When the question of the tenure of Affice was under consideration yester: day Mr. Powderly made a motion to extend the term to three years but this was defeated and the one: year term was adopted. But this action was reconsidered this morning, and a proposed amendment to the constitu: tion, extending to two years the terms of all general officers except those of the members of the Co:operative Board, was taken up and adopted. The term of the members of the Co: operative Board remains as at present.

At the afternoon session it was de: cided to divide the office of General Secretary Treasurer. Charles Litchman, of Marblehead, Mass., was placed in nomination for the of: fice of Secretary by James Campbell of Pittsburg. The nomination was seconded by Tom O'Reilly, of New York. The only candidate nominat: old. ed in opposition was Joseph Buchan: an, of Denver, Colorado. Litchman was elected by more than 130 majori:

Frederick Turner, the present Gen: eral Secretary: Treasurer, was nomina: ted for General Treasurer by B. F. Trevelick of Detroit, Mich., seconded by James E. Quinn, of New York. The only candidate nominated in op: position was H. Beckmeyer, of New Jersey. Mr. Turner was elected by more than 200 majority.

When the nomination and election of General Master Workman were declared in order Mr. Powderly vacat: ed the chair, General Worthy Fore: man Griffith taking his place. The nomination of Mr. Powderly for Gen Master Workman was made by E. F. Gould of Indianapolis, and seconded by Tom O'Reilly of New York, both of whom are Telegraphers. More than 100 delegates shouted "have the election made by acclamation." When Mr. Griffith put the question there was a storm of "ayes." When the "noes' were called for there was one solitary "no." It came from Henry Beckmeyer, who heads the delegation from District Assembly No. 51, of New Jersey. This delegation wears a yel low badge with the motto: "Solid for harmony." There was no candi: date placed in nomination in opposiwon to Mr. Powderly, and he received the votes of the 647 delegates present.

When Mr. Griffith was nominated or re:election as General Worthy Foreman the only candidate nominat: ed in opposition wrs R, Bennett, of Illinois, Mr. Bennett received only 50 votes and Mr Griffith's election was made unanimous.

There will be no election for Gen: eral Insurance Secretary, the office now held by Homer L McGaw, as the office has been abolished by the adoption of an amendment to the con: stitution.

Balloting for members of the Ex ecutive Board then began. The foll lowing names were placed in nomina tion: John W. Hayes, of New Jer. sey; Thomas B. Barry, of Michigan W. H. Baily of Ohio; T. B. McGuire of New York; Tom O'Reilly, of New York; Joseph Buchanan, of Colorado; William H. Mullen, of Richmond Va-Ira B. Avlsworth, of Baltimore, Md.' and John Howe of Masschusetts. An informal ballot was taken in which tive party unorganized, but in their Mr. Haves led in the number of votes polled, with Mr. Barry second. Some delegates wanted to continue voting, but a motion to adjourn until to-mor- hesitating speaker. The fluent liberal row morning was put up and carried orators called forth storms of applause

The work of revising the constitution is practically completed. The questions laid before the Convention and not acted upon at the time of ad journment will be referred back to the from him his conservative declaration local assemblies. Other officers expressed the with his speech. At that time he like same opinior, the desire now being to a majority of his countrymen, was give the delegates an opportunity to partly under the influence of the liber: her brilliant orbs. be on the road to their homes before al spirit of the times. ed to-day, a delegate was this evening asked: "Was there much scramble for other offices ?" "I never saw the like of it," was the quick reply. During the past thirty years I have attended a great many political and other conventions, electious and caucuses, but I never saw more wire pull_ ing than I have seen here. It was a good lot of coat-hauling, button holing and electioneering, and not a little feeling has arisen over it all. For my part, I think it was very wise to extend the tenure of office to two years. The offices would destroy our oragani: zation in a short time if we had annual elections. You see we labor at a greater disadvantage than political parties on account of patronage, as bave a smaller percentage proportion to membership and a greater percentage of ambitious

A member of the Executive Board stated to-night that one-third of the delegates would leave the city to-morrow, and that it is probable the convention will be without a quorum if it does not adjourn on Saturday.

BISMARCKS PUBLIC CAREER.

He began his public career in 1847 as a member of the united diets, at the age of 32 years, in troublous and critical times as well for the Prussian crown as for all Germany and western Europe. Everywhere the people were fermenting with the doctrines of liber alism and popular rights. In Prussia the monarchy was absolute. The bureaucratic rule was offensive and ppressive. The king's father had allowed a diet to each of the eight provinces of Prussia. Frederick William III. had just yielded again o far as to grant a brief constitution for Prussia, if the Royal decrees of February 1847, deserve so dignified a name. By these ordinances he assembled at Berlin a union of these pro: vincial bodies under the name of the united diets, and promised that no ew loan in time of peace should be contracted without their consent, nor new imposts introduced, nor existing taxes increased without their concurrence. Ever since the national up. rissng of 1813 the desire of the people for constitutional guarantees and for participation in the government had been increasing. At this time every periodical press in Prussia was libeal The partisans of the royal prerogative had not a single organ in the kingdom All the popular orators were liberal. Upon the first assemblage of the united diets not only was the conserva: ranks appeared not one orator with ability to capture or control an audi: ence. Bismarck himself was only a while Bismarck's firm opposing but modest speeches for the rights of the crown were met with murmurs and hisses. On the first occasion of a speech of practical statesmanship. There was not eagerness leaping toward change, but no patience for experi: mental developments. He perceived that the late royal decrees were not accepted as a finalty. They were to be regarded only as the first instal: ment of a more complete and cousti: tutional liberalism. His opponents were already impatient for much longer strides forward. The king's speech, which reads like a chapter from the records of the ancient Assy: rian kings, had denounced all such expectations.

ABOUT WOMEN.

Southern women take kindly to journalism. Over fifty are connected with newspapers of the South, and on the 3d of next month they propose organizing a Southern Woman's Press Associction.

There is a good deal of practical common sense in the answer of the old cook in New Orleans when her young mistress told her of Wiggin's coming earthquake. "Go'long chile," she said, "go long, wid yer nonsense! God-a-mity don' go and tell anything what He's gwine to do; He jes' go long and do it."

Mrs. William Cunningbam and her two little children were run over by a switching train at a crossing in Gales. burg, Illinois, onl Monday week. Mrs. Cunningham was killed and both children were injured, one fatally.

Milton Brown, a New York boy of 16 who had been arrested at the instance of his father for stopping away from home over night, astonished the paternal Brown in Court by declaring that he was married and producing his wife 15 years old.
