By Six Hundred Majority.

It seemed fully decided by the six hundred or more people who visited Jacobs' ice cream parlors Saturday evening and enjoyed the music as well as the delicious cream, that it is the place to go for fine cream. Quantity as well as quality always go together, and it is the place without a doubt that the finest quality of cream is served. More flavors are served, and the finest at all times. Just look! Eleven different kinds of cream, two different kinds of water ice and strawberries and cream. Such a list never put before the public. Those who were not able to be present last Saturday should go and try it, and join the list. Remember 10 West Bishop Street.

The Irish Drama, "Shamus O'Brien" which was booked for Bellefonte, will not be presented here, the date having been canceled.

The amount of building going on in and around Philipsburg is simply stupendous. Houses are springing up like mushrooms in every quarter, and the carpenters bricklayers and masons are the happiest men in the country. Philipsburg is enjoying a great boom this year in all kinds of business. -Ledger.

A washerwoman from Pleasant Gap while engaged in washing at the Cummings House was severely scalded on Monday. She assisted by a domestic, was carrying a tub of hot water, when she fell and the contents of the tub enveloped her body, inflicting scalds which while not serious are quite painful. A domestic at the residence of H. H. Benner was scalded in a similar manner Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Jr., of Beech Creek, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding day at their residence in Beech Creek last evening. Upwards of fifty invited guests were assembled at their handsome residence, and the evening was spent in a most charming manner. The grounds were illuminated with Chinese lanterns and the guests were entertained in a most hospitable manner. Rev. S. M. Pomeroy, of Mill Hall, performed the marriage ceremony, the three children of the bride and groom acting as attendants. The refreshments were bountiful and delicious. The principal amusements of the evening were dancing and vocal music, Miss Hattie I. Foster, of State College, adding much to the entertainment of the guests by her charming singing. The guests were principally Beech Creek people, though a number from Bellefonte, Mill Hall and this city were present. Mrs. Williams was made the recipient of many handsome presents as souvenirs of the occasion. -Lock Haven Express.

Seventy-one members of the State Legislature were entertained last week by representatives of the Pittsburgh Post, on the question of their preferences for a Democratic presidential candidate. The canvass shows an overwhelming majority for Cleveland, 50 being favorable to him, as against 10 for Hill, and 11 non-committal. Centre's representatives express themselves as follows:

JOHN A. WOODWARD.—"My preference is for Cleveland. I will support Cleveland, Hill, or any other honorable Democrat that the convention may select, but up to the nomination I am for Cleveland. His administration has been enough guarantee for the future to satisfy me as to whom I want for leader of the party. In making selections for official places he has in many instances alienated individuals, but there is no comparison in point of number between this class and those who have come to his support from the opposition. There will be a great many more Cleveland men a year from now than there are at present."

LEONARD RUONE.—"I would prefer to see Cleveland nominated, though I will be satisfied with any available man. Cleveland has strength among the Independents that another candidate might not be able to command. So I think we had better nominate him. The Republicans will make a hard fight in the next campaign, and we want to go into the struggle with all the advantages possible. Politicians have in many instances been displeased by appointments or failures to appoint, but the fact remains that the party is stronger now than in 1884."

The cattle of the Indian Territory and Texas are said to be ready for the trail, and it is estimated that the Spring drive will reach 300,000 head. The drive will not be as it has been heretofore, through Western Kansas, but will be along the National Trail, just over the State line in Colorado.

The suffering and loss of cattle in the Southwest last winter will tend to revolutionize the cattle business, says a Kansas rancher, and further that public sentiment is against large herds and, as the country is rapidly settling up, the herds must be made smaller and receive better care.
