There was not a large crowd present but those who did attend thoroughly enjoyed themselves. -Mrs. Nancy Layman of Milesburg, died on last Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness. Her remains were buried on Wednesday morning. She leaves many warm friends who will regret her death. -A team of horses owned by Mr. Samuel Solt, of Zion, created a little excitement on Friday by running off, the route taken being up High street. The animals were captured before any damage was done. -Work on the hundred and odd new houses in the borough is rapidly progressing. The furnace of the Bellefonte Furnace Company is nearing completion and every business and industry is flourishing. -Monday was a busy day for our county treasurer, and that worthy official was kept at his desk until eleven o'clock at night. Charley never objects to stretching a day when the interest of the county is at stake. -Mrs. Caroline Watson, widow of the late Sheriff Watson, of Huntingdon county, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. D. R. Boileau, at Milesburg, on Monday, aged about 70 years. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. -The Messrs Garman will move into their new hotel next week, and after that time meals will be served in the elegant and spacious dining room now being finished. The hotel will not be opened, however, until everything is arranged and in running order. -The fires were started in the glass works here on last Thursday morning, and the work of making glass will be resumed the latter part of this week. A satisfactory scale of wages has been arranged and signed, and in a short time the many orders for Bellefonte glass will be filled. -Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin company will give one of its delightful matinees on Saturday afternoon and in order that the young people may witness the play, cards will be distributed to all the school children, and those holding the same will be admitted for 15 cents, the regular price being 25cts. Prices for evening performances 50 and 35 cents. Tickets at Sourbecks. -Mr. Daniel Garman has had erected in St. Paul's P. E. church, this place, a handsome and exquisitely designed altar. It is a memorial to his wife, and bears the inscription, "To the Glory of God. In memory of Louisa Garman, born November 15th, 1834; died August 4th, 1886." It adds greatly to the beauty of the interior of the church and is a gift highly appreciated by the congregation.

-Judge Rao, of Minnesota, was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic on the first ballot by a majority of 24. -Charles Kuhn, of Bealsburg, and Miss Knarr, daughter of Mr. Harry Knarr, of Lemont, were married on Tuesday evening, in the presence of a number of invited guests. -The lower portion of Huntingdon county experienced an earthquake shock on last Monday evening. The people were considerably frightened, and ran into the streets. The Vibration was from northeast to northwest. -The Lock Haven Democrat was the first paper to publish the letters of acceptance of the Democratic State nominees those documents having been furnished that paper, by Hon. S. R. Peale, who was chairman of the convention, on last Friday. -Margaret A. Solt, wife of David Solt died at her residence near Lemont, on September 26th, of brain fever. She leaves a sorrowing husband, and one child, to mourn her death. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Welsh. -An exchange of valuable property has taken place in Bellefonte, the residence of Mrs. Edmund Blanchard on High street having been transferred to Wm. Jenkins, Mrs. Blanchard receiving the property on Linn street owned by the above named gentleman. -The Milton Economist has been purchased by a stock company, and has been changed from a quarto to a folio. W. P. Hastings, formerly of the Harrisburg Patriot, is a member of the firm, and is also the editor. We trust the new concern may meet with success. -Two men who had a personal grievance to settle, repaired to the old Snow Shoe coal yard on Thursday morning where several rounds were fought with bare knuckles. Both men were receiving severe punishment when Chief Burgess Hale put in an appearance and ended the mill. -The Clinton county Grand Jury last Thursday found true bills against Luther Shaffer, John Johnson, James Kline, and Essec Kline, for robbery. True bills were also found against the same for the murder of the Culveys, but their trial was postponed until a special term of court, which will be held in December. -The sixteen new houses at the fair grounds to be used by employes of the Collins Bros. when their iron works are placed in operation, are in course of erection. All the foundations are laid, and a number are already framed. Col. Tate, the veteran contractor and builder, has a portion of the work in hand. -Thieves are prowling around the country, and almost every county in the state is suffering from their depredations. On last Friday night the residence of Major Reynolds of this place, was entered, and some valuable silverware, shoes, and other articles stolen. How an entrance was gained is not known, but it is quite certain almost every room on the first floor was ransacked. -Mr. Morris of the lime kilns is opening a very large operation up the Bellefonte & Buffalo Run railroad in Benner township and has about fifty men at work. When his kilns and crushers are completed he will employ over a hundred men and turn out thousands of bushels of lime, and tons of limestone for furnace purposes. Bellefonte lime is second to none in quality, and Mr. Morris' new quarry is on the Bellefonte vein of limestone. -The fourth annual meeting of the Woman's Home Mission society of the presbytery of Huntingdon was held in the Presbyterian church at Mount Union, Pa., on Thursday and Friday, September 29 and 30, for which an interesting program had been prepared. Addresses were delivered by several prominent ladies of the Mission, and also by several reverend gentlemen. Mrs. J. L. Russel of Altoona, was elected president, and Mrs. Kate Harris of