-About fifteen apprentices in the Millheim knitting factory struck last week. An amicable settlement of the difficulty was effected and nearly all returned to work again. -Prof. Shaub of Millersville, will deliver an address at the High school commencement exercises to-day. D. F. Fortney Esq., president of the school board will also deliver an address.

-An engineer corps is locating the line of a railroad through Sugar Valley. This road has been much talked of lately, and the people of that valley are elated over the prospects of having it completed. -We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Harry H. Schreyer, on fifth page. Mr. Schreyer has a large stock of carpets-Brussels and ingrain-rugs, mats, ottomans and house furnishing goods, which it will be to your advantage to examine before purchasing elsewhere.

-The Fabian entertainment on Saturday evening was well worth the price of admission. Mr. Fabian possesses a wonderful voice, and his recitations were very enjoyable. As usual upon occasions of this kind, there was but a small attendance. The Y. M. C. A. for the benefit of which the gentleman was brought here, did not clear one cent, merely coming out whole.

-The commencement exercises of the Bellefonte High School will take place this afternoon in Humes' Hall. The graduating class consists of Minnie Olewine, Rose Fox, Jennie Stott, Stella A. Armor, J. B. Armor and W. A. Bartley. Miss Minnie Olewine will be the valedictorian and W. A. Bartley will deliver the presentation address. Other addresses by prominent gentlemen will be made and the exercises are expected to be of an interesting nature.

-Call and examine Zellers' fishing rods, prices range from ten cents to ten dollars. -It is said that the entire National Guard of Pennsylvania, could be concentrated at any point within the state boundaries inside of twenty-four hours.

-L. G. Greer, principal of the Birmingham Seminary, died during Sunday night, from an affection of the stomach. He was well and favorably known in Bellefonte.

-The walls of Garman's new hotel are ascending with great rapidity, and in a few days more will have reached their allotted height. A glance at the plan of this building will convince you that it will be very handsome.

-The Pennsylvania branch of the Grand Army of the Republic will this year encamp on the battlefield of Gettysburg, commencing July 9th and lasting until the 15th. The spot selected for the camp is Cemetery Hill.

-The new Reynolds building will be a model, the front will be of pressed brick, laid in blocks, and the ornaments of brown stone. Mr. Frank Wallace will superintend the brick work, while contractor, Jos. Fox, will do the wood work.

-The Pennsylvania railroad company desire to purchase Penn Cave. Nothing would suit the people of this county better, for in that event the grounds and cave would be put in a condition suitable for the accommodation of strangers.

-A beautiful grave stone was erected over the grave of Bernice, the little daughter of Jonathan Harper, who died about a year ago. The stone was erected last week, and was furnished by Messrs. Sandis & Green, who represent the White Bronze Monumental Company, of Bridgeport, Conn.

-Comrade William H. Lambert who will deliver the memorial address on Decoration Day, is considered one of the finest orators in the country. So great is the demand for him that his engagements are made a year ahead. In order to secure Mr. Lambert this year, Gregg Post engaged him one year ago.

-At a meeting of the stockholders of the Beech Creek railroad last week Hon. W. A. Wallace was elected President Cornelius Vanderbilt, Vice President, Allan Cox Secretary and Treasurer; Cornelius Vanderbilt, W. K. Vanderbilt, George J. Magee, Jos. Gazzam, Geo. F. Baer, and M. E. Olmstead Directors.

-The danger of children playing about buildings while in course of erection was demonstrated on Saturday evening, when little Johnny Sourbeck fell off of one of the walls at Garman's new hotel. Fortunately he was not seriously injured. Boys should stay away from such places, as they are always menaced with unseen dangers.

-A gentleman from Walker township informs us of a scoundrel who pretends to be selling a receipt for rheumatism throughout that section of the county. The fellow is a scamp from what we can learn and has in several instances attempted to stop ladies on the road, and has insulted others. Look out for him, farmers. He needs a good cow-biding.

-A hop was held in the rink, last night under the management of E. C. Green, J. L. Murphy, Jesse Cox, M. Cunningham and C. P. Hilder. The attendance was large and dancing greatly enjoyed. Music was furnished by the Italian Orchestra which perambulated our streets Tuesday and Wednesday, rendering most excellent music. The best of order was maintained.

