A certain preacher of the Juniata valley not long since was called upon to marry a young couple. At the close of the ceremony the groom handed an envelope which he of course supposed contained the marriage fee, but was surprised, on opening it, to find a slip of paper on which was written: "We desire your prayers for our prosperity." We should judge it would be at least fifteen minutes before the preacher would be in the proper mood for the devotional exercises requested.—Tyrone Times.

Last Saturday an unknown man was killed near Newport, by the cars. There were no papers or anything on his person by which he might be identified. The following description may lead his friends to know of his death: Height, 5 feet 9 inches; dark brown hair; no beard; gray eyes; front teeth in upper jaw decayed and partly broken off; had on a pair of new pantaloons of dark blue goods, with fine red cross-bar threads; canvas drawers; seersucker vest; no coat; black-striped shirt; white merino undershirt; black slouch hat; white cotton socks; button shoes, well worn. His clothing, with the exception of hat and shoes, were nearly new. Age supposed to be about 20 or 21 years; weight about 160 pounds. Any further information can be had by addressing me with stamp to pay return postage. GEO. SHROM, Coroner of Perry County, Newport, Pa., NEWPORT, June 27, 1887.

SPECIAL RATES TO GETTYSBURG VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—On the 24th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg many veterans will assemble on the battlefield, to renew the memories of the great battle. A most interesting reunion will take place this year. The Philadelphia Brigade, which held the centre of the Union line and received the famous onslaught of Pickett's Division, will entertain representatives of the survivors of that celebrated division on the scene of the struggle. This is the most conspicuous event in the history of the field since the battle was fought, and the ceremonies between hosts and guests will be of the most interesting character. To the veteran it will be a most memorable occasion, while the general visitor will find it the best opportunity ever offered of seeing the battlefield. The field is one of the most interesting battle-grounds in the world, and there is none other containing as many monuments. One hundred and one monuments and tablets mark the spots where the most important events of the fight occurred.

For the accommodation of the public, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets from all stations on its lines, on July 21, 31, and 4th, 1887, good to return until and including the 5th at one fare for the round trip.

Centre Hall items taken from the Reporter:

Some farmers still have two crops of wheat in their barns, holding up for higher prices, which we would gladly see them get, but the favorable crop reports and grain on hand leave little hope in this direction.

One of the exciting events in Pennsylvania was an ugly fight which occurred between two women at the toll gate. One was badly handled, as we understand being knocked down, kicked, scratched and hair pulled. The matter is now in the hands of Squire Reifsnyder, says the Journal.

The new Presbyterian church, in this place is to be built of brick, and the cost of it, without furnishing, will be about $2500. The amount subscribed, available at this time, is $2000. The contract will be let in a short time. Stones for the foundation will be hauled this week. After the completion of their church, a congregation will be organized, and also a Sabbath school.

Mr. Peter Auman, one of Gregg township's old citizens, who has been an invalid for some years, quietly passed away at his home on last Monday evening. Mr. Auman was a member of the Evangelical church, and was known in the community as a sober and industrious man. He was the head of a large family, the widow and five children still survive. His age was about sixty years.

A bold theft was committed on Tuesday evening at the residence of Charles Bollinger, in the house occupied jointly by him and Mr. Kennedy, known as the Witmer homestead. Mr. Kennedy and family were absent, and Mr. and Mrs. Bollinger sat in their front room in the dark, and heard some one enter the back door on Kennedy's side the house and strike a match, which they thought was Mr. Bushman employed by Mr. Kennedy and left no alarm. Next morning two hams were missing from the garret, the thief having gone up while Mr. Bollinger and wife were in their front room. When Mr. Bushman came to the house, later, he found the back door open, which proved that the thief had made his entrance and exit by that way. Mr. Bollinger having been sick for several months, the fellow who stole his meat must be heartless indeed.