Bellefonte, one of the vice presidents. -A party of young ladies and gentlemen, assembled at the residence of Mr. Robert Voris of this place, on last Tuesday evening, taking that gentleman, and his estimable wife completely by surprise. The visitors brought refreshments with them, and after pleasantly spending a few hours all partook of the good things. Later in the evening games and other amusements were engaged in, and then the host entertained his guests by singing several fine selections. He is an excellent vocalist, and is surpassed by few. The guests departed, leaving behind them their best wishes for the future happiness of the host and hostess. -From the Lock Haven Democrat Thomas Ferry, of Beech Creek, a huckster, was sitting in the store and barber shop of W. L. McKean, at that place, about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, engaged in reading. He was in a sort of recumbent position in the barber's chair, having just returned from a trip, when a lamp that was fastened by a bracket to the barber's case suddenly exploded, scattering the oil all over his clothes, and which igniting, burned him severely, his clothing being mostly burned off him. We understand that the burns are quite serious.

DEATH OF MRS. MUSSER.—Louisa, wife of Mr. Noah Musser, who lives on the Armor farm near Fillmore, died Thursday morning at 3 o'clock after an illness extending over a period of several months. Early in the spring a cancer which had manifested itself for some time previous, began to grow rapidly, and despite the efforts of skilled physicians, it gained a firm foothold, and gradually ate away the life of the sufferer. The funeral took place on Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and was largely attended, services being conducted by the Rev. J. H. Welch, of Lemont. The deceased was widely known, and her friends were legion. Possessed of a kind heart and sympathetic nature she endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. Her hospitable home held many a way-farer, who tired and hungry, sought temporary aid, and never was there a person turned away empty handed. "Tis better to give than to receive," was her motto. She was a kind and affectionate wife and mother, and was faithfully attended by her children during all her illness. Her sufferings at times were almost unendurable, yet she bore them patiently and without a murmur of complaint, realizing all the time that the end was near, and when her soul took its flight to God she was ready and willing to meet her Maker. She was aged 57 years and five months, and was for a long time a member of the Lutheran church. Her maiden name was Roush, and was, we believe, born and raised near Madisonburg, where her mother still lives. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her death. The children are George, Allie and Viola, besides an adopted son, Harry, who will miss the kind ministrations and wise counsels of one whose greatest anxiety was the welfare of her family. Mr. Musser, who is thus bereft of his life partner, as well as the children, has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community, and we mingle our regrets with theirs. Many kindnesses has our departed friend shown the writer and his family, and we sincerely deplore the death of our beloved friend. But her sufferings are past. Pain has left the body, and the soul, clothed in all the glory of the redeemed, is a rest forevermore. -Rev. W. Laurie, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, who for the past month has been unable to preach to his congregation, suffering from a severe attack of throat disease is slowly recovering. In the meantime he has been supplying his pulpit with clergymen from abroad, and on last Sabbath this pious body had the pleasure of listening to the Rev. A. S. Zimmerman, of Livermore, Iowa. The Rev. gentlemen chose his text from Math 5-13, the parable of the Sabbath and gave to his hearers an excellent and masterly production, setting forth the plain duties that a Christian owes to his fellowmen in trying to help them to recognize a supreme being. Mr. Zimmerman is a comparatively young man, only being in the ministry three years but in that time has demonstrated to all who heard him that in time he will be ranked among the best in his chosen vocation of life. He is a cousin of D. Z. Kline, and also of Judge A. O. Furst, of this place. The gentleman is on his vacation and will remain in the east two months. -Mr. L. T. Munson, who for some time past has been managing both the nail and glass works, has resigned the latter position and will in future devote his entire attention to the nail works. Mr. Munson has managed both concerns successfully, but the strain is too great, hence the change. He is succeeded at the glass works by Mr. James Conroy, of New Jersey, but who has been a glass blower here for the past five years. Mr. Conroy is thoroughly versed in all the branches pertaining to the manufacture of glass, possesses excellent business qualifications and under his management the works cannot but succeed. We congratulate him upon his promotion. -The October term of argument court convened on last Tuesday, when the cases on the list were taken up and disposed of as the facts warranted. Judge Bucher, of the Union-Mifflin-Snyder district presided, associates Munson and Rhoads also on the bench. The Judge is a fine looking gentleman, and represents a district which is largely Republican. He is a Democrat, but the people of the counties named know a competent Judge when they get him, and he is now serving his second term. Impartial in his decisions, learned in law, of mild temperament and courteous disposition, he is such a gentleman as would acceptably grace the bench of a higher court. Mr. Jacob Loeb died at his residence in Danville on last Friday night, in the 83d year of his age. The funeral took place on Tuesday. Mr. Adolph Loeb, of this place, a son of the deceased, and Mr. Simon Loeb, nephew, went to that city to attend the obsequies. The former gentleman was accompanied by his family.

