G. A. R. at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sep. 29.—It was long after midnight when the banquet tendered the local and visiting correspondents the press, by the California delegation at Armory Hall, came to a close. There were 1,200 guests and wine flowed like water. Such veteran "journalists" as Generals Sherman and Fairchild, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Governors Oglesby, of Illinois, and Evans Colorado, were the leading post-prandial speakers, and kept the company in excellent humor. The same old clouds and drizzle made their appearance this morning, which to the chagrin of the promoters the great trades demonstration and parade, which is booked for to-night. There was a consultation this morning between the Council of Administration, General Fairchild and Charles Gantz, of Albany, M. Y., the representative of Joseph W. Drexel, in reference to the acceptance of the Grant statue at Mount McGregor. Gantz came here prepared to hand over deed for the cottage, but it was suggested that there was a difficulty in way of accepting the bequest in the that the Grand Army is not an incorporated body. This was referred to the Advocate General Tainter, of New York, who decided that it would be necessary to appoint a board of trustees, in whose name the deed could be made out. He held further that deed might be transferred in trust to national officers and their successors. These two suggestions were referred to the National Encampment. When it was suggested that the organization had no funds available to apply to the care and preservation of the cottage. Mr. Gantz responded that the State of New York would attend to this feature of the affair; that the Legislature would, in all probability, add a few thousand dollars and that with the receipts from the sale of souvenirs and trinkets the cottage and its surroundings could be preserved in good style. At the close of the conference there was an unanimous agreement that the gift should be accepted.

A movement has been inaugurated looking to the re-election of General Fairchild as Commander-in-Chief. It originated with the California delegation, which was in caucus until after 2 o'clock this morning. General Sioum's candidacy was dismissed very quickly, and without even the formality of a ballot. Then there was a contest between the supporters of Generals Grier, of this city, and Warner, of Kansas City, but both of them fell short of the number necessary to hold the delegation. As a last resort a second term for General Fairchild was suggested; the compromise was immediately adopted, and the delegation at once unfurled the banner of the present Commander-in-Chief. This morning it was working hard to gain recruits, in the expectation that sufficient support will be secured to-day to induce the General to consent to the use of his name. In the event of a peremptory refusal the Californians will throw their strength to Warner. General Sherman has declared for General Grier.

Only the Committee on Credentials reported at the opening of the encampment this morning. Something was expected from the Committee on Resolutions but it failed to show up, much to the disappointment of many of the delegates, who are anxious to get at a discussion of the pros and cons of Comrade Vandervoort's resolution censuring President Cleveland for vetoing the Dependent Pension bill. The members of the committee had encamped themselves in a little room on the gallery floor, and were having a wrestling match with the resolution, which lasted up to the hour of adjournment of the morning session without any definite result. It is said, however that three fifths of the committee are in favor of reporting the resolution to the encampment in its original shape.

The only definite action of importance in the encampment up to the dinner hour was the adoption of the pension bill giving the widow of every soldier $8 per month, no matter whether death resulted from injuries received in the army or elsewhere, and which further makes every dependent or pauper soldier's discharge papers the only necessary claim for a pension of $12 monthly. Under this measure all veterans who are inmates of charitable institutions or soldier's home and who have the proper discharge papers, or who can show by the records that they were honorably discharged from the Federal army would be entitled to this pension. The news of the adoption of the measure created considerable dissatisfaction among the supporters of the Service Pension bill, who wanted action upon their own measure before the other one came up for consideration. The service bill will come up this afternoon or to-morrow.

The reunion by States at Forest Park, for which great preparations had been made, is in progress to-day, but the unfavorable condition of the weather is militating considerably against its success. Still there are several thousand comrades upon the ground and they are parading around to each other's tents, renewing old associations, filling the air with war songs, foraging in the commissary departments and generally having a jolly good time.

The Grand Army Encampment will meet in Columbus, O., in 1888, the week of the centennial anniversary of the settlement of that city.

Blood on French Soil.
 PARIS, September 29.—M. Lebigue, a banker at Nancy, who is the lessee of the grounds where the frontier shooting occurred, and who was one of the party of sports men, says:
 "Our party kept the frontier line a few yards on the left. While descending a path we were absolutely exposed on the German side. When the first shot was fired I heard the hiss of a bullet overhead. Before I had recovered from my surprise a second shot killed the keeper and a third wounded Lieutenant Wagner.
 "I summoned the local authorities. We found blood pools on French soil, I requested a Sergeant of gend'armes to mark a tree at the spot. I swear that neither challenge nor cry was addressed to us. Had the Germans uttered a sound we must have heard them."

The Supreme Court affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Silas M. Bailey the ex-state treasurer of Pennsylvania. During his term of office Mr. Bailey deposited in a bank in Fayette county $70,000. The bank failed and the state never recovered the money. Mr. Bailey was sued for the amount and the lower courts decided that he was responsible for the deposits of the State.