An intelligent man with whom we were recently discussing the failures of our wheat crops, and who had some experience in the matter, thinks that our farmers might raise the field pea as a paying crop far more so than wheat. The field pea he tells us, is sown broad cast, and raised extensively in Canada, and always yields well, and is a low plant, which is mowed down with a scythe when ripe, and threshed with a flail. He tells us as for food for swine one bushel of these peas is worth more than five bushels of corn, and as food for other animals they answer in the same proportion if chopped. These peas are sown early in the spring and harrowed in like wheat, but our informant thinks that the corn planter or drill could be used to sow them in rows. The labor of raising the field pea is less than for raising wheat; the pea will yield far more bushels to the acre and bring double the price per bushel in market. Now this is worth trying on an acre or half acre, by way of experiment, and if it proves as our informant says why farmers can let wheat with its poor yield and starvation prices go. We note this for the benefit of our farmer readers, as we feel interested in anything that will make their labor more remunerative. There is no doubt of the great nutritive quality of the pea, and its yielding.—Centre Hall Reporter.

FOURTH OF JULY EXCURSIONS OVER THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—In order to enable everyone to take a trip for pleasure or recreation during the Fourth of July holidays, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets on July 23, 31, and 4th, good to return until and including the 5th, between all stations on the main line and branches at reduced rates.

The Phillipsburg Journal furnishes us with the following items: The latest news as we go to press to-day (Thursday) is the arrival in town of several prominent gentlemen who will soon commence the building of one hundred coke ovens on the New York Coal Company's land, situated a short distance East of town. The names of the gentlemen who will be engaged in this work are: Jas. Clark and C. P. Collier, capitalists from New York, and Mr. L. T. Munson, of Bellefonte. They are in town now perfecting their arrangements.

R. E. Cambridge, late principal of the South Phillipsburg schools, is now connected with the clerical work of the County Commissioners at the court house in Bellefonte, working on assessment books and making county duplicates. Mr. Cambridge is a rapid and artistic ink slinger and will do some fine work.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fleck have been enjoying a very pleasant visit from their daughter, Mrs. James Schofield, of Bellefonte, during the past week.

Mrs. Millard Peightal and children have departed on a visit to friends at Bellefonte and neighborhood.

The funeral director's association has decided that undertakers must do away with attractive advertisements, and hence forth only a simple announcement of their business will be allowed. Following is the mandate: "It is derogatory to the dignity of our profession, to resort to public advertisement or private cards, or handbills, inviting the attention of the public to any of the wares connected with our profession. We should take strong grounds against advertising in the daily prints. All funeral directors should rely on their professional abilities and acquirements, and it ought to be the only acknowledged right of an individual to the exercise and honor of his profession."

S. A. McQuistian & Co. has a large line of new buggies and Spring wagons home-made work all of it, at bottom prices. 31.

SELECT EXCURSIONS TO THE SEASHORE VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—Pursuing the policy of the last few years, The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will this summer run a series of select excursions from Pittsburgh and points in Western Pennsylvania to Atlantic City, Cape May, and Sea Isle City. These trips have in past seasons been highly favored by the residents of this section, as well on account of the popularity of the points in question as of the liberal rates, and superior accommodations offered by the Company. All their popular features will be maintained this summer, and they will without doubt increase in favor with our people.

The seashore points covered by the excursions are the most popular as well as the most desirable resorts on the Atlantic coast. No such bathing, yachting, boating or fishing exists in any other localities nor does any other point or number of points, afford as great a profusion of maritime pleasures.

The dates fixed for the excursions are July 14th and 28th, August 11th and 25th. A special train will leave Pittsburgh at 8:50 a. m., arriving in Philadelphia at 7 p. m. Excursionists spend the night in Philadelphia and proceed to the shore by any regular train of the succeeding morning. The excursion tickets good for ten days, will be sold as heretofore at $10.00. No other trip promises so much for the money, and none will be found so fruitful in health, recreation, and pleasure.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., June 24.—Edward Sneed was hanged in the jail yard here this afternoon. He appeared to be badly frightened during the forenoon, but recovered somewhat, and although he ate no dinner stood the ordeal of the reading of the death warrant fairly well. He was self-possessed on the scaffold. The body was turned over to the state.

Washington Letter.