-The Northern Synod of the Lutheran church meets at Omaha, Neb., next month. The delegation from the Central Pennsylvania Synod is composed of Revs. W. E. Fischer, Centre Hall; J. H. Diven, Salona; J. K. Miller, Sugar Valley; J. A. Earrest, Millburg. The lay delegates are Messrs. William Wolfe Centre Hall; B. O. Deininger, Millheim; Dr. J. W. Rhone, Bellefonte; E. M. Ammiller, Bloomfield, Perry County.

-We were in error last week when we stated that Mr. Henry Swartz had put down the carpets in Mr. Pierpoint's residence at Altoona. The carpets were purchased, matched and sewed at Schreyer's carpet store and Mr. Schreyer went to Altoona and superintended the laying of them himself. Mr. Schreyer is an expert in carpeting rooms, and his work is highly spoken of. Mr. Swartz attended to the unpacking of furniture.

-One day last week, just as the driver for C. E. Cook & Co., coal dealers had finished loading his wagon, the team became frightened and dashed out of the yard at a rapid rate. There were indications of a smashup, but this was averted by a lady, Mrs. Wm. Resides, we believe, who happened to be passing at the time. Seeing the horses coming toward her, she quickly darted forward and caught the bridle rein, bringing the team to a halt amid the applause of those who witnessed the act. Such presence of mind and bravery is seldom displayed by a lady.

-On last Saturday Mr. Philip Resides who lives about two miles below Fillmore received word that one of his daughters intended visiting him, and that she would arrive on the morning train. Accordingly the old gentleman went to the station to meet the lady, but when the train arrived a big surprise greeted him. Twenty-one persons nearly all relatives, alighted from the cars and escorted him home. On the road the party was met by numerous other friends, and it was noticed they were all traveling towards the Resides homestead. The truth dawned upon the old gentleman. Eighty-seven years from that day Mr. Resides was ushered into existence, and when he was reminded that it was his birthday and that his children, grandchildren and friends had gathered in honor of the event, he was dumfounded. Quickly recovering, however, he bade all a hearty welcome. The entire day was spent in amusements of all kinds. Reminiscences of old times were related by the old, while the younger ones indulged in innocent games to their hearts content. The guests had all come supplied with plenty of good things to eat, and when the tables were spread they presented an elegant and tempting appearance. Ninety-four persons were present, including five sons with their wives, and five daughters accompanied by their husbands. Eighteen grand children were also present. To say that the day was pleasant both to the guests and host, would be drawing it said. Everybody was delighted, and upon departing wished Mr. Resides many more years of happiness and prosperity. Mr. Resides has lived at his present home for many years, and is greatly respected by all his acquaintances, which fact was clearly demonstrated by the large attendance at this his 78th birthday anniversary.

-The Logan Hose Company has received an invitation to attend a Fourth of July celebration at Allentown. But why should our boys go away this year? Let us have a celebration of our own. The advantages to be derived would be almost incalculable, as it would bring to Bellefonte a large number of strangers. Our merchants and hotel keepers, and everybody else would receive large benefits, and Bellefonte would have a "boom" as it were. Besides we have the material for a regular old time celebration. The Logan and Undine boys with their horse carriages, the Coronet Hook and Ladder Company with the handsome truck soon to be received, town Council, Odd Fellows, Masons, Good Templars, Company B, Knights of Labor Glass and Nail Workers Association, and other organizations, would form a procession of which Bellefonte could be proud. Then we could have industrial displays, and the various machine and iron works represented on wheels would be novel sights, besides good advertisements for the firms. The days pleasure could be topped off with a display of fire works in the evening and all would feel satisfied in having celebrated that great day of Independence. Let the fire companies have charge of the affair and success is assured.

-On last Thursday evening H. Y. Stitzer, Esq., residence on east High street, was comfortably filled with friends and acquaintances who came there to spend an evening and to enjoy themselves, the occasion of this pleasant time being the monthly sociable of the Lutheran congregation. As one of the features of these sociables are first to have a friendly chat with everyone and to be entertained with music, speeches or readings, a special programme was prepared for this evening which was a sort of a drama which was carried out by several young ladies and gentlemen, who were well qualified to personate the different characters they represented. As space will not allow us to go into details, we too would say it was very creditable to those who participated, and was listened to with marked attention by the spectators. After this part of the exercises were over all were invited out in the dining room where a table was laden with cakes, oranges and bananas, and as you called for the delicious ice cream it was delivered by the hands of a fair maiden and thus another evening of pleasure passed off profitably to all.

