Four colored men of this place were caught playing poker recently, and last week they were brought before court and found guilty of gambling. The sentence was a fine of $10. Notwithstanding the many arrests, and the vigilance of those traveling the Brush Valley roads, highway robberies still continue to occur. On Tuesday of last week A. W. Frankie Graham, son of our popular boot and shoe dealer intended celebrating his birthday anniversary on last Wednesday evening and had invited a large number of his young friends to be present. The pleasures of the occasion were abruptly ended, however, by an accident which befell the young host, who in descending the stairs fell over the baluster and broke his collar bone. Pangs of regret entered the heart of each of his guests, who departed hoping for Frankie's speedy recovery.

Many contemptuous and indiscreet things have been said by men who rarely stop to consider the cost of hasty utterances, or unprincipled action until the time for repentance of such deeds is past. And such may be characterized the words and actions of a part of the Grand Army men at Wheeling. When they allowed that venomous spirit of partisan hatred which is continually kept up to a boiling point by the republican press to overflow and offer insult not to Cleveland as a man but to the ruler of the American people.

Dietrick Lamade appeared before Judge Furst on Friday and received his sentence, which was that he pay a fine of five hundred dollars and costs of prosecution. The Judge also gave him some friendly advice. The Lock Haven Express in noting the sentence says "Report from Bellefonte last evening were to the effect that there was much surprise expressed in that place by the people at the severity of the fine imposed." Now whether the fine was just or unjust there is no cause for so much lying concerning this case. There was surprise expressed, but not at the severity of the sentence, for everybody supposed that Mr. Lamade, who is the real offender, would receive nearly or altogether the full penalty of the law. As it is, we think the gentleman can be well satisfied.

A meeting of the Centre county Bar Association was held in the Court House on last Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, for the purpose of taking appropriate action in regard to the death of ex-Judge Adam Hoy. Representatives of the Clinton and Huntingdon bars, all the members of the Centre county bar, and a number of other persons were present. Judge Orvis presided. The committee appointed at a previous meeting to prepare a minute of the life and character of the deceased reported, and S. T. Brown Esq., of Huntingdon, read the resolution prepared by the members of that bar, and followed it with an address eulogistic of the deceased. Judge Furst followed in tones of sadness and respect, paying a glowing tribute to the memory of the departed brother. Jas. P. Coburn, D. F. Fortney, John G. Love, Esq., and ex-Senator Peale also spoke of the Judge's life and character, his worth as a citizen and lawyer, and of his charitable disposition. The funeral at 8 p. m. was largely attended by the members of the bar in a body and a large number of friends and relatives. Thus the seventh member of the Centre county bar and an Associate Judge has been laid away within a year.

REPUBLICANS IN CONVENTION.—The convention to ratify the ticket named by the Linn street ring assembled on Tuesday and went through the work mapped out by the bosses, with comparatively little friction. A little after 2 o'clock Chairman Reeder called the convention to order, and the call for the convention was read. Capt. Fryberger of Phillipsburg was made chairman and S. S. Crisman and Oscar Miles clerks; W. E. Gray reading clerk. Capt. Fryberger is a very pleasant gentleman but was out of his element in presiding over the deliberations of a Linn street ring convention. However, he acquitted himself creditably. A contest was reported from the third ward of Phillipsburg, and as the ring ran the machine the Cook delegates were seated. John G. Love, Esq., then nominated Judge Rhoads, the fine old gentleman who "lives in Judge Furst's back yard." Judge Rhoads was nominated by acclamation. The balance of the slate went through as was indicated in the DEMOCRAT of last week.

For Treasurer, Cyrus Goss, John Harris, and Reuben Pletcher were nominated, the first ballot resulting in a choice as follows:

Cyrus Goss,.....58. John Harris,.....33. Reuben Pletcher,.....12. John Harris was put in nomination to give the appearance of "no slate" and at the same time to keep votes from Mr. Pletcher, whom it was feared might accidentally break the slate.

For the nomination for Sheriff, Samuel Diehl, John Dubbs and Robert Cooke, were nominated. A single ballot was all that was necessary.

Diehl,.....28. Dubbs,.....22. Cooke,.....53. John Henderson, John D. Decker, Austin Curtin, Mr. Keller, and Wm. Dawson, were before the convention as being willing to serve as county commissioners. The ballot was as follows:

Henderson,.....90. Decker,.....58. Curtin,.....45. Dawson,.....4.

For Register, T. M. Gramley received 64 votes, Fisher 14, Morris 23, and McClure 2.