Personal. Edward Powers and family now occupy a portion of the Bartruff property on Bishop street. Mrs. Richard Houpp, of Altoona, is visiting at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Kane on Howard street. Miss Maggie Haupt, after spending several months in Union county, has returned to her home in this place. Thomas Lucas, who during the summer has been assisting in Bond Valentine's Insurance office, departed for Howard on last Saturday, where he has procured a school, and will teach during the winter months. We are glad to learn that Jacob Knisely, who has been lying dangerously ill at the residence of his father on High street, is rapidly recovering, and will soon be able to resume his former occupation—that of a printer. John Musser for many years a clerk in McFarlane's hardware store departed for Los Angeles, California on Tuesday. Mr. Musser is an upright young man and is possessed of fine business qualifications and we have no doubt but that he will succeed in his new home. Mr. J. K. Orvis of Madison county, Nebraska, is visiting his brother, Hon. John H. Orvis, of this place. Mr. Orvis owns a large farm at his home in the west, and successfully cultivates the same. He is a pleasant and affable gentleman, and we trust his eastern visit will be one of enjoyment. -At the regular meeting of borough council on Monday night, oral and written communications were received one from James Harris, asking a reduction of water tax on an unoccupied property. W. L. Malin asked the privilege of erecting telephone poles in certain places, which was granted, council holding the right to remove them at any time. A. Lukenbauch asked that a board walk be laid along the old burnt mill road, for the convenience of children attending Bishop street school, which was refused. The Undine hose company requested that council furnish carpet, hose, etc., for for their hose house, which was referred to the preparatory committee. Mrs. D. G. Bush objected to a telephone pole erected near her residence. The market committee reported $7.60 as the curb receipts during the past two weeks, and then on motion it was decided that no more work be done on the streets or to the water pipes, except what has been commenced. Mr. Stover, among other things suggested that the telephone and electric light poles be taxed. Referred. After some other unimportant business council adjourned. -Mr. Wm. Fees Sr. while on his way home, in company with his son on Tuesday night, met with a painful accident. While passing over the board walk near the armory, the son stepped upon the end of a loose board, which sprung up catching Mr. Fee's foot and throwing him violently to the ground. He received a severe cut above the eye, almost dismembering the optic. This particular section of walk is in very bad condition, and in all probability a law suit will be commenced. We are unable to state why council is so dilatory in having the walk replaced by a new one, when other property owners are compelled to repair pavements when in not half so bad condition. -Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin company will appear in Humes' Hall on Saturday evening, October 8th, when we have no doubt a crowded house will greet them. Aside from the great worth of the company, every act will be presented with new and elaborate scenery, painted by the master scenic artist of the world. The excellent company, two comical Topseys, the two ludicrous musical Marks, the elegant scenery, the novel mechanical effects, the pack of ferocious blood hounds, two Brass bands, and the celebrated Georgia Jubilee singers, will all unite in making the engagement the most notable amusement episode in the history of our city. -Thomas A. Armstrong, editor and senior proprietor at the National Labor Tribune and at one time the greenback-labor candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, died suddenly at Pittsburg, on Saturday night. He was a native of Steubenville, Ohio, and a printer by trade. He was about 43 years of age and a bachelor. His death was caused by an abscess. It was very sudden, for only an hour before he expired he remarked that he had not felt so well in a long time. -MARRIED.—By Rev. J. M. King, Sept. 17, 1887, at the Evangelical parsonage, Centre Hall, Andrew Horner and Miss Carrie Fleisher, both of Tusseyville, Centre Co., Pa. By Rev. J. M. King at same place, Sept. 28, 1887, Mr. John A. Mann and Miss Debbie Gardner, both of Howard, Centre Co., Pa. On the 15th of September, at the Lutheran parsonage, by Rev. M. L. Deitzler, Mr. Edward Swartz of Millheim and Miss Cora Stover of Aaronsburg. -Howard Lingle will have when completed, one of the finest residences in town.

