertions made by the Gazette is only coining votes for the democratic party. Democrats vote the democratic ticket, because they are democrats, and through democratic principals. No democrat is going to sacrifice democratic principals and vote against the state or county ticket to please the Gazette. Nor are they going to believe the lies he is circulating with the hope of capturing any portion of the vote. The carpet bag editor can pack his grip sack for salt siver at any time.

The rain and wind storm on Friday blew down the large bill board on Spring street, and upset several trees.

Wm. E. Gould, cashier of the First National Bank of Portland, Me., is defaulter to the amount of $87,000.

The foundation for the new school building is almost completed.

Mrs. Lizzie Kitzmiller and daughter of Williamsport were in town on Friday for a few hours.

Judge Mayer and daughter of Lock Haven, have been spending the week in Bellefonte, among their friends.

Miss Kate Curtin daughter of ex-Gov. Curtin, returned home on Tuesday. She is still afflicted with rheumatism.

Messrs. George and Will Davis of Snow Shoe two of the leading miners of that district were in town on Friday.

Mrs. Frank McCumpsey, of Renovo who has been a guest at the residence of W. I. Fleming, returned to her home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates and baby spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Gate's parents in Loveville. Mrs. G. is visiting there this week.

Mr. Frank Grice formerly of this place but now located in Brooklyn is spending a few days at the residence of Col. W. H. Wilkinson.

Mr. Hard Harris departed on Wednesday for Canton Ohio, on an extended visit. If he likes the place he may locate in that flourishing city.

Mr. John Youngman correspondent of the Philadelphia Times occupied the editorial chair in the Watchman office this week, made vacant by Joe Furey.

Mr. Frank Radford departed for New York, Saturday, where he has secured a lucrative position with George Chase the steam fitter, who recently located there.

Mr. Michael Corman, of Zion, was an early caller at our office on Monday morning. He is a very pleasant and intelligent gentleman, and one with whom it is a pleasure to converse.

Mr. Wm. Eboch one of the reliable and straightforward democrats of Phillipsburg, was in town on Wednesday on business and spent several hours in pleasant conversation in our office. Mr. Eboch is a very pleasant gentleman and is always a welcome caller.

Mrs. Hewitt wife of our former distinguished townsman Rev. Jno. Hewitt, now of Fremont Nebraska is visiting friends in Bellefonte, this week. Her many friends were delighted to again meet her, and upon all hands you could hear the anxious inquiry and the expressed desire to see Rev. Mr. Hewitt. Mr. Hewitt's friends in Bellefonte, were not confined to the members of his church, but to all who knew him out side.

Since the firm of Powers & Son has dissolved partnership and Ed Powers has become the proprietor of this well established place of business, we can truthfully say that the terms upon which Mr. Ed Powers purchased the business enables him to sell the entire stock of boots, shoes, slippers etc., of the old firm at rock bottom prices. In short you can not purchase goods in this line anywhere else in the country as cheap as at this store. The stock of the old firm must be sold to make room for the new goods which are daily arriving from the city. Ladies and gentlemen I will guarantee that I can suit you in price and quality, style and comfort, and ask you to come in and examine our large and select stock. My stock positively is the largest in the county and an examination will prove what we say to be true.

For several years liquor has been sold in the neighborhood of Chester Heights and Brandywine Summit Camp Meeting and at other large gatherings on the Baltimore Central Railroad, Constable Griffith and Squire Ackley, of Rockdale, on Saturday arrested Wm. Ray, colored, of Philadelphia, whom they caught in the act of stealing in a secluded place in Smith's woods, above Lenni station. About a dozen young men were about him, some intoxicated, and when taken Ray confessed his guilt. He will be held for court.—Delaware Democrat.

The McFarlane hardware firm are just "spreading themselves" out with their elegant assortment of stoves of all kinds; they are determined to accommodate everybody that needs anything in the stove line. They call particular attention to the new regulator cooks, Apollo ranges and specialties in fine heating stoves.

The 6th annual Exhibition of the Clearfield Agricultural Park Association will be held in that place on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday September 28th, 29th, 30th, and October 1st, 1886. The premium list is large and liberal, and everything indicates a very successful exhibition. We acknowledge compliments from the managers.

Sons of A. J. Drexel, Jay Gould and Jas. G. Blaine, were married during the week. Young Blaine has not yet reached his majority and the only witness present was the priest.

Miss Pomeroy as "ROSALIND."—Last evening Miss Louise Pomeroy made her second appearance at Ferguson's Theatre. The audience was a large and appreciative one. Miss Pomeroy appeared as Rosalind in Shakespear's romantic comedy, "As You Like It." Miss Pomeroy presented the various features of the character in a most pleasing and effective manner. Her vivacity and wit, interwoven with womanly tenderness and delicacy drove away all skeptical inclination and made the audience a host of admirers. Mr. Arthur Elliot rendered the charming actress excellent support by the presentation of Orlando; and Miss Margery Robinson was a very pleasing Phoebe. It would not be fair to overlook the Touchstone of Cryptie Palmoni. He handled the part skillfully and with care. The remainder of the company filled the bill creditably. The costumes worn during the play were fine. That worn by Miss Pomeroy in the first act was very beautiful and showed the handsome features and graceful form of the charming actress to perfection.

This evening Miss Pomeroy will appear in Shakespear's tragedy of "Romeo and Juliet."—Shenandoah Evening Progress.