Dr. John F. Harter was nominated for Recorder by acclamation, and S. T. Gray and Andrew Gregg for Auditors. Quite a breeze was raised on the Chairmanship. The ring had successfully put through its ticket, and the last dish on the bill of fare was to be the election of W. F. Reeder as Chairman. The country fellows who had been getting the husks all along made a determined fight for John G. Love, and while the ring's strength on everything else was from 53 to 58, Mr. Love, by his personal popularity reduced it to a tie. The ring was in a terrible fix. Before the ballot was announced Chairman Reeder, of the county committee protested to the president of the convention that delegates instructed for him were voting for Mr. Love, and he claimed their votes. This brought Mr. Love up on his forked end and he sailed into the County Chairman in his forcible and vigorous English. He had not solicited the Chairmanship, had fought the battles of the Republican party for fifteen years in the county when Mr. Reeder was voting and speaking for Democracy. It was a thing entirely unknown to the politics of the county either Democratic or Republican for a chairman to use the organization of the party for his own advancement. He had not written letters all over the county asking for instructions as had Mr. Reeder. His record was made and he proposed to stand on it. To quiet the racket which threatened to disrupt the convention, Mr. Reeder was withdrawn and Mr. Love nominated by acclamation.

This little episode was the only break in the ring programme. Love is a politician but he is a strong, earnest Republican, very bitter indeed towards Democrats but honest in his convictions, and when he shakes himself he makes the fur fly. The fight was not against Mr. Reeder personally but against the crowd of fellows about town, who try to crowd Mr. Love down. John wiped the floor up with them.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The Republican party of Centre county, in convention assembled, declares:

First.—That we accept unqualifiedly the declaration of the Republicans of Pennsylvania in favor of the retention of the present prohibitory constitutional amendment. That the action of the last legislature, in promptly submitting the question to the people, is in full accordance with the duty and character of the party, and in firm adherence to the pledges made to the people.

Second.—That we renew our allegiance to the principle of Protection to American manufacturers, as declared by the Republican party in its State Convention. It is a policy in which Pennsylvania has ever led, and in its fruits has been demonstrated the wisdom and sagacity of the party which inaugurated, and, despite the continued and vindictive warfare of the Democratic party against it, has not wavered in its maintenance. We believe in the protection of American workmen from unjust and unfair competition, whether it be imported contract labor, or by an adjustment of the tariff duties that afford no profit to us.

Third.—We heartily and unconditionally endorse the Republican State administration. It is its governing ability to those principles which alone give good government and secure the happiness and contentment of a people, its ability to win and fulfill the hopes of those who placed their power, and hence a confidence that the wise measures already established and practiced will continue to be the guide. In Governor Beaver we have an upright and conscientious Executive, who ever keeps in mind the welfare and prosperity of those whose interests have been entrusted to his keeping.

Fourth.—We charge the Democratic party of the State and Nation with failure to fulfill its promises. The present national administration is distinguished solely for its general incompetency and the shameful administration of the affairs of the country. It has been the cause of the loss of our national honor, and the loss of our national property, and the loss of our national credit, and the loss of our national respectability, while patriotism is relegated to the shade of "immense democracy," a gutter and a union virtue. It forgets the appeal of the helpless orphans, the sickly and aged, and the aged and infirm, in sickly attempts to continue a section of the country which, by fraud, intimidation and ballot box stuffing has elevated it to power.

Fifth.—That we condemn the Democratic party of Centre county for its dishonest and incompetent administration of the affairs of the county. It has been the cause of the loss of our national honor, and the loss of our national property, and the loss of our national credit, and the loss of our national respectability, while patriotism is relegated to the shade of "immense democracy," a gutter and a union virtue. It forgets the appeal of the helpless orphans, the sickly and aged, and the aged and infirm, in sickly attempts to continue a section of the country which, by fraud, intimidation and ballot box stuffing has elevated it to power.

much crookedness and concealment, especially in the unjust and unlawful taxation of costs in the Prothonotary's Register's and Sheriff's office. It means by which our people, without respect to political affiliation, have been systematically extorted upon. We call upon our people candidly consider and determine whether or not the supremacy of any political party is worth such a sacrifice, and whether or not a change in the control of county affairs would not greatly benefit all concerned.

SIXTH, RESOLVED, That the Democratic party of Centre county has ignored and trampled under its feet the president of the party against a third term, which had become sacred by the observance of a century, in nominating a candidate for the third term to one of the "most important offices in the county."

RESOLVED, That the candidates this day placed in nomination are worthy of the support of all Republicans, and of all those who desire honesty and integrity in public officials, and that we hereby pledge them our united and cordial support.