A NOTEWORTHY EVENT IN THE SOUTH. -The Piedmont Exposition, to be held at Atlanta, Ga., in the month of October, will be the most notable occurrence of the year and by far the most important event which has ever taken place in the industrial history of the South. The exhibition is not confined to the State of Georgia but the whole upland region of the Southern States south of the Appalachian chain, will be represented. The vast mineral, agricultural, and lumber resources of these States, the manufacturing and industrial interests, the dairy, garden, and orchard products, will form a display rarely equaled and never surpassed in this country. The material progress of the new South will be fully illustrated, and her claims as the richest and most productive section of the land will be established by the exhibits drawn from every department of trade and industry. The exposition will also include many attractive features. The President of the United States and Mrs. Cleveland, the Governors of many States, and many of the prominent public men of the country will be present. There will be military and civic parades, sham battles, illuminations, and all the attending attractions that serve to embellish a great event of this character. In order to aid in the promotion of social and commercial intercourse between the North and the South, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell special round-trip tickets to Atlanta, on October 7th, 10th, 12th and 14th, good to return until the 15th. These tickets will bear a coupon of admission to the exposition and will be good for continuous passage only in each direction. They will be sold from the following points at the rates quoted: Lock Haven $21.80, Williamsport $21.05, Milton $20.20, Lewisburg $21.15, Northumberland $19.90, Sunbury $19.85, Clearfield $23.00, Bellefonte $22.10, Altoona $22.20, Tyrone $21.75, Huntingdon $21.15, Lewistown Junction $20.05, Harrisburg $18.25, and York $17.40. They will be good for use only on dates mentioned, and from points on Northern Central Railway only on Express leaving Cansandigua 8.05 p. m.; from points on Philadelphia and Erie Division on Erie Mail leaving Emporium at 9.05 p. m.; and from points on Main Line and branches on the East Line east or its best connection at Harrisburg. The route south from Washington will be the Piedmont Air Line or the Kennebec route. Those starting on the 7th or 12th will go forward by the Piedmont Air Line, those on the 10th and 14th by the Kennebec route. The route via Shenandoah Valley is from Harrisburg via Cumberland and Shenandoah Valleys, thence south via Norfolk and Western and East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroads, connecting at Harrisburg by same trains as mentioned above. Further information will be furnished by the local ticket agent. MEETING OF THE GALLANT 148th.—At the meeting of the Centre County Veteran club, at Coburn recently, as many of the 148th P. V. as could be called together, had a meeting and appointed a committee to take steps looking toward a permanent organization of the survivors. Col. Robert McFarlane, of Bellefonte, was selected chairman and Col. Keller, also of this place, was chosen secretary. The Coburn meeting resulted in the appointment of the following named committee: Col. Robert McFarlane, chairman; Col. George A. Bayard, Maj. R. H. Forster, Lieut. J. W. Stewart. An official call will be issued in a few days by the committee, announcing a meeting of the 148th survivors to take place in the court house, Bellefonte, Thursday, October 27, when it is hoped a permanent organization will be effected. Aside from this object, is that of making arrangements for placing their monument on the Gettysburg battlefield, marking the spot occupied by the 148th in that memorable occasion. It is hoped all the survivors will present at this first meeting since the war. The work on hand is of great importance. Let every living comrade of this noble organization be duly informed. Center, Clearfield, Clarion, Indiana, Blair and Jefferson county papers are requested to please publish this call. -The 600 Stoves that McFarlane advertises "to be sold" are going very rapidly, and the reason for this quick sale is that the goods are first class in all respects and cheap. This firm warrants all their stoves and stands by the warranty and will take back all that are not as represented. We have not sufficient space here to mention all the kinds they handle but advise all who are needing anything in this line to go and see for themselves. We only mention the famous Regulars and Art Cook, the Apollo, the King of Range, and then an endless variety of heating stoves. -While the glass blowers are awaiting the starting of the works, they are putting in considerable time hunting. Deer seems to be the coveted game, but that animal is too fleet of foot and the hunters have returned empty handed, except perhaps Wm. Bryant who says the only way to kill a deer, is to shoot it on the wing. Wm. is an expert hunter and claims to have killed more than one deer while on the wing.

