A Fatal Landslide.

PITTSBURG, April 21.—A bad landslide, which caused the death of two men, occurred this morning. This was the record on the P. McK. & Y. railroad. Passenger trains were forced to transfer, and the track was blocked for twelve hours. One mile beyond Fuller Station Fayette county, was the scene of the landslide. The Penick has a single track at the point, winding around the face of a hill nearly three hundred feet high, with the Youghiogheny river winding along several feet below the track. Some time during last night a mass of rock fell from the hillside and crashed down upon the track, a portion of it going into the river. A boulder weighing twenty-five tons weight, rested upon the track, as it proved a sentinel of death.

Coke train No. 67, coming towards Pittsburgh, running at the rate of eighteen miles an hour, and heavily loaded with coke crashed into the boulder at 1 o'clock this morning. The engine was thrown aside and partly into the river and nine cars piled up upon it and were totally wrecked. The engineer, Samuel Ramsey, was hurled from the cab into the river by the concussion, and by reason of being an expert swimmer, managed to get to the bank with painful but not serious injuries. He had a marvellous escape from death.

Fireman Charles Silk was instantly killed and horribly mangled. He was caught between the tender and a flat car and ground almost to pieces. He was 24 years old, was unmarried and boarded in Mansfield. Front brakeman George R. Lewis was also riding in the cab of the engine and was caught and killed within a few feet of Silk and in the same manner. He was 26 years old, lived at No. 123 Carson street and was recently married. He was mangled beyond recognition.

Engineer Ramsey went to the telegraph office at Fuller station and sent the account of the disaster to Pittsburgh. A wrecking train was at once made up and left for the scene of the accident in charge of Master of Transportation Jones. Meanwhile the train crew worked at the wreck and succeeded in getting Lewis' body out, and it was taken to New Haven. Silk's remains were not reached until 1 o'clock this afternoon. A large force of men has been engaged with two engines since daylight in clearing up the wreck but did not get the track clear until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The dead men were brought to the city on an afternoon train.

Killing Disease and Cattle.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Professor James Law, of the National Bureau of Animal Industry, and the live stock commissioners of Illinois, are systematically pushing on the work of examining the cattle in the city of Chicago which have either been exposed to or are alleged to be infected with pleuro-pneumonia.

On Monday five cows belonging to John Nolan, who keeps a dairy farm at No. 446 Southwestern avenue, were voluntarily sent to a slaughter house and killed, and the state veterinarian, on examining the lungs of these animals, found that three of them showed unmistakable evidences of chronic lung plague. On this discovery it was decided to slaughter the remaining cows in this herd, twelve in number, and the animals were killed yesterday.

At the Empire distillery about nine hundred cattle belonging to Messrs Rice & Rush have been slaughtered, and in ninety cases there were found lesions of the lungs, which indicated unmistakably the existence of the infectious disease.

Now that the sheds are empty the agents of the government are energetically engaged in disinfecting the entire establishment, and no new animals will be received there until this work has been thoroughly accomplished. At the Chicago and Phoenix distilleries the one thousand or more animals are not in very good condition, but so far as the veterinarian can judge no disease exists there.

News From Across the Water.

ROME, April 25.—The Pope has sent a confidential note to France and Germany tendering his services as mediator between the two Governments in the dispute growing out of the arrest of M. Schnaebeles.

BERLIN, April 25.—The tone of the comments of the press on the Schnaebeles affair and fresh rumors in relation to the arrest are causing alarm in Berlin.

It is stated here that the arrest of Schnaebeles took place when he was leaving the house of Antoine, father of Alsace-Lorraine deputy to the Reichstag, who was recently expelled from Alsace-Lorraine. Investigation it is further stated, will show that Schnaebeles transmitted funds from Paris to the support of the Patriotic League in Alsace-Lorraine to foment a rebellion against the German authorities, and that he was a member on the active list of this league.

The prompt vote of the Reichstag to give the additional 15,000,000 marks for the further strengthening of the army is regarded as significant. This is an item of extraordinary expenditure and is not included in the regular war budget.

Mr. Bregy Nominated and Confirmed.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 20.—Mr. F. Amedee Bregy was to-night nominated by Governor Beaver and confirmed by the Senate to succeed the late Judge Pierce on the Bench of the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia. Mr. Bregy had received the endorsement of 141 members of the Bar as against 36 for all others. A full list of the gentlemen whose names were pressed for the place is as follows: F. Amedee Bregy, C. Stuart Patterson, John W. Patton, General B. F. Fisher, S. W. Pennypacker, S. C. Perkins, W. H. Ruddimar, H. T. King, J. Howard Gendell, Sussex D. Davis, Gavin Hart, George Pierce, Hampton L. Carson and Robert Alexander. Mr. Bregy's commission as Judge was forwarded to him to-night.

Seven Horses Cremated.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The district bounded by Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets and Third and Lexington avenue, the site of the old Bull Head market, and the place of so-called shelter to a thousand horses, was at an early hour this morning the scene of a conflagration, the like of which the firemen say they never saw before.