BASE BALL.—A goodly number of ladies and gentlemen went to the old fair grounds on last Friday to witness a game of base ball between Bellefonte and Lock Haven nines. The game was interesting throughout and was not decided until the last man in the ninth inning was retired. For the first three innings Lock Haven's pitcher, completely baffled the visitors, but as our catcher had not been behind the bat for some time his hands were rather tender, and the pitcher had to ease up. Then it was that the Lock Havenites began to find him and four runs were secured in the fourth inning, mainly through errors on the part of the home players. Stewart, the catcher, was suffering from the effects of several bruises on his hands, and Brown was put behind the bat, when one of his fingers was injured, and several of Lock Haven's runs were due to that fact. Had it not been for those accidents it is very likely the visitors would have been defeated 2 to 1. Lohr, of the Du-Bois club, who occupied the box for Bellefonte, did splendid work, and had he not been handicapped Lock Haven could not have found him. Linn, a young man who was visiting here, covered second base in fine form, and seemed to be wherever the ball was. He is a splendid player and often distinguished himself during the game. In fact all the boys did good work, the one-hand catch of a long fly to centre field by Brouse, being a feature, as was also Crider's over hand catch. Brown did excellent work at first, and proved that he is still a good base ball player.

For Lock Haven Shaffer, who played with the Metropolitan club, was placed in the box but it was not difficult for our boys to find him at times. He struck out about as many men as did Lohr. The Lock Haven papers, in speaking of the game says: "The ten errors made by our club are responsible for all of Bellefonte's runs." Now, the fact is, the scorer from that city was incapable of judging an "earned run from an unearned run, or an error from a safe play. He frequently appealed to persons on the field for information regarding plays, and Lock Haven parties declared him unfit to score. This accounts for the erroneous statement above quoted. The score:

DEDICATION.—The people of Bellefonte are cordially invited to heartily and joyfully join in the dedication of the new Public School building on Thursday, September 8th, at 2 o'clock p. m. The exercises will be interesting and profitable. An address will be delivered by Prof. T. M. Balliet, Ph. D., of Reading, one of the brightest school men in the State. Addresses will also be made by Prof. D. M. Wolf, County Superintendent, Gen. D. H. Hastings, John G. Love, and J. L. Spangler, Esq., Dr. D. S. Monroe and ex-Governor A. G. Curtin.

The completion of the new school building should be a matter for great rejoicing by the people of the town. We therefore hope all will join in the exercises to be held next Thursday. The building will be thrown open in the morning so that persons desiring to visit it can do so at any time during the day.

W. B. RANKIN, Sec'y.

A HEAVY WEIGHT.—On last Monday morning was seen by "Several" observing young ladies and gentlemen a young man of erect physique tall and slender, his head large and massive in its structure indicating to those who were watching him that he possessed the brains of a Webster, and the intelligence of a Wooster. He with rapid footstep was going in the direction of Gerbrick Hale & Co's flouring mill. Stopping at that place of business, he was there recognized as Newton Batley, the brilliant editor of the Daily News whose capacity for weighing were 2000 pounds. His request being granted, he stood upon the scales, and 2000 pounds "avoirdupois" in the balance. The young man was greatly surprised and felt almost insulted, when one of the proprietors reduce the weights until the scales balanced at "105" pounds. He now thinks he has been reduced in flesh, bone and muscle 10 pounds in the last year. If the gentleman continues to lose flesh so fast, this time next year he can without much difficulty be weighed in the small scale that occupies the counter of any grocery in town, or some one will be under the painful necessity of measuring him with a tape line.

PERSONAL.

Rev. James Lohr, of Berwick, Pa., is visiting his relatives at Zion, this county. His family accompanies him.

Mrs. S. Moore, of Milton, spent several days in Bellefonte this week, the guest of her brother, Mr. E. J. Swavely.

Misses Celia and Betty Goldstein, two of Lock Haven's most accomplished young ladies spent last week visiting at the residence of Abe Baum.

Prof. S. C. Shortledge, principal of the Media Academy, at Media, Pa., spent a few days last week with his brother Mr. William Shortledge, of this place.

D. S. Kauffman one of Millheim's reliable merchants served the county in the capacity of a juror last week. Dan is a jolly, good natured gentleman, and has many friends here.

Master Harry Hanes, of Lewisburg is visiting at the home of Mrs. Gibson's on Lamb street. Harry is a bright and active lad and no doubt there is in store for him a bright future.

Mr. John McDonough, the accommodating ticket agent at Mill Hall, accompanied by his wife, spent several days with his parents on Water street last week. A Miss Duffy, of York Pa., is also visiting at the same place.

Miss Mollie Long, who for several years past had been a compositor in this office, has gone to Indiana county where she will spend a month or so with friends and relatives. Mollie is a faithful and accurate compositor, a perfect lady, and will be greatly missed in our office. We trust her visit may be a pleasant one, and that her health, which is somewhat shattered now, will be greatly improved by the time she returns.