It is now generally believed that the President has concluded that there will be no necessity for an extra session of Congress. He has continually expressed himself as opposed to an extra session, and has concluded that a call of Congress is not at all necessary and has so expressed himself to several prominent men who have conversed with him upon the subject. The fears of the New York financiers that there was danger of a stringency in the money market has alone caused the administration to consider the demands for an extra session, and these fears have been dispelled by the Comptroller of the Currency who states that the business of the country is in good condition generally. A safe and satisfactory business is being done, and there is nothing to cause an apprehension of any financial disarrangement.

Since the issue of silver certificates commenced a few months since, silver coin has accumulated in the Treasury at such a rate as to far exceed the storage capacity of the silver vaults, and there is at the present time upwards of $80,000,000 in coin, packed in kegs and boxes, and stored in the corridors in the basement of the building. A guard, armed with Winchester repeating rifles is maintained night and day in each of the hallways leading to the treasury. A large force of workmen are engaged in constructing a vault for the reception of this coin, but although the work is being pushed forward night and day, it will necessarily be several months before the vault will be completed, and in the meantime the guard will be retained in the hallways.

During the recent visit of Mr. Jay Gould to Mount Vernon, he learned that the Mount Vernon Association were anxious to purchase a tract of ground adjoining the old Washington homestead. The land in question had recently been placed upon the market, but the financial condition of the Association was such as to prevent them from making the purchase, and it was feared that the opportunity offered to add to the size and attractiveness of the grounds would have to be abandoned. Mr. Gould listened attentively to the statement of the case, and a few days after his departure, the offices of the Association received a communication from him in which he stated that he purchased the coveted land, and that as soon as the necessary transfer papers could be executed, that he would present it to the Association.

Notwithstanding the exceedingly warm weather which has prevailed during the week, there appears to have been no diminution in the activity of real-estate and building interest. Extensive transfers of both city and suburban property are reported daily, and several extensive apartment houses are being commenced. The Hon. Levi P. Morton of New York, has purchased a valuable site at the corner of H. and Fifteenth streets and will at once commence the erection of an apartment house which will cost several hundred thousands dollars.

In Jail for Challenging a Deacon.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 26.—J. Harvey Neely, a wealthy farmer of Chester county who was recently acquitted of committing a criminal assault upon his six-year-old niece, is again in trouble. For his alleged crime deacon J. O. McMurray had him turned out of his church. Neely appealed to the code, challenging McMurray to deadly combat. Neely went to the dueling ground with a shotgun, but instead of finding McMurray there he found the sheriff who arrested him, and he is now in jail awaiting trial for violating the statute against duelling.

NEW ORLEANS, June 27.—Once every week the musical band of the Continental Guards gives a concert in Lafayette square, Frank Howard, a generous and wealthy citizen, paying the expenses. On music night the square is crowded with women and children. Not to be outdone, the manager of the telephone company has fixed instruments over the music platform, and when the band plays he switches on his instruments so that the music is heard not only in hundreds of city residences, but on plantations up and down the river and hundreds of miles in the interior.

HUNTINGDON, July 27.—Howard Yarnell, of Baree, was arrested and lodged in jail here, charged with committing a felonious assault on Laura Eckly, 14 years of age. The outrage was committed on Saturday evening as the girl was on her way home from a pasture field. She now lies in a critical condition at her home. There is great excitement over the affair, and threats of lynching are frequently made. Yarnell is about 35 years of age.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., June 28.—John Laidlow and Robert N. Mills, of Elmira, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hall to-day on a charge of defrauding the pension office of $13,000. Their tool is said to have been a blind man of Elmira. The prisoners were committed to await bail of about $5,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 28.—Mrs. Langtry has taken a lease here in order to acquire a legal residence necessary to bring a suit for divorce.

LONGVIEW, Tex., June 28.—One of the most destructive storms ever known occurred last night twenty miles below here and carried death and destruction in its course. At New Prospect five men were killed outright. At Fairplay, a small hamlet, one woman and two children were killed, having taken shelter in an old house on which a very large tree fell, crushing them. In the track of the tornado nothing was left. The country is thinly settled, which accounts for the few lives lost. As there is no telegraphic communication but little can be learned at this time.