-A WELCOME VISITOR.—P. T. Barnum & Co.'s monster consolidation of nine shows will spread its veritable city of tents here on Friday October 14, when it is calculated that thousands of people from the surrounding country will pour into town to witness the marvelous and soul-stirring performances. The mammoth show brings here this season is even of a better, grander, and richer character than any of his former ones, and to those fortunate enough to see his past exhibitions, nothing more remains to be said. This year 100 acts of a startling character will be given in three rings while upon a big elevated stage a series of amazing feats will be exhibited; while again on the Roman hippodrome racing track the wildest enthusiasm may be expected from the daring and fearless races, all the result of the combined efforts of 300 expert performers. Sensation will succeed sensation until the breath of the auditor is almost taken away with delight. Besides these there are the wonderful hairy family from Burmah, King Theebaw's mascot; Captain Paul Boyton's aquatic performances in a specially constructed lake of clear water the flying gymnasium, dwarfs, midgets, mites and wonderful curious living human beings. Then, again, there are all the strange creatures in the two double manageries, such as a herd of elephants the clown elephant, a drove of giant camels, amphibious monsters, tremendous mammals, and hundreds of curious four-footed beasts. The hippodrome races are thrillingly bewildering, and are contested in downright earnest for cash prizes by the riders, drivers, runners, and jockeys. The big international favorite Jumbo will be exhibited precisely as he appeared in life, and the biggest and only elephant skeleton on public view will also be a feature. Alice, the affectionate widow of Jumbo, will be seen beside the colossal form of her big spouse. There is no end of features this season, but they must be seen, and can be for the usual price. A tremendous street parade will be made early in the forenoon, when the entire strength of these combined giant shows will be unfolded to public view. Two performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m. ROLAND. George Holter is now recovering from quite a severe attack of typhoid fever. Charlie Harvey has also been a victim of the dreaded disease, but is on the mend. The biting frosts of several nights past have again caused our hills and mountains to put on the garb of autumn and the forest is now clad in a robe of beauty, as so many beautiful colors are exhibited to the eye, but the flowers look as though bereft of all their friends. The merry face of Harry Barnhart, of Mehafter, Pa. and also that of his brother James K. of Bellefonte, were seen in our midst over Sabbath last. Come again gentlemen, we always feel better after having a chat with you, and your very presence is an incentive to cheer us on our way. Our farmers are now busy with their buckwheat and potatoes, and some have commenced husking corn. Fruit is plenty, and a number of barrels of cider have been made from apples here. Winter apples are also being gathered. Mrs. N. J. McKeen started in company with friends, to visit at different places in Kansas. She will remain there until late in autumn. D. -KILLING DEER.—A subscriber from Pine Grove requests us to publish the law relating to the killing of deer, which we cheerfully do. It is as follows: 1. That no person shall kill or pursue, in any part of this state, any elk or wild deer, save only from the first day of October in any year, to the first day of December next following, and no person shall have in his or her possession, or offer for sale or transport, any elk, wild deer, antelope or fresh venison, save only from the first day of October, in any year, to the thirtieth day of November next following. No person shall, at any time, kill any fawn when in its spotted coat, or have the fresh skin of any such fawn in his or her possession. No person shall pursue any elk or wild deer with dogs in any part of this state, or shall kill in the water any elk or wild deer or fawn which has been driven thereto by dogs; any person offending against any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for each elk, wild deer or fawn so killed, pursued or trapped, or fresh elk, wild deer, antelope or fawn skin had in his or her possession, and may be proceeded against in any county of the state wherein he may be arrested having the same in his possession: And provided also that a dog pursuing an elk or wild deer or fawn, may be killed by any person and constable or other town official may kill any dog that habitually pursues elk, wild deer or fawns and the owners of such dog shall be liable to a penalty of ten dollars for each elk, or wild deer or fawn killed by such dog. -Do you want a bargain? If so call at the Novelty store on Spring street. -A good parlor suit may be purchased cheap upon application at Corman's Novelty store. Miss Corman will shortly remove to California, and must dispose of her furniture.