The Cambria Freeman says. Something over one year ago, a vagrant boy came to the home of Moses Miller, near Stoystown, Somerset county. He was taken in, given a home and adopted by Mr. Miller. The family grew very much attached to the lad. A few weeks ago it was discovered that the boy was the son of a gentleman named Powell, who resides at Manistee, Michigan. The boy had been kidnapped by a tramp and abandoned in the eastern part of Westmoreland county, near Stoystown. Some days ago, the lad's father arrived at that place, reclaimed his lost son and took him home again to the north-west.

Ex-Senator Simon Cameron in a letter conveying one thousand dollars to the Charleston relief fund, says: "I always associate your city and state with my recollections of your great statesman, M. Calhoun, who occupied so commanding position in the state and before the country at my first entrance upon public life, more than 40 years ago. He received me in the senate with the greatest kindness, and during the remainder of his life I was permitted, not only to show, with others, admiration of his singular simplicity, elevation and dignity of character, but also to experience almost daily some proof of his personal consideration and regard."

On Monday morning, says the Delaware Democrat, Mrs. Sheppard, who resides on the Middletown road, near Dutton's mill, was accidentally shot by her brother, William McElroy, and dangerously wounded. He was handling the gun in the house, and in some manner the load went off, the contents entering Mrs. Sheppard's back. There is some hope of her recovery, though her wounds are of a serious nature. McElroy is distracted with grief.

Robert Anderson, superintendent of the Chester Water Works, is short in his accounts about $5,000. After admitting his guilt he was promptly removed. He was a prominent member of a church, and was highly respected.

Cambria county has 466 pensioners who draw from the national treasury every month the sum of $3431.74.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Barnhart are visiting friends in Clearfield county. We wish them a merry time. Many persons in this place were disappointed in not getting to the Grangers picnic on Thursday last, on account of inclement weather. We imagine the good chicken and cake devoured at home on that day, also many jars of pickles, preserves, and other catables to numerous to mention.

Mrs. Mary Stein with her sons Frank, Floyd and Gordy, have returned from a visit to friends in Millin.

A pleasant event occurred on Wednesday evening last at the residence of Mr. Samuel Barger. It was a surprise party gotten up by the neighbors to visit old mother Barger on the eve of her eighty ninth birthday. The old lady was much surprised at the coming of so many of her friends at one time, but all were made welcome. This aged lady is remarkably smart for one of her years, as she does a great deal of her house work herself. She was always a great home person, seldom going anywhere, but fond of children, and her friends are numerous. We wish her many pleasant years added to her already long lease of life.

Farmers are about done sowing, and are now busy with clover seed and buckwheat. We judge from the amount of the latter that the ladies will have a fine lot of cakes to bake the coming winter. And then for some "fresh pork" along with the cakes. My how good.

Curtin & Co. are having a new hearth placed in the furnace.

A Sportsman's Manual.

As the autumnal gunning season draws nigh a demand arises for information concerning the best ranges of game and the water-ways most prolific of fowl. For the purpose of supplying such a demand, the Passenger Department of the Philadelphia, Wilmington, Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad Company has published a work entitled "A Paradise for Gunners and Anglers." The little volume is an exhaustive treatise on the game birds, water fowl, and fishes of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Peninsulas, their haunts, habits, and characteristics. An excellent map of the territory, showing the location of streams and the means of access and handsome illustrations of the rarer specimens of birds and fish serve both to embellish and contribute to the interest of the book. Information as to the game laws, the time when certain game most abound, the procurement of guides, boats &c., and in fact everything which would make the way of the sportsman clear, is furnished in ample detail.

The book is distributed gratuitously and may be procured by addressing Jas. R. Wood General Passenger Agent Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, Philadelphia Pa.

On last Saturday Jacob Gelterman was assaulted and robbed on the highway leading over Wisler's Hill. He came to Columbia in the morning, visited the banking house of E. K. Smith & Co. and drew his pension of $72. After securing his money he opened his vest and placed it in an inside pocket. Upon leaving the bank he saw two smooth faced strangers who were apparently watching him but did not consider it any serious matter. After paying some bills he started for his home in Newtown At the summit of Wisler's Hill he was suddenly assaulted by two men, each wearing false whiskers. One of them seized him by the throat and overpowered him, the other straightway tore open his vest, cut away the inside pocket and secured the money. Mr. Gelterman says they were the same men he saw outside the bank. The manner of the robbery indicates this. The police are endeavoring to trace the robbers, though so far without success. His loss is about $55.—Columbia Herald.

The GREAT CIRCUS.—Yesterday was Forpaugh's day. It seemed early in the morning as if the elements had conspired against the great circus manager but later on the rain ceased, the sky cleared up and the day turned out to be a pleasant one. The gigantic parade was held in the forenoon and was witnessed by thousands of people who had assembled all along the line of march. Forepaugh and his circus are so well known throughout the country that the mere announcement of the fact that he will exhibit at any place is at any time sufficient to bring all the people to town for miles around.

Several new features were advertised for yesterday's exhibition the most important being the great Blondin horse who walks a tight rope suspended about twenty feet above ground. Everything advertised was duly carried out. The performing ponies, performing dogs, and the many equestrian acts brought forth the applause of the audience as did all the other exhibitions given. The trapeze performances given were pronounced by many as most daring and best ever seen.

But the most enjoyable part of the programme was perhaps the exhibition of the performing elephants. All the elephants did remarkably well, but the clown elephant Picaniny came in for the greatest share of applause. The usual exciting races ended the long programme. Among them were jockey races, elephant races, Roman chariot races, clown and donkey races, ladies' steeple chase, ponies and monkey races, camel races and wheelbarrow races.—Buffalo Daily Times.

This famous show will exhibit in Bellefonte on Tuesday the 12th of October. The grandest street parade that we have ever had in Bellefonte will occur. Don't fail to attend.
