A Leap to Death.

A FATAL FIRE IN A NEW YORK FACTORY

NEW YORK October 7 .- A fire broke out early this morning in the four story factory building Nos. 63 to 67 Bayard street. It is David Block's old tinware factory and has been on fire a number of times before. Since the tinware factory has been removed tailors, cloak manufactures and quilt makers have taken possession of the building, eight different firms having shops in it, three of the cloak manufacturers being Samuel Paul, Joseph Weiner and Nathan Fried, on the fourth floor.

Between fifty and seventy-five men women and children were at work when the fire occurred. Samuel Paul's employes escaped by the the east stairway which was unobstructed, to the street. The employes of the other establishments could not escape by the west s airway, their path being blocked by flames and dense smoke, to face which meant death.3The fire was below them in Hollander's quilt factory.

The frightened employes then made for the roof of the building. They last

Mr. Powderly's Reply.

In his reply to Governor Lee's ad. dress Mr. Powderly spoke very strongly and happily, he said .

The Knights of Labor were grateful for the kind words of welcome which had just been uttered, and they would always remember to day's reception. They came to Richmond not as an army bent on destruction, nor as representatives of any section, but on a mission of peace. The curtain had dropped forever upon the last scene in which the common people of the United States would stand arrayed as enemies. Knights of Labor were engaged in a conflict; but it was a war of truth against error, and not, as many believed, one of labor against capital. The manhood of Ameri_ can labor was fighting for recognition. The Knights of Labor had come together not alone to settle a wages dispute or hours of labor; they had assembled to also learn some lessons of the head and heart in practical citizenship. Every member was burdened with a solemn responsibility, for he has pledged his knightly word to work until success shall have crowned his efforts or death put an end to his labors on earth. "We are Knights of Labor," said Mr. Powderly, "because we believe to whom belongs the soul, it is his, even unto heaven," because we believe that the rights of the poorest man or woman of toil should stand forth more clearly and be treated with more respect than the privileges conferred upon or stolen bythe wealthiest in the nation ; because poli ticians and political parties have deceiv ed, degraded and debauched the people; because they have too often gained power through deception and fraud and in return for the confidence reposed in them have basely deserted the common people and knelt at the shrine of gold." The lash was stricken from the hand of the slaveowners twenty-five years ago, and it must be taken form the hand of the new slaveowners as well. Monopoly alone is responsible for every manifes' tation of anarchy which has been witnessed. It is the legitimate child of monopoly. In conclusion Mr. Powderly said that it was the duty of every

Knight of Labor to assist in creating a healthy public opinion on the subject of labor and the justice of its receiving a full and just share of the values of capital it had helped to create. Knights of Labor had made mistakes ; but, being mortal, they could not do otherwise. These mistakes have been magnified into crimes. Individual members have gone astray, and the order has been held responsible for their offences. These things are wrong. It is not just to charge the order with wrong doing because one member or one assembly nolates the laws of the order or the reached the flat roof with clothes sfire and half smothered. Already the just Labor to hold all employers responsi. deserted rooms were on fire and to stay ble for an act of oppression of individu" on the roof was to perish, as the flames al employer. ### Horrible Crime

HAZLETON, Pa., October 10 .--- The finding of the murdered and outraged body of Mrs. Bruzunsks in the woods near Jeddo yesterday has caused great excitement among the people of that vicinity, and a clue to the murders has been discovered. A Hungarian named J. Zulbins, one of the victim's boarders, has been missing since the horrible deed was perpetrated, and he is suspected of having murdered the woman. Zulbina was the only person who could give information about the whereabouts of the woman just before she was missed by her relatives. He is still at large but, it is thought, will be captured within a few days.

On Trial for Murder.

MADRID, Spain, October 7 .- Father Caleote, the priest who killed Mgr. Isquierdo, bishop of Madrid, on Palm Sunday in revenge for having been silenced as a priest, attempted during the progress of his trial to-day to read to the court a long narrative of his grievances against the bishop. The priest was much excited when the court refused to permit the reading of the parrative and ordered the manuscript to be left with the judge for further consideration. The prosecution then closed its case. The defense asked for the prisoner's acquittal on the ground that he was not responsible for his actions when he killed the bishop. The court reserved its decision.