At 2:30 a. m. a cabman driving down East Twenty-third street saw smoke and flames coming out of the stables in the rear of James Donohue's horse shoeing shop at No. 151 East Twenty-third street and running back to the stables in Twenty fourth street. He at once sent out an alarm, but before the firemen could get to the spot the whole building was ablaze and the entire block threatened.

The work of the firemen was seriously impeded by the movements of the frightened horses which reared and pranced about in their stalls and on the floor in a way that for the time defied all efforts at removal; and by the time a third alarm had been sent out several big animals, the property of Davis, a coal dealer, had been roasted alive.

The firemen and police did excellent work in getting the horses stabled in the Twenty-fourth street rockeries out of their stables. Many were led out into the street bleeding and scorched, but all except the seven spoken of were got out alive. As soon as the stables were cleared the firemen redoubled their attacks on the flames, and soon had them under control. The burnt houses were valued at $2,500. The damage to the building will amount to $10,000.

Governor Beaver's "Bomb."

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 20.—A bomb was thrown into the Senate tonight in the appointment by Governor Beaver of Boyd Crumrine of Washington county for Supreme Court Reporter, to succeed the present incumbent, Mr. Ammerman. Ex-Senator Hughes and ex-Adjutant General Latta had been candidates, but Mr. Crumrine's name has never been heard of in connection with the place. Mr. Crumrine is a personal friend of the Governor. The nomination was confirmed.

Mr. Smith then moved to consider the vote of confirmation, as he had voted under a misapprehension. He said that he would not have voted against confirming Mr. Ammerman (Governor Pattison's appointee) if he had known that this appointment would have been made.

Mr. Rutan in reply to Mr. Smith said that if he were controlled in his vote by consideration similar to those of the Senator from Philadelphia he would ask the Senate to expel him (Rutan).

Mr. Smith retorted that he was a candid man and what he said was from his heart, while the Senator from Allegheny had resorted to schemes to hide intentions of which he (Smith) was incapable, and this was known all over the State.

Mr. Smith's motion was agreed to after a long debate, and Mr. Crumrine was then again confirmed. Mr. Smith alone voting "no."

Mr. Crumrine is about 50 years old; a member of the Washington county Bar; has served as District Attorney, and last year was a prominent aspirant for Judge but withdrew on account of sickness. He is regarded in the West as a man of ability, capable of doing the work of the office thoroughly. He is the author of two volumes of reports known as Pittsburgh Reports.

The Presbytery of Huntingdon granted annual appropriations to the churches at Milroy and Little Valley, and an appropriation of $400 was given the Everett Church for a parsonage. The adjourned session of the Presbytery will meet in the Second Church of Altoona on June 13, 1887, and the full meeting will be held at Mifflintown.

W. A. Douglass, 60 years old, senior member of the firm of W. A. Douglass & Co., contractors and railroad builders, who died suddenly of apoplexy on the last night while taking a bath at Salt Lake City, Utah, was buried Thursday at Newport, Perry county, with imposing Masonic ceremonies, conducted by Pilgrim Commandery, No. 11, Knights Templars of Harrisburg.

President Cleveland has pardoned Eugene B. P. Walton, the former Teller of the First National Bank of New York, who was sentenced eighteen months ago to five years imprisonment for altering the books of the bank.

An east bound freight train on the Atlantic and Pacific Railway fell through a partially burned bridge over the arroyo of Canyon Padre, N. M. on Saturday, carrying down Fireman William Ward and crushing him beyond recognition.

Funeral services over the late Lieut. John W. Danenhower were held at Christ Episcopal Church Oswego, N. Y. the home of his father-in-law, Hon. George B. Sloan. There was a military escort, and the pall-bearers were members of the life-saving crew.

It is feared that the propeller Jennie King, which left Chicago on Friday night in company with the propeller A. B. Taylor of Saugatuck, has foundered. She became disabled in midlake by a rope fouling her wheel. One of the crew, together with her owner, refused to leave the vessel and the Taylor was obliged to abandon them.

Lieutenant Colonel Lunoz, of the Eighth Mexican Battalion and M. M. Zavalla, the musical director attached to the command, quarreled in a saloon in San Luis Potosi where they were stationed and a challenge was accepted at once. The two officers, accompanied only by a Captain of the regiment, were driven to the Lodrigera and at the word both shot at once and both fell dead.

Gen. Washington possesses 10,000 acres of land in body where he lives; constantly employs 250 hands; keeps twenty-four ploughs going all the year, when the weather will permit; sowed, in 1797, 600 bushels of oats, 700 acres of wheat, and prepared as much corn, barley, potatoes, beans, peas, &c.; has near five hundred acres in grass and sowed 150 with turnips.

Stock, 140 horses, 112 cows, 235 working oxen, heifers and steers and 500 sheep. The lands about his seat are all laid down in grass; the farms are scattered around at the distance of two, three, four or five miles, which the General visits every day. Unless the weather is absolutely stormy. He is constantly making various and extensive experiments for the improvement of agriculture. He is stimulated with that desire which always actuates him—to do good to mankind. In 1786 he killed 150 hogs, weighing 18,500 pounds, for his family use (exclusive of provision for his negroes) which was made into bacon.—From an Almanac of 1790.
