ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

—Newton Brumgart of Rebersburg has a Percheron colt two years and a half old, which weighs 1340 pounds. How is that for blooded stock? Mr. Brumgart is determined to have good horse flesh and we reckon there are few in the county that can beat his colt. Next.

—The new furniture for the post office has arrived and when it has once been put in place, will present an artistic appearance as the design selected is of the latest. Bellefonte has been waiting for an improvement in this direction for a number of years.

—On several occasions we have been asked why the Bellefonte band did not come out more, and in truth we felt ashamed to acknowledge that our town could not afford such a luxury, our sister and rival town of Philipsburg is able to support three first class organizations of this kind, while we, who are older, wealthier and should take pride in being the capital of the county can not own even an orchestra. Why is this we ask, our citizens are just as liberal to give and as ready to assist as the citizens in any other town, we have as much and even more use for such an organization than many other places who have two or three, the only reason we can find, is the lack of interest the young and middle aged men of our town possess for the improvement and entertainment of home. We would bet any money if it were proper for ladies to have such organizations, Bellefonte would have a band so quick it would your head spin.

—On Hallow E'en while Wallace Reeder and several little children were playing on Linn street near the residence of George Jackson, some miscreant came along and picking Wallace up bodily threw him into the street, crushing in the frontal bone and leaving an ugly cut on the forehead. Mrs. Jackson heard the little fellows screams and ran out and picked the child up. The brute for no man would be guilty of such an act, ran. Wallace is in a very precarious condition and his recovery is not certain. He is suffering intensely, and should he recover it will be with an ugly scar and possibly with a clouded intellect. It is to be hoped that the little fellow will get well and suffer nothing more than the disfigurement. The fellow who did the dastard act deserves lynching.

—NEW MUSIC.—We have before us a copy of "My Lady" Witzes from the pen of D. B. McCloskey, who is also the publisher. We have not heard it rendered on piano or organ—suitable for either—but judging by the appearance of the melody, we undoubtedly give it rank with the popular compositions of the day; and as for the harmony, or the accompaniment, it certainly bears upon teachings of the old masters whose rapid and pleasing changes have become so famous, which he must have read to a great extent to accomplish that which he has in this piece. Mr. McCloskey is as yet unknown beyond a local radius as a composer and publisher, but with putting such music on the market as he makes his introduction to the public, he will certainly be entitled to a bountiful share of the public patronage. Send 25 cents to D. B. McCloskey, Lockhaven, Pa., and be assured of getting one of the best pieces of music issued by any publisher to-day. This music is for sale at Bunnell & Aiken's music store.

PINE GROVE CHIPS.

On Thursday evening Oct. 20th at 6 o'clock, Rev. Samuel Ham of the Methodist church of Pine Grove Mills, pronounced Mr. Milton Shuey of State College, and Miss Rebekah Tanyer of Pine Grove, man and wife at the residence of the brides parents. J. E. Ward acted as groomsmen and Lucretia Ward as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of invited guests. After the ceremony was over the party sat down to the wedding repast, which was in keeping with all such feasts. After supper the Pine Grove Cornet band made its appearance and furnished some excellent music for the occasion. Numerous presents were received by Mr. Shuey and his wife, who have the best wishes of their friends for a long and pleasant life. The following is a list of presents. Pro. John Heaton, lamp, castor, and mustache cup, Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Eckel, and Miss Mary Floray, each a pair of towels. Miss Clara Ward, lamp, Mrs. Elroy one half dozen goblets, Mr. and Mrs. Shuey, glass pitcher, fruit dish, and butter dish. Mr. and Mrs. Harris Bloom, fruit dish and pitcher. Mr. and Mrs. Krumrine, fruit dish. Mr. and Mrs. Bubb, fruit dish, Mr. Rider, fruit dish, Mary Brett, one half dozen plates, G. W. Ward, suit album, Lucretia Ward, one dozen salt cellars, J. E. Ward, chair tidy, Gertie Floray, bread plate and numerous other valuable presents the names of which we did not get.

Mr. Chas. Smith, one of our carriage makers has some fine buggies and spring wagons for sale cheap. Give him a call.

A singing class is being raised, and will be instructed by Birdie Musser, who will instruct beginners in the rudiments of music, something which has been neglected in this community for some time, those wishing to take instructions, should avail themselves of this opportunity.

Conference will convene in the Lutheran church of this place on Tuesday evening Nov. 1st. Sessions each day and evening, closing on Thursday evening, the opening sermon will be preached by Rev. Chas. T. Steck of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Henry Meek of Altoona, formerly a resident of this place, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Rev. T. A. Elliot of Birmingham, formerly pastor of the M. E. church of this place, was in town this week, he occupied the pulpit of the M. E. church of Boalsburg, it being the reopening of the church which has lately been repaired.

Our Presbyterian friends are at work repairing their church, they intend to put on a new roof and paint it on the outside, which will when finished present a fine appearance.

—The greatest bargains ever offered in Bellefonte—at Corman's. The entire stock must be sold, and prices have been made very low.

OUR JONATHAN.—Next Tuesday night Nov. 8th., "Yankee Moor" supported by a strong company of artists, the leading lady being Miss Bella Vivian, and a fine orchestra, will produce "Our Jonathan" in "Yankee Pluck" to a Bellefonte audience. When here before this amusing comedy was admirable produced and the stage well set for the piece. This season Mr. Moore has liberally embellished and removed the ward robe of the caste and rewritten the play in a great part. The company is another company and the band and orchestra new. Hence we shall have a new version of one of the best of Yankee comedies, a play which has been in harness five seasons and is yet a drawing card every where. There are no breaks in the even flood of a continuous humor and scarcely room to cry between the succession of laughable situations and startling, thrilling incidents. Bella Vivian is a soubrette of the highest professional character and an accomplished artist. The following taken from the Wheeling, W. Va., Register. The Moore and Vivian Comedy Company, which is opened at the Academy of Music tomorrow evening, is spoken of very favorably by the press. The Philadelphia Times, for example, refers to them as "presenting an even meritorious entertainment, deserving of more than ordinary praise." In organizing this company, Mr. Moore has been careful to select the best people, without regard to cost, and their performances elsewhere are always crowded.

Hiram Smith, of Waverly, Mich., has had his share of accidents.

He put out one eye, fell into a well fifty feet deep, fell forty feet out of a tree, fell into a cistern and was nearly drowned, and a short time ago, while engaged in blasting stumps, he was blown ten feet into the air, fracturing one of his feet.

The Question of Annexation.

QUEBEC, Oct. 28.—The conference of provincial ministers, which has been in session here for the last few days, terminated its labors yesterday, and the Ontario delegates left for home. Its proceedings have been surrounded with so much secrecy that it is impossible to get a definite statement of what has been done; but it is semi-officially announced that the conference appointed a delegation to proceed to England to lay their grievance at the foot of the throne, and if their demands were not acceded to, to ask that the imperial act bringing about the confederation of the various provinces be repealed. In this case nothing but a miracle could prevent speedy annexation. Premier Fielding, of Nova Scotia, is declared to have stated that unless the coming negotiations at Washington ended in the consummation of commercial union Nova Scotia would rise as one man and demand annexation.

—A good parlor suit may be purchased cheap upon application at Corman's Novelty store. Miss Corman will shortly remove to California, and must dispose of her furniture.