-Archie Bathurst, who some years ago resided at Milesburg, but who latterly made Altoona his home died at the latter place on Saturday evening, after a protracted illness. Deceased leaves a wife two daughters, and a little granddaughter to mourn the bereavement which has deprived them of the head of their household. His remains were taken to Roland this county, for interment on Monday. Mrs. Hunter Koise, of this place, a niece of deceased, accompanied by her husband attended the funeral. The Altoona Tribune says of him: We think every body who knew Archie Bathurst will be sorry to hear of his death. He was a man whose genial ways and humorous turn of mind won the friendship of all who came in contact with him. Peace to his ashes.

-On Friday of last week the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, I. O. O. F. held a special meeting at Stormstown, and instituted Half Moon Lodge No. 845. D. D. Grand Master D. F. Fortney conducted the ceremonies, assisted by S. F. Ishler of No. 894, A. G. Archey and Cyrus Goss of No. 276 H. B. Pontius H. C. Weaver and W. B. Rankin of No. 153. The lodge was instituted in the afternoon of that day and in the evening forty persons were initiated in the order. There are fourteen candidates who have not been initiated, and ten charter members, making sixty-four in all. This is an excellent beginning for the new order and insures success from the start. The officers installed for the ensuing term are: N. G. Thomas Tobin, V. G., Ira C. Burket, Permanent Sec'y, W. M. Cronister, Asst. Sec'y H. H. Thompson, Treasurer, John W. Sellers.

-To discontinue an advertisement" says John Wansmaker, "is like taking down your sign. If you want to do business you must let the public know it. Standing advertisements, when changed frequently, are better and cheaper than reading notices. They look more substantial and business like and inspire confidence. I would as soon think of doing business without clerks, as without advertising."

-The Presbyterians of Centre Hall are endeavoring to raise the necessary funds for the erection of a new church. Trust that they may be successful. -Shirting at 7c, Embroideries 1c.-Lyon & Co.

-William R. Jenkins Sr., of Williamsport, father of our excellent townsman, William Jenkins, died suddenly at Williamsport last Wednesday, at the age of 74 years. Interment was made at Howard this county. The funeral was largely attended. Speaking of his death the Gazette and Bulletin says:

"Born in Wales, about seventy-four years since, he came to this country while still a young man, and has lived in this part of the state ever since. His connection with the iron business began in his native land and continued up to the week of his death. Even within the last ten days, he has been in active discharge of his duties as assistant superintendent of the iron works on the South Side; and such was his energy and activity, and few realized that he had passed man's allotted years. But he has died as he wished to 'with the harness on.' He has stepped in a day, from a life of bustling activity to one where all is peace. It is not, however, as a director of large affairs as one engaged in every day business, those who knew him best, will most wish to remember him, but rather as the kindly, genial, courteous gentleman. His nature was transparent and ingenuous as a child's with a child's love for the good and the true, and the child's outspoken intolerance, of all that was false. His ear was always open to the woes and wants of others and his hand ready to contribute to their wants. When he heard their appeals, his thought was never: 'What can I spare, but what do they need?' and his hand followed his heart. His kindness and gentleness, his utter forgetfulness of self, and his entire devotion to the best interest of those he loved and with whom he was associated, will hold his life and character a pleasant memory to those who knew him best."

-Oranges at Jacob's. -Mingle's shoe store. -Lemons at Jacob's.

Personal. Robert Valentine and family sailed for Europe on Saturday. Mr. Miles Barr, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday in Bellefonte.

Deputy Sheriff Dukeman went out to Moshanon yesterday. D. F. Fortney, Esq., is attending United States District Court at Pittsburg this week.

Rev. W. H. H. Snyder and family departed on Monday, for a short visit to friends at Harrisburg. William Clevantine, one of Zion's staunch citizens, accompanied by his little son, called on Tuesday.

