The Reporter is informed that Clevea Dinges will establish an insurance office in Bellefonte. Glad to have the young man locate here.

Judging by the appearance of the apple trees in this part of the county there will be an abundance of apples. The trees are so thickly decked with blossoms that they look like large bouquets.—Milheim Journal.

Mrs. Mary Brunner, of Derry was 100 years old on Tuesday last. She survives six of her fourteen children. Her eldest living child is 78 years old; her youngest 62. She has 32 grandchildren, 114 great grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild. She is in excellent health, has a few gray hairs, sees very well, and takes a lively interest in every day affairs.

Farmers are cautioned to beware of circulars and blanks sent to them with stamps for return postage with request that they be filled out, ostensibly for the purpose of showing the condition of crops in the vicinity. In a short time you will be surprised at the return of this piece of paper, to which your signature is attached, transformed into a bona fide promissory note which has been discounted at some bank, which you will have to pay.

Why cannot Bellefonte have a band? Other towns in the county take pride in substantially encouraging an organization of that kind, yet Bellefonte with a population large and wealthy enough to buy up almost any three of them, turns a cold shoulder to any effort in that direction. Howard, Roland, Milesburg, Zion, Pleasant Gap, Tusseyville, Lemont, Phillipsburg (2), Millheim, Pine Hall, Spring Mills, Pine Grove and other small towns have bands, one or more of which must be called into service upon the occasion of public demonstrations here. Let us have a band of our own. We believe there is plenty of material in town.

Abram Huffine, a citizen of Lower Turnkeyfoot township, Somerset county, met with a horrible death one day last week. He went to Weakland's saw mill to have some stuff sawed to make handles for reapers and in the absence of the regular setter employed at the mill he attempted to set the saw himself. In doing this his right leg came in contact with the saw, which was revolving rapidly, and was literally ripped in two up to his thigh. His left leg was completely severed between the knee and ankle. His death was almost instantaneous. Mr. Huffine was about 65 years of age. He was married, but had no children living.—Altoona Tribune

A little child was playing on the track of the branch road shortly after noon yesterday, when the empty shifter came around the curve at Margaret avenue at a brisk rate of speed. The engineer reversed his engine and applied the air. When he finally came to a standstill he was almost afraid to look after the fate of the little one—so certain was he that he had been too late in stopping. But imagine his relief when, on climbing out upon the engine, he saw the little toddler standing within a foot of the tender, looking up at the engine as though it thought the big iron horse had been driven up so near that it might look it over. The engineer carried the little one to its home, near by. What a lesson some mother should learn from this!—Altoona Tribune.

The Clearfield Republican says Harry Hooven aged nearly 17 years, employed at the tannery of Fayerweather & Ladew, below town, came near losing his life on Wednesday morning of last week at a few minutes after seven o'clock. He had gone on top of the wood work which supports the shaft running from the engine to the beam house, for the purpose of whitewashing the structure. He had only been at work a few minutes when cries were heard, and his fellow workmen seeing his danger, hurried to stop the engine. His clothing caught on the shaft and wound him around several times, and when he was released it was found that his right arm was broken in two places and both legs broken. Medical aid was at once summoned and after a careful examination it was found that his right chest was bruised. At present he is mending quite rapidly, and his recovery is thought to be certain.

Arrangements will be made at this meeting in regard to our picnic. The fifth degree will be conferred in full form in the evening.

J. A. KELLER, Master. J. C. GILLILLAND, Sec'y.

A few items taken from the Centre Hall Reporter:

The merchants of the lower end of the valley, we are told, have made a flank movement on the creamery; by raising the price of butter, in consequence of which farmers ask more for their cream than the creamery can afford to give.

A large band of Gypsies are encamped in the woods above Lind-n Hall. Candidates who want their fortunes told will please make a note of this. Candidate Reop living so near the camp will no doubt have the inside track. Whoop 'er up, John.

As an idea of the extent to which some Centre county farmers suffered by a failure of their wheat crop last year, we instance the case of W. A. Ishler, on one of the Valentine farms in Benner township, where, two years ago the yield was 1400 bushels of wheat, and last year only eight bushels.

Farmers we believe, have an idea that timothy exhausts the soil and makes it poor. James Gilliland, of Oak Hall, has made a test of the matter, and his experience is that this idea is not correct. Three years ago he took two tons of timothy with some clover among it, from an acre of ground. The next year he mowed two and a half tons of timothy per acre, from the same ground, with quite a small quantity of clover; last year the clover had run out and he took three tons of timothy to the acre from the same ground and this year, the fourth, Mr. Gilliland finds as good a crop as last year. Now other farmers can try this, and if it holds good, there will be more in a crop of timothy than in a crop of wheat, even when wheat is in full crop. Mr. Gilliland last week also shipped the first car load of baled hay from this county to Philadelphia, where it netted him ten dollars per ton. Here is another important item which every farmer should note.

TUSSEYVILLE. The Tusseysink school house makes a handsome appearance being daubed with mud as it is; the directors ought to look after the parties concerned.

Henry Rossman thinks fish-net lifting quite a profitable business; he says eels are plenty.

Farmers are done planting corn and are busy at other work, for the farmers work is never done.

Mr. Ira Rishel and wife of Oak Hall, were with us over Sunday.

Mr. Andrew Reesman and family of Centre Hall spent Sunday at this place.

There was no services at the Zion church on last Sunday, on account of the pastor's illness.

The Sunday schools are in a prosperous condition, they have an average attendance of 125 scholars.

The singing society is still in a prosperous condition. It goes to show that the young people of this place take an interest in music in spite of opposition.

The young people of this place and vicinity are getting up a party to Penn Cave on the fourth of June, and also one to the Bear Meadows in the near future.

Some of our young men were rather late getting home on Sunday morning.

It is with pleasure we note the fact that Carol Monroe, son of Rev. Dr. Monroe of this place, is gradually regaining his health, the disease which heretofore gave him so much inconvenience having been conquered. Carol, owing to this improved condition, will enter Princeton University next fall, over which fact he is quite enthusiastic.