THE COLBY AFFAIR.—Drs. Armstrong and Hays went to Tylersville on Monday for the purpose of disinterring the bodies of the Cuveys, the object being to extract the bullets to see if they fit the pistols found on the persons of those arrested on suspicion of being the murderers. It was a most unpleasant undertaking but disinfectants were used, which in part did away with the offensive odor. No more arrests have been made and those suspected of the crime had a hearing on Tuesday.

Only evidence pertaining to the robbery was taken when it was developed that the watch taken from Frantz, had been pawned at Renovo, by Shaffer. Other evidence strongly implicated Shaffer, and he was held for court. The Express says: The authorities have secured the silver watch belonging to the murdered Isaiah Colby and also the watch taken from Mr. Frantz on the Saturday morning of the highway robbery in the "Narrows." The circumstances of the finding of these watches connects Luther Shaffer as having been implicated in both crimes. This is one of the strongest links yet discovered in the chain of evidence being secured against Shaffer. Every indication points to the complicity of Johnson and the two Klimes in the robbery and they may possibly have had something to do with the murder also.

SPRING MILLS.

The great picnic and festival, of the Knights of the Golden Eagle came off on last Saturday as had been announced by newspapers and hand bills.

The blue rock ball shooting by S. K. Sober was the leading attraction. Mr. Sober did some of the finest shooting. He shot in all conceivable positions from right shoulder, from left shoulder, over head, with boxes, barrels, and table placed on his gun barrel, with both barrels at once striking rocks from two different traps, also shooting in rapid succession rock sprung from traps placed east and west.

The sham battle was only a partial success owing to the fact that the two G. A. B. Posts that were invited did not come, thus leaving the Eagles to fight the battle alone, and as many of them could not leave their stands at which they were engaged selling eatables, the number of beligerents was small. The balloon which Lou Sunday presented to the castle was sent up just after the fight and was a surprise to many, as it was not mentioned on the bills, and was only known to a few of the members. The receipts of the festival were about $100.

On last Saturday the School Board of Gregg township met and elected the following teachers and assigned them to their respective schools.

Table with 2 columns: School Name and Teacher Name. Beaver Dam School, Logan, Gate, Murray, Hoy, Cross Roads, Penn Hall, Mountain, Decker, Poke Hill, Spring Mills, Farmer's Mills.

Applicants were as plentiful as whortleberries, consequently, there are some sore heads, and yet we hear of some vacant schools in different parts of the valley.

Madisonburg grammar school has no teacher yet, W. A. Krise, who was to teach it, having withdrawn his application to accept a school in Penn township, the directors having reduced the wages after having secured teachers. The Hebersburg grammar school was also reported vacant. Mr. Gramley, the teacher elect, having accepted the principalship of the Howard schools.

Gregg and Penn township directors have made a clean sweep of book, having adopted the new books of Iveson Blakeman & Co. of N. Y.

David Kimpfort, our next treasurer spent a day in our village last week. He is a very courteous gentleman, and makes friends wherever he goes.

John Grove, candidate for judge perambulated our streets last Saturday. Mr. Grove is a christian gentleman and needs no recommendation. He will poll as large a republican vote on this side as the republicans claim that Mr. Rhoads will get from the Democrats on the other side of the county.

The high recommendation which Editor Feidler gave him in the Gazette, has satisfied many republicans that he is the right man for the office. I know personally of many prominent republicans who will vote for him.

PLEASANT GAP.

On Sunday morning last as the first rays of the sun were breaking over the mountain top, the tolling of the church bell proclaimed the solemn fact that one of our venerable and most respected citizens Mr. John Sweeney had quietly passed away. For years Mr. Sweeney had not been enjoying good health, and during the last few weeks had been confined to his bed by a complication of diseases which were apparently beyond the control of medical skill. There was no one among the inhabitants of this quiet village who was more universally loved and respected by the young and old, than was Mr. Sweeney. He was born and raised in this beautiful valley, and at the time of his death lived on the old Sweeney homestead at this place, which is one of the few remaining landmarks of the early history of Centre county.

In politics his sympathies were always with the Democratic party, and in his years of active service, he did much good and honest work for the cause which he so ardently upheld, while in his death we not only miss him from our ranks, but lose a kind and generous citizen, a tender and loving father whose vacant place can not be filled. In this their time of affliction the mourning and sorrowing relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of their friends and neighbors. Mr. Sweeney had reached the ripe old age of 78 years before the angel of death standing on the watch tower of time recorded the passage of his soul into eternity. The interment which took place on Monday afternoon, was followed by a large concourse of friends who paid their last tribute to him who slept in death.

STRATA.

Messrs. Wilbur Harris, of Bellefonte, and Cooper Dare, of Scanlon, took in the care on Sunday afternoon, and Centre Hall in the evening. As usual, called on some of the young ladies of town before departing.—Register.