The editor of the DEMOCRAT went to Harrisburg on Tuesday, and attended the Democratic State Committee meeting Wednesday.

John K. Bartruff, who has been "doing" the West for the past two months, returned to Bellefonte Saturday. As usual John met with good success in that country.

Randolph Nightingale and James Alexander, feeling the need of a little recreation, have gone to the Alleghenies where they will spend a week hunting and fishing.

M. I. Gardner, the handsome book-keeper for the Lauths at Howars, spent Sunday in town. There seems to be a peculiar attraction here for "Mitch" and rumor hath it that an important event in which he will be one of the principals, will take place e'er long.

Miss Puella Dornblazer, who has gained quite a reputation in Central Pennsylvania as a Sunday School and temperance advocate, was in town on Monday, and addressed the members of the W. C. T. U. in the evening. The lady has wonderful talents, and when it is known she is to be present at any gatherings large audiences await her.

On Tuesday evening, 3d inst., Miss Nora, daughter of A. Overdorf was united in marriage to Mr. George L. Thompson, of Cedar Springs, Clinton county. The wedding, a most pleasant affair took place at the residence of the bride's parents near Nittany, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The presents were numerous and costly. We congratulate the young people, and bespeak for them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

Charles Tripple after long and faithful service as messenger for the Adams Express Company here, has severed his connection with that company and accepted a similar situation in Tyrone. Charlie is accommodating and pleasant, and we are quite sorry to lose him from our town. However his place will be well filled by Thomas Hutchinson, who has accepted the place made vacant by his resignation. We trust the change will be to the advantage of both gentlemen, as well as the company they represent.

-Home-made buggies out wear anything made in the city. McQuistan & Co. have 10 new buggies of their own make. Call and examine. -Lock Haven was visited by a hail storm last week. -Mingle's shoe store.

-A few Millheim items from the Journal: Work was begun on the new brick yard west of Coburn, where the brick are to be made for the new Lutheran church.

Our townsman, Mr. D. A. Musser, had 107 apple trees of the very best varieties, planted on his land, southeast of the foundry dam, last week. This will make one of the largest orchards in this neighborhood.

Some of our exchanges are informing their readers that a new Lutheran church is to be built at Rebersburg. We don't know where they get their information from, but we do know that Rebersburg has a fine Lutheran church and is now building another. Coburn however expects to erect a new brick church this summer.

Jacob Kerstetter of Penn township, comes to the front with the first snake story. While at work on one of his fences the other day, he happened to stir up a heap of brush and leaves, and discovered a nest of snakes beneath it, containing seven reptiles of the garter species. We think he said they varied in size from two to five-or fifteen-feet we forget exactly how, but any ways his find was not as pleasant and agreeable as if he had kicked against a bag of gold. If we had been there we'd likely have felt like saying "let'er go Gallagher!"

-Oat meal wafers at Jacob's. -Jacob's opening Saturday evening. -New spring wagons and buggies at S. A. McQuistan & Co's, -Turkey red table linen at 25c.-Lyon & Co.

-CENTRE HALL ITEMS-Culled from the Reporter. There seems to be a disease among the colts in this county, which made its appearance this spring, and many are dying. This seems to be the case over the county generally. Mr. Thompson, of Lemont, informs us that many colts are dying in that section. We have not learned the nature of the disease.

Rev. J. K. Miller, and his son John Miller, of Sugar Valley, were in town this week visiting their former home. They are still carrying on large lumber operations in Nippenose valley. Rev. Miller informs us that the Railroad corps are in that valley now, and he says there seems to be a certainty of the proposed new railroad going through Sugar Valley. This is the road of which we made frequent mention last winter. He also informs us of valuable discoveries of ore in that valley and that knowing ones assert there is coal in Sugar valley. All of which we trust will prove true.

Edward Royer and Miss Nannie McCormick, both of Potters Mills, were married on Thursday afternoon in the Methodist church at Sprucetown. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Robert McCormick. The happy pair took a wedding trip by rail on Friday last, and we trust had a pleasant time. We congratulate our friend Ed. and his happy bride, and hem a life of happiness.

-Ladies summer gloves 5c.-Lyon & Co. -Bananas at Jacob's.
